OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 22.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 4, 1930.

No. 1

MAYOR NICHOLS URGES COUNCIL TO ACCEPT ACT CREATING METROPOLITAN TRANSIT DISTRICT FOR RAPID TRANSIT IMPROVEMENTS. ASKS THAT ACT CREATED BY LEGISLATURE BE GIVEN FAIR HEARING—SAYS THAT ANY MEASURE RECOGNIZING SCOPE OF PROBLEM SHOULD NOT BE LIGHTLY SET ASIDE.

The Mayor has addressed the following communication to the City Council:

To the City Council.

GENTLEMEN,—The acceptance by your body of section 8 of chapter 383 of the Acts of 1929 is too important to the citizens and taxpayers of Boston to be dismissed without further serious consideration.

The growth of the Metropolitan city demands a treatment of its transportation system in a larger way than has been necessary in the past thirty years. Efforts to formulate this treatment have been going on for the past four years and have resulted in a measure (chapter 383, Acts of 1929) which, while not perfect, is still a step toward much needed rapid transit extensions. It applies to a district much larger than the City of Boston. The problem no longer relates to a portion of the Metropolitan city. It is no longer exclusively a City of Boston problem but a Metropolitan City of Boston problem. The scope of the problem and its complex nature has made it one difficult but by no means impossible of solution. The pressure for new transportation facilities requires that it be taken up without delay in orderly fashion to meet this demand.

Improved Transit Promotes Boston Interests.

Boston itself will be the largest beneficiary of improved rapid transit because it will help and stimulate the business center of the greater city which lies in large part within our municipal limits. There is genuine need of bringing comfortably and easily the residents of the outlying sections in and out of this business center. Few people realize that the traffic count shows that every day there enters and leaves the downtown district a body of 1,600,000 people, in number double the population of municipal Boston. It can be readily seen that if an increasing proportion of this number can be taken in and out of the business section on rapid transit lines instead of in automobiles, the pressure of intolerable street traffic conditions can be relieved and retail business immeasurably helped. This situation demands decisive and fearless action and the City of Boston cannot afford to take a narrow or prejudicial view. Any measure providing such relief should be examined with care from the point of view of this city, and it seems to me that chapter 383 of the Acts of 1929 is in many ways so constructive that it is entitled to such an examination, and should either be accepted as it is at present drafted or that such perfecting amendments should be suggested to the General Court as would permit its acceptance at an early date.

Meaning of the Transit Act.

The Legislature of 1929, by chapter 383, created a Metropolitan Transit District made up of the fourteen cities and towns now served by the Elevated, the affairs of the district to be managed by a board of five trustees, four appointed by the Governor, and one by the Mayor. The act also created a Metropolitan Transit Council made up of the Mayors and Chairmen of the Selectmen of the cities and towns of the district, each Mayor or Chairman having one vote in the Council for each $100,000,000 or fraction thereof of taxable property in a city or town which he represents, two thirds of the total number of votes so authorized being necessary for the passage of a measure.

While the act did not authorize the construction of any new subways or rapid transit lines, it did instruct the trustees of the Metropolitan Transit District to make a careful study of such new rapid transit routes as in its opinion are necessary, and to submit its findings and recommendations to the Metropolitan Transit Council. If and when such findings are approved by the Council, they are then submitted to the General Court for final action.

The act further authorized the Metropolitan Transit District to acquire from the City of Boston, with the consent of its Mayor and City Council, all of its subways, tunnels and rapid transit extensions. If and when the Mayor and City Council of Boston agree to this transfer, the Commonwealth transfers to the district its title to the Cambridge Subway which it now owns. In acquiring the subways from the city and the Commonwealth, the district is to guarantee to the city and the Commonwealth an annual payment equal to the interest and sinking fund requirements on all of the outstanding transit obligations of said city and Commonwealth, such payments to continue until all outstanding bonds issued by the city or the Commonwealth have been retired. The district is also authorized to issue its bonds for the construction of new rapid transit routes as the same are authorized, and to levy taxes to cover any deficits or expenses not met by rentals or other revenues.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

MUNICIPAL SERVICE.

Complaints, inquiries or suggestions regarding the work of municipal departments should be made in writing to the officials directly in charge. The failure of such official to make reply within a reasonable length of time should be brought to the attention of the Mayor. Communications should be directed as follows:

TO THE BOARD OF STREET COMMISSIONERS, Room 401, City Hall Annex, for information relative to the laying out, relocation, widening and the discontinuance of highways; the taking of real property for municipal purposes; the assessments of betterments for streets and sewers; the plotting of undeveloped area for streets and the opening of private ways; the granting of licenses for the storage or sale of merchandise in public streets; the making of specific repairs in public streets; the naming of public streets; the planting and removal of trees in public ways, the issuing of licenses for the storage of gasoline, oil and other inflammable substances or explosive compounds; the use of the public ways for any permanent, or temporary obstruction or projection in, under or over the same, including the location of conduits, poles and posts for telephone, telegraph, street railway or illuminating purposes, signs, marquis, bay windows, coal holes and vaults.

TO THE BOSTON TRAFFIC COMMISSION, 154 Berkeley street, for information relative to regulation of vehicular street traffic on all or any streets, ways, highways, roads and parkways under the control of the City of Boston, the issuing of all permits in connection therewith.

TO THE COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC WORKS, Room 511, City Hall Annex, for information as to the watering, cleaning, lighting and repairing of streets, the construction and care of sewers and catch-basins, the operation of the ferries, the maintenance of bridges and drawbridges and the removal of ashes and offal.

TO Room 604, City Hall Annex, for information relative to the supplying or metering of water and the water charges of the city.

TO THE HEALTH DEPARTMENT, Room 1107, City Hall Annex, for information relative to the inspection of milk, vinegar, meat, fish and vegetables, the issuance of permits for stables, slaughter houses, etc., smoke nuisances, the existence of contagious diseases, of public health nuisances.

TO THE BOARD OF PARK COMMISSIONERS, 33 Beacon street, for information as to the care of the Common, Public Garden, Franklin Park, Franklin Field, Commonwealth avenue, Back Bay Fens, Marine Park, and the small parks and playgrounds in general throughout the city, and as to the extermination of gypsy moths and the charges made for such service. Application may be made to this department for information regarding the public baths and gymnasiums maintained by the city, and with regard to municipal indoor concerts and band concerts, also information relative to Mt. Hope, Evergreen, Fairview and other public cemeteries owned by the City of Boston.

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE, 15 Beacon street, for information relative to the operation of the schools of the city.

TO THE SCHOOLHOUSE COMMISSIONERS, Room 1007, City Hall Annex, for information as to the construction and repair of school buildings.

TO THE BOARD OF EXAMINERS, Room 1001, City Hall Annex, for information regarding the licensing of persons having charge or control of the work of construction, alteration, removal or tearing down of buildings.

TO THE WIRE DIVISION OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT, Fire Department Headquarters, 60 Bristol street, for all information relative to the erection of poles, the building of conduits, the installation of all overhead and underground construction and electrical apparatus as well as for general information relative to the entire division. To Room 908, City Hall Annex, for permits for the installing of wires and electrical apparatus within buildings of the City of Boston, and for the payment of fees incident to the granting of the privileges above named, and which must be paid in advance.

TO THE BOARD OF ZONING ADJUSTMENT, Room 30, City Hall, relative to changes in the boundary lines of zoning districts of the City of Boston as established by chapter 488 of the Acts of 1924, and amendments thereto.

MORTALITY REPORT.

For the week ending Dec. 28, 1929:
Population estimated, July, 1929, United States Census estimate, 805,400; number of deaths (stillbirths excluded): Residents, 184; nonresidents, 42; total, 226.

Death rate per 1,000 of population: All deaths, 14.59; nonresidents deducted, 11.88.

Death rate per 1,000 of population: Last week, 13.62; corresponding week last year, 15.61.

Deaths by age periods, sex, etc.: Under one year, 24; one year to four years, inclusive, 7; sixty years and over, 97; total deaths: Male, 120; female, 106; deaths in hospitals and institutions, 119; deaths of colored, 6.

DRASTIC PROPOSALS FOR REDUCTION OF BOSTON'S HIGH FIRE LOSSES MADE IN REPORT TO MAYOR NICHOLS BY COMMITTEE ON FIRE INSURANCE RATES.

Sweeping recommendations for the reduction of Boston's extremely high fire losses are made in a detailed report on "The Problem of Fire Waste and Insurance Rates in the City of Boston," presented to Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols on December 31, 1929, by the Mayor's Committee on Fire Insurance Rates.

The recommendations are based on a survey conducted for the committee by Miller McClintock, Director of the Albert Russel Erskine Bureau in Harvard University. The survey analyzes in great detail every aspect of the city's fire problem, and is the result of seven months of intensive study by a field engineering staff under the direction of Horatio Bond, field engineer of the National Fire Protection Association, and chief engineer of the survey. The results are presented in a 300-page report including over 150 tables and charts which emphasize the microscopic character of the survey.

The Mayor's Committee on Fire Insurance Rates was appointed some time ago to investigate the factors responsible for what Mayor Nichols declared to be unreasonably high insurance rates. Members of the committee are Felix Vorenberg, Chairman; Francis R. Bangs, S. Bruce Black, Frank L. Brier, Guy W. Cox, Frank S. Deland, Charles L. Edgar, Freeman O. Emerson, William A. Fisher, William Gilmour, John B. Graham, Eugene C. Hultman, P. Harry Jennings, John J. Kearney, Edward T. Kelly, Arthur N. Maddison, David T. Montague, Thomas W. Murray, Maurice M. Osborne, James J. Phelan, Andrew J. Peters, Elwyn G. Preston, and Louis K. Rourke.

PREMIUMS NOT EXCESSIVE.

In general the report finds that Boston's insurance premiums are not excessive as compared with other cities with equal fire loss of Baltimore, a city of about approximately $9,000,000 a year, which imposes a burden of approximately $50 a year on the average Boston family because of the fire losses. Yet the survey points out that Boston has had a higher per capita fire loss than any other large city in the country.

Comparison with other large cities shows Buffalo next in per capita fire losses for the five-year period taken by the survey. St. Louis ranks third, and New York fourth. Following New York are Pittsburgh, Detroit, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Cleveland and Los Angeles.

Boston has nearly twice the annual fire loss of Baltimore, a city of about the same population, and about the same annual losses as Philadelphia and Detroit, cities more than twice her size.

"It is quite possible to reduce the fire losses in Boston by one half," the report states. "If losses were so reduced and the reduction sustained a reduction in rates would reasonably follow."

The report discloses a marked reduction in insured fire losses during the past two years under the improved present administration of the city Fire Department, losses having been cut from the $5,000,000 a year average for the period 1923-27 to $3,700,000 in 1927 and $3,500,000 in 1928.

"Insurance rates are not alone based on the loss experience of a single city but secondarily on that of the state and nation. Boston's high loss ratio has been exceeded generally throughout the state. It is for this reason that projects for cooperation in fire waste reduction in Boston's surrounding territory and the state are included in the report."

The survey disclosed a rate inequity of five cents in Hyde Park on the "short schedule," which applies to numerous mercantile houses and apartment buildings. On this inequity being shown to the Boston Board of Fire Insurance Underwriters, the base rate was reduced to twenty cents, the figure applying in the rest of the city.

RATE RELATIVELY FAIR.

The general conclusion of the report in regard to insurance rates is that the equity of any individual insurance rate is an open question, as there is usually no data available to prove inequity. Competition between insurance companies and with mutual, reciprocal and other cut-rate companies, however, generally produces a rate which is closely proportional to the hazard and therefore relatively fair.

Specific comment on rate revisions includes the recommendation that the Boston Board of Fire Underwriters obtain from their companies figures which show losses, premiums and amount of risk for all important classes of property for Boston and for the country at large in order more equitably to adjust rates on certain specific classes. The other recommendation is that the minimum flat rates on dwellings and apartments be justified by experience data furnished the Board by their companies.

Factors primarily responsible for the high fire loss, according to the report, include faulty building construction limitations of personnel of the Fire Department, ineffectiveness of the State Department of Public Safety, and the negligence of individual property owners.

"Boston has already paid and may yet pay more dearly for the character of her buildings housing valuable stocks in the business portions of the city. Brick-walled buildings with wooden interiors are essentially furnaces with the doors and windows potential draft openings. The report shows that most Boston dwellings have similar defects and indicates that the serious fires which have been occurring in apartment houses have been due to the spread of flames through unstopped interior walls and up unprotected stairways and uninclosed vertical shafts."

HITS BOSTON BUILDING CODE.

The report makes a strong indictment of the Boston building code, stating that in its present form the code tends not only to discourage improved types of construction but to stimulate the erection of the types of buildings now responsible for the city's bad fire record.

"There is practically no incentive under the code to erect good buildings," the report states, commenting further that its lack of codification since it was first drafted in 1907 has been partly responsible for its having so long escaped the attention of public spirited men interested in keeping Boston in step with the improved building construction of the age,

"No time should be lost in revising, re-writing and bringing up to date this fundamental vehicle of the city's physical progress."

It is specifically recommended that the code be revised, with special attention to the following major items: "Arrangement of the code in logical sequence for the convenience of those governed by it; reduction of the permissible height of frame and unprotected wood-interior dwellings; provision of an intermediate type of light fire resistive construction for appropriate occupancies; inclusion of definite egress requirements for all types of buildings."

CRITICIZES POLITICAL INTERFERENCE.

Severe criticism of conditions which permit political interference with the Fire Department, as well as criticism of its entrance requirements are found in the report.

"Next to that of building construction the Fire Department is the most important factor in Boston's fire loss record. The improved efficiency of the department in the past few years has been to a considerable extent responsible for the material reduction of 1927 and 1928 losses. Similarly, its deficiencies in other years have helped to establish Boston's deplorable record."

"The instability of the office of Fire Commissioner has made and will continue to make under present conditions a political football of this position, which is of paramount importance to the well-being of the city."

"Because of unwise entrance requirements the Fire Department is not attracting the highest grade of personnel, and adequate retirement provisions are lacking. The best men in the department are held to the level of the poorest. Systematic education and training of officers and men can no longer be ignored by a modern department."

The average age of men in the department was found by the survey to be forty years, which the report declared to be too high. Recommendation is made that the maximum age limit for admission to the department be reduced from thirty-five years to twenty-five years. Finding a lack of men with technical or engineering education, the report recommends the establishment of a technical division headed by an experienced and technically trained fire protection engineer, and that he be assisted by a staff of at least five junior engineers.

TECHNICAL FIRE FIGHTING METHODS NEEDED.

The importance of technical methods of attacking fires and of fire prevention is stressed in this recommendation. The technical division which the report suggests be established would have the duty of studying the technical aspects of fires, maintain and analyze fire records, plan inspection work, develop new fire fighting and fire control methods, and conduct the necessary research necessary to intelligently project the future development of the department.

Grave defects in fire prevention inspection work were discovered by the survey's investigators. One of the major recommendations in this respect includes the addition of thirty inspectors to the present staff of the Fire Prevention Division of the Fire Department, and that of the staff of fifty-four thus formed, forty-two, be assigned to an "inspection patrol" to inspect critically certain specific areas which have had high fire losses. It is further recommended that these men inspect every building in the designated inspection areas not less than once a month and preferably once every two weeks, and that the men be rotated from district to district.

Defects in the application of the state fire laws are responsible for a considerable portion of the city's fire losses, the report states. The Preble Box Toe Company disaster of a year ago, in which twenty lives were lost, is cited as an example. In this case, where the explosion of inflammable gases caused one of the worst disasters in the state, confusion of the fire laws caused both state and local officials to decline to take responsibility for the enforcement of regulations designed to control just such hazards as were responsible for the fire.

PRESENT LAWS MAKE FOR CONFUSION.

"The present laws on fire control make for frequent confusion and friction between state and municipal authorities as well as general misunderstanding on the part of the public," says the report. This is given as one reason why the fire laws are not more effective in preventing fires and their ensuing losses.

The report praises the general procedure for the preparation of regulations covering special fire hazards, but finds many defects in the regulations themselves.

The Department of Public Safety has the duty of drafting detailed regulations for many fire hazards such as gasoline and oil storage, et cetera. The report praises the general law placing this responsibility on the Department of Public Safety because the experts of the department are judged better qualified to pass on technical details than general legislative bodies.

The regulations so issued, however, are found to be confusing and in many cases entirely unsatisfactory. No regulations at all have been drafted for many important sources of fire danger, and others have been created only after a disaster has called attention to their need.

No specific regulations have been drawn for such fire hazards as gasoline and oil tank trucks, paint spraying, compressed gases, and industries in which dust explosions are likely to occur. Regulations covering mechanical refrigeration are said to be poorly drawn.

SPECIAL FIRE HAZARDS.

The report lists forty-six special fire hazards and classifies their regulation as "adequate," "fair," "poor," or "no regulation." Only six in the entire list are classed as "adequate." Twelve are said to be "fair." Others are either poorly regulated or not covered at all. Others are called obsolete, though it is admitted they might have been adequate at the time of their creation. In this respect it is charged that the regulations have failed to keep pace with modern developments in business and industry.

In order to eliminate the condition of divided responsibility which has led to a "confused relation between the Boston Fire Department and the State Department of Public Safety which reflects no credit on the state authorities and has continuously resulted in impairing the efficiency and morale of the Fire Department's inspection service" a complete revision of chapter 148, General Laws, is recommended.

The report recommends changes in the arson law, and includes a statistical study which indicates that arson increases as business conditions tend to become depressed. Defects in the arson laws, the report finds, make it exceedingly difficult to secure convictions.

In reference to state matters the report makes a strong recommendation "that a competent person be appointed State Fire Marshal, preferably a man with engineering or technical education and experience."

The survey staff, in obtaining the facts on which the committee has based its recommendations, has subjected the Boston fire record and the entire Boston fire problem to a microscopic analysis. The facts and figures are presented in a 300-page report with more than 150 tables, charts and illustrations. Fire insurance rating practices have been investigated in detail, schedules used for rating thoroughly analyzed, and figures secured showing the total amounts collected by the insurance companies in premiums and the amounts paid back to policy holders for indemnity on fires. The average fire losses during the five-year period 1923-27 have accounted for about 54 per cent of the premiums collected.

WHAT THERE IS TO BURN.

What there is to burn in Boston is described by maps showing building construction by types and character in every part of the city. This was supplemented by field inspections of blocks typical of the general construction in any one district. Frank Burton, a leading consulting engineer on building laws and for many years head of the building department of Detroit, was retained to analyze from the unbiased viewpoint of an outsider the effect of Boston's building laws on building construction.

Boston's fire record has been analyzed in detail. The 65,000 fires and alarms which occurred in the ten years 1918 to 1927, inclusive, have been tabulated and classified, and the 7,332 fires in the single year of 1927 studied in detail. This material has been supplemented by the study of all obtainable details of every fire in the five years 1923-27 in which the loss exceeded $15,000. These fires account for about 60 per cent of all the fire losses in Boston.

Losses have been classified by specific occupancies and according to the district where the fire occurred. These studies were productive of most important facts as they showed that certain classes of business and certain districts of the city were responsible for a disproportionate share of the city's losses.

The committee and staff report entire cooperation from all agencies affected by the survey, particularly from the heads of state and city departments, the Boston Board of Fire Underwriters, and other insurance organizations.

PROPOSALS ADVERTISED.

Bids have been asked for by advertisement in the City Record for the following departments. The attention of contractors and others is especially called to the closing time of the receipt of such proposals. This will be published weekly.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

Advertisers for proposals for exterminating vermin at the City Hospital. Surety bond will be required in the amount of $1,000. Blank forms for proposals may be obtained at the office of the Superintendent, 818 Harrison avenue, Boston. Bids, accompanied by certified check in the amount of $200, to be filed at the same office. Duplicate bid, without check, to be filed with the City Auditor.

Bids close Tuesday, January 14, at 12 m.

LIBRARY DEPARTMENT.

Advertisers for proposals for transportation of books and other material between the Central Library and branches for the year 1930. Surety bond will be required in an amount such as will be satisfactory to the trustees. Blank forms for proposals may be obtained at the office of the Central Library, Copley square, Boston. Bids, accompanied by certified check in the amount of $200, to be filed at the same office. Duplicate bid, without check, to be filed with the City Auditor.

Bids close Monday, January 6, at 12 m.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sewer Service).

Advertisers for proposals for sewerage works in Victoria road, from Southern Artery about 190 feet southerly, Dorchester. Surety bond will be required in an amount equivalent to 50 per cent of the contract price. Blank forms for proposals may be obtained at the office of the Public Works Department, Room 508, City Hall Annex, Boston. Bids, accompanied by certified check in the amount of $100, to be filed at the same office. Duplicate bid, without check, to be filed with the City Auditor.

Bids close Friday, January 10, at 12 m.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Advertisers for proposals for furnishing rubber coats for the Fire Department. Surety bond will be required in an amount equivalent to 25 per cent of the contract price. Blank forms for proposals may be obtained at the office of the Supply Department, Room 801, City Hall Annex, Boston. Bids, accompanied by certified check in the amount of $200, to be filed at the same office. Duplicate bid, without check, to be filed with the City Auditor.

Bids close Tuesday, January 14, at 12 m.

Advertisers for proposals for furnishing uniform caps to the Fire Department. Surety bond will be required in an amount equivalent to 25 per cent of the contract price. Blank forms for proposals may be obtained at the office of the Supply Department, Room 801, City Hall Annex, Boston. Bids, accompanied by certified check in the amount of $200, to be filed at the same office. Duplicate bid, without check, to be filed with the City Auditor.

Bids close Tuesday, January 14, at 12 m.

Advertisers for proposals for furnishing uniforms and equipment to the Fire Department. Surety bond will be required in an amount equivalent to 25 per cent of the contract price. Blank forms for proposals may be obtained at the office of the Supply Department, Room 801, City Hall Annex, Boston. Bids, accompanied by certified check in the amount of $400, to be filed at the same office. Duplicate bid, without check, to be filed with the City Auditor.

METROPOLITAN TRANSIT DISTRICT.

ACT IS CONSTRUCTIVE.

The act is constructive and important in that it creates the machinery for a complete and unified rapid transit system for Metropolitan Boston. In brief, the act sets forth a contract between the city and the district, of which the city is a major part, whereby the district agrees to take over and pay for all existing subways, tunnels and rapid transit extensions now owned by the City of Boston on the same terms upon which the city is obligated to pay for them. And as a party to the contract, the Commonwealth agrees to turn over the Cambridge Subway and the district agrees to take over and pay for it on the same terms and conditions as the Boston subways are to be paid for.

Stated in another way, the district agrees to assume all the outstanding rapid transit obligations for which the Commonwealth and the City of Boston are liable. The contract is not wholly unlike the creation of a partnership for carrying on a business operation which an individual has found too great to carry on by himself. It has been proven beyond a doubt that future rapid transit extensions urgently required inside and outside the City of Boston cannot be constructed under old methods which worked well until the operations broadened from the city into the greater city.

The interests of Boston are completely interwoven with the surrounding communities in transportation matters. All business life in Boston is dependent upon ready inter-communication with all parts of the Metropolitan District. For transportation purposes the district is a unit and the rapid transit system which is to provide this inter-communication should be designed, constructed and operated on that basis. These same reasons led to the creation of the Metropolitan Water, Sewerage and Park Districts, but apply to transportation with even greater force. For efficient and economical construction and operation, rapid transit lines should extend between outer terminals for four or more miles from the center of the city, thereby avoiding terminals in the center of the city where construction is most expensive and where passengers are rarely brought to the point which they wish to reach.

PRECEDENT FOR LOCAL CONTROL FEATURE.

The creation by the Legislature of the Metropolitan Transit Council, made up of the duly elected executives of the various cities and towns, seems to me a matter of transcendent importance. In the past the Legislature has been loathe to legalize concerted action by the local authorities in the various cities and towns of the Metropolitan District. It is utterly unfair that legislators from outside the district should pass upon in the state budget, the proper expenses of the Metropolitan Water, Sewerage and Park Districts when these costs are to be borne by constituencies which they do not represent and with which they have no connection. And yet, at the present time, the expenses for these three Metropolitan Districts are submitted to the Legislature like any other item in the state budget.

An example of what may be accomplished by a body of elective officials may be found in the action of the Metropolitan Water District whose mayors and selectmen organized in 1928, a committee to contest the oppressive financing of extensions to the Metropolitan Water System. It was a successful effort under the leadership of the City of Boston and the first of its kind.

Under chapter 383 future expenses for subways and rapid transit extensions in the Metropolitan District must be passed upon by the duly elected local authorities assembled in the Metropolitan Transit Council before presentation to the Legislature. This is as it should be. It is likewise obvious that if this experiment with the Metropolitan Council works well in rapid transit matters, the principle of unified district action may be applied to other municipal functions which are common to the district.

The principle is established by chapter 383 that before large expenditures are authorized for future rapid transit extensions, they must have the approval of the Metropolitan Transit Council and as a two-thirds vote of the council is required for this approval, and as Boston has 22 out of 40 votes, it is obvious that the Mayor of Boston can veto any extension which he does not approve.

Further, as future rapid transit lines are authorized, the credit of the city will not be used for their construction. This relief will tend to help the ultimate credit of the City of Boston.

When the question of rejecting section 8 of chapter 383 of the Acts of 1929 was considered by your body at its meeting of October 28, 1929, it seems clear from a perusal of the minutes that certain of the provisions of chapter 383 were not thoroughly understood by some members of your body.

QUESTION OF JUST COMPENSATION.

The present law provides that the city shall have, hold and enjoy its private or proprietary capacity for its own property all existing subways, tunnel and rapid transit extensions and all rents, tolls, income and profits from all contracts entered into by it for the use of said properties, or any part thereof, and that the same shall never be taken by the Commonwealth except on payment of just compensation.

While chapter 383 does not provide for any takings by the Commonwealth by the exercise of its sovereign power, it seems clear that the principle that the city should not divest itself of its transit properties without just compensation applies with equal soundness to a transfer of title under the provisions of this act.

Now what compensation is provided for Boston in this act? In the first place the Act creates a new district or incorporated municipality which for the purpose of the act is made a body politic and corporate under the name of the Metropolitan Transit District, and when the title in the existing Boston subways is transferred to this district it pledges every piece of taxable property in the entire metropolitan district to the payment of the principal and interest of the present Boston Rapid Transit debt. Next it says that the credit of this new incorporated municipality known as the Metropolitan Transit District shall be used for the construction of every future subway and rapid transit extension required by the greater city.

NEED OF SOUND POLICY—GOVERNOR SQUARE.

Boston has been operating under a sound policy while she pledges her credit for the building of rapid transit within her own municipal limits. This condition no longer prevails. The taxpayers of Boston have just pledged their credit for a rapid transit extension which is located for approximately a mile in the town of Milton. Any extension of rapid transit facilities beyond Governor square to Brighton must be coupled for economical operations with an extension through Somerville toward North Cambridge and Arlington. The requirements for rapid transit extensions toward the North Shore are becoming more insistent. Medford, Malden, Quincy and other portions of the Metropolitan District are demanding that immediate attention be given their need for rapid transit. It may be argued that the Elevated has furnished such rapid transit in the case of Everett but the ability of the Elevated will not permit it to finance rapid transit in other cases in the future. The Elevated built the Cambridge Subway but to prevent disaster the Commonwealth was compelled to step in and purchase it. Of course the Commonwealth cannot be expected, except in an emergency, to lend its credit for Metropolitan rapid transit.

It is clear that either Boston must enlarge the unsound policy of pledging its credit and risking the money of its taxpayers for rapid transit extensions outside its municipal limits in order to give essential transportation facilities to the greater city, or else take into partnership other cities and towns which have equal need of such facilities.

NATURE OF SUBWAY OWNERSHIP.

Let us consider for a moment what is the nature of the ownership which the city possesses in its subways. The Legislature first set forth the principle that the city owned its subways in a private or proprietary capacity in section 19 of chapter 534 of the Acts of 1902. Shortly thereafter in Sears v. Crocker, 184 Mass. 586 the Supreme Judicial Court passed upon the nature of this ownership. The Court said,

"But it (Acts 1902, chapter 534, section 19) does not purport to give a private proprietary right to anything more than the subways and tunnels as structures. It does not deal with the rights of the public to use the streets or with any right of private property in the streets themselves. It leaves the subways lawfully resting in the public streets by virtue of the rights of the public therein, and it gives the city the same kind of ownership of the structures that gas companies and electric lighting companies have in their pipes and conduits, except that the city is charged with certain special trusts in the ownership of these subways."

The "special trusts" referred to are probably the duty to apply rentals in payment of bonds and to permit use to be made of the structures for transportation purposes in such manner as the Legislature may direct.

As has been stated, the phrase "private or proprietary capacity" first appeared in the legislative acts in the Acts of 1902, chapter 534, section 19, and was there made to apply to the then existing subway and the tunnels and subways authorized by that act. It has been made to apply to every subway and rapid transit extension constructed thereafter up to the present tie. This is a solemn acknowledgment by a formal act of the Legislature that the city does not hold these properties as an agent for the state, but that they belong to the city as a proprietor, not as a sovereign. This principle of proprietary ownership is important, however, only as it may add an element of particular value to the city in the subways. If these subways were owned by the city in its public capacity, on retirement of the bonds which were issued to pay for them rentals for the use of the subways would cease unless the Legislature directed otherwise.

IMPORTANCE OF SUBWAY RENTALS.

Theoretically, therefore, it can be urged that it will legally be possible after some date in the neighborhood of 1970, when existing subways are paid for, that the city in its private or proprietary capacity may continue to charge rentals to be collected from the car rider and apply them for the benefit of the taxpayer under the appropriating power. Far more likely is it that the taxpayer long prior to that time will be required to contribute for the benefit of the car rider.

While it was never contemplated that the taxpayers of Boston should ever be called upon to pay anything toward the retirement of the rapid transit debt, this contingency is certain, if for any cause rentals should fail. Since the credit of the City of Boston stands behind this debt, every piece of property in Boston is pledged to the payment of its principal and interest.

This liability instead of being potential would become very real if the present leases of subways, tunnels and rapid transit extensions which now all theoretically expire on July 1, 1936, should be terminated on that date or any date thereafter prior to the accumulation of a fund from rentals sufficient to retire all present outstanding rapid transit debt with interest at maturity.

Under the provisions of chapter 741 of the Acts of 1911, the leases continue in force after July 1, 1936, unless and until said contracts are terminated by notice either from the City of Boston or from the Elevated. The City of Boston may terminate all of the leases on July 1, 1936, or on the first of July of any year thereafter by giving at least two years' prior notice in writing, which notice it shall be the duty of the Mayor to give if directed so to do by an act of the General Court or if directed so to do by a vote of the City Council approved by the Department of Public Utilities. The Boston Elevated Railway may likewise terminate all said contracts on July 1, 1936, or on the first of July of any year thereafter, by giving to the Mayor of the city at least two years' prior notice in writing. No notice on the part of either the city or the company shall be given more than three years prior to the date therein fixed for termination.

TERMINATION OF LEASES.

It is unlikely that the Elevated would ever dare to give notice of the termination of the leases, as it is clear that the loss of use of the subway, tunnels and rapid transit extensions would exclude it from the downtown district and immediately cause the loss of a substantial part of its revenue. It is not, however, so unlikely that at some time in the future a legislature might be elected which, with changing conditions, might take the view that the subway is simply an underground street and that therefore some portion of its cost should be borne by the taxpayers as well as the car rider. If this view prevailed, an act of the General Court could direct the Mayor to terminate the subway leases and thereafter it might not be possible for the city to execute any leases for rental adequate to pay the interest and accumulate the sinking fund for the rapid transit debt. If this were to happen, it would be to the advantage of the taxpayers of the City of Boston, that the taxpayers in the surrounding cities and towns, who use the Elevated system equally with themselves, should be compelled to contribute to any assessments necessary to pay the interest and principal of the existing rapid transit debt of the City of Boston.

The report of the Special Commission to investigate the rapid transit needs of the Metropolitan District created by chapter 66 of the Resolves of 1928, attempted to establish a definite legislative policy with regard to paying for existing subways. The fourth recommendation of their report submitted by the Legislature of 1929 was:

"The immediate extension of all leases of existing subways at the present rental of 4½ per cent per annum until the sinking fund accumulated from said rental is sufficient to pay the cost of said subways."

The fact that the Legislature of 1929 did not adopt this recommendation when it passed chapter 383 is proof that there is somebody of opinion that the taxpayer should pay some of the cost of existing subways after 1936. The Public Trustees of the Elevated urged on numerous occasions that it was necessary for the taxpayer to assume part of the burden of existing subways and rapid transit extensions. There can be no question that if this view is ever to prevail, that this burden should be borne by the district which uses the Elevated system rather than by the taxpayers within the municipal limits of the City of Boston.

SUBWAYS NOT FOR FINANCIAL PROFIT.

The subways were built, not for financial profit to the city, but to assure its citizens proper rapid transit facilities and to clear its streets of trolley cars. They are a part of the growth of the city. All subways have been built and leased for a rental which would cover interest on outstanding bonds and a sinking fund to retire them at maturity and no more. Everybody admits that, when the subways are paid for and the bonds of the city retired, neither the city nor the district, if it then owns them, should burden the car riders by charging a rental in excess of the maintenance and upkeep of the subways.

The subways were built to lease to the Boston Elevated Railway Company and they can have no other use than to be leased to that corporation or its successor whether that successor be a private company or a municipal corporation. This being so, there can be no advantage in waiting until the result of the referendum provided in chapter 383 is known. If public ownership prevails, clearly the same district which purchases the assets, property and franchises of the Boston Elevated Railway Company, should own the subways, tunnels and rapid transit extensions. If public management and operation is to continue, it is clear that the district which is to finance future rapid transit extensions should share in the burden of existing subways, tunnels and rapid transit extensions. And finally, if it should be voted to return the road to private management, it is highly essential for Boston that the Metropolitan District should be squarely behind the outstanding transit obligations of the city as protection against the possible failure of private management.

By the acceptance of section 8, the fourteen cities and towns which are constituted the Metropolitan Transit District by the provisions of chapter 383 are bound to assume and pay this debt. As has been stated this pledges every piece of property in the entire Metropolitan District to the payment of principal and interest. As the assessed valuation of the Metropolitan District as determined for the purposes of the state tax during 1929 is $3,321,634,646 and the assessed valuation of the City of Boston in 1929 for the same purpose is $2,123,538,723, it becomes clear that if the taxpayers of Boston were called upon to make good upon their guarantee in whole or in part, that out of every dollar required, only 63.9 cents would be paid by the taxpayers of Boston, while 36.1 cents would be paid by the taxpayers of other cities and towns constituting the Metropolitan Transit District. This means that the taxpayers of Boston would be relieved of 36.1 cents of every dollar for which they are now potentially liable on the rapid transit debt. While the credit of the City of Boston is among the very best of the great American cities, it certainly cannot fail to help that credit to have the taxable property of the entire Metropolitan Transit District placed behind the outstanding rapid transit debt.

TRANSIT DEPARTMENT ALWAYS METROPOLITAN.

When this question was before your body at its meeting on October 26, 1929, great stress was laid upon the fact that the acceptance of section 8 immediately created a Metropolitan Transit Department which replaced the Boston Transit Department. I agree with members of your body that there is no reason why the proper financing of past and future subways, tunnels and rapid transit extensions should be made contingent upon the creation of a Metropolitan Transit Department. Proper financing has never been joined with the organization with the body in charge of the details of construction by any regular or special commission or any legislature prior to the report of the committee on conference which resulted in the passage of chapter 383 of the Acts of 1929.

The original Transit Department was created by chapter 478 of the Acts of 1893 and provided for three commissioners to be appointed by the Mayor of Boston. Before work was actually under way this act was amended by chapter 548 of the Acts of 1894 and the Boston Transit Commission was made to consist of two commissioners appointed by the Governor and three by the Mayor of Boston, and it was provided that they should hold office for the term of five years from the date of the passage of this act. In 1899 their term was extended for a period of three years. In 1902 the term of the commission was extended to July 1, 1906. In 1906 the term was extended for an additional three years. In 1909 the term was extended for two years. In 1911 the term was extended for three years, and in 1914 the term was extended for an additional three years. In 1917 the term was extended for one year. Never, therefore, from 1894 to 1918 was the Boston Transit Commission treated as a department of the City of Boston but rather as a commission created and responsible to the Legislature who had delegated the appointment of individual commissioners to the Governor and the Mayor as its agents.

In 1918 the law under which the Transit Commission is at present operated was adopted by the Legislature, and reads as follows:

"Special Acts of 1918, chapter 185, 'AN ACT TO PROVIDE FOR THE TRANSFER OF THE POWERS OF THE BOSTON TRANSIT COMMISSION TO THE CITY OF BOSTON.'

SECTION 1. Upon the expiration of the term of office of the Boston Transit Commission the City of Boston shall have all the powers and privileges, and be subject to all the duties, restrictions and liabilities heretofor conferred or imposed upon the commission and remaining in effect at the date of the passage of this act, the said powers and duties to be exercised and performed by the Mayor, Commissioner of Public Works, and City Treasurer, or by such person or persons, not exceeding three, as may be appointed by the Mayor, subject to the provisions of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909 and acts in amendment thereof and in addition thereto. The person so appointed shall receive such compensation for their service as the Mayor and City Council shall determine.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage."

Thereafter, at my request, an opinion was prepared by Joseph P. Lyons, Esquire, for many years counsel of the Transit Commission, and rendered to me. This opinion states in part, as follows:

"I am of the opinion that when the powers and duties which were vested in the Transit Commission were transferred to the City of Boston, the Legislature intended that the City of Boston should act in all matters under its control and care by the persons designated in the act, and that the Board or department should not be in the same category with other departments insofar as to require the approval of the Mayor of contracts the Board may make. . . . "I do not feel that the legislature intended to create the department within the meaning of our charter provisions. . . . If the charter provisions apply to the persons composing the so-called transit department, that department could be abolished by vote of the Council with the approval of the Mayor. . . . If the Transit Department so-called were subject to the charter provisions it would be incumbent upon that department to annually furnish your Honor with an estimate of its expenditures during the next financial year, and it would also be incumbent upon your Honor to examine such estimates and submit the same with your recommendation to the City Council, though the City Council would have no authority to interfere in any way with the expenditures made by the Transit Department. The City Council also has no power to make appropriations of money to be expended by the Transit Department.

"Prior to the passage of chapter 185 of the Acts of the year 1918, it was not necessary to secure the approval of the Mayor on contracts made by the Transit Department. The sole power was vested in the Transit Commission. The power which the Transit Commission possessed was merely transferred to the City of Boston and the Legislature specified that in transit matters the City of Boston should act by the Mayor, the Commissioner of Public Works and the City Treasurer, or by such person or persons not exceeding three as may be appointed by the Mayor. Three persons having been appointed by the Mayor, they are vested with all the powers and duties of the old transit commission. The Mayor's control is exercised over the Transit Department by appointment and in the case of dissatisfaction, by removal under the provisions of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909."

NOT A CITY DEPARTMENT.

It is therefore clear that until 1918 the Boston Transit Department was always a state tribunal and in the opinion of the City Law Department is still of that character. It is, as stated by its counsel, not a city department within the meaning of the provisions of the Boston City Charter. Therefore, there seems to be no reason why this approval should be tied up or joined with past or future financing of subways, tunnels and rapid transit extensions. The Legislature should keep in mind the splendid services which the Boston Transit Commission has rendered in the construction of the existing transit system over the past thirty-five years. Clearly there should be no waste by the duplication of construction bodies as was provided by the Legislature of 1928, when it created a special commission for the construction of the East Boston Tunnel, an act which I refused to approve.

It can be strongly urged as the Metropolitan Transit District is to finance future construction that the other thirteen cities and towns in the district should have some recognition in the personnel of the commission. It may well be, however, that your body is right in insisting that this matter be passed upon separately by the Legislature. I wish to emphasize, however, that it will be difficult to assemble a better organization of employees or a better engineering force than the present Boston Transit Department constitutes. Even if the Legislature should desire to make some change in the method of appointment of the commissioners, the Transit Department organization itself should be kept intact.

AVOID DUPLICATION AND WASTE.

If, however, duplication and waste are avoided and the present organization of the Transit Department is kept intact that it may function in the future as it has in the past, details as to how the commissioners who head the department are to be appointed, are of relative unimportance as compared to the prompt functioning of the Metropolitan Transit Council and the immediate authorization of needed rapid transit improvements.

To authorized these rapid transit improvements, legislative action is necessary. Since legislative action is necessary, Boston will be in a better position to have its ideas carried out by transferring the title to the subways and accepting the act either in its present form or as amended and seeking to have the Metropolitan Transit Council adopt its views, than otherwise.

In the Metropolitan Transit Council the Mayor of Boston has twenty-two votes out of a total of forty. While a two-thirds vote is required for affirmative action, it is apparent that the city is in a position to defeat any proposition of which it disapproves.

In case of disagreement the city would seem to be more likely to control the action of the Metropolitan Transit Council than to obtain passage by the Legislature of measures authorizing it to deal with the subways in a manner opposed by the representatives in the Legislature from the other cities and towns of the district. At the present time the other cities and towns in the Metropolitan Transit District have thirty-nine members of the House of Representatives while Boston has forty-three.

As time goes on the tendency will be for Boston's influence in the council to increase and its relative representation in the Legislature to decrease because voting in the council is on the basis of valuation while representation in the Legislature is on the basis of population. Every new rapid transit extension will tend to increase valuations in the business district. Further growth in the population in the future is likely to be in the suburban districts, while that very growth also causes larger increase in valuation in the business center.

Metropolitan Boston is one of the great cities of the world. It does not stand so in the eyes of the world, largely because of the provincial point of view which has prevailed with regard to cooperation in proper functions of local government between its constituent parts. Now that the Legislature has for the first time created a metropolitan incorporated municipality headed by the duly elected local authorities in the Metropolitan Transit Council assembled, let it not be said that municipal Boston refused to give the measure of a fair hearing.

PRINCIPLE OF TRANSIT PROBLEM.

Chapter 383 was approved by the Governor on the eighth day of last June. Of course the city could not be expected to accept this act during a mayoralty campaign when the outgoing Mayor, under the provisions of the act, would be given the right to appoint two transit commissioners for five years.

This view nevertheless does not in the least impair the value of a principle that I have supported before the Legislature for four years, that the Boston transit problem has become metropolitan in character. Any measure recognizing the scope of the problem should not be lightly set aside. It is obvious from the minutes of the City Council that it acted upon the question of acceptance without due inquiry. I deem it my duty, therefore, to submit the measure in order that the policy of the present administration may be outlined and set forth upon the records of the City Council for such future action as may be deemed expedient.

ORDER OF ADDITION.

The Mayor has approved the issuance of an order of addition, in the sum of $4,087.40, to the contract of Lamont Brothers Company, Incorporated, for the erection and completion of the William Lloyd Garrison School addition.

This amount is required to cover the cost of bringing a 3-inch supply pipe from the street water main to the lot line and from the lot line to the building, where it was found necessary to install a pneumatic pump equipment to increase the pressure, in order that sufficient pressure might be supplied within the building.

After a test had been made, it was found that the pressure on the supply from the main to the lot line was not sufficient to feed the building. Upon further investigation it was also found that the street supply was a 1½-inch galvanized pipe. This pipe was found to be plugged up with rust, with the result that the pressure was reduced 25 per cent, making the pressure inadequate to supply the water needed for this building.

INSTITUTIONAL PLANTS OF CITY COMPLETELY REFITTED WITH NEW POWER UNITS DURING ADMINISTRATION OF MAYOR NICHOLS.

During the administration of Mayor Nichols three institutional units of the city have been refitted with complete new power plants. This has been done in order to add greater comfort to the inmates of these institutions as well as to make for more economy and efficiency in the management.

At the Boston City Hospital, in the boiler room three old 72-inch horizontal return tubular boilers, which were located at the west side of the building, were removed. The rear and side walls of this section of the building were increased in height, and a new roof installed at the new upper level. In the new boiler room space thus provided two 600 horse power Babcock and Wilcox water tube boilers were installed with modern high furnace settings and equipped to burn fuel oil.

In the engine room the two thirty-five year old Siemens and Halske engine-driven electric generator units were removed and replaced by four-cylinder vertical engine-driven direct current electric generator units of 400 kilowatt capacity each. The power and lighting switch board was rearranged and added to, and a connection provided for the Edison Electric Illuminating Company to supply alternating current service to the X-Ray Department of the hospital.

Both the engine room and the boiler room were equipped with complete boiler and steam metering instruments, and new electric rotating balancers were installed to care for the increased electric load.

LONG ISLAND HOSPITAL.

The power plant is situated on the east side of the island, and is connected to existing buildings by means of tunnels and underground conduits.

The old equipment consisted of five small and two medium sized horizontal return tubular boilers. The coal was brought into the fire room and dumped on the floor, and it was then hand fired into the furnaces. In the engine room there were two 30-kilowatt engine-driven electric generators about thirty years old, and one 44-kilowatt unit about twenty years old. The latter was in good mechanical and electrical condition.

There has been installed in the boiler room two 84-inch horizontal return tubular boilers and three 66-inch horizontal return tubular boilers each fired by a unit coal pulverizer. At the south end of the boiler room a coal pocket has been constructed, and from this pocket coal is fed to the coal mill hoppers by a short elevator and screw conveyor.

One of smaller old engine-driven electric generator units has been removed and two vertical engine-driven, 125-kilowatt direct-current electric generators have been installed.

The exhaust steam from these units is used to heat the buildings of the hospital. New feed water pumps and feed water heater have been installed in the pump room, and the power plant is equipped with a complete set of steam meters.

PENAL INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

Prior to the new work recently completed, the old power plant was located at the west end of the island and consisted of three 72-inch horizontal return tubular boilers and three engine-driven electric generating units, one of which was completely out of commission and the other two were in extremely poor condition. All of the units were at least thirty years old. Supplementing this plant was a steam heating plant adjacent to the Hill Prison with two 72-inch horizontal return tubular boilers about twenty years old.

In accordance with the scheme adopted the center of generation for both steam and electricity was transferred to the Hill Prison end of the island. The decision for this change was due to the fact that as the largest heating load is in this location, better facilities and more economical use of the exhaust steam for heating purposes could be obtained and it was also believed that any future growth of the institution would occur at this point.

In the new power house has been installed two 84-inch boilers and one 66-inch boiler, each fired by a unit coal pulverizer. Coal is delivered to these units by an elevator and conveyor.

Steam from the boilers is carried to the engine room where it drives two new horizontal engine-driven 125-kilowatt direct-current electric generators which are able to properly carry the electric load and which provide proper breakdown facilities. Electricity is distributed from these units through a new switch board to all the buildings of the institution and also to the United States Naval Radio Station which is located on the island. Exhaust steam from the engines is carried to the adjacent Hill Prison for heating purpose, and high pressure steam is delivered by means of overhead pipe lines on a catenary hung pole structure to the buildings at the west end of the island for heating same. The heating return lines are hung on this pole structure also, and the condensate is pumped back from the various buildings to the power plant for reuse in the boilers.

The power plant is now modern in every respect. The new equipment also includes coal weighing and steam metering devices. Considerable work was also done in re-vamping existing piping to reduce waste, and the power plant now shows a marked increase of economy over the old equipment.

BOSTON HAS RECORD LOW DEATH RATE FOR INFANTS IN 1929.

Mayor Nichols on December 31 gave out the following statement of the Boston Health Department on vital statistics:

The outstanding favorable feature of the report for the year 1929 was the low infant mortality rate, 68.03, the lowest infant death rate ever recorded in Boston. Other favorable features were the decreased number of deaths from diarrhea and enteritis in children under two years of age, lowest on record, the decrease in the number of deaths of mothers due to puerperal diseases, lowest on record, and the exceptionally low number of deaths from measles, lowest on record. The continued decrease in the number of deaths from pulmonary tuberculosis and the decrease in the number of deaths from heart disease and scarlet fever were also gratifying.

Among the unfavorable features were the continued decrease in the birth rate, the slight increase in the death rate and the continued increase in the number of deaths from cancer. There was also an increase in the number of deaths from influenza, lobar pneumonia and bronchopneumonia due to the exceptionally heavy number of cases reported during the first quarter of the year.

F. X. MAHONEY, M. D.,
Health Commissioner.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

L. S. Koufman & Co. have been granted an extension of time for completion of contract for completion of Nurses' Home at Sanatorium Division, Boston City Hospital, from November 1, 1929, to January 1, 1930.

LIBRARY DEPARTMENT.

The B. F. Sturtevant Company have been granted an extension of time for completion of the contract for exhaust fan at the Boston Public Library, Copley square, Boston, to October 20, 1929.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

John B. Dolan has been granted an extension of time until January 16, 1930, for the completion of the contract for Administration Building at the Boston Airport, East Boston.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Ferrari & Petaccia have been granted an extension of the time of completion of the contract for constructing artificial stone sidewalks in Bunker Hill street, Ward 2, from Main street to Belmont street, contract dated October 23, 1929, from December 15, 1929, to July 1, 1930.

EXTRA WORK UNDER CONTRACT.

A. DeStefano & Son, Incorporated, have been directed to perform the following extra work under the contract for laying street asphalt pavement in Washington street, from Mora street to Southern Artery, dated September 18, 1929. Items ordered: Grade approaches at all intersecting streets; move edgestone, remove old sidewalk at Fillmore garage and construct temporary sidewalk at same location and furnish crushed stone and cinders. To be paid for by force account. Estimated cost of extra work, $650.

LIST OF GARAGE PETITIONS FOR HEARING BEFORE THE BOARD OF STREET COMMISSIONERS.

MONDAY, JANUARY 13.

NAME.	Location.	Ward.	Petitioning for.
Patrick J. Greeley.....	438 Washington street.....	22	Two cars.
Charles Struzziery.....	39 and 41 Sycamore street.....	19	Two cars.
Zenas C. Howland.....	36 Joiner street.....	2	Business garage and 185 gallons gasoline.
C. E. Lawson.....	87 Harvard avenue.....	21	500 additional gallons gasoline.
United Ice and Coal Company.....	1A Ellery street.....	7	1,000 gallons gasoline.
William T. VanNostrand.....	26 Alford street.....	2	1,000 additional gallons gasoline.
Standard Oil Company of New York, 468-600 Chelsea street.....		1	1,200 barrels lubricating oils.

DEPARTMENT CHANGES.

The following changes in the number, rating and compensation of the city employees have been made during the week ending Thursday, January 2:

ASSESSING DEPARTMENT.

The employment of the following temporary draftsmen, for a period from December 15 to 26, 1929, at $28 a week has been approved: Erisson Larson, R. Whitney Pierce.

Joseph P. Sheerin, executive clerk on leave of absence without pay, has been temporarily employed for a period of fifteen days, at a rate based upon an annual salary of $2,300.

Thomas A. Collins, clerk, has been granted leave of absence, without pay, for one year, beginning December 16, 1929.

COMMISSION ON BOSTON AND CAMBRIDGE BRIDGES.

Approval has been given for the appointment of William J. Corkery as temporary bridge caretaker on the Boston and Cambridge Bridges, at $30 a week, for a period of ten days beginning December 27, 1929, to fill a vacancy.

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

The following employees have been reappointed in the Department of School Buildings in the positions and at the salaries stated:

Henry M. Curry, chief and auditing clerk, $3,200 a year.

Martin A. Hernan, clerk and inspector, $2,600 a year.

Charles E. Cadigan, supervisor of construction, $3,500 a year.

Peter M. Curley, inspector, $2,600 a year.

Joseph Dowd, inspector, $2,600 a year.

Daniel H. Sullivan, inspector, $2,600 a year.

Arthur T. Wilson, inspector, $2,600 a year.

Waldo H. Smith, fire protection inspector, $2,700 a year.

Frank P. Sheehan, supervisor of roofing, $2,800 a year.

Hugh J. Mealey, roofing inspector, $2,600 a year.

Cornelius D. Driscoll, assistant supervisor of plumbing, $2,800 a year.

John J. Driscoll, supervisor of alterations and repairs, $3,800 a year.

William J. Ivers, architectural draftsman, $2,800 a year.

Raymond E. Delaney, architectural draftsman, $2,300 a year.

John Q. Ewell, electrician, $2,400 a year.

Harry P. Blute, electrician, $2,300 a year.

Lewis B. Jones, outside superintendent of heating, $2,700 a year.

Frank J. Daley, inspector of heat control apparatus, $2,300 a year.

John J. Morrissey, inspector of heat control apparatus, $2,300 a year.

John J. Daley, inspector of heat repairs, $2,700 a year.

Goldie Mendelsohn, stenographer, $1,800 a year.

William F. Cronin, storekeeper, $2,000 a year.

Frank P. Guthrie, chauffeur, $1,800 a year.

Katherine McLaughlin, cleaning woman, $18 a week.

Thomas J. Foley, furnace inspector, $2,100 a year.

Jeremiah F. Shea, electrician, $2,200 a year.

William N. Moran, electrical draftsman, $2,000 a year.

Michael J. Long, electrician, $2,000 a year.

Daniel J. Kinaly, clerk, $2,200 a year.

James E. Hanlon, architectural draftsman, $2,500 a year.

Thomas F. Donnelly, electrician, $2,000 a year.

Charles F. Sefton, inspector, $2,300 a year.

Walter L. Eldridge, inspector, $2,400 a year.

George J. Reagan, assistant storekeeper, $1,600 a year.

George H. McDonough, Jr., plumbing inspector, $2,200 a year.

John Carnie, repairer of steam engines and other steam equipment, $2,100 a year.

Ralph J. Goslin, electrician, $2,000 a year.

Patrick H. O'Connor, clerk, $2,500 a year.

Gabriele A. Barbato, repairer of steam engines, pumps, automatic control and other steam equipment, $2,100 a year.

Eugene C. McCarthy, electrical engineer, $3,800 a year.

Herbert L. Patterson, civil engineer, $3,800 a year.

Thomas P. Kimmett, chief clerk of works, $3,400 a year.

George C. Glidden, assistant electrical engineer, $2,800 a year.

John B. Bjorklund, assistant electrical engineer, $2,800 a year.

Bernard V. Cullen, electrical draftsman, $2,300 a year.

Edward V. Flaherty, mechanical electrical equipment inspector, $2,400 a year.

William A. McPherson, heating and ventilating engineer in charge, $3,800 a year.

John J. Cassidy, heating and ventilating engineer, $2,800 a year.

Leo A. Hartnett, heating and ventilating draftsman, $2,400 a year.

Margaret A. Connolly, stenographer, $1,800 a year.

John H. Regan, designing draftsman, $2,300 a year.

Charles A. Callanan, assistant civil engineer, $2,300 a year.

John F. Harrington, assistant civil engineer, $2,100 a year.

Joseph A. Harrington, heating and ventilating draftsman, $2,300 a year.

Edward A. Cotter, chauffeur, $1,800 a year.

John A. Noonan, contract clerk, $2,660 a year.

Timothy J. Lyons, assistant chief clerk of works, $2,800 a year.

John R. Fitzgerald, clerk of works, $2,300 a year.

Paul Short, clerk of works, $2,300 a year.

John F. Flynn, clerk of works, $2,300 a year.

Max I. Omansky, clerk of works, $2,100 a year.

Daniel J. McCarty, clerk of works, $2,300 a year.

Michael J. Conlin, clerk of works, $2,300 a year.

William G. Tonner, clerk of works, $2,300 a year.

Marjorie E. Harkins, janitress, $18 a week.

Annie A. Donohue, stenographer, $2,100 a year.

Patrick J. Osborne, supervisor of plumbing, $3,800 a year.

Thomas F. Haley, assistant electrical engineer, $2,800 a year.

John T. Stone, heating and ventilating draftsman, $2,400 a year.

William J. Herlihy, blueprinter and map moulder, $1,900 a year.

Harold P. Timmins, electrical draftsman, $2,200 a year.

Daniel T. Horgan, electrical draftsman, $1,800 a year.

John W. Burke, transitman, $1,700 a year.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Vincent B. Buckley, supervisor of building repairs, has been retired at $1,250 a year.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

Approval has been given for the promotion of Henry J. Hart, food inspector at $2,300 a year, to Superintendent of Pedlars at $2,500 a year.

Approval has been given for the promotion of William J. Cotty from food inspector at $2,200 a year to supervising inspector, Food Division, at $2,500 a year.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

The following persons have been employed at the Boston City Hospital during the week ending Thursday, December 26, 1929:

To Fill Vacancies.

Permanent.—Claud Wyatt, kitchenman, $20 a week; William E. Packard, house cleaner, $19 a week; Mary Sheehan, table girl, $15 a week.

Temporary.—Frances Carroll, Agnes Aherne, special nurses, $42 a week; Edward Kelley, cook, $23 a week; Timothy Hodges, kitchenman, $22 a week; Joseph Perry, floor polisher, $19 a week; George Hogan, sculleryman, $17.50 a week; Doris Campbell, laundress, $17 a week; Anna Mariner, table girl, $15 a week; Michael Egan, ward porter, $24 a week.

The following changes in salaries have occurred:

Elizabeth Maguire, floor nurse at $125 a month to $29.17 a week; Nora A. Sullivan, head nurse at $85 a month to $19.56 a week; Dr. F. Broderick, executive assistant at $3,000 to $3,500 a year; William Lyons, out-patient orderly at $16.50 to porter at $21 a week; Joseph Paton, kitchenman at $19.50 to $20 a week; James Shea, center orderly at $11.50 to out-patient orderly at $16.50 a week; Lillian Myers, advertised December 19 as helper should be Elizabeth Myers.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT (Sanatorium Division).

The following persons have been appointed at the Sanatorium Division of the Boston City Hospital up to and including Thursday, December 26, 1929:

Michael Lavelle, fireman (temporary), emergency, $41.50 a week; Dennis McCarthy, coal passer (temporary), emergency, $5 a day; John Kelley, male nurse (patient) (temporary), $480 a year; Patrick Clinton, maid (patient) (temporary), $240 a year; James Czerlonka, choreman (patient) (temporary), $240 a year; Walter Quinlan, choreman (patient) (temporary), $240 a year.

The following has ceased to be employed: Carl Seagrin, male nurse (patient), $480 a year.

Approval has been given for the promotion of Miss Grace Dubrecka from laundress at $12 a week to laundress, first assistant at $15 a week.

INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

The following appointments have been made:

Long Island Hospital.

Michael J. Lehan, institution employee, cook, temporary, $800 a year, temporary.

Patrick McLaughlin, fireman, $33.59 a week and board, to succeed William J. Morgan.

Margaret F. Reardon, head nurse, $1,200 a year, to succeed Mary E. Cronin.

John A. Green, institution employee, choreman, $365 a year, to succeed Edward F. Shea.

Michael J. Lehan, institution employee, cook, $700 a year, to succeed Patrick Stack.

Edward J. Tobin, institution employee, helper in kitchen, $365 a year, to succeed Joseph McAvoy.

Clara A. LaGassey, head nurse, $1,200 a year, to succeed Katherine Kearney.

Harry M. King, institution employee, porter, $600 a year, to succeed Daniel Donovan.

James J. Kelly, institution employee, choreman, $650 a year, reinstated.

Katherine L. York, institution employee, assistant, nurses' dining room, $700 a year, to succeed Mary E. Nolan.

Thomas McDonough, institution employee, attendant, $600 a year, to succeed John J. Foley.

John M. O'Donnell, institution employee, attendant, $600 a year, to succeed Charles T. Collins.

Stella Rachubinska, institution employee, attendant, $600 a year, to succeed Clara Streichardt.

Robert H. Mullen, institution employee, helper in engine room, $600 a year, to succeed Win McQuarrie.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

John J. Murphy, chief engineer, has been granted an increase in salary from $3,700 to $4,000 a year.

PENAL INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

Approval has been given for leave of absence, without pay, for Arthur T. Stone, officer at the House of Correction, Deer Island, for one year beginning January 1, 1930.

Feeders.—J. Reidy, W. Cassell, J. Burns, 1 day at $5.

Stablemen.—W. McCarthy, T. Lewis, 1 day at $5.

Chauffeurs.—R. Brown, 1 day at $5; D. Cunningham, ¾ day at $5.50; A. Nuzzo, ¼ day at $5.50; J. Maloney, 3 days at $5.50.

Foreman.—J. Crozier, 3 days at $2,500 a year.

Wheelwright.—J. Carmody, 3 days at $2,000 a year.

Carpenter.—A. Gaffey, 3 days at $6.

Wheelwright.—M. McNeil, 3 days at $6.

Blacksmiths.—T. McInerney, W. O'Brien, M. Sullivan, 3 days at $6.

Drill Repairer.—J. Beath, 3 days at $6.

Blacksmith's Assistants.—A. Cassidy, T. McGrath, J. O'Neil, 3 days at $5.50. Total, $395.37.

Public Works Department (Sewer Service).

For the week ending Monday, December 23:

Mason, etc.—Joseph Timilty, 1 day, $7.

Sewer Cleaners.—Dennis Callaghan, Thomas Casey, John O'Connor, 3 days, $18 each; Thomas Byrne, Stephen Manning, Michael Neary, 2½ days, $16.50 each; Michael Foley, Thomas McDonough, John Sweeney, 2½ days, $15 each; Hugh Clark, Hugh O'Connor, Nathan F. O'Neil, Joseph H. Spellman, 1½ days, $9 each; Daniel J. McKenna, ¾ day, $4.50.

Chauffeurs.—Daniel Donovan, 3 days, $16.50; Edward Borgusch, Charles Caffrey, 2½ days, $13.75 each; Patrick Gal-agher, Hollis I. Reed, Matthew Donovan, 2½ days, $13.13 each; Martin J. Connolly, 2 days, $10.50; Daniel R. Hurley, Augustine Frati, 1½ days, $7.88 each; Thomas Foley, 1½ days, $7.22; Edgar Sargent, ½ day, $2.63; James J. McCarthy, 1 day, $5.25.

Laborers.—James Clark, Joseph Brown, 2½ days, $13.75 each; Louis Brunetto, James Giblin, John Sweeney, Joseph Clougherty, 2½ days, $12.50 each; Francis McDonald, Antonio Arrachiello, Jeremiah McDonald, Patrick J. Buckley, Patrick Dillon, James J. Splaine, Thomas F. Connolly, 1½ days, $7.50 each; Benjamin Gorman, Stephen Riley, Martin Day, Richard J. Moore, 1 day, $5 each; Jeremiah Coleman, Thomas Shine, Thomas Travers, Edmond McKenna, Stephen Riley, ½ day, $2.50 each.

Public Works Department (Water Service).

For the week ending Monday, December 23:

Chauffeurs.—F. Bonang, F. Joyce, T. McGuinness, J. O'Brien, F. Dolan, 1 day, $5.50 each; J. Broderick, 1½ days, $8.25; J. Burns, 1½ days, $10.31; G. Shea, 2½ days, $11.34; C. Driscoll, 1½ days, $6.47; A. Martin, ¾ day, $3.09; C. Joyce, 2½ days, $15.47.

Repairers.—W. Scanlon, C. King, D. Burke, 1 day, $6 each; W. Dunderdale, F. Higgins, ¾ day, $3.38; M. Daly, J. Curtin, 2½ days, $16.18 each; T. Joyce, 1½ days, $5.67; J. Street Laying-Out Department.

For the week ending Thursday, December 26:

Edward P. Fogarty, clerk, 9 hours, $9; Joseph H. Lahey, clerk, 10 hours, $10.

For the week ending Thursday, January 2:

Edward P. Fogarty, clerk, 18 hours, $18; Joseph R. Lahey, clerk, 18 hours, $18; Elizabeth A. Clayton, 6 hours, $6.

Traffic Commission.

For the week ending Thursday, January 2:

John P. Kelly, investigator, 2 days, $8.77; A. F. Gillespie, inspector, 1½ days, $8.22; Marie A. Maher, stenographer, ¼ day, $3.50; Thomas H. McAleney, painter, ¾ day, $4.50; William J. Doherty, painter, ½ day, $3. Total, $27.90.

Treasury Department.

For the week ending Thursday, December 26:

Helen L. Barry, 24 hours, $24.

CLAIMS ALLOWED.

The Mayor upon recommendation of the Corporation Council has approved the following claims:

Malden Leather Goods Company, 51 Chardon street, in the sum of $5.10, as refund on thirty-four unused ash tickets.

Agnes M. Grady, 131 Bunker Hill street, Charlestown, in the sum of $25, as compensation for personal injuries received March 29, 1929, by defective highway at Haymarket square, near Cross street.

Gladys M. Grady, 131 Bunker Hill street, Charlestown, in the sum of $100, as compensation for personal injuries received March 29, 1929, by defective highway at Haymarket square, near Cross street.

Emma G. Fowler, 111 Walworth street, Roslindale, in the sum of $400, as compensation for personal injuries received June 29, 1929, by defective sidewalk in front of 76 Walworth street, Roslindale.

Mary Agnes Mahan, 1123 Tremont Building, in the sum of $350, as compensation for personal injuries received August 3, 1929, by defective highway on Centre street, between Maple and Willow streets, West Roxbury.

Fannie Aronson, 27 Bowen street, Roxbury, in the sum of $75, as compensation for personal injuries received July 29, 1929, by defective crosswalk at Warren and Washington streets, Roxbury.

Mamie Ardagna, 39 Charter street, in the sum of $75, as compensation for personal injuries received April 19, 1929, by defective sidewalk in front of 33 Charter street.

Joseph T. O'Halloran, 816 Third street, South Boston, in the sum of $124.25, as reimbursement for the amount of judgment and execution issued against him on account of an accident which occurred in the performance of his duty as an ambulance driver for the Boston City Hospital, November 3, 1928.

First Lithuanian Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of Fourth and Atlantic streets, South Boston, in the sum of $111.93, as compensation for damage to property at that address by truck of Water Service, Registration B1052, September 24, 1929.

Lawrence L. Callahan, 200A Pine street, Holbrook, Mass., in the sum of $30.10, as compensation for damage to automobile by defective highway opposite 566 La Grange street, West Roxbury, December 28, 1928.

Chestnut Construction Company, Incorporated, Reuben Davidson, president, 501 Pemberton Building, in the sum of $180, as refund of proportionate part of fee paid the Building Department for permit to build at 246 and 250 Chestnut Hill avenue, Brighton, February 15, 1929, and which permit was never used.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

Permission to award contracts for work, materials and supplies, in accordance with recommendations of department heads, has been approved by the Mayor.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sewer Service).

Upon December 26 the Mayor approved a contract with Joseph Loconzolo, Jr. and N. DiBartolomeo for sewerage works in Weld Park outlet, section 2, in West Roxbury Parkway, between Centre street and Parkvale road, West Roxbury. Bids, opened December 19, were as follows:

Joseph Loconzolo, Jr. and N. DiBartolomeo, $25,506; John Williams, $26,200; C. & R. Construction Company, $26,653.33; M. DeSisto Company, $26,865; A. Cefalo, $26,967.50; J. J. Conway, $27,613; C. Russo, $27,946; C. Struzziery, $28,245.03; L. Balboni, $28,910; DeCristofaro Brothers Company, $29,520; A. Piatelli & Co., $31,167; J. Todesca, $37,712.50; Zoppo & Civitarese, $39,118.32; Franklin Construction Company, $46,651.80.

Upon December 30 the Mayor approved a contract with C. Russo for sewerage works in Welles terrace, West Roxbury. Bids, opened December 27, were as follows:

C. Russo, $744; C. Struzziery, $805; J. Capone, $938.50; D. Vozzella, $964.26; M. DeSisto Company, $975; A. Piatelli & Co., $1,070; N. DiBartolomeo Company, $1,292.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

The School Committee has awarded a contract for removal of ashes from certain schools, bids on which were opened Monday, November 25, 1929, at 12 m. Contract was awarded to Dooley Brothers under date of December 5, 1929.

A. J. Brown & Co., $1,200; Gold Key Trucking Company, $1,150; Dooley Brothers, Incorporated, $900.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon December 28 the Mayor approved a contract with the Linscott Motor Company for one sedan. A communication from Herbert S. Frost of the Supply Department was as follows:

Boston, December 28, 1929.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising for same, to the Linscott Motor Company to deliver to the Boston Traffic Commission the following:

One Reo master sedan, $1,885; less allowance on 1927 Reo sedan, $425; net amount, $1,460.

As the Linscott Motor Company are the manufacturers, no advantage would accrue from publicly advertising for same.

Respectfully yours,

HERBERT S. FROST,
Superintendent of Supplies.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon December 30 the Mayor approved a contract with bidders as indicated for furnishing hay, grain and straw to the various city departments during January, 1930. Bids, opened December 27, were as follows:

PETITIONS APPROVED.

The Mayor has approved the following petitions received from the Board of Street Commissioners:

Improvement Realty Corporation, 3430 Washington street, Ward 11, 3,000 gallons of gasolene.

Eva B. Zunner, 1 St. John street, Ward 19, 4,000 gallons of gasolene.

Arthur Ditto, 6 Basule street, Ward 19, celluloid.

East Coast Aircraft Corporation, 70 Airport Road East, Ward 1, 2,000 gallons of fuel oil.

Cooperative Sheet Metal Works, 15 Fulton street, Ward 3, acetylene and oxygen.

Bellevue Motors, 1716 Centre street, Ward 20, oxygen.

Levy's Back Bay Hardware Company, 246 Massachusetts avenue, Ward 4, ammunition.

United Auto Parts Company, 1240 Massachusetts avenue, Ward 7, acetylene and oxygen.

Deerfoot Farm Company, 125 Halleck street, Ward 9, 1,500 gallons of gasolene (additional).

Dorchester Real Estate Corporation, 1010 Morton street and 9 Southern Artery, Ward 17, 3,000 gallons of gasolene.

Patrick J. Sullivan, 814 Huntington avenue, Ward 10, 2,000 gallons of gasolene (additional).

Max Beckerman, 1026 Columbus avenue, Ward 9, 2,000 gallons of gasolene.

Anna Bell Shea, 109 and 111 Western avenue, Ward 22, 3,000 gallons of gasolene and 150 gallons of oil.

TRAFFIC COMMISSION RULINGS.

Voted, That for reasons of public safety and convenience, during the period of building construction, parking of vehicles is prohibited in the following places:

Kneeland Street:

South side, from South street to Utica street.

Utica Street:

Both sides, from Kneeland street to a point one hundred twenty-five (125) feet southerly.

South Street:

West side, from Kneeland street to a point one hundred twenty-five (125) feet southerly.

DAMAGES ACCEPTED.

Agnes I. Collins agrees to accept the sum of $10 as full payment for all rights acquired in, and all damages occasioned to her estate on Codman Hill avenue by the laying out and construction of said street under the order of the Street Commissioners and Mayor of November 9, 1928.

Waldo H. Smith agrees to accept the sum of $350 as full payment for all land taken from, all rights acquired in, and all damages occasioned to their estate on 250 Cornell street by the laying out of Walworth, formerly Bellevue, street under the order of the Street Commissioners and Mayor of June 30, 1926.

REPORT OF A SURVEY OF STREET LIGHTING OF THE CITY OF BOSTON, BY GAYLORD C. CUMMIN, C. E., CIVIC CONSULTANT.

This survey is concerned with the present street lighting system of the City of Boston with special reference to its adequacy for present needs and what measures should be taken to improve its effectiveness. Street lighting rates are not considered in this investigation but rather intensity of lighting, lighting mediums, spacing, heights of lights above the curb and the hours that lights are in service.

After a study of lighting systems in other cities, such literature on the subject as is available and the Boston local situation, standards of lighting are recommended for the local situation and concrete examples are given of their application to specific Boston streets. This survey, therefore, is primarily a discussion of lighting needs, the intensity of light needed and means for securing this intensity at the lowest cost. This embraces not only spacing and height above the curb but types of lights, glassware, etc., best fitted to the local situation.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF STREET LIGHTING.

A few brief statements on the development of street lighting are of interest in showing the changes that have taken place in the public need for street lights and the various mediums that have been developed and employed for meeting these needs.

Street lighting in the modern sense began with the installation of open flame artificial gas lamps in a limited area of London during the year 1807. The development of the gas-mantle by Auer von Welsbach in 1885 marked a great advance over the open flame gas lamp and kept gas lighting in the field after the development of the electric incandescent lamp.

Following the discovery of petroleum in Pennsylvania in 1859, kerosene lamps were developed and came into considerable use in street lighting especially in communities where there were no gas plants.

The end of the period when open flame gas lamps and kerosene lamps were alone available for street lighting also marked the end of the first phase of street lighting. Light sources were relatively feeble—about twenty candle power being the maximum per lamp. To this point the principal purpose of street lighting was protection from criminals. Any real illumination of the roadways was not practicable. Night traffic was still small, probably to a large extent due to the unsatisfactory illumination. With the development the traffic did develop rapidly and standards of street lighting had to be based primarily upon the needs of traffic. From this time on the density of traffic became the determining factor rather than protection from criminals.

In 1877 came the next notable advance in street lighting with the installation of open arc lamps in Cleveland. This was the first really powerful light source, giving approximately 1,200 candle power. Unfortunately the maximum candle power was yielded at an angle of 45 degrees with the horizontal giving a bright spot on the street near the lamp and but little light at a distance.

In 1893 the inclosed arc became available for street lighting and although not giving as much light for the same amount of current as did the open arc, it only required the replacements of carbons once a week instead of daily and gave a much steadier light. About ten years later the magnetite or luminous arc lamp was developed and was a much better performer than any of the previous lamps. It was more efficient, required less frequent replacement of electrodes and gave a much better distribution of light than did any other arc lamp. The most highly developed lamp of this type is today the mainstay of the Boston street lighting service which has 4,842 of such lamps now in service. The principle disadvantages of this lamp are the far from ideal light distribution, the complicated mechanism, the cost of training and the difficulty of keeping the globes clean due to deposits on the inside from the burning electrodes.

The carbon filament incandescent lamp was invented in 1879 and shortly came into use for street lighting purposes. This lamp was but a feeble source of light, it being impractical to construct units of large candle power. It was used to a considerable extent in residence districts and in the multiple lamp "White Way" installations. In 1909 the tungsten filament lamp was introduced which was some improvement but it was not until five years later that the "gas-filled" tungsten filament lamp was made available. This lamp brought about a veritable revolution in street lighting. These lamps became available in candle powers from 100 up to, I believe, 300,000, but for general street lighting use up to 2,500. Such lamps were more efficient in the higher candle powers than in the lower ones and due to the varying sizes available (100 c. p., 250 c. p., 400 c. p., 600 c. p., 1,000 c. p., 1,500 c. p., 2,500 c. p., series) for the first time in street lighting history, gave engineers an opportunity to make national plans for meeting street lighting needs in the most economical manner.

These lamps had such a long life that it was only necessary to replace them from three to four times a year when used in street lighting service. There is no complicated mechanism to get out of order and require careful maintenance as in the arc lamps. The distribution of light furnished was somewhat better than in the arc lamps but the fact that globes of refracting glass, designed to concentrate the rays of light where most needed, can be used in conjunction with these lamps, has placed in the hands of the engineer means for getting the most effective light distribution for a given situation.

As a result of these advantages, the modern gas-filled incandescent lamp is rapidly driving out of use all other mediums of street lighting because of its flexibility both as regards size and distribution of light, its efficiency, ease of maintenance and availability for use with various kinds of circuits and types of current.

The glassmakers have done their share toward the development of modern street lighting and it has been by no means an unimportant one. Clear glass globes were used for gas lamps and the open flame and inclosed arcs. With the gas lamps this was satisfactory but the intensity of the light source in the arcs gave rise "glare." This became especially noticeable with the magnetite arc, and also the "flaming" arc, which had a brief vogue as a street light. To prevent this the milk white or translucent globe was used. This did eliminate glare but it also absorbed a very high percentage of the light, materially reducing the effectiveness. Most of the magnetite arcs now used in Boston use this type of globe.

Continued research work was done on this subject with the result that, at the present time, there is available a large assortment of refracting glassware for street lamps designed to meet almost any need that may arise in street lighting. They are most useful when used in suspended units except the isometric refractor which is designed for use on fixtures placed along the curb.

The latest development in outside globes for use without or in addition to the refracting globes, are made of clear glass with the surface "rippled" so that the globe from the light source is eliminated. These globes absorb much less light than do the translucent globes and give a sparkle and life to the light that is entirely missing from those previously used.

Other globes and refractors have been developed for special fixtures or to meet special conditions and the designers will probably continue to develop even more advantageous types.

REFLECTORS.

Reflectors find a field for use in some phases of street lighting especially with the lower candle powers where the intensity of the light source is not so great as to dazzle the vision. The so-called "Wave" reflector is a horizontal reflector covered with white enamel, that is used to direct the beams downward and outward. Its use is undesirable with candle powers in excess of 100. A special development of reflectors is seen in the highway lighting unit devised by one of the large equipment companies.

FIXTURES.

There are a large number of modern lighting fixtures available, many of which give very satisfactory results in modern street lighting and the most important factor, after lighting effectiveness, in making a selection is that of appearance—which is largely a matter of taste. In general, the simpler designs are best and give more lasting satisfaction.

Because of the multiplicity of satisfactory fixtures available, this report makes no attempt to recommend any particular type as the selection is so much a matter of taste providing the fundamental characteristics are good. A satisfactory fixture should be:

1. Simple in design.
2. Pleasing in appearance when lighted or unlighted.
3. Designed for use with refractors and rippled glass globes.
4. Easy to clean.
5. Not unduly expensive.

These fixtures are usable with lamps of a candle power of 250 or greater. For smaller lamps the simple "wave" reflector is sufficient.

Where the light source is 18 feet or less above the curb, and the lighting circuits are underground, the ornamental part with an upright fixture is most desirable. Where the light source is to be higher than 18 feet and the circuits are underground, a pendant unit should be used on a short bracket arm. Where circuits are overhead, a pendant unit on a short bracket should be used even where the height of the light source above the curb is 18 feet or less.

POSTS, ETC.

Like fixtures, there are many satisfactory types of posts and standards for both upright and pendant units and the selection of the particular ones for use are largely matters of taste and choice of material. Cast iron, sheet metal and concrete are the materials chiefly used, concrete having the decided advantage that no painting is required in order to protect the material from the weather.

RELATIVE ECONOMY OF LIGHTING SOURCES.

The lighting sources at present available for street lighting are gas lamps with incandescent mantles rated at 50 c. p., incandescent electric lamps rated at 40 c. p. up, and magnetite arc lamps rated at 1,500 c. p. Boston is using all these types. The effectiveness of the several light sources in furnishing illumination and the relative costs of equal illumination using the different types should be the basis for any comprehensive plan for street lighting.

With the rates and lighting schedule now in use in Boston, the cost per year and per candle power per year is shown in the following table:

LAMP.	Candle Power.	Cost per Year.	Cost per Candle Power per Year.
Electric incandescent.....	40	$18 42	$0 46
Gas.....	50	26 20	524
Electric incandescent:
Electric multiple.....	66	21 20	31
Electric series.....	86		26

Electric incandescent (S).....	1,500
Magnetite arc.....	1,500		062
Electric incandescent.....	2,500	140 70	056

Attention is called to Figure 1 which shows the last column of this table in graphic plan. It is clear that the cost per candle power per year decreases as the candle power of the unit increases (except for the gas lamp which shows a higher cost than any other lamp although not the lowest in candle power). The curve also shows quite distinctly that the really economical lamps are those of 250 candle power or greater.

The economy of using the larger units can be shown in another way by the following tables:

COST OF FURNISHING FIXED AMOUNTS OF LIGHT WITH VARIOUS SIZED UNITS.

CANDLE POWER.	COST WITH
	40 Candle Power.	Gas.	100	250	600	1,000	1,500	2,500

This table furnishes data for quickly estimating the relative costs of a proposed installation as compared to an existing one as well as aiding in the selection of the most effective and economical installation.

PRINCIPLES OF MODERN STREET LIGHTING.

Adequate street lighting is of very great importance to the modern city. It serves to reduce materially crimes against the persons and property of the inhabitants, it adds greatly to the safety, comfort and convenience of all persons abroad at night, whether on foot or in automobiles. It increases the attractive appearance of the city and discourages dirt and squalor.

These advantages are more than theoretical. Such figures as are available show them to be very real. It is reported, for instance, that the installation of a high intensity street lighting system in the business district of Cleveland resulted in decreasing night crimes 41 per cent in the area affected. Unfortunately, little has been done in studying and evaluating in definite terms the effect of adequate lighting on crime but police authorities generally seem to be agreed that it has an important influence. The effect is most emphasized when, due to some disaster, all street lighting is cut off for several nights. The writer has been through two experiences like this and has noted with interest the fact that the usual police force had to be greatly augmented by armed citizens and military forces and every person in the streets after dark had to show a special pass from the authorities or run the risk of arrest.

The effect of adequate street lighting on traffic accidents is equally marked although, curiously enough, it seems to be almost entirely neglected in the traffic surveys that have been made in some of our principal cities. A scrutiny of the tabulations and diagrams in the reports of such surveys showing the number of traffic accidents by hours, gives plain indications of the effect of street lighting, but to be conclusive and definite it would be necessary to know the relative density of traffic and the street lighting conditions. Wherever direct comparisons have been made between the number of traffic accidents on a poorly lighted street and a well lighted street, where traffic conditions were essentially similar, the influence has been clearly shown in a marked reduction of accidents on the well-lighted streets. Where attempts have been made to determine the cause of night traffic fatalities, it is reported that approximately 20 per cent are directly due to inadequate street lighting.

Visual perception is much more rapid under bright than under dim illumination. Just the fraction of a second saved by the bright illumination is often sufficient to prevent an accident and this effect is accentuated in the modern fast moving automobile traffic.

FACTORS WHICH GOVERN ADEQUATE STREET LIGHTING.

The most important factor in street lighting is clearly the visibility of objects on roadway and sidewalk. Objects may be seen in two ways: In silhouette or by direct illumination.

Before the advent of the automobile and the swiftly moving traffic which it created, silhouette lighting was sufficient for most purposes but it is so no longer. For safe vision with swiftly moving traffic, it is necessary that objects be directly illuminated.

The physical factors that enter into the correct design of street lighting in the order of their relative importance may be briefly summarized as follows:

1. Visibility of objects on the roadway and sidewalk.
2. Distribution of illumination.
3. Brilliance of light source within the range of vision.
4. Appearance of installation by night.
5. Appearance of installation by day.

For application to a particular street, the values used in determining these factors must be based on the

1. Probable density of traffic.
2. The most economical installation to get the desired results.

For both efficiency and economy, there should be a light at each street intersection because this light is then useful on more than one street. The frequency of street intersections therefore furnishes a limit to the maximum spacing of units.

Therefore, the most economical installation is that using as large units as possible spaced so that there is a light at each street intersection but not so far apart as to make the minimum intensity between lights fall below safe limits.

REQUIRED INTENSITY OF LIGHT.

For purposes of convenience, students of street lighting have classified streets into groups dependent upon their lighting needs and a study of the various intensities advised by different engineers for the several classes and the examination of a large number of actual installations leads the writer to recommend the following classification of streets and the size and spacing of units for each. The tabulation is as follows:

TYPE OF STREET.	Size Units, Candlepower.	Spacing, Feet.	Factor.
Main business.....	1,000-1,500	100	10-20
Secondary business.....	600-1,000	120-200	5
Thoroughfares.....	600-1,000	200	3-5
Principal residence.....	400- 600	200-300	2
Secondary residence.....	250- 400	250-400	1
Warehouse.....	400- 600	200-300	2
Alleys.....	100- 250	100-250	1
Highways (open country).....	250	250	1

This recommendation corresponds reasonably closely with the intensities usually recommended except in the case of main business streets, where it is considerably lower, as factors as high as 55 have been advised. The central zone of Fifth avenue in New York uses two double 750 c. p. units at each intersection and one similar double unit half-way between giving a factor of less than 10 except at the intersections where the factor is nearly 20. This gives satisfactory illumination for as heavy traffic as the street will carry.

It seems foolish to put 3,000 c. p. 30 feet above the curb because of the necessity of getting such an intense source of light out of the line of vision when 1,500 c. p. at a height of 15 to 20 feet will give about the same amount of useful light on the street. Such an arrangement is certainly not economical or efficient, although on broad open avenues it presents an attractive appearance if the poles are well designed.

Where roadways are 30 feet or more in width, and there are no obstructions, the 18-foot height of the "boulevard" post now used in Boston is very satisfactory. On narrower streets better results would be obtained by a 14 or 16 foot height as the present unit on these streets, while lighting the second story of the buildings very well, makes but a small proportion of its light available for the street surface. It is fully recognized that for aesthetic reasons it is often impracticable to have some streets in a given district with 18-foot posts and others with 15, but in most cases it is possible to work out some way of using the most effective height in a given situation and still getting a fair degree of harmony with other streets in the vicinity.

When the street is lined by trees the 18-foot boulevard post or the 19 to 22-foot gooseneck posts in use in Boston place the light among the foliage and in many cases to such an extent that the effectiveness of the light is greatly reduced and even trimming of the trees is ineffective as a remedy. Some cases were observed where the light was practically in the center of the foliage. A lower post is clearly the answer. The same general argument applies to the streets with an elevated structure. Main street in Charlestown is a good example. In several places the present lights are placed practically against a steel truss or a plate girder. This and like streets can never be satisfactorily lighted until the light source is placed low enough to clear the obstructions.

In general, a 14½ to 16-foot height will be best for all but streets without trees or other obstacles and of roadway widths of 30 or over. The wide unobstructed streets will stand a height of from 18 to 22 feet without difficulty.

The type of light unit that is best for present day use—effectiveness, economy and appearance being considered—is the modern gas-filled incandescent lamp with glassware appropriate to the particular conditions where it is installed.

The incandescent mantle gas lamps, of which Boston has over 10,000 in service, are absolutely unfitted for modern street lighting. They do not light streets but only make darkness visible. These lamps rate at 50 candle power and cost $26.20 per year on the present time schedule, which is $2.72 more than an incandescent electric of double the candle power. Furthermore, the city furnishes and owns the gas posts while the lighting company furnishes the electric posts. The gas lamp is rapidly disappearing, from American cities as a street illuminant. Many cities have none at all and the number in use elsewhere is being rapidly reduced. Boston is one of the few cities where the number of gas lamps in service has not decreased materially in the past decade. Boston has a larger number of gas lamps than it has of any other type.

The next most used lamp is the 6.6 ampere magnetic arc rated at 1,500 c. p. of which Boston had some 5,000 in service on July 1. This lamp is an effective street illuminant, but in many ways it is not as satisfactory as the more modern gas-filled incandescent of the same candle power. The arc requires more maintenance, is more liable to get out of order and the glassware is difficult to keep clean because of the brownish dust that is produced by the burning electrodes. The types of glassware that can be used are limited, refracting glassware cannot be used on account of the intense heat. Although the natural distribution of light is fairly good, this distribution cannot be modified to fit conditions because of this limitation. However, the utility now furnishing lighting service to most of the City of Boston is gradually replacing these arcs with incandescents.

The recommendations made in this report contemplate the use of gas-filled incandescent electric lamps of 250 to 1,500 c. p. on all streets and lamps of 100 to 250 c. p. in alleys and courts. There is no satisfactory street lighting use for units of smaller candle power.

The present street lighting rate schedule of the Edison Company does not include a rate for 400 c. p. incandescents on series circuits. This is a very useful lamp size and should be included. It will be noted that its use is recommended in the table on this page.

Lamps smaller than 250 c. p. should be used on bracket arms with the "wave" reflector and no globes. All larger types with rippled glass globes and refractors where needed.

The refractors used should be such as fit the location and type of the lamp and post lamps located between intersections should have refractors of the type that distributes the light laterally in cones, making an angle of approximately 20 degrees with the curb. At intersections, the band type concentrating the beam laterally throughout the full 360 degrees will be best.

HOURS OF STREET LIGHTING.

The hours during which street lights are burning are an important factor in satisfactory and economical street lighting. It is evident that the lights should be turned on at such a time that there will be no period when the streets will be darker than during the night when the lights are turned on. In other words, there should be no period between the waning natural daylight and the turning on of artificial light when the streets will not be illuminated to the standard required by public safety and convenience. Similarly the lights should not be turned off at such an early hour in the morning that an unduly dark period occurs between the time of turning off the artificial light and the coming of daylight. If the street lights are burned too short a time, or so that unduly dark periods occur either during the evening or morning twilight, public safety and convenience are not adequately provided for. On the other hand, the expense of street lighting is excessive if the lights are turned on before they are needed or off after the time when daylight is giving more than sufficient illumination for public needs.

The determination of the hours when street lights should be turned on and off in order to conform to the requirements outlined above is far from being a simple matter. The principal difficulty is caused by the wide difference between the intensities of daylight and clear and cloudy days. If all clear days are assumed, a street lighting schedule could be worked out which would meet the requirements exactly. As this assumption is not justified, a rough averaging of conditions at twilight has to be used in order to work out a schedule with times for turning on and off fixed for the year. While such a schedule gives satisfactory results on the large majority of days, it must be recognized that in time of storm, heavy clouds or fogs, it may be necessary to have the lights turned on at an earlier hour. As a matter of practice, this is done. The lights are ordered turned on ahead of the schedule on exceptionally dark days by specific order of the city in each case.

Assuming clear days, the intensity of light at any time during the twilight period after sunset and before sunrise is dependent on the sun's distance below the horizon. That is, the intensity will be the same on every clear day at the time when the sun is a fixed distance below the horizon. This fixed distance cannot be represented by a fixed time after sunset or before sunrise. The time necessary for the sun to travel a fixed distance after sunset or before sunrise differs for different latitudes and in the different seasons of the year. After a decision is reached as to the fixed distance to be used, this time must be computed for each day and for the particular latitude in which the city is located in order to make a street-lighting schedule.

This schedule has been computed for Boston and compared day by day with the present Boston schedule. The results of this computation will be found in Appendix "A" attached to this report.

The Department of Public Works of the City of Boston has, from time to time, received many complaints about the lights being turned off at too early an hour in the morning, and have made several efforts to get additional appropriations for extending these hours but without success. Several articles have appeared in the public press protesting against this same situation. The comparison between the present street lighting schedule and one based upon the end and beginning of civil twilight will disclose whether or not these criticisms are justified.

Attention is called to Figure 3 which is a diagram of the daily variations of the present Boston schedule from one based upon civil twilight. The lower line shows the variation in minutes between the time lights are turned on under the Boston schedule and the civil twilight schedule. The upper line shows the variation in minutes between the time when lights are turned off under the Boston schedule and the civil twilight schedule. All points above the zero line are shortages under the Boston schedule and points below are excess under the Boston schedule.

It is evident at once that, in general, lights are turned on under the Boston schedule somewhat ahead of the civil twilight schedule—on some days as much as six minutes—and on only twenty-nine days are the lights turned on after the beginning of civil twilight—one minute on twenty-eight days and two minutes on one day. The total excess of the present schedule is thirteen hours and twenty-eight minutes. In the morning, however, a very different situation exists. The diagram shows that lights are turned off under the present Boston schedule at from fifteen to twenty-four minutes before the beginning of civil twilight on every day of the year. The total shortage is 115 hours and thirty-five minutes.

It will also be noted that there is a marked seasonal variation in the shortages and excess. The only months when the lights are turned on after civil twilight are March, August, September and October. Spring and autumn are also the seasons when the lights are turned off at the longest period before the beginning of civil twilight. Lights are now turned on at the longer period before civil twilight in the evening and off at the shortest period before civil twilight in the morning, during the summer months when the use of the streets is at the minimum for twilight periods due to the late evenings and early mornings.

The "hours of lighting" for other large cities in comparison with a civil twilight schedule as shown in an article by Edgar Dow Gilman in the "Engineering News-Record" of November 1, 1928, shows that Boston has the largest shortage by a considerable margin while seven out of the fifteen cities cited show schedules in excess of the civil twilight schedule including Newark, N. J., 205 hours; Philadelphia, 152 hours; Seattle, 123 hours, and Detroit, 112 hours.

From these facts it is clear that the criticisms directed at the early turn-offs in the morning are entirely justified and this was confirmed by personal inspection on several mornings.

The cost of putting Boston on a civil twilight schedule, based on the number and types of lights in use in July, 1929, will be only $11,595.26, neglecting the gas lamps which are considered to be of such little importance that no change is suggested. It is strongly recommended that

1. The "hours of lighting" schedule for electric street lamps in the City of Boston be changed to conform to the "civil twilight" schedule as shown in Appendix A with a total of 3,930 hours and 7 minutes as compared with the present schedule of 3,828 hours.

BOSTON'S PRESENT STREET LIGHTING.

In cities where no comprehensive plan of street lighting has been used, the street lighting system is like the classic Topsy. It "just grewed." In answer to requests, petitions, etc., a light is placed and later an independent request places another light near to same with little if any reference to the first, and so on. Sometimes the requests found the lighting fund low and a small lighting unit is installed; sometimes there are plenty of funds and a large one is put in. Some streets or parts of streets under this method of growth are overlighted while others are seriously underlighted. There is no consistency in light intensity, in spacing, or in types of units. It is a hodge-podge, instead of a lighting system. It is unsatisfactory as a lighting vehicle, uneconomical and inefficient in operation.

The above statement is a good general description of Boston's street lighting. Some few streets are exceptions—as during the past few years plans have been made and carried out for lighting these streets. A glance at any one of the maps upon which the present lights are spotted shows the lack of consistency, intensity and spacing very plainly. It shows 1,500 c. p. arcs in alleys and courts and 50 c. p. gas lamps on streets. It shows 1,500 c. p. arcs 100 feet apart for a short distance and the next lamp 300 feet away. Field examinations show a similar lack of consistency in the units used on a street. Even in down town Boston, there are streets where are lamps on "boulevard" posts 18 feet high are mixed with arcs on crook arms 22 feet high. Gas lamps and arc lamps are found in the same block. In many places 100 c. p. incandescents are placed in a special fixture in the top of old gas lamp posts—ugly in appearance, too low for effective lighting and the light unit too small for efficiency. With the exception of the "boulevard" posts, none of the posts are either modern or good looking.

As a result of lack of planning many streets are not only poorly lighted but they are not as well lighted as they could be for the money expended largely due to the use of gas lamps or low candle power electric lamps. In other words, advantage has not been taken of the economy in the use of the higher candle power lamps. This condition will be illustrated by the specific examples of the application to Boston street lighting of the principles recommended, which will accompany this report.

The present street lighting of Boston uses the following units:

10,068 gas lamps at 50 c. p.
398 incandescents at 40 c. p.
5,049 incandescents at 66 or 80 c. p.
44 incandescents at 100 c. p.
79 incandescents at 132 c. p.
32 incandescents at 230 or 250 c. p.
43 incandescents at 528 or 600 c. p.
38 incandescents at 950 or 1,000 c. p.
1,735 incandescents at 1,475 or 1,500 c. p.
4,842 incandescents at 1,500 c. p.

The first three items in this list represent lamps that are of practically no use for street lighting and it will be noted that they constitute almost two thirds of the total number in use. Notable economies and better lighted streets can be secured by replacing these with larger units. Many streets are at present lighted entirely with these lamps, many others have a mixture of large lamps and small lamps without apparent rhyme or reason. Thus a 1,500 c. p. lamp will have a gas lamp as near companion or will stand alone on a street otherwise lighted by gas.

There is a quite evident lack of planning in the present set-up which is no more than can be expected with the inadequate force given the Department of Public Works for administering street lighting. This not only results in poor street lighting but in the waste of a substantial amount of the money now spent. On the basis of the studies made of specific areas it is estimated that the city could secure equally good lighting to that now received at approximately 25 per cent less cost and fairly adequate lighting at slightly less than the present cost. This result, of course, cannot be secured in its entirety until the gas lamps can be eliminated but much can be done before that date by proper planning along the lines recommended in this report.

APPLICATION OF RECOMMENDATIONS TO SPECIFIC CASES IN BOSTON.

For the purpose of showing how the recommendations made in this report affect the present street lighting in Boston, twelve areas of about 73½ acres each were selected such as to give an illustration of the various types of present lighting and various classes of streets; and the entire area of Charlestown. A detailed application of the recommendations was made to these areas and the results are briefly summarized as follows:

Section I.—Downtown Boston, Haymarket, Post Office squares.

This section is typical of the congested area and although if this area was to be lighted a priori many changes could be made only minor arrangements are suggested in the interest of better lighting. Most of the present lighting is by large units and therefore small changes in candle power or cost are the result.

At present there are in this area:

130 1,500 c. p. arcs.
1 950 c. p. incandescent.
1 80 c. p. incandescent.
18 66 c. p. incandescents.
6 40 c. p. incandescents.
11 40 c. p. incandescents.

A total of 197,898 indicated candle power costing $12,933.75 per year. The recommendation provides for

129 1,500 c. p. incandescents.
5 250 c. p. incandescents.
14 100 c. p. incandescents.
11 40 c. p. fire alarm.

A total of 196,590 indicated candle power costing $12,987.37 per year.

Section II.—Arlington square, Albany street is also an area generally lighted at present by large units and only minor changes are therefore suggested. At present there are in this area:

- 109 1,500 c. p. arcs.
- 2 950 c. p. incandescents.
- 11 132 c. p. incandescents.
- 10 66 c. p. incandescents.
- 17 40 c. p. incandescents.
- 10 40 c. p. fire alarm.

A total of 168,592 indicated candle power costing $11,351.22 per year. The recommendation provides for:

- 106 1,500 c. p. incandescents.
- 1 950 c. p. incandescents.
- 4 600 c. p. incandescents.
- 1 250 c. p. incandescents.
- 10 132 c. p. incandescents.
- 21 100 c. p. incandescents.
- 10 40 c. p. fire alarm.

A total of 166,420 indicated candle power costing $11,248.65 per year.

Section III.—From the Charles river to Copley square, between Clarendon and Exeter streets.

This is partially residential and partially principal business. While large units are now used on the business streets, the residential parts are lighted with small units and a very considerable improvement in lighting can be secured without increase in cost by using larger units on such streets.

At present there are in this area:

- 59 1,500 c. p. arcs.
- 13 80 c. p. incandescents.
- 68 66 c. p. incandescents.
- 3 40 c. p. incandescents.
- 6 40 c. p. fire alarm.

A total of 95,188 indicated candle power costing $7,565.81 per year. The recommendations provides for:

- 63 1,500 c. p. incandescents.
- 5 600 c. p. incandescents.
- 29 250 c. p. incandescents.
- 1 100 c. p. incandescent.
- 6 40 c. p. incandescents.

A total of 105,090 indicated candle power costing $7,553.99 per year.

Section IV.—East Boston, bounded approximately by Bennington, Putnam, Falcon, Marion streets.

This is also a mixed area, parts of which are now lighted by small units including gas lamps—better lighting at lower cost is thus possible.

At present there are in this area:

- 34 1,500 c. p. arcs.
- 43 50 c. p. gas.
- 2 50 c. p. fire alarm.
- 4 40 c. p. fire alarm.

A total of 53,410 indicated candle power costing $4,428.96 per year. The recommendations provides for:

- 36 1,500 c. p. incandescents.
- 11 600 c. p. incandescents.
- 1 250 c. p. incandescent.
- 3 100 c. p. incandescents.
- 6 40 c. p. fire alarm.

A total of 61,390 indicated candle power costing $4,327.13 per year.

Section V.—East Boston, Belle Isle, bounded approximately on two sides by Bennington and Boardman streets, and including an area of irregular blocks and curved streets using mostly small units. Marked economies are therefore possible.

At present there are in this area:

- 14 1,500 c. p. arcs.
- 22 80 c. p. incandescents.
- 25 50 c. p. gas.
- 2 40 c. p. fire alarm.

A total of 24,090 indicated candle power costing $2,456.22 per year. The recommendations provide for

- 14 1,500 c. p. incandescents.
- 4 600 c. p. incandescents.
- 18 250 c. p. incandescents.
- 1 100 c. p. incandescent.
- 2 40 c. p. fire alarm.

A total of 28,080 indicated candle power costing $2,382.78 per year.

Section VI.—Hyde Park, area between the two branches of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, including the Public Library.

This area is residential and secondary business in character and includes curved streets and irregular blocks. There are no gas lamps and the lighting is fairly modern in character except for the large number of 80 c. p. lamps. It will be noted that there are a number of 1,500 c. p. incandescents in use as well as arc amps.

At present there are in this area:

- 7 1,500 c. p. arcs.
- 9 1,500 c. p. incandescents.
- 22 80 c. p. incandescents.
- 2 40 c. p. fire alarm.

A total of 25,840 indicated candle power costing $1,988.06 per year. The recommendation provides for:

- 18 1,500 c. p. incandescents.
- 4 600 c. p. incandescents.
- 1 100 c. p. incandescent.
- 2 40 c. p. fire alarm.

A total of 29,580 indicated candle power costing $2,019 per year.

Section VII.—Brighton, area bounded approximately by Market, Sparhawk, Cambridge, Rodney and Saybrook streets.

This area is largely residential and has generally regular streets with many gas lamps. As usual under such circumstances the lighting can be materially improved at less expense by the use of more modern lighting units.

At present there are in this area:

- 12 1,500 c. p. incandescents.
- 1 600 c. p. incandescents.
- 2 80 c. p. incandescents.
- 1 40 c. p. fire alarm.
- 62 50 c. p. gas.
- 2 50 c. p. gas fire alarm.

A total of 22,000 indicated candle power costing $2,927.04 per year. The recommendation provides for:

- 12 1,500 c. p. incandescents.
- 29 250 c. p. incandescents.
- 2 100 c. p. incandescents.
- 3 40 c. p. fire alarm.

A total of 25,570 indicated candle power costing $2,411.39 per year.

Section VIII.—Roxbury, the Dudley square area.

This area is mixed residential and main and secondary business in character. The most numerous units are 1,500 c. p. although there are quite a number of gas and 40 c. p. incandescents. Although the recommendations are for a lesser total candle power than at present, the lighting recommended will be distinctly more effective. It must be remembered that the lights along the Elevated structure will have to be lowered from present heights to 14½ to 15 feet in order to be effective.

At present there are in this area:

- 64 1,500 c. p. arcs.
- 1 100 c. p. incandescents.
- 5 80 c. p. incandescents.
- 19 40 c. p. incandescents.
- 5 40 c. p. fire alarm.
- 36 50 c. p. gas.
- 1 50 c. p. gas fire alarm.

A total of 99,310 indicated candle power costing $7,517.59 per year. The recommendations provide for:

- 59 1,500 c. p. incandescents.
- 11 250 c. p. incandescents.
- 20 100 c. p. incandescents.
- 6 40 c. p. fire alarm.

A total of 93,490 indicated candle power costing $6,307.77 per year.

Section IX.—West Roxbury, area bounded approximately by Washington, La Grange, Spinney, Petrel and Heron streets.

This area is residential and includes a part of a main traffic way now lighted with gas lamps. It will be noted that by using larger units the indicated candle power can be more than doubled at about 20 per cent lower cost.

At present there are in this area:

- 2 1,500 c. p. arcs.
- 4 80 c. p. incandescents.
- 30 40 c. p. incandescents.
- 1 40 c. p. fire alarm.
- 35 50 c. p. gas.

A total of 6,310 indicated candle power costing $1,757.86 per year. The recommendations provide for:

- 7 1,500 c. p. incandescents.
- 17 250 c. p. incandescents.
- 1 100 c. p. incandescents.
- 1 40 c. p. fire alarm.

A total of 14,890 indicated candle power costing $1,392.33 per year.

Section X.—West Roxbury, area bounded approximately by Weld, Church, Ardmore and Willow streets.

This area is residential with a rather regular street plan and is chiefly lighted at present by 40 c. p. incandescent lamps, not a single modern unit being used. This gives an excellent opportunity for economies, and it will be noted that the indicated candle power can be increased approximately 2½ times at almost 10 per cent reduction in cost.

At present there are in this area:

- 4 30 c. p. incandescents.
- 72 40 c. p. incandescents.
- 2 40 c. p. fire alarm.
- 22 50 c. p. gas.

A total of 4,380 indicated candle power costing $2,057.02 per year. The recommendations provide for:

- 43 250 c. p. incandescents.
- 2 80 c. p. incandescents.
- 2 40 c. p. fire alarm.

A total of 10,990 indicated candle power, costing $1,840.17 per year.

Section XI.—Dorchester, area bounded approximately by Norwell, Wheatland Washington and Harvard streets.

This area is largely residential with a fairly regular street plan at present largely lighted by gas lamps. As usual, substantial economies are possible.

At present there are in this area:

- 12 1,500 c. p. arcs.
- 2 80 c. p. incandescents.
- 1 40 c. p. fire alarm.
- 85 50 c. p. gas.
- 1 50 c. p. gas fire alarm.

A total of 22,500 indicated candle power costing $3,434.16 per year. The recommendations provide:

- 10 1,500 c. p. incandescents.
- 36 250 c. p. incandescents.
- 1 100 c. p. incandescents.
- 2 40 c. p. fire alarm.

A total of 24,180 indicated candle power costing $2,469.44 per year.

Section XII.—South Boston, area bounded approximately by D, West Fifth, Dorchester and West First streets.

This area is principal business, secondary business and congested residential in character. Outside of the business area, there are many streets lighted by gas lamps giving the usual opportunities for better lighting at less cost.

At present there are in this area:

- 64 1,500 c. p. arcs.
- 4 40 c. p. fire alarm.
- 86 50 c. p. gas.
- 3 50 c. p. gas fire alarm.

A total of 100,610 indicated candle power costing $8,384.36 per year. The recommendations provide for:

64 1,500 c. p. incandescents.
38 250 c. p. incandescents.

7 40 c. p. fire alarm.
A total of 105,780 indicated candle power costing $7,663.68 per year.

CHARLESTOWN.

Charlestown is an exceedingly difficult community to light properly on account of its unusual street system and the numerous courts, etc. It has been selected as the part of Boston to use as an example of the application of the standards discussed in the body of the report because it presents almost every type of problem than can be conceived and is lighted and is a separate lighting unit, service being furnished by a local company distinct from the one serving most of Boston.

In planning the lighting for Charlestown, gas lamps have been eliminated and 100 c. p. lamps have been taken as the minimum size, even they being confined to courts, etc.; 250 c. p. being otherwise the minimum. Chelsea, Medford, Bunker Hill, Main streets and Rutherford avenue have been treated as principal streets. Attention is directed to the fact that satisfactory lighting on Main street cannot be secured with lamps 18 to 20 feet above the curb as at present, because of the presence of the elevated structure. A height of 14.6 to 15 feet is recommended for this street and this height would be desirable as a standard on most of the streets if it did not entail the scrapping of too much equipment.

The proposed plan gives 18,410 more indicated candle power on the street than does the present installation, at a decrease in cost of $2,557.62 per year. However, due to a better distribution of light, the streets will be lighted much better than the increase in candle power would indicate.

ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION.

Street lighting is now administered by the Street Division of the Department of Public Works and is directly under the charge of the chief engineer of that division. The entire force directly assigned to street lighting consists of one clerk and one inspector. In other words, the oversight and administration of an annual expenditure of nearly $1,000,000 is handled by one clerk and such time of the chief engineer as can be spared from his already onerous duties. Assuming that both the division head and the clerk are supermen, it is impossible to secure proper supervision and attention for such a large expenditure of money for such an important service, with such a small force. Little more can be done than keep a record of lights, check the bills and pass on new layouts, as presented by the several utilities serving the city. As a matter of fact, the present force has done very much better than could reasonably be expected but it is faced by an impossible task.

As a result of the present lack of sufficient personnel in the street lighting service, a card record only is kept of the lights. For the purposes of this study the lights now installed were placed upon maps of the city which is the only way by which the lighting problem can be visualized. These maps are not in convenient record form but can be used temporarily. One of the important tasks of a properly organized bureau would be to set up map records and keep them up to date.

Not only should the record be complete, but the bureau should lay out on these maps a general plan for the improvements in present lighting as recommended in this report so that when changes can be made that they will conform to the general plan. (This has been done by the writer for Charlestown and for typical areas in other sections of the city.) Such maps will also serve as the base for laying out proposed extensions of present lighting so that when lighting is ordered on additional streets all the data for such extensions will be immediately available. Such layouts can be made tentatively on the maps and checked up by field observations.

In addition, the bureau should have a technically trained man of sufficient skill and experience to keep fully informed as to improvements in lighting practices and equipment to be able to give the city the necessary expert advice on these subjects.

Needless to say, such work is entirely beyond the means of the present staff but it is exceedingly important if the city is to secure the best lighted streets that it feels able to afford.

The first step toward a modern street lighting system in Boston should be the organization of a Street Lighting Bureau in the Division of Streets with an adequate force for the task.

This bureau should be headed by an illuminating engineer, should have at least one draftsman and one clerk. It should have a sufficient appropriation to be able to employ the services of an engineering field party occasionally.

It is also recommended that at least one inspector be employed to check up on outages. At present the police report such outages, but experiences elsewhere shows that their duties are already so onerous that they miss many outages. Some outages are reported by citizens direct to the utility company and of these the city has no record. One inspector is recommended as an experiment to determine whether such inspection is worth while. He should be given a definite district that he can cover in a night and should be provided with motor transportation. At least five will be needed for the entire city if the experiment shows that their employment is justified.

RECOMMENDED PROCEDURE.

The City of Boston has a contract for furnishing and maintaining gas lamps that does not expire until 1934. This contract provides that the number of lamps in use during the life of the contract shall not be less than 95 per cent of those in use when it was signed (1924). There are at present an excess of lamps over the 95 per cent and advantage should be taken of this privilege by replacing this number with electric lamps as per the recommendations in this report. At the end of the contract period, all gas lamps should be eliminated.

In Charlestown the gas lamps are furnished without a term contract and thus they can be eliminated as rapidly as they can be replaced. Thus the revised plan for lighting Charlestown does not contemplate any gas lamps.

Electric lighting is furnished under a rate schedule which has among its terms and conditions a provision that:

"A change in size, type or location of a lamp once installed, will be made only at the expense of the customer. The charge for a change in location of an incandescent lamp fixture, on overhead lines when the street lighting circuit is already installed on the pole to which the fixture is to be moved, will be ten dollars for each fixture so moved," and further that:

"A customer may discontinue any lamp or lamps on written notice to the company and the running charges for the same shall cease at the time of discontinuance; but if the period of notice is less than six months, the customer shall pay the fixed charges provided for the lamps to be discontinued for six months after receipt of notice by the company."

These clauses are designed to protect the company's investment in installed equipment. Under these clauses it is impractical to make sweeping changes in the city's lighting system at once without prohibitive cost to the city. However the company has now in service much obsolete and worn equipment that will have to be replaced shortly in any case. The proposed changes will add to the load and will lead to the installation of equipment that will be easier to maintain. It is believed that if the city proposed the modernization of its lighting system to be done over a period of years that a satisfactory compromise agreement can be made that will keep the cost to the city very low and still be fair to the utilities. When the city has decided on the installation it desires it is recommended that it take up the proposed changes with the utilities and try to reach a reasonable and fair agreement, rather than go ahead in a wholesale manner.

As a matter of fact, there are many practical difficulties in the wholesale change of a lighting system so that it is not desirable to attempt too much at a time. If all new installations are made in accordance with the new standards, old installations changed as streets are repaved or rebuilt and a reasonable number of individual and group changes in posts and fixtures made each year, all in conformity with the new standards, the work will be much less costly to both the city and the companies than it would be were widespread changes made at once. With this procedure followed, the City of Boston will secure within a few years a completely modernized and effective lighting system at a minimum cost.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 1446.

The Department of Civil Service and Registration will hold an examination for promotion to the grade of captain in the Boston Police Department, according to the following notice received in this office on December 31, 1929:

"This examination will be held on January 17, 1930.

1. The examination is open to the lieutenants in the uniformed force of the Boston Police Department who have served as such, in accordance with Civil Service Rules, for at least three years immediately preceding the date of examination.

2. The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Seniority, 4; report, 3; practical questions on police law, practice, and procedure, 8; personality and fitness, as determined by an oral interview, 5; total, 20.

3. Applicants will be required to obtain at least 70 per cent in each subject of examination, in order to become eligible.

4. Physical fitness to be determined by physical examination.

5. Application blanks may be secured from the office of the Police Commissioner. The vouchers on this blank need not be filled out. When completed, applications should be sent to the Division of Civil Service, Rooms 147-152, State House, Boston, not later than Friday, January 10.

6. Applicants will be notified as to the precise time and place of examination.

ELLIOT H. GOODWIN,
Commissioner of Civil Service.
GEORGE M. HARLOW,
PATRICK J. McMAHON,
Associate Commissioners.

Persons concerned will notice particularly that applications when filled out are to be returned to the office of the Civil Service Commissioner, State House, Boston, not later than Friday, January 10, 1930, a week before the date set for the examination.

Commanding officers will promulgate this order not only by reading it at roll call, but by posting a copy thereof in a conspicuous and accessible place in each station house, where it may be easily read and it shall remain posted until after the date of the examination.

Commanding officers will secure a fresh copy from the superintendent if the posted copy becomes mutilated or destroyed.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 1447.

A trial board consisting of Captains Gallivan, Perry and Mullen, having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman John F. Brawders of Division 15, charging him with neglect of duty, reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty as charged, in accordance with which the said Patrolman John F. Brawders was on December 13, 1929, dismissed from the Police Department.

Due written notice of such dismissal with the reasons therefor was duly and specifically given in hand on December 13, 1929, to the said John F. Brawders.

On the sixteenth day of December, 1929, the said John F. Brawders requested in writing a public hearing as provided by law, and the Police Commissioner set down Thursday, December 26, 1929, at two o'clock p. m. at the office of the Police Commissioner as the time and place of said hearing, and duly notified the said John F. Brawders.

The said John F. Brawders was present at said time and place with counsel and was heard with his witnesses. Whereupon, after hearing the case, the Police Commissioner finds the said John F. Brawders guilty as charged, and further finds that the said John F. Brawders shall stand dismissed from the Police Department.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

AREA TO WARD LINES.

Total, 30,598 acres (i. e., 47.81 square miles), 2,944 acres being filled land, 1,143 acres water area and 1,436 acres flats. Land area only, 28,019 acres (i. e., 43.78 square miles). Included in the latter are 160 acres of filled flats recently added to the land area of South Boston and 175 acres to that of East Boston.

Original Boston contained about 780 acres of land. Of the twelve leading American cities, eight are larger in land area than Boston, viz., Los Angeles (364 sq. miles), New York (318), Chicago (199.4), Philadelphia (129), Baltimore (91.9), Detroit (80), Cleveland (56.6) and St. Louis (61.25). The only city in Massachusetts with larger land area is Taunton (50 sq. mi.).

If Boston should expand by annexation as New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and others have expanded, its total area, in case of including the 39 cities and towns within the 15-mile radius, would exceed the largest, viz., Los Angeles, the present land area of "Greater Boston" being 409.5 square miles.

DIMENSIONS, ETC., OF BOSTON.

Greatest length, 13.8 miles, i. e., from northern end of East Boston to southern end of Hyde Park; greatest width, 7.75 miles, i. e., from Marine Park, shore to western end of Brighton; median transverse width, 5.75 miles, i. e., from Charles river at Harvard Bridge to Neponset river at Blue Hill avenue; width of business center, 1.2 miles, i. e., from Charles river at Cambridge Bridge to Fort Point channel at Summer street. Geographical center of city in Roxbury, corner Walnut and Westminster avenues.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

PROPOSALS FOR SEWERAGE WORKS IN VICTORIA ROAD, FROM SOUTHERN ARTERY ABOUT 190 FEET SOUTHERLY, DORCHESTER.

The Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston, office 508 City Hall Annex, invites proposals from citizens of the United States and corporations or other legal associations wherein the controlling interest to the extent of at least over one half thereof is owned by a citizen or citizens of the United States, for sewerage works in Victoria road, from Southern Artery about 190 feet southerly, Dorchester. A bond will be required for doing the work of a surety company approved by the Commissioner in the sum of 50 per cent of the amount of the contract, to secure the due performance of the contract and the full protection of the city. Plans and proposals may be obtained at Room 508, City Hall Annex. Each proposal should be inclosed in an envelope, sealed, marked "Proposal for Sewerage Works in Victoria Road," and left at Room 508, fifth floor, City Hall Annex, before 12 m. of Friday, January 10, 1930, with a certified check for one hundred (100) dollars, payable to and to become the property of the city if the proposal after acceptance is not carried out. The proposals will then and there be publicly opened and read. Proposals must be made in duplicate, the sealed duplicate, without check, to be deposited by the bidder with the City Auditor previous to the time named for opening the proposals. If the price of any item appears to the Commissioner to be abnormally high or low, or the bidder neglects to bid on each and every item, it may lead to the rejection of the proposal containing such price. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or to award the contract as he deems best.

JAMES H. SULLIVAN,
(Jan. 4.) Commissioner of Public Works.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 114.

The Christmas season as well as the end of the year is an auspicious time to look things over and prepare ourselves as how to best use the coming year.

It is a proper season for you firemen of Boston to realize the importance of your position in the community; to realize the fact that you are the protectors of life and property to a greater degree than any other body of men, and that you command the respect of the citizens you serve.

By prompt and efficient service in a few minutes you can save precious lives and prevent the loss of millions of dollars worth of property. No one knows better than you what promptness in responding to alarms means. A few minutes delay, one man's disloyalty in obeying orders, and the cost in lives and property may be tremendous.

You are a splendid body of men, heroic when necessity demands, the protectors of one of the great cities of the country. You may well be proud of the fact that you are members of the Boston Fire Department.

With the season's greetings, I wish you one and all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, not only as men but as the Boston Fire Department.

E. C. HULTMAN,
Fire Commissioner.

General Order No. 115.

I. NEW FIRE ALARM BOX.

A new fire alarm box will shortly be established at the following location: Box 12-7136, Gillette Safety Razor Company, 47 West First street. The box will be connected into circuit No. 32.

Company commanders will forward to this office assignment card for Box 7136 in order that private Box 12-7136 may be added. These cards are to be marked on the back, in lead pencil, with the company number. A copy of this assignment should be placed in the box as a memorandum while the assignment card is out. The assignment card for Box 7136 should be forwarded headquarters on or before Monday, December 30, 1929.

II. COMMENDATIONS.

The commissioner has received a check for $25 from Mr. George Ernest Robinson, 80 Federal street, Boston, as a contribution to the Boston Firemen's Relief Fund. Mr. Robinson stated in his letter that he desired to make this gift as a contribution to the Relief Fund because of his close association with the members of the department and he felt that he would like to do something at this time of year as a token of his esteem for them.

The commissioner has received a check for $25 from Dr. O. T. Howe in appreciation of the services rendered by the members of this department at a fire in his home, 154 Beacon street, on December 23, 1929.

The commissioner is in receipt of a communication from Mr. Charles A. Malley, agent for the building 75 Nottinghill road, Brighton. Mr. Malley expresses his appreciation of the service rendered by the members of this department at a fire in the above-mentioned building on December 2, 1929. Mr. Malley states that because of the character of the building and the nature of the weather we were having he was very much pleased to report that there was very little damage to the roof and the ceilings in the upper apartments. He states that the dragging of hose through the front halls was handled in such a way that very little damage was done there.

Stephen Lydon, cable splicer in the Fire Alarm Division, is hereby commended for responding to and working at fire, Box 3126, December 23, 1929, while off duty.

By order of Fire Commissioner E. C. Hultman.

DANIEL F. SENNOTT,
Chief of Department.

General Order No. 116.

I. WILLIAM E. EMMEL.

It is with deep regret that the Fire Commissioner announces the death of Man on Probation William E. Emmel of Ladder Company 8, who lost his life on Thursday, December 26, 1929, while fighting the fire at 76 and 78 High street, Boston.

Probationer Emmel was appointed to this department on July 5, 1929.

The funeral was held on Monday, December 30, 1929, with services at Forest Hills Cemetery Chapel on Morton street.

Ladder Company 8 was excused from duty in order to attend the funeral and the Chief of Department made arrangements for the funeral escort.

By order of Fire Commissioner E. C. Hultman.

DANIEL F. SENNOTT,
Chief of Department.

General Order No. 117.

I. CARPENTER SHOPS.

The Fire Commissioner has received from the State Fire Marshal the following communication which includes the terms and conditions under which inhabited buildings may be used for carpenter shops

In accordance with the provisions of General Laws, chapter 148, section 33, the terms and conditions under which an inhabited building may be used for a carpenter shop are as follows:

Section 1. No part of any carpenter shop which is in a building used for habitation shall be above the first floor.

(a.) The walls and ceiling of any room occupied as a carpenter shop, in a building used for habitation, shall be covered with metal lath and cement plaster not less than three quarters of an inch in thickness and the floors with cement concrete not less than two inches in thickness or some other approved fire-resisting material.

(b.) All doors covering openings from a hallway or in partitions separating a carpenter shop from a portion of an inhabited building shall be of steel or approved fire doors and self-closing.

(c.) Any room used for a carpenter shop in an inhabited building shall be equipped with an automatic sprinkler system.

(d.) Any window in a room of a carpenter shop in a building used for habitation shall be constructed of wired glass, metal sash and frame.

(e.) All shavings, excelsior and sawdust in such room shall be kept in closely covered metal receptacles until removed therefrom to a place of safety.

By order of Fire Commissioner E. C. Hultman.

DANIEL F. SENNOTT,
Chief of Department.

TRANSFER OF APPROPRIATIONS.

City Auditor Rupert S. Carven announces the following transfers in appropriations in departments of the City of Boston and County of Suffolk, indorsed by Budget Commissioner Charles J. Fox and approved by his Honor the Mayor.

ASSESSING DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 20, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the Assessing Department:

From the appropriation for B-1, Printing and Binding, $36, to the appropriation for A-3, Unassigned, $36.

From B-3, Advertising and Posting, $207, to A-3, Unassigned, $207.

From B-37, Photographic and Blue-printing, $260, to A-3, Unassigned, $260.

From B-28, Expert, $371, to A-3, Unassigned, $371.

From C-9, Office, $350, to A-3, Unassigned, $350.

To cover deficit occasioned by extra service on account of motor vehicle excise tax, which tax being an entirely new one this year, the volume of work could not be anticipated in advance.

Respectfully,

EDWARD T. KELLY,
Chairman.

The above transfers were made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 23, 1929.

BOSTON, December 20, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the Assessing Department:

The above transfers were made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 31, 1929.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 23, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the Building Department:

From the appropriation for B-4, Transportation, $30, to the appropriation for A-2, Temporary Employees, $30.

From D-1, Office Supplies, $115, to C-10, Library, $115.

I need $30 more to pay the night elevator inspector. The Sanborn Map Company has issued a new map of Boston proper in two volumes. My appropriation carries an amount sufficient for one volume only. The old map will no longer be corrected and kept up to date. I also desire to buy two technical books for the Plan Division.

Respectfully,

L. K. ROURKE,
Commissioner.

The above transfers were made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 24, 1929.

CITY COUNCIL.

BOSTON, December 16, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the City Council:

From the appropriation for B-1, Printing and Binding, $36.60; B-3, Advertising, etc., $72.47; B-4, Transportation, $24.20; B-29, Stenographic, etc., $75.50; G-3, Incidentals, $201.23, to the appropriation for D-1, Supplies, $410.

From B-37, Photographic, etc., $14.60, to C-9, Office Equipment, $14.60.

A greater request for stationery this year. There is a deficit December 1 of $226.87 and the balance is needed for December.

The appropriation for C-9 was insufficient; $14.60 is needed.

Respectfully,

TIMOTHY F. DONOVAN,

The above transfers were made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 17, 1929.

BOSTON, December 30, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the City Council:

From the appropriation for B-13, Stenographic, etc., $7.53, to the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, Documentman, 1 at $2,750 a year, $7.53.

This transfer is made as against the new position of documentman, passed by the City Council December 16, 1929, and approved by the Mayor December 26, 1929.

Respectfully,

TIMOTHY F. DONOVAN,

The above transfer was made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 31, 1929.

CITY PLANNING BOARD.

BOSTON, December 16, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the City Planning Board:

From the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, Investigator, 1 at $2,900 a year, $667.44; Assistant Investigator, 1 at $2,300—$2,400 a year, $19.73, to the appropriation for G-2, Special Investigations, $687.17.

In order to provide for necessary adjustments incident to closing accounts for the year.

Respectfully,

FREDERIC H. FAY,
Chairman.

The above transfer was made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 18, 1929.

ELECTION DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 18, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the Election Department:

From the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, 36 Assistant Registrars at $1,600 to $2,200 a year, $375.48, to the appropriation for B-4, Transportation of Persons, $25; B-5, Cartage and Freight, $165.46; C-13, Tools and Instruments, $1.11; D-1, Office, $124.08; D-16, General Plant, $48.95; E-1, Building, $10.88.

Expenses not anticipated when budget for the year 1929 was compiled.

Respectfully,

FRANK SEIBERLICH,
Commissioner.

The above transfer was made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 19, 1929.

FINANCE COMMISSION.

BOSTON, December 19, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within appropriations of the Finance Commission:

From the appropriation for G-2, Special Investigations, $476.70, to the appropriation for B-1, Printing and Binding, $400.73; B-13, Communication, $15.14; C-10, Library, $36; D-1, Office Supplies, $21.82; D-2, Food and Ice, $3.01.

It is necessary that the above transfer be made in order to provide funds to pay bills under their proper classifications.

Respectfully,

FRANK A. GOODWIN,
Commissioner.

The above transfer was made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 23, 1929.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 27, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,

From C-4, Motor Vehicles, $2, to C-10, Library, $2.

These transfers are necessary to provide for the following increases: one clerk from $2,100 to $2,200 a year; one clerk from $2,000 to $2,100 a year.

Respectfully,

THOMAS J. HURLEY,
Chairman.

The above transfers were made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 30, 1929.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 20, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the Supply Department:

From the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, Chauffeur, 1 at $1,600-$1,700 a year, $2.19, to the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, Inspector and Weigher, 1 at $2,200-$2,300 ($2,400) a year, $2.19.

To grant an increase from $2,300 to $2,400 per year to P. R. Dunn, inspector and weigher in this department.

Respectfully,

HERBERT S. FROST,
Superintendent.

The above transfer was made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 24, 1929.

MUNICIPAL COURT OF BRIGHTON DISTRICT.

BOSTON, December 30, 1928.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Receiving information to the effect that the appropriation of this court, under heading B-4, Transportation, would be insufficient to take care of expenses, his Honor, Judge Thomas H. Connelly, respectfully requests that $50 be transferred from A-2, Temporary Employees, to take care of this deficit, the appropriation for A-2 being sufficient to stand the withdrawal and it appearing that the said deficit has been caused by conditions which were absolutely necessary.

Yours very truly,

DANIEL F. CUNNINGHAM,
Clerk.

The above transfer was made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 31, 1929.

MUNICIPAL COURT OF THE CHARLESTOWN DISTRICT.

BOSTON, December 17, 1929.

A-2, on payment of December 31st draft there will be left $384.74. It is estimated that not over $100 will be needed for supplementary draft at end of year.

B-4, December 31st draft calls for $45.50 in excess of appropriation and it is estimated the $54.50 will be needed for supplementary draft at end of year.

B-12, premium on bond of Probation Officer Carney which had formerly been $3 was this year raised to $5.

C-9, bill in December 31st draft exceeds appropriation by $3.

D-1, bills in December 31st draft exceed appropriation by $130.45 and it is estimated that $44.55 will be needed for supplementary draft at end of year.

Respectfully,

CHARLES S. SULLIVAN,
Justice.

The above transfer was made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 18, 1929.

MUNICIPAL COURT, SOUTH BOSTON.

BOSTON, December 16, 1929.

REQUEST OF CITY COUNCIL FOR NEW ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS IN WARD 18

A communication was received from the Board of Apportionment, under date of Dec. 2, 1929, with reference to the orders passed by the City Council under date of Oct. 21, 1929, requesting the School Committee, through His Honor the Mayor, to include in the budget for 1930, sums sufficient to provide for the erection and maintenance of a new elementary school in the Readville section, and a new elementary school in the Corriganville section of Ward 18, reporting as follows:

Under date of July 10, 1929, the School Committee made an appropriation of $6,250 for the purchase of additional land in Readville for the erection thereon sometime in the near future of an elementary school building.

The Board of Apportionment is giving careful consideration, in connection with the 1930 land and building budget, to a recommendation for an appropriation to provide for the purchase of land in the Corriganville section for the erection thereon sometime in the near future of an elementary school building.

In view of the more urgent need for additional accommodations in other sections of the city, the Board believes it will be impossible to include in its 1930 appropriations, provision for the construction of new buildings in the Readville and Corriganville sections of Hyde Park. It should be stated, however, that the School Committee has under consideration a building program extending over a period of several years, and in this proposed program provision will be made to substantially relieve the conditions in Hyde Park to which reference was made in the order of the City Council referred to above. To carry out its program the Committee will be obliged to seek favorable legislation from the Legislature.

The report was accepted and a copy ordered transmitted to the City Council.

CERTIFICATION OF AREAS

A communication was received from the Acting Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of Dec. 2, 1929, transmitting certification of areas of the following-named schoolhouses, upon which compensation for custodian service is based, to take effect on the dates specified:

Placed on file and the Chairman authorized to approve the certifications to take effect on the dates stated.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE TO A CUSTODIAN

A communication was received from the Acting Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of Dec. 2, 1929, recommending that leave of absence be granted John J. Murphy, custodian, William Eustis Schoolhouse, for the period Dec. 1, 1929, to Jan. 31, 1930, inclusive, on one-half net compensation, because of personal illness.

Placed on file and leave of absence granted for the period specified.

COMPENSATION FOR CUSTODIANS

A communication was received from the Acting Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of Dec. 2, 1929, recommending that William H. Cook, custodian, Edmund P. Tileston Schoolhouse, be compensated at the rate of twelve dollars ($12) a week in addition to his regular salary, for custodian services in connection with the use of the American Legion Hall in that district for kindergarten purposes, upon certification to the Business Manager by the Schoolhouse Custodian, to take effect Sept. 12, 1929.

Placed on file.

REPORT OF SURVEY COMMITTEE

The following communication was received:

December 2, 1929

Mr. Francis C. Gray
Chairman, School Committee
15 Beacon Street
Boston, Massachusetts
Dear Sir:

Herewith the Survey Committee submits Section II, Part I, of the "Report of Certain Phases of the Boston School System by the Survey Committee of the Boston Public Schools."

Very respectfully yours.

(Signed)

MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN

Chairman

The communication was placed on file and the report accepted.

NAMING OF SCHOOL BUILDING

Mrs. Barron offered the following:

ORDERED, That the next school building of substantial size erected in Boston be named the David A. Ellis School in memory of David A. Ellis, member of the Boston School Committee from 1903 to 1913, and Chairman from 1909 to 1913.

In connection with the order Mrs. Barron made the following statement:

David A. Ellis was born in Buffalo, New York, Feb. 20, 1873, and died in Boston, July 27, 1929. He received his A. B. from Harvard, 1894; LL.B. Harvard Law School, 1896; admitted to the Suffolk County Bar, Massachusetts, 1895; member of executive committee and trustee of Home Savings Bank, Boston, from 1913 to date of death; member, Boston Transit Commission, 1913-18; Commissioner, Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities, 1919-26; with Federal Fuel Administration during the World War; member of the old Boston School Board of twenty-four, from 1903 to 1906, and of the new School Committee of five, from 1906 to 1913, during which period he served as Chairman, 1909 to 1913; member, visiting committees, Harvard University, for many years, including the Committee on Education; lecturer on Municipal Government at Harvard University; trustee, Jewish Theological Seminary of America; Jewish Welfare Board Federated Jewish Charities, Franklin Foundation, Old South Meeting House, Public Latin School Association, Boston Legal Aid Society, Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, West End House; and member American Bar Association and active in the Massachusetts and Boston Bar Associations.

During his term of service as a member of the Boston School Committee, the policy of appointment of teachers from rated lists on Civil Service basis was established and Mr. Ellis was a leader in the movement. It was largely on his insistence that promotional examinations for teachers were established, in order to ensure progressive professional study by teachers after permanent appointment. He worked wholeheartedly as a member of the School Committee for the establishment of the original pension system for Boston teachers which became effective with the passage of Chapter 589 of the Acts of 1908. It was during his term that the plan for definite post-graduate training under supervision was established for the young Normal School graduate. He was instrumental in securing the passage of the bill which established a Juvenile Court. He was greatly interested in the extension of the playground movement to provide breathing space for children and adults, as he was interested in all movements for the betterment of mankind.

A sanitary sewer rebuilt of 18-inch earthen pipe in private land (about 600 feet west of Essex street), between Boston & Albany Railroad and a point 100 feet southwesterly, in the Brighton district, at an estimated cost of $2,000.

SAFE DRIVING.

Most cities and towns have a long list of "dons" but do little to educate the drivers of cars. If one half the time that is used trying to make people do something or not to do something was spent in educating the drivers much better results would be obtained. We need drivers' schools and the city or town that first starts such a school will be doing a real service.

ORDERED, That for the current school year, the Superintendent is hereby authorized in his discretion, to advance the graduating exercises to Thursday afternoon or evening June 26 for particular schools where Friday evening graduations are objectionable.

The regulations were suspended and the order passed.

APPOINTMENT OF SUPERVISING SCHOOL PHYSICIAN AND SCHOOL PHYSICIAN

A communication was received from the Secretary, under date of Dec. 10, 1929, reporting that the Division of Civil Service has certified the following-named persons as eligible for appointment to the position of supervising school physician:

Herman C. Petterson, Ernest L. Booth, William H. Blanchard.

Placed on file.

The Superintendent recommended the appointment of Herman C. Petterson, M. D., the candidate standing highest on the list, to take effect Dec. 16, 1929.

A roll call being ordered the members, as their names were called, respectively stated that they voted as follows:

For HERMAN C. PETTERSON—Mrs. Barron, Messrs. Gray, Hurley, Lyons, and Sullivan—5.

The Chair declared Herman C. Petterson, M. D., duly appointed supervising school physician to take effect on the date stated.

A communication was received from the Secretary, under date of Dec. 10, 1929, reporting that the Division of Civil Service has certified the following-named persons as eligible to fill one vacancy in the position of school physician:

Warren S. Shields, Edmund A. Rogers, Carl F. Maraldi.
Placed on file.

The Superintendent recommended the appointment of Warren S. Shields, M. D., the candidate standing highest on the list, to take effect Dec. 16, 1929.

A roll call being ordered, the members, as their names were called, respectively stated that they voted as follows:

For WARREN S. SHIELDS—Mrs. Barron, Messrs. Gray, Hurley, Lyons, and Sullivan—5.

The Chair declared Warren S. Shields, M. D., duly appointed school physician to take effect on the date stated.

CONDUCT OF PUPILS DURING FOOTBALL SEASON

The Superintendent presented the following report from Assistant Superintendent Patrick T. Campbell:

December 3, 1929

Dr. J. E. Burke, Superintendent of Public Schools:

My dear Dr. Burke:

Acting under your instructions I have, throughout the football season, gathered all the reports covering the conduct of our pupils on the way to and from the games wherever played.

Before the measures agreed upon at the conference held under your auspices in September were carried out, there was one serious breach of decorum in a car in the subway, between Arlington and Park Streets, and later in the Dorchester Tunnel. Just as soon, however, as the remedies suggested at the conference were put into force, beneficial effects became at once apparent, so that there have been very few causes of complaint during the progress of the football season. On two occasions a window in a car was broken but neither of these was the result of deliberate desire to damage the property of the railway company, but rather the result of clownish roughness on the part of some of the boys. In each case the head master of the school concerned took prompt and vigorous action to discover the boys concerned.

The officials of the Elevated Railway have carried out, generously and loyally, all the provisions which the conference suggested as their contribution a more plentiful supply of cars, and a generous assignment of men to care for the loading and unloading of the passengers.

The Police Department co-operated splendidly by detailing for service outside the grounds, a number of officers for each game; and for every game played at Braves Field, a motorcycle patrol from the grounds to Kenmore Station.

The action of the head masters has been prompt and vigorous, not only in detecting offenders, but in building up in their schools a generous public spirit which, more than anything else, has caused to disappear almost entirely, the disagreeable conduct of which citizens had in previous years complained. These corrective measures would have fallen far short of complete success were it not for the generous support of the press. All the papers gave wide publicity to the campaign instituted under your direction and pointed out, vigorously, the responsibility that rested upon the pupils and the friends of the schools in this situation.

It would be unfortunate indeed if I did not pay high tribute to the attitude of the boys and girls of our public high schools. Here, as always, they had but to learn what we desired to give us that in fullest measure, and I trust that their good will and cooperation will be properly recognized by those in authority.

May I take this opportunity of commenting upon the fine conduct of all the spectators at every game played this fall, whether on enclosed field or public park, for not one single disturbance or instance of disorderly conduct occurred among the spectators within the fields throughout the season. The members of the football squads led the way, for in not a single game played between Boston schools was a single boy penalized for unsportsman-like conduct. This, I think, is a remarkable tribute to the effective teaching in character training that prevails in all the grades of our school system.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) PATRICK T. CAMPBELL,
Assistant Superintendent.

PROPOSED RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT FOR BOSTON TEACHERS

Dr. Lyons offered the following, and in connection therewith made the statement which follows:

ORDERED, That all persons appointed by the Boston School Committee after Feb. 1, 1930, shall be legal residents of Boston, and be it further ORDERED, That the Board of Superintendents formulate and report to this Committee not later than Dec. 16, 1929, a plan whereby this order may be effected with due adherence to the principle expressed therein, with such exceptions as may be essential to the good of the service.

The purpose of the first order is to bring it about that the large number of teachers employed by the City of Boston in the future shall have active, sympathetic interest in the career and the future of Boston, which is best secured by residence in the city; and to provide, further, that the vast amount of money raised by taxation from the citizens of Boston and paid in salaries to the teachers, shall be spent by them in Boston, at least to a major extent, and for the advancement of Boston.

Approximately 1600 Boston teachers are now residents of other cities and towns. Investigation will show that some of them have used money paid them by the City of Boston for the purchase and maintenance of real estate holdings in other towns, for the construction of new houses, and otherwise to increase the taxable property in these communities.

Boston is a residential city second to none in the country, and it seems to me that it would be no hardship on teachers living in the surrounding towns, to require them to take up their residence within the corporate limits of the city. There are fine residential sections within the confines of Boston which would not be overcrowded by the ingress of Boston's non-resident teachers.

However, with a realization that we have an unwritten agreement or a moral contract with the teachers already in our system, I wish to call attention to the fact that there is nothing in the order to be presented that will interfere with the status of anyone holding an appointment in our schools at the present time.

There are approximately 600 qualified teachers, citizens of Boston, who are unable to procure positions in Boston, while non-residents are occupying such positions. I am informed that many such qualified teachers have applied for positions in other cities and towns in Massachusetts and have been refused on the ground that the residents of those communities must first be cared for.

Now I do not advocate retaliation on account of this last mentioned state of affairs, because these towns are quite within their rights in adopting such an attitude. I contend it is manifestly unfair that teachers trained at the expense of the city of Boston, and teachers trained at other institutions at the expense of their parents, tax-payers of Boston, should be debarred from employment in this city because the positions have been filled by non-residents. The City of Boston, with its educational traditions, its schools and its Teachers College, is capable of producing at least as high an average of intelligence and efficiency in the teaching profession as any city or commonwealth in the country. A high average of intelligence and efficiency is all we can ever hope to attain by any system of selection which has yet been devised.

Experience shows that certified lists made up after examination are not an infallible automatic index of the ability and temperament of persons listed in the order in which their respective percentages place them. A teacher whose record shows an average of 90 per cent will not necessarily be a better teacher than one whose average is only 80 or 75 per cent. While the examination method is the best available where large numbers of candidates are involved, the real efficiency and intelligence of a teacher and his adaptability to the needs of Boston cannot be determined until he has taught in Boston for some considerable time. If he then does not live up to his record, he cannot be discharged for that fact alone, and must be retained in the service and advanced to some degree at least.

Therefore, the opening of positions in our general grades and schools to applicants from all parts of the country does not tend in any substantial degree to improve the character of the service. It cannot be doubted that one thousand average men and women trained in Boston schools and colleges and the educational institutions around Boston, would be as good on the average as one thousand selected from certified lists from all parts of the country.

It is not book knowledge or examination excellence alone that makes a teacher for Boston. Temperament, environment, adaptability and sympathy with Boston's traditions and characteristics are factors, to my mind at least, as important as mere civil service tests.

It is therefore specious to say that Boston will, generally speaking, get better teachers in the grades under the present system than would be obtained by requiring residence. The present operation of the school system does not bring to the grades in any great numbers teachers from far distant communities. Most of the non-resident teachers are residents of cities and towns not far from Boston where school and educational conditions and general cultural atmosphere are substantially the same. Therefore, the quality of teachers produced within the corporate limits of Boston will be the same as the quality produced in a circumference which extends very little beyond the limits of Boston. Teachers coming from a great distance will upon appointment take up residence surely in or near Boston, thereby making a change in his or her residential status. In the future, it cannot conceivably harm these teachers to require that they move within the limits of Boston, rather than to a town five or ten miles distant.

The order provides for selection unrestricted by territorial limitations in cases where special capabilities are required, or where the number of qualified persons is so small as to make the selection from Boston residents alone undesirable. In the ordinary grades and schools, a high standard of excellence is all that can be hoped for under established methods of selection, and the average efficiency, intelligence, and temperamental fitness of Boston residents are in my opinion higher than the average of the whole country, or at least as high as the average of any given community in the country.

Question came on the passage of the first order, namely,—

ORDERED, That all persons appointed by the Boston School Committee after Feb. 1, 1930, shall be legal residents of Boston.

Mr. Hurley: Mr. Chairman, I recall that last August, the Committee by a four to one vote, I voting in the negative, abolished the preference which had been accorded to the graduates of Teachers College. I opposed that abolition on what I thought were educational grounds, namely, that graduates of that college were graduates of a professional, teacher-training college, as distinguished from graduates of schools with purely academic curricula. In the decision of the Committee in that instance I felt that the only preference that can be defended is not a preference that is dependent upon the fluctuating residence of the individual, but upon graduation from a professional school, such as the Teachers College, as analogous to a school of medicine or a law school. I will vote not to establish a preference which I think has no foundation in education.

Mrs. Barron: I am opposed to the order. I believe the children of Boston are entitled to the best teachers obtainable, whether residents or non-residents. This question has more than once been presented to the School Committee in the past, not to this School Committee, but to other committees. At a meeting held on October 19, 1925, Dr. Scannell, at that time a member of the School Committee, in voting against the proposed exclusion of non-resident teachers, quoted from the minutes of a former meeting, which represent my views, namely, "The appointing power should have in mind two things only in selecting teachers. (1) Is this the best teacher for the place? (2) Will this teacher when appointed be able to do the work efficiently?"

In my opinion the schools of Boston are first and foremost for the children of Boston and not to give positions to teachers, whether resident or non-resident.

(Continuing the quotation from Dr. Scannell's statement.)

"Many of our teachers live at home with their parents and could not do otherwise with the salaries paid them. Ought such a teacher, especially a woman, to be asked, if her parents are non-residents, to incur the expense of a separate home and to live alone in Boston, merely because of the existence of arbitrary municipal boundary lines, when her real home and all her natural ties are elsewhere?"

Or shall these parents, most of them advanced in years, be asked to give up their homes in nearby suburbs, give up all their home ties and come to live in Boston so that their daughters can live with them?

"The true question in each case is whether the teacher properly discharges his or her duties. Beyond that, from the nature of the situation, we cannot go.

"The specious argument is advanced that one who draws a salary from Boston ought to spend that salary in Boston. Even if we were in sympathy with and felt that Boston needed this extreme form of protection and paternalism, its force is offset by the fact that it would greatly narrow our field of choice and deprive us of the opportunity to obtain the services, however valuable and desirable, of non-resident teachers who might be unwilling or unable to change their homes. Anything that limits the free choice of the best material wherever it may be found, is a positive injury to the schools."

Dr. Lyons: I would like to say in reply to both Mr. Hurley's argument and Dr. Scannell's as reiterated by Mrs. Barron, that the purpose of the order is simply this. In the first place that we are looking for efficiency. That I grant. That condition must be. But we must face the situation that at the present time there are close to two thousand teachers being paid salaries of approximately three million dollars annually by the tax-payers of Boston, while the sons and daughters of these tax-payers are deprived of positions which are occupied by non-resident teachers.

Now I didn't use the word "preference" at all. I have nothing in mind in my order but to protect the rights of the Boston girl and the Boston teacher. Granting that we must have efficiency, I still maintain that in a city of close to a million souls there isn't any reason in the world why we shouldn't find equally as good teachers here as we will find in any other part of the country. So it is with that feeling, that at least they are equal, not necessarily superior, to those from outside the city, and that it isn't a matter of preference, but of rights, that the sons and daughters of Boston tax-payers should be given these positions as they come along, that I introduce this order.

Mr. Sullivan: I will vote Yes, knowing full well the order will be defeated

Chairman: The schools are for the children, and one of the greatest responsibilities of the School Committee is to maintain its teaching staff at the highest standard possible. This the Committee cannot do if the field from which it selects its teachers is limited, and, in my judgment, to pass this order is unquestionably to limit that field. Through the School Committee, the children and their parents are entitled to the free choice of the best teachers wherever they may be found, and to restrict that choice will be a positive injury to our schools. Consequently, I will vote against the order. I think we might hear from the Superintendent.

Superintendent: I find myself in harmony with what the Chairman has said much better than I can say. I have just these few words. There is a trite and true saying: "As the teacher, so the school." Our citizens are generously expending millions of dollars for new school buildings and equipment, but all this expenditure is ill-advised if we fail to provide for our pupils the most competent and skilful teachers available. The quality of the teacher's instruction is of infinitely greater importance than his place of domicile. Competition is the life of professions as well as of trade. Restriction of competition among teachers is likely in the long run to produce mediocrity.

There is no justification for legislation which threatens to deprive children of the superior instruction such as that given them today by hundreds of noble-minded, self-sacrificing, non-resident teachers. The great majority of our teachers always have been and always will be residents of Boston. In their ranks are found the finest teachers in the world. But they secured their positions in open competition. They asked no favors, have received none.

Some advocates of the proposed legislation disclaim that its purpose is to stifle competition. But manifestly such is its sole objective, however sincerely disavowed. In unequivocal language, it proclaims to the members of the teaching profession outside of Boston that they are unwelcome within our gates—a fatal provincialism! Under such a rule, high-spirited teachers would cease to qualify through our system of examinations that has been in vogue from time immemorial.

Mr. Hurley: Our citizens are interested in our attitude. I have this thought which I would like brought out. Two thousand or more years ago every city was surrounded by a wall, and city warred against city—Athens against Sparta, or Athens against Syracuse! But we have thrown down the walls. America is not composed of walled cities. We are a great, unified whole. I would like the citizens of Boston to consider that in judging our action tonight.

Mr. Sullivan: I hope the missing link in that vicious circle of alleged liberalism will not extend to internationalism where there will not be any boundaries or walls as between countries, to which Mr. Hurley refers.

Dr. Lyons: I still want to say that the condition Mr. Hurley makes reference to in regard to the walls, —that the state of affairs I am trying to correct here in Boston exists in the surrounding cities and towns. Men and women from Boston applying for positions in Cambridge or other cities or communities around and about Boston, are told that the wall is up there; that they should be taken care of in Boston, where they come from; that after they have taken care of their own residents, they will give Boston residents what's left. I realize also the truth of Dr. Burke's statement that the schools are for the children, and it is with full realization of that fact that I present this order, because I think with conditions as I would like to bring them about, what I consider an evil would be corrected.

Mr. Sullivan: One closing remark. I respectfully commend to my colleague, Dr. Lyons, that he reintroduce his two orders at the first meeting of the new School Committee.

Mr. Hurley: I deprecate the situation which I know exists in the surrounding cities and towns as Dr. Lyons has stated it. That is an evil which we should not duplicate. The remedy for that evil is with the Legislature. These cities and towns, unlike Boston, are operating under the general school statute.

A roll call being ordered on the question of the passage of Dr. Lyons's first order, the order failed of passage by the following vote:

YEAS—Dr. Lyons and Mr. Sullivan—2.

NAYS — Mrs. Barron, Messrs. Gray and Hurley—3.

In view of the action on the first order, Dr. Lyons withdrew the second order.

SUGGESTED PETITION TO LEGISLATURE FOR INCREASED SALARIES FOR CERTAIN RANKS.

Mrs. Barron: For a long time I have hoped that in the very near future we would be able to give some recognition in the way of higher salaries to our elementary and intermediate school teachers. It seems to me that these two large groups have not been given enough consideration in the salary adjustments which have been made during recent years. I believe the Committee should petition the Legislature for increased appropriating power for the maintenance of the schools in order to increase the salaries of these very deserving teachers.

I make this suggestion because I understand from the Business Manager that in our present state of finances we will be unable to increase either or both the salaries of the elementary or the intermediate school teachers, and the only way to obtain the money necessary for the purpose is to petition the Legislature. If the Legislature does not give us the increased appropriating power, we cannot increase the salaries of these two groups, but the responsibility will not be the School Committee's.

I make this statement at this time because I want to go on record as heartily in favor of increasing salaries of teachers in general, and in particular these two groups which it seems to me have not been given the consideration which their very valuable contribution to the school service has merited. I understand that a very careful study of the salaries in schools in ten of the largest cities in the country shows that our intermediate teachers are receiving but 79 per cent. of the average salaries paid in these larger cities, and our elementary teachers are receiving but 89 per cent. of the average salaries paid elementary teachers. Bear in mind that we are not basing these percentages on the salaries paid in many of the cities; it is average salary only.

I also want to go on record in favor of increasing the salaries of the women directors. I feel very strongly that the salary distinction which exists between men and women directors should not continue. The women are doing just as important work and to my mind just as much work in their several positions as the men, and this does not mean that I in any way fail to appreciate the value of the services of the men directors. I realize that it would be impossible at this time because of the financial situation to give to the women directors the salaries given the men directors, but I wish to urge upon the succeeding School Committee and particularly those members of this Committee who will be on the next Committee, that a very substantial increase be given to the women directors.

Last June when the salary schedule for the current school year was adopted, I felt that something should be done for the women directors and planned to have the matter reopened in their favor. There was no opportunity for full discussion during the summer months, and when the Board reassembled in September I found that under the law, the salary schedule having been adopted, no change could be made for the year. Therefore, I wish to go on record in favor of a substantial increase for the women directors with the hope that in the near future they will be on a salary parity with the men directors.

To carry my several recommendations into effect, I shall introduce an order at the next meeting.

Mr. Sullivan: Would Mrs. Barron consider a substitute order, somewhat as follows:

That this Committee go to the Legislature for sufficient appropriation to put into effect equal pay and additional compensation for all teachers.

Mrs. Barron: Not knowing just what amount would be needed to meet that situation, I am not ready now to ask the School Committee to petition the Legislature to that effect. I certainly will be very happy and very glad to go on record in favor of equal pay for equal work, regardless of sex. I do not present such a notion at this time because we should first know the amount of money involved. That is one of the reasons I am not introducing any order tonight.

Mr. Sullivan: Mr. Chairman, will Mrs. Barron when she does bring in an order, entertain a substitute order to petition the Legislature for additional appropriation to permit of increasing the salaries of all teachers and members of the supervising staff?

Mrs. Barron: Theoretically, I would be definitely in favor of increasing the salaries of almost everybody because our teachers, members of the supervising staff, and others are worthy, but I wouldn't offhand, now, state that I will introduce an order to increase everybody's salary. It may be the Legislature will give us sufficient appropriating power to permit of increasing the salaries of our elementary and intermediate teachers and making such other adjustments as may be necessary to care for those who have not been cared for in the last few years, but be unable to give the School Committee all that would be required to increase salaries in general. Therefore, I could not say now that I would accept such a substitute motion.

Dr. Lyons: I feel that in line with the effort to improve conditions generally for the people by providing greater opportunities for the working people in the way of construction of buildings and the like, I am in favor of doing all that we can to improve living conditions for all of the employees of the Boston School Committee. Therefore, I would have no hesitancy whatever in agreeing to a petition to the Legislature for increased appropriation for the purpose of increasing salaries throughout the system, in addition to the petition which we are anticipating for a considerable appropriation to advance the school building program.

Mrs. Barron again stated that at the next meeting of the School Committee she will present an order which will carry into effect the several recommendations contained in her statement of the evening.

CARE OF CRIPPLED CHILDREN

Mr. Sullivan: I have in mind another phase of education—whether or not the School Committee of Boston ought to establish an institution for the education of crippled children. At present there is no public school of this nature in the city.

Mr. Hurley: And for the care of epileptics?

Mr. Sullivan: I think it most important that the school authorities here in Boston look into the matter very thoroughly, and I will introduce an order at the next meeting to that effect.

The Committee adjourned.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, December 30, 1929.

Regular meeting of the City Council in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., President DONOVAN in the chair. Absent, Coun. Arnold, Keene, Murphy and Wilson.

Coun. RUBY was called to the chair—by President DONOVAN.

VETO OF GASOLENE PERMIT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 27, 1929.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am returning herewith, without my signature, the order passed by the City Council on December 23, 1929, disapproving the granting of a license for the storage and sale of four thousand gallons of gasoline on the premises at 625 Dudley street.

In returning this order without my signature, I in no way indicate whether I favor or disapprove the granting of the license in question. I do not wish to pass upon this question until the Board of Street Commissioners, the body charged with the duty of passing on matters of this kind, has expressed its official opinion either by voting in favor of the granting of the license or by disapproving the issuance of such permit.

Respectfully yours,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Placed on file.

JAMES M. CURLEY BECOMES MAYOR OF BOSTON FOR THIRD TERM OF FOUR YEARS AT SIMPLE CEREMONIES IN SYMPHONY HALL — OUTLINES PROGRAM OF IMPROVEMENTS ENVISIONING CITY OF 50 YEARS HENCE. CALLS FOR METROPOLITAN UNITY AND OTHER DEVELOPMENTS OF COMMERCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL IMPORTANCE.

Simple and brief were the inaugural ceremonies Monday morning, January 6, by which Honorable James M. Curley was made Mayor of the City of Boston for his third term of four years. The feature of the event was delivery of the inaugural address which called for improvements envisioning the next fifty years of development. The address was as follows:

Gentlemen of the City Council:

This year 1930 marks the passage of three centuries since a group of men and women, inspired by faith in God and in themselves, founded what is in our day known as Boston. Despite the rigors of climate, a soil that did not yield readily or in abundance and the constant menace of hostile Indians, they progressed, bequeathing to us a lesson in the value of self-reliance and the necessity of cooperation.

The problems that in our day bulk large are infinitesimal as contrasted with those in evidence in the days of the founders and can be solved by the same methods in our day as in their day, namely, through cooperation and self-reliance.

The necessity of a program for the development of industry, commerce and municipal activities anticipating so far as may be humanly possible the requirements of the next half century is evident. Such a program should be undertaken at an early date and pending its adoption our expenditures should be limited to immediate requirements which will not permit of delay.

The increased cost of administering the activities of the city in 1930 as against 1929, due to increase in personnel and salaries, will be approximately $1,000,000, and this excess cost must be offset if we are to avoid an increase in the tax rate that will prove burdensome.

HONORABLE JAMES M. CURLEY
Mayor of Boston, 1914-1917, 1922-1925, 1930-1933

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

MAYOR CURLEY HAS HAD NOTABLE POLITICAL CAREER — HAS BEEN ELECTED FOR THIRD FOUR-YEAR TERM AS CHIEF EXECUTIVE — HAS WON SIXTEEN OUT OF TWENTY-ONE POLITICAL CONTESTS, THUS MAKING HIM ONE OF MOST OUTSTANDING FIGURES IN POLITICAL HISTORY OF BOSTON.

With the beginning of the third administration as Mayor of the man whose life has been so intimately interwoven with the destinies of Boston it is fitting that an official sketch of the life of James M. Curley be presented. This appears to be all the more fitting because of the fact that this year not only commemorates for him and Boston the beginning of a record never before established in the history of the city, but also this year commemorates a record of 300 years of the existence of Boston as a founded community.

Hon. James M. Curley has begun his third term of four years as Mayor of Boston, having been elected Mayor for the years 1914-15-16-17, the years 1922-23-24-25, and the present term which ends in 1933. He served twice as member of the Common Council and as Representative, seven times as Alderman and City Councilor and twice as a member of Congress.

He was born on November 24, 1874, at 28 Northampton street, South End. His father died when he was ten years of age, and while he was in the fourth grade at school. To aid in the family's support he entered the employ of a grocer at Northampton and Washington streets as an order boy, whose duty was to deliver orders and work about the store after school hours.

At the age of twelve he got a position in a drugstore, near his home district, and worked there before and after school.

Graduates from Grammar School.

He was graduated from Dearborn Grammar School at the age of sixteen and went to work for the grocer at $7 a week, as an order clerk. He was with this concern for three years, receiving at the time of leaving $14 a week. He then secured a position with a State street firm, dealers in bakers' supplies, remaining with them for eighteen months. Later, for a brief period, he was clerk for the New York Life Insurance Company.

It was while working for the State street concern that Mayor Curley made the decision that shaped his career. It was at this time that he was elected to the Common Council for the first time. The management of his office thought that the duties of public office would conflict with the obligation he owed them and they told him that he had the choice of resigning his political office or his position with the firm. He chose to serve the people in the Council.

During the first years of his employment and after he had been graduated from the grammar school, he attended the evening high school and later joined the Young Men's Catholic Association of Boston College.

At 20 years of age he joined the Ancient Order of Hibernians and was noted for his regular attendance at its meetings and his participation in the debates of the order. He was elected division president and represented the order as a delegate at many state and national conventions.

He served in the Common Council two years, making a record for forceful argument and fearless leadership of his party. In the Fall of the second year his attention turned to Beacon Hill and 1902 found him the successful candidate for Representative of his district. Not alone did he succeed for himself; with his political power constantly increasing he succeeded in that year in electing Timothy McCarthy to the Board of Aldermen from the old 10th District, which had been always strongly Republican.

He and others organized the Tammany Club in February of 1902. James M. Curley was chosen as president.

In 1903 he again served his district as Representative, and in 1904 he served in the Board of Aldermen.

In 1904, 1905, 1906, 1907, 1908, 1909 he served in the Board of Aldermen. In the last year the city charter was changed and the Board of Aldermen and Common Council were abolished and a City Council substituted in their stead. Under the new charter Mr. Curley was elected to the City Council.

On June 26, 1906, Mr. Curley married Miss Mary T. Herlihy. With their family of six children they live in Jamaica Plain.

Becomes Mayor of Boston.

In the Fall of 1910 he sought election to Congress in opposition to Congressman Joseph F. O'Connell. He was elected and re-elected.

While serving the second year of his second term in Congress, Mr. Curley announced his candidacy for Mayor against Thomas J. Kenny, the candidate of the Good Government Association. On the eve of the election Martin Lomasney, the leader of the Hendricks Club, switched his forces from the Kenny camp to the Curley camp.

On Tuesday, January 14, 1914, Curley was elected Mayor by a majority of 5,720 votes, carrying sixteen of the twenty-six wards. Some time later, before his term of Congress expired in March, 1915, he resigned his Congressional seat. He served four years. At the time of the recall, December 15, the people sustained his administration.

In 1917 he was opposed by Andrew J. Peters, the Good Government candidate, and Congressman James A. Gallivan. Peters was elected.

In the following year Mr. Curley was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 12th District against James A. Gallivan. He was defeated.

In 1921 he was again elected Mayor. In 1924 he ran for Governor and was defeated.

In the election last November he won over Frederick W. Mansfield by 20,458 votes.

He is president of the Hibernia Savings Bank. The honors accorded him include the Order of the Rising Sun, conferred upon him by Japan.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS OF MAYOR CURLEY.

Changes in administrative policies due to successive changes in administrative officials, coupled with pride of origin and lack of definite objective or plans for future, are in large measure responsible for present conditions industrially, commercially and in municipal departmental administration.

CITY PLANNING.

It is my purpose to invite the cooperation of representatives of religious, educational, labor, industrial, commercial, civic and financial organizations to the number of three hundred and fifty to serve in an advisory capacity with the City Planning Board in the creation of a fifty-year plan for Boston.

Some progress along this line has already been made in the Park Department where plans, devised in 1916, anticipating the next half century have been the basis for commendable improvements.

Similar planning has been inaugurated in the Hospital Department at present working upon a twenty-five year plan, the merit of which so commended itself to the last administration as to permit of its acceptance without change, thereby making possible by 1932 a Municipal Hospital Department unexcelled in the world.

The same policy with reference to preventive health work is represented in the George Robert White Health Units program which was sufficiently meritorious to warrant adoption by the last administration and which, upon completion of remaining units, will, in the opinion of Doctor Vincent of the Rockefeller Foundation, result in an enormous saving of human life.

It is desirable in connection with the program of installation of George Robert White Health Units to consider the advisability of establishing a unit in the Roxbury section and preferably in the center of Madison Park. The health authorities regard this section as one in which steps should be taken at once for the protection of the entire city since disease is no respecter of geographical lines.

The success achieved in these departments to which I have made reference is ample proof not only of the value but of the imperative need of early action in the application of this policy of long period planning, to all activities of the municipality.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

The pay-as-you-go policy on appropriations for land and buildings for schools, adopted in 1916, was due in great measure to the fact that this expense was an annually recurrent one and, so long as the increase in requirements was normal each year, it seemed advisable to meet it from current taxes. In 1916 the valuation of school lands and buildings was $22,000,000 and the bonded indebtedness was $16,000,000. Today the valuation of school lands and buildings is $42,000,000 and the bonded indebtedness is $9,900,000.

The reduction of portable school structures to the minimum and the vigorous prosecution of a construction program for a seat in a permanent school building for every pupil will perhaps represent expenditures of too great a volume to impose immediately upon the taxpayers. I accordingly advance for serious consideration the question of a return to the loan policy on school lands and buildings until such time as the school buildings plant is brought up to the point where the only annual requirements will be those caused by the normal increase in school population and the obsolescence of buildings.

PROSPERITY PROGRAM.

Boston, in common with all units of the American Republic, approves the program of national planning inaugurated by President Herbert Hoover as a means to promote prosperity and to end if possible seasonal unemployment. In conformity with the policy of the President, it is desirable that such public works as may be undertaken not only be necessary but also be such as to provide the largest opportunity for distribution in the form of wages of money expended. That encouragement may be given private individuals and corporations to aid in this prosperity program I recommend the expenditure outside the debt limit of $10,000,000 for the acceptance and construction of streets upon which homes or business establishments have been erected. This amount may seem large, yet it is but one-fifth of what could be expended to put our highways in suitable condition for public use. The expenditure of this sum should result in a higher health standard, a lower death and accident rate through designating certain streets in each section of the city as play streets, and a reduction in the cost of operation of motor vehicles.

Conditions in the building industry render it advisable to prosecute with vigor the building construction program of the Boston City Hospital, and it is my purpose to confer at once with the hospital trustees with a view to speeding up this important work. It is essential that this be done, both from the standpoint of public health and as a means of lessening the number of the unemployed. It will result in an early and large distribution of public money and payment for labor and materials, and thereby aid in promoting general prosperity.

LIBRARY EXTENSIONS.

The Boston Public Library Trustees after a most thorough investigation are of the opinion that a fixed policy of establishing two branch libraries each year for a period of twenty years should be undertaken at once. The benefits of this method of distributing books is so self-evident that it is difficult to understand why some such policy has not been previously followed. I believe that it is sufficiently sound to justify adoption and that it will prove its value in so pronounced a manner as to make desirable its continuance by succeeding administrations, so that at the end of the twenty-year period the plant value of the library should have increased four millions of dollars without burdening any generation.

HEALTH INSURANCE.

The City of Boston has invested in the development for park, bathing and general recreation purposes at Columbus Park and the Strandway, South Boston, the sum of $1,600,000. In the opinion of the Park Commission this work could be completed by an expenditure of approximately $750,000 and I know of no good reason why it should not be undertaken at once for the benefit of all the people of the city.

The value of the L Street Bath House not only from the standpoint of recreation but also from the standpoint of public health has long been recognized. It is much more than a Boston institution since its facilities are utilized not only by persons living within the confines of greater Boston but even by persons living outside of the Commonwealth.

The possibility of the destruction of the L Street Bath House by fire occurring either prior to or at the height of the summer season has long been recognized and the importance of conserving the health-giving opportunities of this institution must be apparent to everyone.

During my previous term a sufficient sum was made available to provide a fire-resisting bathing establishment to take the place of the present L Street Bath House fire hazard, but, for what the succeeding administration deemed sufficient reason, the money was transferred.

In connection with the completion of the Strandway development, which should include the building of permanent concrete bleachers with a seating capacity for 10,000 persons, the planting of grass, shrubbery and trees and the general improvement of the bathing beach, a new bath house should be constructed. The proposed bath house should contain a solarium, handball courts and facilities for hot salt water bathing during winter months.

I realize that the improvements recommended may involve a radical departure from the custom which has prevailed in the past, yet I nevertheless believe that rightly interpreted it is another forward step in the conservation of the health of the people which should be undertaken without delay; and I propose, accordingly, to recommend an appropriation in the sum of $750,000 to provide for the improvements here outlined.

Studies have been made relative to the development of the Bayswater section of Orient Heights at East Boston. An expenditure in the sum of approximately $1,000,000 would give to this section of the city a waterfront park similar to that which has been established at South Boston and it is desirable that this work be started at an early date.

TRAFFIC.

The change in the Charlestown district from a purely residential one to a section rapidly becoming industrial renders it essential for the protection of the public that Bunker Hill street be smooth paved and a "white way" be established thereon. The estimated cost of this work is $150,000 and I favor early action on the project. It is also advisable that a "white way" with traffic signal system be established on Chelsea street, both for the protection of the public and for facilitating traffic.

The intolerable traffic conditions at Governor square have for a period of six years been the subject of plans and discussion but without results. In my opinion the time has arrived to provide relief through the removal of surface tracks in the square.

During my previous administration I urged upon the Legislature the necessity of meeting this problem and introduced legislation which was finally passed in the form of chapter 341 of the Acts of 1925. This act authorizes the extension and alteration of the Boylston Street Subway for the purpose of removing the surface cars from this square and the improvement of street car service on Commonwealth avenue and Beacon street. It provides for financing along the sound lines of all our previous transit legislation, but in order to become effective must have the approval of the Directors of the Boston Elevated Railway in the form of an agreement to lease the extension. This legislation is still effective and it is my intention to call immediately into conference the Directors and Public Trustees of the Elevated Railway Company with a view to having this act accepted and construction work promptly commenced on a layout which will fit into any future comprehensive plan.

The transportation service upon the Huntington avenue, South Huntington avenue, and Centre street lines has been totally inadequate to meet the needs of this fast growing section of Boston and immediate relief should be provided either by the extension of the Boylston Street Subway through Huntington avenue to the junction of Tremont street and Francis street or to Brookline Village. I shall request the Corporation Counsel to draft a bill for this purpose for immediate presentation to the Legislature believing the improvement here outlined is one that is absolutely necessary.

It is desirable as a further measure of relief that an underpass for motor vehicle traffic be constructed at Commonwealth avenue under Massachusetts avenue through the use of a portion of the present mall.

BOSTON AIRPORT.

The development of the airport at East Boston represents a problem that merits intensive study and early action. In my opinion, the airport should be extended to include Governor's Island and it is desirable that the approval of the Massachusetts Department of Public Works be secured for the extension of the line of the airport and that arrangements be made with the Federal Government for the transfer of the custody of Governor's Island to the City of Boston. In the event that sanction is given by these authorities it should be possible through the leveling of Governor's Island to grade and fill the flats between the present lines of the airport and Governor's Island. The extended area thus reclaimed would make possible the construction of a dirigible mooring mast upon the island. I have requested a study of the development and extension of airport activities by the Planning Board and Boston Park Commission and shall, from time to time, make recommendations involving such expenditures as may be deemed necessary to the end that Boston may take first place in airport facilities over any city upon either the Atlantic or Pacific Coast.

ELECTRIFICATION.

The indications are that a consolidation of New England railroads will shortly be proposed and in my opinion it would be advisable that Boston refuse to assent to such consolidation unless provision be made for electrification at least within the metropolitan area and for a belt line connecting all rail and steamship terminals.

The utilization of a portion of the roadbed of the Boston & Maine Railroad, the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, the Boston & Albany Railroad and the Narrow Gauge Railroad as a means of improving rapid transit facilities at a minimum of cost as has been done in the Dorchester, Ashmont and Mattapan sections of Boston is worthy of serious study at the present time.

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT.

The City of Boston in 1929 was required to pay as its proportionate share of the cost of metropolitan activities the sum of $4,464,227.71, divided as follows:

Metropolitan Sewers	$433,399 57
Metropolitan Parks	1,110,027 88
Charles River Basin	221,788 73
Southern Artery	33,867 49
Northern Artery	129,806 00
Miscellaneous Assessments	75,841 27
	$2,004,730 94
Metropolitan Water	2,459,496 77
Total	$4,464,227 71

Apparently it is the purpose of the state government to extend the scope of its activities and control over the affairs of cities and towns within the metropolitan area so called until such time as the officials in charge of such cities and towns become purely figureheads.

The deplorable feature of metropolitan district control lies in the fact that the cities and towns comprising the metropolitan district have no direct voice in the matter of expenditures and in the case of Boston are practically without representation upon the membership of the commissions.

It would appear desirable in view of the mounting expense of the metropolitan district, the major portion of which is borne by the City of Boston, that the cities and towns comprising the metropolitan district be allowed representation upon these commissions.

As a further measure of protection I favor the appointment of a Metropolitan District Finance Commission, the membership to be selected by the Mayors and Boards of Selectmen in each county within the metropolitan district, and the representation to be proportionate to the annual expenditures made for the support of the metropolitan district, and the Metropolitan Finance Commission so appointed to be given the power to supervise, investigate and report upon all work now or hereafter conducted under or by Metropolitan District Commissions. Legislation to this end should be sought at an early date and I shall instruct the Law Department to draft a bill at once with a view to safeguarding the money of the taxpayers of the cities and towns within the metropolitan district.

The problems that confront the City of Boston today, an equitable solution of which would represent an expenditure of many hundreds of millions of dollars, are not primarily Boston problems; rather may they be more properly termed Greater Boston problems. The city has its limitations in the matter of expenditures of public money and could, without serious burdening of the taxpayers, conduct its business upon a low tax rate with the same smug complacency as other cities and towns within a radius of fifteen miles of the State House. An ever-increasing demand, however, is constantly made for improved transportation facilities, subway, tunnel and highway, the cost of which is borne by the City of Boston despite the fact that in nearly every case the improvements are made largely for the convenience and benefit of adjoining cities and towns.

METROPOLITAN BOSTON.

I am fully aware of the objections that may be presented to the enactment of legislation providing for the establishment of a Greater Boston, notwithstanding the fact that the inclusion of the cities and towns within fifteen miles of the State House would give Boston fourth rank as against eighth place, as at present, among American cities. The industrial and commercial benefits that would accrue in consequence of this more favorable position are self-evident. It must be likewise apparent to every thoughtful citizen that Boston with a population approximating 800,000 cannot continue to bear the burdens that should be borne in part by the cities and towns within the Greater Boston area, which are beneficiaries of transit, highway and other expenditures. The principal argument against the creation of a Greater Boston is based on the retention of local autonomy. This consideration has not been permitted to prevail in the case of the seven leading American cities which today outrank Boston in population and it should not be allowed to stand in the way of a movement beneficial to every city and town and to the state itself.

The principal which actuated the joint action of our cities and towns in developing a metropolitan water district, a metropolitan sewer district, and a metropolitan parks district, is the same principle which caused Chicago, Cleveland, Los Angeles, New York, Detroit, and practically every other great urban center in the country, to initiate programs looking to development not only within their own physical limits, but including at the same time the cities and towns within a radius of ten, twenty or thirty miles. It is the same principle which will influence the region in the vicinity of Boston at no far distant date to unite in its consideration of those matters which are of common interest and common concern.

LONDON COUNTY COUNCIL.

In many respects our situation here in Boston today is analogous to that which existed in the vicinity of London up to seventy-five years ago. Previous to 1855 the government of London was in a state of chaos. Municipal regulations were administered by no less than three hundred distinct boards, and more than 10,000 persons were participating in the government of the community. The statement is made, and this is not without counterpart in our own vicinity, that in some districts the dividing line between adjoining communities ran down the center of the main road.

In appealing for united action in matters of common concern William Gladstone stated, "The principle of unity has already been established under the pressure of necessity as a matter which could not be resisted . . . unity of government in the metropolis is the only method on which we can proceed for producing municipal reform." The agitation finally resulted, in 1888, in the creation of the London County Council, which assumed and still maintains its position as the central governing body. In addition, there have been established twenty-eight metropolitan boroughs, each with its own Mayor, Board of Aldermen and City Council, exercising jurisdiction over matters of local concern, and, in conjunction with the London County Council, over the larger matters of common interest. Thus was London unified and welded together by the adoption of this coordinated system of government and for the first time in history it took its place as one great city rather than a mere conglomeration of petty, jarring authorities. The principle of unity was established and has been found satisfactory.

BOROUGH SYSTEM.

The necessity for similar action in our own metropolitan area is recognized today. The only difference of opinion lies in the adaptation of that principle to our own needs. If the solution is the borough system of government, which has brought order out of the great problem of London government which had so long vexed and perplexed successive generations, then its practical application to our own necessities should be given careful consideration. If the solution lies in the development of a regional area and a regional plan, as has been done in other large centers of population, then that also should have the most careful consideration. The fact remains that the awakening to a new social consciousness among city dwellers may well be said to be the most significant tendency of the new century. We have become regional-minded. Failure on the part of our governmental agencies to recognize this tendency in our social and economic life is nothing short of a repudiation of our traditional system of a democracy for the people and by the people.

I favor the appointment of a committee consisting of recognized authorities upon the subject of municipal government to investigate as to the feasibility of the creation of a metropolitan district of government fashioned possibly along the lines of the London County Council as I am firmly of the opinion that only through the united action of the cities and towns within the metropolitan district area is worthwhile progress possible.

UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF.

Investigation discloses the fact that the ranks of the unemployed have been greatly augmented due to business depression and that among those seeking aid from the municipality may be found hundreds of self-respecting and able-bodied men who have never previously found it necessary to request aid from any source.

It is the duty of the city, in so far as is consistent with sound business principles and humane instincts, to provide for the employment of as many of these men as may be possible.

An appropriation for an additional golf course has been authorized by the City Council and the Park Department possesses title to some 2,000,000 square feet of land in the West Roxbury section which could be cleared and made available as a golf course and, provided no additional land were necessary, the entire amount appropriated for this purpose could be utilized in the employment of heads of families in the clearing, grading and development of this project. Accordingly I commend to your earnest and early consideration action upon this improvement which, with others contemplated, may serve a most helpful purpose.

TAX AND LOAN LIMITS.

The granting to the City of Boston of authority to determine its own tax limit was given consideration by the Legislature in 1929 and, for reasons with which I am not acquainted, the former Mayor was not in favor of the removal of the tax limit. The City of Boston occupies a most unfortunate and unique position as contrasted with other cities of the Commonwealth in the matter of determining its tax limit. This discrimination should no longer be tolerated. I favor the adoption of such legislation as will permit the City of Boston to fix its own tax limit.

What is true with reference to the tax limit is equally true with reference to the limit for sewerage construction and likewise city debt. The cost of sewerage construction has increased some 300 per cent since the adoption of the present statutory restrictions and as a consequence the city is greatly hampered in the matter of extension of sewerage works. I accordingly favor the removal of the restrictions upon limit of borrowing power for sewerage purposes.

The debt incurring power within the debt limit is inadequate to meet present day requirements in every city and town of the Commonwealth, and more particularly so in the case of Boston. I accordingly favor enactment of such legislation as will permit of a 50 per cent increase in the debt incurring power of all cities and towns of the Commonwealth.

REVENUE APPORTIONMENT.

The Gasolene Tax Law has resulted in the receipt by the Commonwealth of a larger sum than was anticipated and much larger than was formerly received by the Commonwealth from automobile fees and registrations. The cities and towns in the Commonwealth are required to bear the burden of additional street construction and maintenance caused by increased automobile and truck traffic. I believe this burden should be alleviated by the distribution to the cities and towns of at least half of the revenue received by the Commonwealth from the gasoline tax, for the purpose of highway construction. I shall recommend to the Legislature that legislation be enacted authorizing such a distribution.

I am advised that the County of Suffolk is now bearing an unfair proportion of the expense of transacting court business in the Supreme Judicial and Superior Courts of the County of Suffolk, due to the fact that in many instances causes arising in other counties are transferred to the County of Suffolk. This in my opinion should be corrected by legislation which will require those counties wherein these transferred causes arise to reimburse the County of Suffolk for the expense involved.

STREET WIDENINGS.

It requires no stretch of the imagination to foresee that very much must be added to our thoroughfare system within the next few years if it is to meet the demands of the constantly increasing automobile traffic. The automobile industry, including trucks, pleasure cars and motorcycles, has increased more than 100 per cent in the last five years, while road building throughout the country has increased only one-eighth as fast. This means that not only Boston but every large center of population is faced with a tremendous construction program which will in many respects change the entire aspect of our cities. The widening of Summer street and of L street from the Army Base to the Strandway; the widening of Dorchester avenue, from Fort Point Channel to the south; the widening of Preble street, from Dorchester avenue to the Strandway; the opportunity afforded by the reconstruction of the Federal Building for an exchange of a strip of land 15 feet in width upon Devonshire street for a similar strip in Post Office square, and the opportunity for similar negotiations in connection with the development of the United States Hotel property are all matters obviously in need of consideration.

The City Planning Board has practically completed a comprehensive thoroughfare plan designed to provide in a logical way for traffic needs during a twenty-five year period. In order of their urgency, a construction program and a financial program are also being worked out. There is much to be gained by following a consistent, well-thought-out program of public improvements. Piecemeal projects are invariably wasteful. Each new improvement should fit into a general plan and add to the efficiency of those already accomplished. Projects involving large expenditures of money must be subjected to the searchlight of public opinion in order to ascertain not only what the improvement will cost in dollars and cents, but what return will be made to the community in the way of convenience and facility of traffic movement.

Not riches but the life that a community provides is its real wealth.

TERCENTENARY AND VETERANS' MEMORIAL.

The celebration of the tercentenary of the settlement of Massachusetts Bay affords an opportunity to establish a permanent memorial to the founders and at the same time discharge an obligation which has been too long overdue, namely, a memorial of the soldiers, sailors and marines who gave of their health and strength, even to the supreme sacrifice itself, in the late war, in order that their country, state and city might endure. No more fitting recognition of the enduring work of the forefathers and the war service of their successors in this generation could be devised than a memorial building which would stand not only as expression of the appreciation of their fellow citizens but also as a reminder to the youth of this and future generations that there is no higher attribute than loyalty.

Such a memorial building, on the westerly side of the State House, possibly on the plot bounded by Mt. Vernon, Joy and Beacon streets, could appropriately house the Supreme Judicial Court, the Land Court, the Social Law Library and the Commission on Probation, and thereby relieve for a considerable period the overcrowding of the Suffolk County Court House.

CONCLUSION.

The expenditures of the Public Welfare Department are an unfailing barometer as to industrial prosperity or depression, and the amount required in the closing months of 1929 indicates that there is dire need at present.

Until a sane economic policy is devised unemployment will continue to exist. In its train come poverty, crime and disease; and to combat these evils it is necessary to furnish work and wages to those in need of sustenance and employment.

The city can do much, but private industry properly encouraged can do more, and to the promotion and encouragement of commerce and industry our every effort should be directed.

The solution of all these problems requires the action and approval of the City Council. Too often in the past the attention of the citizens has been centered on the inauguration, personality and policies of the chief executive; losing sight of the fact that this ceremony is also the inauguration day of the members of the City Council, who have been selected by the people to act as a Board of Directors. Since the curtailing of their powers along certain executive and administrative lines by the so-called Good Government Charter of 1909 it has become customary for those having little knowledge of the foundations of municipal government to make light of the City Council membership and attempt to belittle their importance. Nothing is more unwarranted and unfair — and no one can more appreciate from actual experience their power and influence for good administration, and the necessity for their hearty cooperation and assistance than I. From my knowledge of the caliber of the men whom the people have selected to represent them in the present honorable body I feel certain of that cooperation and assistance to the fullest degree.

The task confronting us is no new one, and providing we essay it with courage, confidence and faith in Almighty God, success will crown our efforts and we will merit the appreciation of a grateful citizenship.

May we serve with fidelity, and achieve mightily, and as God was to our fathers may He be to us.

MAYOR CURLEY MOVES TO END TRAFFIC CONGESTION AT GOVERNOR SQUARE — CALLS CONFERENCE TO DISCUSS SUBWAY EXTENSION.

One of the first major moves of Mayor Curley in keeping with his program for building Boston greater was the decision to remedy the traffic problem at Governor square by elimination of all surface track through the extension of the Boylston Street Subway.

Mayor Curley announced that he had called a conference for his office for a discussion of this improvement. It is believed that the work will call for an expenditure of $3,000,000 and will give work to a large number of men, thereby aiding the unemployment situation.

Mayor Curley also said that he has instructed the Boston Transit Commissioners to arrange for the building of the proposed underpass at Commonwealth avenue and Massachusetts avenue. The Mayor said he would have this project done by day labor and thus help out the unemployment situation.

Invited to the conference at the Mayor's office on Thursday were the members of the Boston Transit Commission, the City Planning Board, trustees of the Metropolitan Transit District, trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway System, directors of the Boston Elevated System, Corporation Counsel Deland and Assistant Corporation Counsels Silverman and Lyons, the Metropolitan Planning Division, the Street Commissioners, the Park Commissioners, the Commissioner of Public Works and the City Auditor.

Mayor Curley said that he would like to see the Boylston Street Subway extension carried out to Union square, so that when Boston becomes a greater city transportation facilities may be more readily adjusted to meet the larger demands.

Discussing the underpass at Massachusetts avenue and Commonwealth avenue Mayor Curley said that the Boston Transit Commission has already made plans and studies. One difficulty to overcome is the presence of a 48-inch water main in the center of Commonwealth avenue which crosses diagonally at the point mentioned. With the underpass the Mayor believes it will be possible for motor traffic to pass in either direction without the delay which now exists at Commonwealth and Massachusetts avenues. The Mayor is of the opinion that the work on the underpass can begin late in February.

MAYOR CURLEY INFORMED THAT KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS WILL CONVENE HERE IN AUGUST.

His Honor the Mayor received the following letter from John E. Swift of the Knights of Columbus:

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Please accept my hearty congratulations on your inauguration as Mayor of the City of Boston. I trust you will have a most successful administration, furnishing a lasting monument to your initiative and ability to accomplish things.

I was delighted to present your cordial invitation to the Supreme Board of Directors of the Knights of Columbus to assemble the convention at Boston. I am directed by them to say that they appreciate deeply your spirit of hospitality and cooperation. The Board has unanimously voted to convene in Boston during August, 1930, the first time in seventeen years.

Appreciating personally and as a member of the Supreme Board your kindness in this matter and trusting that we may have a convention that will live long in the memory of those who attend, I beg to remain as ever,

Yours sincerely,

JOHN E. SWIFT.

NEW $100,000,000 STREET PROPOSED.

Mayor Curley has taken under consideration a plan for a new street extending from Boylston street to Hanover street, between Washington and Tremont streets. William J. McDonald and Bruce Wetmore called on Mayor Curley to outline the plan for a $100,000,000 thoroughfare linking up Province street widened in the Mayor's previous administration. This thoroughfare would extend from Stuart street to Hanover street, paralleling Washington and Tremont streets, with a through motor tunnel under the street grade, double-deck sidewalks and display window space, and with crosswalks at the second story that would permit shoppers to go from one side to the other without interference. Such a street could be constructed, its sponsors declared, under the excess condemnation act with the result that its would cost the city nothing.

The Mayor expressed the belief that it would take at least a year of study and a program of education before the public would realize the benefits to be derived. The proposed highway would connect with Province street and would mean a new City Hall.

TRADE LIBRARY IN NEW SCHOOL PROPOSED.

In a communication to Gordon Abbott, president of the board of trustees of the Public Library, Mayor Curley has called attention to the unused library quarters in the Boston Continuation School, Common street, suggesting the opportunity to create a trade school library similar to the one in use in Detroit, where reference books relative to progress in trades and industries might be available to pupils and the public. The mayor asked for a conference.

WANTS AIRPORT TO BE PORT OF ENTRY.

Mayor Curley has written to Secretary of Labor Davis requesting that the East Boston airport be made a port of entry and to Congressman John J. Douglass, suggesting that he take the necessary steps with the Federal Government for the transfer of Governors Island to the city, to become a part of the airport.

The letter to Secretary Davis said:

"The City of Boston, in line with the program of President Herbert Hoover anticipates an expenditure in the sum of $1,000,000 for the development of the Boston airport.

"The Boston airport is rapidly becoming one of the most important and best equipped air stations upon the Atlantic coast and it is my sincere desire, as mayor, that it shall be the best on either the Atlantic or Pacific coast.

"It is possible for you to aid in this most laudable ambition and in addition serve the cause espoused by your chief in the matter of minimizing unemployment by giving your approval to this the petition of the City of Boston, that the Boston airport be made a port of entry.

"I trust that this will be done at the earliest possible date, since it will be of value in furthering the adoption of the program which I have presented for airport development."

ADDITIONAL DAMAGES.

The Mayor has approved the following votes of the Board of Street Commissioners:

Whereas, An award of $1,432 for the taking of an easement in 1,080 square feet of land from Jacob Block for the widening and relocation of Ashland street, was made to said Block under the order for said improvement dated June 7, 1927; and

Whereas, Said sum ($1,432) was accepted by said Block not in full satisfaction of all damages so sustained but as payment pro tanto without prejudice to any right to have the remainder of said damages, if any, assessed by the appropriate tribunal; and

Whereas, Said Block petitioned the Superior Court for a jury to determine said damages in excess of the amount ($1,432) so awarded, accepted and paid; now, therefore, it is

Voted, After consultation with the Law Department and on its advice, that additional damages in the amount of $1,568 be, and the same hereby is, awarded to Jacob Block, and it is further ordered that the Corporation Counsel agree to judgment in said case on the terms herein stated.

Whereas, An award of $4,298.60 for the taking of an easement for highway purposes in 868 square feet of land from Clementina DeTullio for the widening and relocation of Oakland street, was made to said DeTullio under the order for said improvement dated June 7, 1927; and

Whereas, Said sum ($4,298.60) was accepted by said DeTullio not in full satisfaction of all damages so sustained but as payment pro tanto without prejudice to any right to have the remainder of said damages, if any, assessed by the appropriate tribunal; and

MAYOR CURLEY CALLS CONFERENCE ON WAR MEMORIAL PROPOSAL FOR POSTOFFICE SQUARE SITE.

Mayor Curley has called a conference to study the possibility of utilizing Post Office square, and the now vacant land adjoining to the purposes of a memorial to the veterans of the World War and to have the new Federal Building erected elsewhere.

The conference will be between himself and members of the City Planning Board and leading architects of the city. The conference will take place about the middle of next week, if details of attendance can be arranged. This does not mean that his Honor has yet committed himself to the proposed plan, but he is keenly aware that the erection of a suitable war memorial has lagged too long and he is eager to show his interest in any plan which will hasten recognition of the heroic services of the Massachusetts soldiers.

It is understood that the conference with the Memorial Federal Building project as the nucleus of discussion, will consider also a still more ambitious plan, according to which a great civic center may be established, probably in the South End or in the Back Bay, which eventually might include, in addition to the post office, a new city hall and other groupings of buildings for public purposes which would constitute one of the finest municipal clusters in the United States.

This project also has been laid before him in addition to others having to do with the construction of a great main traffic artery through the heart of the city, with elevated sidewalks, bridges for foot traffic and other appurtenances which would accommodate alike motor car and foot traffic and at the same time improve the facilities for the delivery and shipping of goods to and from the mercantile houses which would line the thoroughfare.

Mayor Curley is approaching all these proposals in a friendly yet conservative spirit. He realizes the immense cost implied in the post office and other undertakings, and, in fact, he can see that somewhere in the course of the proposed change or development it might seem appropriate to expect some aid from the state, particularly with reference to the proposed shift in the post office location, for the vacant square down Milk street is extremely valuable, worth perhaps much more than might be paid for land elsewhere, and he believes the public will recognize that a Federal Building will not be erected in Boston exclusively for the use of the residents of the city. Federal as well as state aid might be invoked, in connection at least with post office enterprise—but these are details to which, naturally, he has had no time to give attention.

PETITIONS APPROVED.

The Mayor has approved the following petitions received from the Board of Street Commissioners:

N. E. T. & T. Co., Centre street, Ward 7, remove seven poles.

Edison Company and N. E. T. & T. Co., Sunnyside street, Ward 18, erect two poles.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 1448.

A trial board consisting of Captains Grant, Gallivan and Mullen, having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman Joseph B. Dawson of Division 11, charging him with neglect of duty, has reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty as charged.

In accordance with which it is hereby ordered that the said Patrolman Joseph B. Dawson perform one hundred and forty hours' punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 1449.

A trial board consisting of Captains Grant, Gallivan and Mullen, having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman John F. Brown of Division 11, charging him with neglect of duty, has reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty as charged.

In accordance with which it is hereby ordered that the said Patrolman John F. Brown perform two hundred and ten hours' punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 1450.

A trial board consisting of Captains Grant, Perry and Mullen, having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman George L. W. Reid of Division 10, charging him with neglect of duty, has reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty as charged. In accordance with which, the said Patrolman George L. W. Reid was on December 27, 1929, dismissed from the Police Department.

Due written notice of such dismissal with the reasons therefor, was duly and specifically given in hand on December 27, 1929, to the said George L. W. Reid.

On the thirtieth day of December, 1929, the said George L. W. Reid requested in writing a public hearing as provided by law, and the Police Commissioner set down Friday, January 3, 1930, at eleven o'clock a. m., at the office of the Police Commissioner as the time and place of said hearing, and duly notified the said George L. W. Reid.

The said George L. W. Reid was present at said time and place with counsel, and was heard with his witnesses. Whereupon, after hearing the case, the Police Commissioner finds the said George L. W. Reid guilty as charged, and further finds that the said George L. W. Reid shall stand dismissed from the Police Department.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Saturday, January 4, 1930.

Final meeting of the City Council of 1929 in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 11 a. m., President DONOVAN in the chair and all the members present.

STREET LIGHTING REPORT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 4, 1930.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith report on the street lighting situation in the City of Boston.

Yours respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

(Annexed was the report referred to.)

Placed on file.

VETO OF MORTON STREET APPROPRIATION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 4, 1930.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I return herewith, without my approval, your order of December 23, 1929, for an appropriation of forty thousand dollars for laying out, widening and construction of Morton street, Dorchester, from Codman street to Druid street, as I am of the opinion that the same should be included in the street loan policy of the current fiscal year.

Yours respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Placed on file.

VETO OF INCREASED SALARIES, DEPARTMENT OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 31, 1929.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I return herewith, without my approval, the ordinance passed by your honorable body on December 23, 1929, fixing the salaries of deputy sealers of weights and measures. Without raising the question as to the legality of the City Council determining the salaries of subordinate employees of the department, the change in the ordinance is unnecessary as under the terms of the original ordinance the power to fix the salaries in question is vested with the Mayor and Sealer.

Yours respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FIRE WASTE AND INSURANCE RATES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 31, 1929.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith copy of report on Problem of Fire Waste and Insurance Rates presented to me this day by the committee.

Yours respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

(Accompanying the letter was the report referred to.)

METROPOLITAN TRANSIT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 4, 1930.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—The acceptance by your body of section eight of chapter 383 of the Acts of 1929 is too important to the citizens and taxpayers of Boston to be dismissed without further serious consideration.

The growth of the metropolitan city demands a treatment of its transportation system in a larger way than has been necessary in the past thirty years. Efforts to formulate this treatment have been going on for the past four years and have resulted in a measure (chapter 383, Acts of 1929) which, while not perfect, is still a step toward much needed rapid transit extensions. It applies to a district much larger than the City of Boston. The problem no longer relates to a portion of the metropolitan city. It is no longer exclusively a City of Boston problem but a Metropolitan City of Boston problem. The scope of the problem and its complex nature has made it one difficult but by no means impossible of solution. The pressure for new transportation facilities requires that it be taken up without delay in orderly fashion to meet this demand.

Improved Transit Promotes Boston Interests.

Boston itself will be the largest beneficiary of improved rapid transit because it will help and stimulate the business center of the greater city which lies in large part within our municipal limits. There is genuine need of bringing comfortably and easily the residents of the outlying sections in and out of the business center. Few people realize that the traffic count shows that every day there enters and leaves the downtown district a body of 1,600,000 people, in number double the population of municipal Boston. It can be readily seen that if an increasing proportion of this number can be taken in and out of the business section on rapid transit lines instead of in automobiles, the pressure of intolerable street traffic conditions can be relieved and retail business immeasurably helped. This situation demands decisive and fearless action and the City of Boston cannot afford to take a narrow or prejudicial view. Any measure providing such relief should be examined with care from the point of view of this city, and it seems to me that chapter 383 of the Acts of 1929 is in many ways so constructive that it is entitled to such an examination, and should either be accepted as it is at present drafted or that such perfecting amendments should be suggested to the General Court as would permit its acceptance at any early date.

Meaning of the Transit Act.

The Legislature of 1929, by chapter 383, created a Metropolitan Transit District made up of the fourteen cities and towns now served by the Elevated, the affairs of the district to be managed by a board of five trustees, four appointed by the Governor and one by the Mayor. The act also created a Metropolitan Transit Council made up of the mayors and chairmen of the selectmen of the cities and towns of the district, each mayor or chairman having one vote in the council for each $100,000,000 or fraction thereof of taxable property in a city or town which he represents, two-thirds of the total number of votes so authorized being necessary for the passage of a measure.

While the act did not authorize the construction of any new subways or rapid transit lines, it did instruct the trustees of the Metropolitan Transit District to make a careful study of such new rapid transit routes as in its opinion are necessary, and to submit its findings and recommendations to the Metropolitan Transit Council. If and when such findings are approved by the Council, they are then submitted to the General Court for final action.

The act further authorized the Metropolitan Transit District to acquire from the City of Boston, with the consent of its Mayor and City Council, all of its subways, tunnels and rapid transit extensions. If and when the Mayor and City Council of Boston agree to this transfer, the Commonwealth transfers to the district its title to the Cambridge subway which it now owns. In acquiring these subways from the city and the Commonwealth the district is to guarantee to the city and the Commonwealth an annual payment equal to the interest and sinking fund requirements on all of the outstanding transit obligations of said city and Commonwealth, such payments to continue until all outstanding bonds issued by the city or the Commonwealth have been retired. The district is also authorized to issue its bonds for the construction of new rapid transit routes as the same are authorized, and to levy taxes to cover any deficits or expenses not met by rentals or other revenues.

Act is Constructive.

The act is constructive and important in that it creates the machinery for a complete and unified rapid transit system for Metropolitan Boston. In brief, the act sets forth a contract between the city and the district of which the city is a major part, whereby the district agrees to take over and pay for all existing subways, tunnels and rapid transit extensions now owned by the City of Boston on the same terms upon which the city is obligated to pay for them and as a party to the contract, the Commonwealth agrees to turn over the Cambridge subway and the district agrees to take over and pay for it on the same terms and conditions as the Boston subways are to be paid for.

Stated in another way, the district agrees to assume all the outstanding rapid transit obligations for which the Commonwealth and the City of Boston are liable. The contract is not wholly unlike the creation of a partnership for carrying on a business operation which an individual has found too great to carry on by himself. It has been proven beyond a doubt that future rapid transit extensions urgently required inside and outside the City of Boston cannot be constructed under old methods which worked well until the operations broadened from the city into the greater city.

The interests of Boston are completely interwoven with the surrounding communities in transportation matters. All business life in Boston is dependent upon ready intercommunication with all parts of the Metropolitan District. For transportation purposes the district is a unit and the rapid transit system which is to provide this intercommunication should be designed, constructed and operated on that basis. These same reasons led to the creation of the Metropolitan Water, Sewerage and Park Districts, but applies to transportation with even greater force. For efficient and economical construction and operation, rapid transit lines should extend between outer terminals for four or more miles from the center of the city, thereby avoiding terminals in the center of the city where construction is most expensive and where passengers are rarely brought to the point which they wish to reach.

Precedent for Local Control Feature.

The creation by the Legislature of the Metropolitan Transit Council, made up of the duly elected executives of the various cities and towns, seems to me a matter of transcendent importance. In the past the Legislature has been loathe to legalize concerted action by the local authorities in the various cities and towns of the Metropolitan District. It is utterly unfair that legislators from outside the district should pass upon in the state budget the proper expenses of the Metropolitan Water, Sewerage and Park Districts, when these costs are to be borne by constituencies which they do not represent and with which they have no connection. And yet, at the present time, the expenses for these three Metropolitan Districts are submitted to the Legislature like any other item in the state budget.

An example of what may be accomplished by a body of elective officials may be found in the action of the Metropolitan Water District whose mayors and selectmen organized in 1928 a committee to contest the oppressive financing of the extensions to the Metropolitan Water system. It was a successful effort under the leadership of the City of Boston and the first of its kind.

Under chapter 383 future expenses for subways and rapid transit extensions in the Metropolitan District must be passed upon by the duly elected local authorities assembled in the Metropolitan Transit Council before presentation to the Legislature. This is as it should be. It is likewise obvious that if this experiment with the Metropolitan Council works well in rapid transit matters the principle of unified district action may be applied to other municipal functions which are common to the district.

The principle is established by chapter 383 that before large expenditures are authorized for future rapid transit extensions, they must have the approval of the Metropolitan Transit Council and as a two-thirds vote of the Council is required for this approval, and as Boston has twenty-two out of forty votes, it is obvious that the Mayor of Boston can veto any extension which he does not approve.

Further, as future rapid transit lines are authorized, the credit of the city will not be used for their construction. This relief will tend to help the ultimate credit of the City of Boston.

When the question of rejecting section eight of chapter 383 of the Acts of 1929 was considered by your body at its meeting of October 28, 1929, it seems clear from a perusal of the minutes that certain of the provisions of chapter 383 were not thoroughly understood by some members of your body.

Question of Just Compensation.

The present law provides that the city shall have, hold and enjoy its private or proprietary capacity for its own property, all existing subways, tunnel and rapid transit extensions, and all rents, tolls, income and profits from all contracts entered into by it for the use of said properties, or any part thereof, and that the same shall never be taken by the Commonwealth except on payment of just compensation.

While chapter 383 does not provide for any takings by the Commonwealth by the exercise of its sovereign power it seems clear that the principle that the city should not divest itself of its transit properties without just compensation applies with equal soundness to a transfer of title under the provisions of this act.

Now what compensation is provided for Boston in this act? In the first place, the act creates a new district or incorporated municipality which for the purpose of the act is made a body politic, and corporate under the name of the Metropolitan Transit District, and when the title in the existing Boston subways are transferred to this district it pledges every piece of taxable property in the entire Metropolitan District to the payment of the principal and interest of the Boston Rapid Transit debt. Next, it says that the credit of this new incorporated municipality known as the Metropolitan Transit District shall be used for the construction of every future subway and rapid transit extension required by the greater city.

Need of Sound Policy — Governor Square.

Boston has been operating under a sound policy while she pledges her credit for the building of rapid transit within her own municipal limits. This condition no longer prevails. The taxpayers of Boston have just pledged their credit for a rapid transit extension which is located for approximately a mile in the town of Milton. Any extension of rapid transit facilities beyond Governor square to Brighton must be coupled for economical operation with an extension through Somerville toward North Cambridge and Arlington. The requirements for rapid transit extensions toward the North Shore are becoming more insistent. Medford, Malden, Quincy and other portions of the Metropolitan District are demanding that immediate attention be given their need for rapid transit. It may be argued that the Elevated has furnished such rapid transit in the case of Everett but the ability of the Elevated will not permit it to finance rapid transit in other cases in the future. The Elevated built the Cambridge subway but to prevent disaster the Commonwealth was compelled to step in and purchase it. Of course the Commonwealth cannot be expected, except in an emergency, to lend its credit for Metropolitan Rapid Transit.

It is clear that either Boston must enlarge the unsound policy of pledging its credit and risking the money of its taxpayers for rapid transit extensions outside its municipal limits in order to give essential transportation facilities to the greater city, or else take into partnership other cities and towns which have equal need of such facilities.

Nature of Subway Ownership.

Let us consider for a moment what is the nature of the ownership which the city possesses in its subways. The Legislature first set forth the principle that the city owned its subways in a private or proprietary capacity in section 19 of chapter 534 of the Acts of 1902. Shortly thereafter in Sears v. Crocker, 184 Mass. 586, the Supreme Judicial Court passed upon the nature of this ownership. The Court said,

"But it (Acts 1902, chapter 534, section 19) does not purport to give a private proprietary right to anything more than the subways and tunnels as structures. It does not deal with the rights of the public to use the streets or with any right of private property in the streets themselves. It leaves the subways lawfully resting in the public streets by virtue of the rights of the public therein and it gives the city the same kind of ownership of the structures that gas companies and electric lighting companies have in their pipes and conduits, except that the city is charged with certain special trusts in the ownership of these subways."

The "special trusts" referred to are probably the duty to apply rentals in payment of bonds and to permit use to be made of the structures for transportation purposes in such manner as the Legislature may direct.

As has been stated, the phrase "private or proprietary capacity" first appeared in the legislative acts in the Acts of 1902, chapter 534, section 19, and was there made to apply to the then existing subway and the tunnels and subways authorized by that act. It has been made to apply to every subway and rapid transit extension constructed thereafter up to the present time. This is a solemn acknowledgment by a formal act of the Legislature that the city does not hold these properties as an agent for the state, but that they belong to the city as a proprietor, not as a sovereign. This principle of proprietary ownership is important however only as it may add an element of particular value to the city in the subways. If these subways were owned by the city in its public capacity, on retirement of the bonds which were issued to pay for them, rentals for the use of the subways would cease unless the Legislature directed otherwise.

Importance of Subway Rentals.

Theoretically, therefore, it can be urged that it will legally be possible after some date in the neighborhood of 1970, when existing subways are paid for, that the city in its private or proprietary capacity may continue to charge rentals to be collected from the car rider and apply them for the benefit of the taxpayer under the appropriating power. Far more likely is it that the taxpayer long prior to that time will be required to contribute for the benefit of the car rider.

While it was never contemplated that the taxpayers of Boston should ever be called upon to pay anything toward the retirement of the rapid transit debt, this contingency is certain, if for any cause rentals should fail. Since the credit of the City of Boston stands behind this debt, every piece of property in Boston is pledged to the payment of its principal and interest.

This liability instead of being potential would become very real if the present leases of subways, tunnels and rapid transit extensions which now all theoretically expire on July 1, 1936, should be terminated on that date or any date thereafter prior to the accumulation of a fund from rentals sufficient to retire all present outstanding rapid transit debt with interest at maturity.

Under the provisions of chapter 741 of the Acts of 1911, the leases continue in force after July 1, 1936, unless and until said contracts are terminated by notice either from the City of Boston or from the Elevated. The City of Boston may terminate all of the leases on July 1, 1936 or on the first of July of any year thereafter by giving at least two years prior notice in writing, which notice it shall be the duty of the Mayor to give if directed so to do by an act of the General Court or if directed so to do by a vote of the City Council approved by the Department of Public Utilities. The Boston Elevated Railway may likewise terminate all said contracts on July 1, 1936, or on the first of July of any year thereafter, by giving to the Mayor of the city at least two years prior notice in writing. No notice on the part of either the city or the company shall be given more than three years prior to the date therein fixed for termination.

Termination of Leases.

It is unlikely that the Elevated would ever dare to give notice of the termination of the leases, as it is clear that the loss of use of the subways, tunnels and rapid transit extensions would exclude it from the downtown district and immediately cause the loss of a substantial part of its revenue. It is not, however, so unlikely that at some time in the future a legislature might be elected which with changing conditions might take the view that the subway is simply an underground street and that therefore some portion of its cost should be borne by the taxpayer as well as the car rider. If this view prevailed, an act of the General Court could direct the Mayor to terminate the subway leases and thereafter it might not be possible for the city to execute any leases for rental adequate to pay the interest and accumulate the sinking fund for the rapid transit debt. If this were to happen, it would be to the advantage of the taxpayers of the City of Boston that the taxpayers in the surrounding cities and towns who use the Elevated system equally with themselves, should be compelled to contribute to any assessments necessary to pay the interest and principal of the existing rapid transit debt of the City of Boston.

The report of the Special Commission to investigate the rapid transit needs of the Metropolitan Districts created by chapter 66 of the Resolves of 1928, attempted to establish a definite legislative policy with regard to paying for existing subways. The fourth recommendation of their report submitted by the Legislature of 1929 was:

"The immediate extension of all leases of existing subways at the present rental of 4 1/2 per cent per annum until the sinking fund accumulated from said rental is sufficient to pay the cost of said subways."

The fact that the Legislature of 1929 did not adopt this recommendation when it passed chapter 383 is proof that there is somebody of opinion that the taxpayers should pay some of the cost of existing subways after 1936. The Public Trustees of the Elevated urged on numerous occasions that it was necessary for the taxpayer to assume part of the burden of existing subways and rapid transit extensions. There can be no question that if this view is ever to prevail, that this burden should be borne by the district which uses the Elevated system rather than by the taxpayers within the municipal limits of the City of Boston.

Subways not for Financial Profit.

The subways were built not for financial profit to the city, but to assure its citizens proper rapid transit facilities and to clear its streets of trolley cars. They are a part of the growth of the city. All subways have been built and leased for a rental which would cover interest on outstanding bonds and a sinking fund to retire them at maturity and no more. Everybody admits that, when the subways are paid for and the bonds of the city retired, neither the city nor the district, if it then owns them, should burden the car riders by charging a rental in excess of the maintenance and upkeep of the subways.

The subways were built to lease to the Boston Elevated Railway Company and they can have no other use than to be leased to that corporation or its successor whether that successor be a private company or a municipal corporation. This being so, there can be no advantage in waiting until the result of the referendum provided in chapter 383 is known. If public ownership prevails, clearly the same district which purchases the assets, property and franchises of the Boston Elevated Railway should own the subways, tunnels and rapid transit extensions. If public management and operation is to continue it is clear that the district which is to finance future rapid transit extensions should share in the burden of existing subways, tunnels and rapid transit extensions. And finally, if it should be voted to return the road to private management, it is highly essential for Boston that the Metropolitan District should be squarely behind the outstanding transit obligations of the city as protection against the possible failure of private management.

By the acceptance of section 8, the fourteen cities and towns which are constituted the Metropolitan District by the provisions of chapter 383 are bound to assume and pay this debt. As has been stated this pledges every piece of property in the entire Metropolitan District to the payment of principal and interest. As the assessed valuation of the Metropolitan District as determined for the purposes of the state tax during 1929, is $3,321,634,646, and the assessed valuation of the City of Boston in 1929 for the same purpose is $2,123,538,723, it becomes clear that if the taxpayers of Boston were called upon to make good upon their guarantee in whole or in part, that out of every dollar required, only 63.9 cents would be paid by the taxpayers of Boston while 36.1 cents would be paid by the taxpayers of other cities and towns constituting the Metropolitan Transit District. This means that the taxpayers of Boston would be relieved of 36.1 cents of every dollar for which they are now potentially liable on the rapid transit debt. While the credit of the City of Boston is among the very best of the great American cities, it certainly cannot fail to help that credit to have the taxable property of the entire metropolitan transit district placed behind the outstanding rapid transit debt.

Transit Department always Metropolitan.

When this question was before your body at its meeting on October 26, 1929, great stress was laid upon the fact that the acceptance of section 8 immediately created a metropolitan transit department which replaced the Boston Transit Department. I agree with members of your body that there is no reason why the proper financing of past and future subways, tunnels and rapid transit extensions should be made contingent upon the creation of a metropolitan transit department. Proper financing has never been joined with the organization with the body in charge of the details of construction by any regular or special commission or any legislature prior to the report of the committee on conference which resulted in the passage of chapter 383 of the Acts of 1929.

The original Transit Department was created by chapter 478 of the Acts of 1893 and provided for three commissioners to be appointed by the Mayor of Boston. Before work was actually under way this act was amended by chapter 548 of the Acts of 1894 and the Boston Transit Commission was made to consist of two commissioners appointed by the Governor and three by the Mayor of Boston, and it was provided that they should hold office for the term of five years from the date of the passage of this act. In 1899 their term was extended for a period of three years. In 1902 the term of the commission was extended to July 1, 1906. In 1906 the term was extended for an additional three years. In 1909 the term was extended for two years. In 1911 the term was extended for three years, and in 1914 the term was extended for an additional three years. In 1917 the term was extended for one year. Never, therefore, from 1894 to 1918 was the Boston Transit Commission treated as a department of the City of Boston but rather as a commission created and responsible to the Legislature who had delegated the appointment of individual commissioners to the Governor and the Mayor as its agents.

In 1918 the law under which the Transit Commission is at present operated was adopted by the Legislature, and reads as follows:

"Special Acts of 1918, chapter 185, 'An Act to Provide for the Transfer of the Powers of the Boston Transit Commission to the City of Boston.'

Section 1. Upon the expiration of the term of office of the Boston Transit Commission the city of Boston shall have all the powers and privileges, and be subject to all the duties, restrictions and liabilities heretofore conferred or imposed upon the commission and remaining in effect at the date of the passage of this act, the said powers and duties to be exercised and performed by the mayor, commissioner of public works, and city treasurer, or by such person or persons, not exceeding three, as may be appointed by the mayor, subject to the provisions of chapter four hundred and eighty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and nine and acts in amendment thereof and in addition thereto. The persons so appointed shall receive such compensation for their services as the mayor and city council shall determine.

Sec. 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage."

Thereafter, at my request an opinion was prepared by Joseph P. Lyons, Esquire, for many years counsel of the Transit Commission, and rendered to me. This opinion states in part, as follows:

"I am of the opinion that when the powers and duties which were vested in the Transit Commission were transferred to the City of Boston, the Legislature intended that the City of Boston should act in all matters under its control and care by the persons designated in the act, and that the board, or department should not be in the same category with other departments, in so far as to require the approval of the Mayor of contracts the Board may make. . . . I do not feel that the Legislature intended to create the department within the meaning of our charter provisions. . . . If the charter provisions apply to the persons composing the so-called Transit Department that department could be abolished by vote of the Council with the approval of the Mayor. . . . If the Transit Department so called were subject to the charter provisions it would be encumbered upon that department to annually furnish your Honor with an estimate of its expenditures during the next financial year, and it would also be encumbered upon your Honor to examine such estimates and submit the same with your recommendation to the City Council, though the City Council would have no authority to interfere in any way with the expenditures made by the Transit Department. The City Council also has no power to make appropriations of money to be expended by the Transit Department.

"Prior to the passage of chapter 185 of the Acts of the year 1918, it was not necessary to secure the approval of the Mayor on contracts made by the Transit Department. The sole power was vested in the Transit Commission. The power which the Transit Commission possessed was merely transferred to the City of Boston and the Legislature specified that in transit matters the City of Boston should act by the Mayor, the Commissioner of Public Works and the City Treasurer, or by such person or persons, not exceeding three, as may be appointed by the Mayor. Three persons having been appointed by the Mayor, they are vested with all the powers and duties of the old transit commission. The Mayor's control is exercised over the Transit Department by appointment and in the case of dissatisfaction, by removal under the provisions of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909."

Not a City Department.

It is therefore clear that until 1918 the Boston Transit Department was always a state tribunal and in the opinion of the City Law Department is still of that character. It is, as stated by its counsel, not a city department within the meaning of the provisions of the Boston City Charter. Therefore, there seems to be no reason why this approval should be tied up or joined with past or future financing of subways, tunnels and rapid transit extensions. The Legislature should keep in mind the splendid services which the Boston Transit Commission has rendered in the construction of the existing transit system over the past thirty-five years. Clearly there should be no waste by the duplication of construction bodies as was provided by the Legislature of 1928, when it created a special commission for the construction of the East Boston Tunnel, an act which I refused to approve.

It can be strongly urged as the Metropolitan District is to finance future construction, that the other thirteen cities and towns in the district should have some recognition in the personnel of the commission. It may well be, however, that your body is right in insisting that this matter be passed upon separately by the Legislature. I wish to emphasize however that it will be difficult to assemble a better organization of employees or a better engineering force than the present Boston Transit Department constitutes. Even if the Legislature should desire to make some change in the method of appointment of the commissioners, the Transit Department organization itself should be kept intact.

Avoid Duplication and Waste.

If, however, duplication and waste are avoided and the present organization of the Transit Department is kept intact that it may function in the future as it has in the past, details as to how the commissioners who head the department are to be appointed, are of relative unimportance as compared to the prompt functioning of the Metropolitan Transit Council and the immediate authorization of needed rapid transit improvements.

To authorize these rapid transit improvements, legislative action is necessary. Since legislative action is necessary, Boston will be in a better position to have its ideas carried out by transferring the title to the subways and accepting the act either in its present form or as amended and seeking to have the Metropolitan Transit Council adopt its views, than otherwise.

In the Metropolitan Transit Council the Mayor of Boston has twenty-two votes out of a total of forty. While a two-thirds vote is required for affirmative action, it is apparent that the city is in a position to defeat any proposition of which it disapproves.

In case of disagreement the city would seem to be more likely to control the action of the Metropolitan Transit Council than to obtain passage by the Legislature of measures authorizing it to deal with the subways in a manner opposed by the representatives in the Legislature from the other cities and towns of the district. At the present time the other cities and towns in the Metropolitan Transit District have thirty-nine members of the House of Representatives while Boston has forty-three.

As time goes on the tendency will be for Boston's influence in the Council to increase and its relative representation in the Legislature to decrease because voting in the Council is on the basis of valuation while representation in the Legislature is on the basis of population. Every new rapid transit extension will tend to increase valuations in the business district. Further growth in the population in the future is likely to be in the suburban districts, while that very growth also causes larger increase in valuation in the business center.

Metropolitan Boston is one of the great cities of the world. It does not stand so in the eyes of the world, largely because of the provincial point of view which has prevailed with regard to cooperation in proper functions of local government between its constituent parts. Now that the Legislature has for the first time created a metropolitan incorporated municipality headed by the duly elected local authorities in the Metropolitan Transit Council assembled, let it not be said that municipal Boston refuse to give the measure a fair hearing.

Principle of Transit Problem.

Chapter 383 was approved by the Governor on the eighth day of last June. Of course, the city could not be expected to accept this act during a mayoralty campaign when the outgoing Mayor under the provisions of the act would be given the right to appoint two transit commissioners for five years.

This view nevertheless does not in the least impair the value of a principle that I have supported before the Legislature for four years, that the Boston transit problem has become metropolitan in character. Any measure recognizing the scope of the problem should not be lightly set aside. It is obvious from the minutes of the City Council that it acted upon the question of acceptance without due inquiry. I deem it my duty, therefore, to submit the measure in order that the policy of the present administration may be outlined and set forth upon the records of the City Council for such future action as may be deemed expedient.

Respectfully submitted,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

RESTRICTIONS ON PARK FRONTAGES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 31, 1929.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I return herewith, without my approval, your ordinance of December 16, 1929, concerning restrictions on park frontages, for the same reason as expressed in my veto of June 18, 1929, a copy of which I attach hereto.

Yours respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 18, 1929.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I return without my approval your ordinance of June 3, 1929, concerning restrictions on park frontages. It is the opinion of the Park Department that the area between Dorchester avenue and Buttonwood street should remain restricted, to which I concur.

Respectfully yours,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

INSPECTION OF PRISONS.

Coun. MAHONEY, for the Committee on Inspection of Prisons, submitted the following report:

The Committee on Inspection of Prisons herewith submits its annual report for the year 1929.

For the Committee,
MICHAEL J. MAHONEY, Chairman.

January 4, 1930.

In accordance with the provisions of chapter 223 of the Revised Laws, the Committee on Inspection of Prisons of the City Council submits herewith its annual report.

Suffolk County Jail.

The customary semiannual inspections of the Suffolk County Jail were duly made.

The new boiler plant which was constructed during the year is now in operation and is a marked improvement over the former antiquated system. The need for changing the location of the entrance to the jail yard for vehicles from Charles to North Grove street becomes more imperative as menacing traffic conditions on Charles street increase.

The substitution of a motor van for the present horse-drawn vehicle is recommended.

A yard for the use of the female inmates has been built and supplies a long needed means of outdoor exercise and recreation.

Conditions at the jail continue at a high standard of discipline, health and cleanliness, and the records show but a single death during the year, although there were approximately 9,000 persons committed.

The population at this institution is slightly less than last year, averaging 325.

House of Correction.

The required number of visits was made to the House of Correction by your committee during the year.

Your committee was greatly impressed by the clean and sanitary condition of the cells and buildings of this institution.

Considerable damage was done to part of the administration building and doctors' house by fire which occurred early in the year. An appropriation has been made available for the repair of these buildings and the work on same will be started shortly.

At the present time, officers are obliged to sleep in different buildings and your committee recommends the construction of a new building to house the officers.

A new electric refrigeration plant has been installed which will make it unnecessary to purchase any ice in Boston.

Statistical tables are appended showing the commitments and discharges at the Suffolk County Jail and the House of Correction during the year.

DISPOSITION OF UNFINISHED MATTERS.

Coun. GALLAGHER offered the following:
Ordered, That all matters of an unfinished nature pending before the committees of the City Council be referred to the City Council of 1930.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

CRITICISM OF MAYOR NICHOLS' ACCOMPLISHMENTS.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

President DONOVAN—Is there any objection?
Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, a statement in reference to what?

Coun. WARD—Relative to an article appearing in the City Record of last week.

President DONOVAN—If there is no objection,
the council will proceed.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, the list of accomplishments of the administration of Mayor
Nichols as outlined in the morning papers of Thursday is an evidence that he is a firm believer in the principle of Happy New Year, since the list as outlined by him is the supreme joke of January 1, 1930. The first item, "the building of the best municipal airport in this country with an investment of seven million five hundred thousand dollars," is a deliberate attempt to deceive the people, since the total expenditure made to date in connection with the development of the airport is not in excess of five hundred thousand dollars, one-fiftieth of the total which the statement would lead one to believe has been expended by the city. Item 2, setting forth "new and extensive street lighting, which gives Boston the reputation of being one of the best lighted cities in America," is a huge joke, as the only "white way" installed was a short stretch on Massachusetts avenue. Article 3,
"improvements at the Public Library at a cost of nearly half a million dollars for the protection of the building and its art treasures," is overestimated at least fifty per cent, as almost the entire sum was expended for the replacement of foundations.

Article 4, "complete revision of the system of assessing property by modern and scientific methods," this particular work, so far as I have been able to ascertain, is in but its elementary stages and will require at least eighteen months for completion. Article 5, "bringing to a point of completion the work of four years in providing all street intersections with new signs," is interesting in view of the fact that the total amount expended is scarcely in excess of twenty thousand dollars and has required a period of four years to do the work, an average expenditure of five thousand dollars a year and the provision and study for this work was made under the administration preceding that of Mayor Nichols. Article 6, "the completion of Cummins Highway, a great traffic thoroughfare across West Roxbury, connecting a vast residential district with the South Shore." This work was started in 1925 in the preceding administration at the Mattapan end and is yet unfinished. Article 7, "extension of the Metropolitan Water System to provide during the next seventy-five years for a greater city population of five millions. Mayor Nichols' support caused enactment of legislation."
This was upon the recommendation of the Metropolitan Water Board over which the Mayor of Boston has no control and upon which Boston has no representation. Item 8, "erection of great pumping station in East Boston to serve airport and waterfront section," represents but a minor expenditure despite its high sounding title.

Coun. ARNOLD—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

President DONOVAN—The gentleman will state his point of order.

Coun. ARNOLD—Is this a statement or a harangue, Mr. President?

President DONOVAN—The Chair understands that the gentleman has been allowed, with unanimous consent, to make a statement.

Coun. ARNOLD—Mr. President, I maintain that he is not making a statement, that he is making an attack.

Coun. WARD—Item 9, "installation of modern light, heat and power plants at city institutions," refers to a replacement of heating and lighting installation which in the natural process must take place about once every so often. Article 10,
"complete reorganization of the health service of the city with much larger staff of physicians and nurses," is a reflection upon the conduct of health activities in Boston and is absolutely untrue, since there has been no reorganization and the same health commissioner is still serving that has held the office for the last twelve years. Article 11,
"reorganization of hospitalization for the more effective treatment of tuberculosis," is simply an extension of hospitalization made necessary by the growth of population. Article 12, "adaptation of health unit roofs for the care of undernourished children and broadening in many ways the scope of preventive medicine," is a reflection upon the activities of the George Robert White Fund Health Unit Trustees and is absolutely untrue for the reason that the roofs of all health units from the beginning have been so laid out as to provide for their use in the case of undernourished children and those with rickets or tuberculosis. Article 13,
"additional policemen to the number of 425 placed at the disposal of the Police Commissioner," is impossible to justify in view of the installation of traffic signal systems, the purpose of which was, on the one hand to facilitate traffic, and on the other to reduce the number of police traffic officers. Article 14, "the creation of the Boston Traffic Commission, the first of its kind in the United States, is fast being copied by all the larger cities in the country," to the present time has contributed more to the tying up of traffic than ever previously known in the history of the city, its chief contribution being the buttoning up and the tying up of the streets of the city.

Article 15, "a comprehensive street program in home and business districts reveals more work done on streets in last four years than in preceding six years," is an exceptional example of window dressing, the unfortunate feature being that a large portion of the work of the street surfacing is of such temporary character as to require replacing in a very short time. Article 16, "after years of urging, the much-needed widening of Exchange street was accomplished. The widening at once relieved traffic congestion in the financial and market districts and now provides a continuous traffic artery between the North Station and the ocean terminals in South Boston." This must have required heroic courage upon the part of his Honor to refer to, in view of the fact that a change in the name of this particular street has already been suggested in order that the stench in the nostrils of some people in Boston may be mitigated. Article 17, "the construction of the new Congress Street Bridge, one of steel and concrete, to replace the old wooden structure that has served the city for fifty years. The new structure will cost nine hundred thousand dollars," is interesting for the reason that plans and sketches for this construction were drafted in the preceding administration and to the present time not even the foundations have been completed and the structure itself cannot be completed in less than two years. Article 18, "the reorganization of the fire prevention forces of the city has resulted in the reduction of fire losses from six million two hundred eighty-six thousand two hundred ninety-nine dollars in 1928, with a total loss of only one million two hundred seventy-four thousand nine hundred twenty-one dollars for the first six months of 1929. The fire prevention force was increased from a band of fifteen men to a complete division of thirty men under the direction of a captain," is answered in the Boston papers under date of January 1, in the report of the Special Commission to investigate insurance rates and which constitutes a terrific broadside upon the conduct of the department which, in the opinion of his Honor has been most creditable in the performance, of its duties. Article 19, "establishments of central fire stations in advantageous locations, equipped with every modern invention, give Boston three of the finest units in the country.
The three stations are located on Broadway,
Cambridge street, and Chestnut Hill avenue,
Brighton," is in the same category with Exchange street in the matter of steal and to the present time not even the foundations have been installed to carry the superstructure.

Coun. ARNOLD—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. I maintain that unanimous consent was given to the council in order to make a statement. The gentleman is reading a prepared address, in my opinion prepared by somebody else, and I maintain that he is not in order.

President DONOVAN—The Chair would rule that Councilor Ward asked unanimous consent to make a statement, which consent was given, and that he is now making that statement.

Coun. WARD—Article 20, "the rehabilitation of the city yards with the resulting efficiency at a cost of three hundred thirty-four thousand two hundred fifty dollars. The work was carried on in the eleven districts of the city and brought much-needed improvements to sixty-seven yards, providing sanitary renovations that had not been touched for thirty years in some cases.
The morale of the men using the yards has been vastly improved." An examination of this expenditure by the Finance Commission would make most interesting reading. Almost the entire expenditure of three hundred thirty-four thousand dollars being in the nature of gift contracts and consisting largely in the improvement of the toilets in the various city yards. Article 21, "work begun on extending St. Ann street into a great traffic highway, from Forest Hills westward and widening of Centre street into a branch of our park system," is interesting in view of the fact that the bonds have not been issued for this "great traffic highway" whose existence is practically a figment of the imagination now and probably will be for all future time. Article 22, "the widenings and reconstruction of streets in the vicinity of the North Station improvement proved to be the deciding factor for the construction of the terminal, hotel and Boston Garden, said to be one of the finest auditoriums in the country," represents improvements that are a monument to the vision and courage of that great railroad chief and greatly loved citizen, the late lamented
George Hannauer, formerly President of the Boston & Maine Railroad, who is entitled to all credit for improvements at the terminal and the erection of a hotel in the vicinity of the North Station. Article 23, "the erection of twenty-four schoolhouses, accommodating 11,606 pupils at a cost of $14,418,438.30. The figures show that over 42 per cent of the money devoted to school construction in the past fifteen years was expended by Mayor Nichols in his successful effort to provide a seat for every pupil." The lax character and the charges of corruption and inefficiency leveled against the Schoolhouse Commission is responsible for the new law under which school construction will be conducted in the future.
Article 24, "the cutting of the tax rate for the third successive year with efficient and business-like manner of conducting the city's affairs, at the same time preserving municipal credit to compare with the best." That article is rather incomplete in view of the fact that no reference is made to the largest increase ever levied in the history of Boston during the first year of Mayor Nichols' administration. Article 25, "the creation of the Boston Port Authority, whose mission is to bring back the port of Boston to its former place in the maritime world. Its efficacy was at once demonstrated by its successful arbitration, which prevented a strike of longshoremen that threatened to tie up the port for a protracted period of time." Article 25 is a recommendation of the state government, for which the Mayor is in no wise responsible. Article 26, "new buildings at the City Hospital, the Sanatorium at Mattapan, and at institutions on Long Island, and additional health units made Boston one of the greatest hospital centers in the world. Appropriations, over $7,000,000." The City Hospital program was determined upon three years before Mayor Nichols assumed the office, and Boston for more than half a century was regarded as one of the greatest hospital centers in the world. Article 27, "the passage of the $16,000,000 Boston Vehicular Tunnel Act by the Legislature. Approved by Governor Allen on May 9, it was accepted by the City Council on June 18 and signed by Mayor Nichols the following day. Route determined and work ordered." It must have required a great deal of courage to record this as an accomplished fact, setting forth that the route has been determined upon and the work ordered, since neither the route nor the work has been determined upon at the present time and there is little likelihood that it will be for some time yet. Article 28, "the restoration of the Union label on city printing after its absence for a period of seven years. This was accomplished by Mayor Nichols, who has always taken a keen interest in labor affairs." Article 28 is a libel on the label, since the City Printing Plant was always a union printing shop with the exception of the period that Andrew J. Peters was Mayor, the Union status being restored by the predecessor of Mayor Nichols. Article 29, "dredging of Savin Hill Bay and installation of drainage culverts that will restore the entire watershed to the use of the business and yachting interests. At the same time, the work, to be accomplished to the extent of $450,000, will free the waters of pollution and will restore the bay to the men, women and children of the district for swimming." That refers to an expenditure that should be borne by the state, not by the city, and how any man can claim credit for this work is beyond me. Article 30, "Fenway and Jamaica Pond improvements, including new walks and the erection of a field house, running track and bleachers seating five thousand in the Fenway, besides the grading and beautifying of the section in and around the Museum of Fine Arts." That refers to an investment upon which it will be difficult to draw health dividends, due to the limited area devoted to athletic purposes. Article 31, "the definite beginning of the $1,600,000 Charles River Basin improvements, passed by the Legislature, with the unqualified support of Mayor Nichols." That refers to another unfinished project upon which, to the present time, no actual work has been done. Article 32, "the completion of a new system of concrete walks throughout the entire park system and the elimination of the old dirt and brick paths, giving an uninterrupted concrete walk from the Public Garden to Franklin Park." That refers to a necessary work that in the natural order would have to be done at some time and for which no individual is entitled to any particular credit. Article 33, "the purchase and placing in service of over one mile of trucks for the removal of snow and ice from an appropriation of $450,000." The scandal in connection with the purchase of snow removal equipment still lingers in the memory of Boston's citizens and again his Honor demonstrates his courage in making reference to the purchase as an achievement. Article 34 relating to a "new skyline for Boston," was a natural consequence of the height-of-buildings legislation enacted in preceding years. Article 35, "higher pay, better municipal service from one end of the city to the other, lower taxes, a surplus at the end of each of the four years, and a square deal for all." That requires no comment other than perhaps a change in the last line, so that it may read, "A square deal for all, again being played with marked cards manipulated by Ernie, Bob and Charlie and with Mal in this case being the fifty-third card in the pack—the joker."

SALE OF LAND TO ROBERT B. BRIGHAM HOSPITAL.

Coun. ARNOLD moved to take from the table No. 2 on the calendar, viz:

2. Whereas, By an instrument of taking recorded September 12, 1924, with Suffolk Deeds, Book 4612, page 441, the City of Boston took for hospital and infirmary purposes a certain parcel of land situate on Parker Hill avenue in that part of said Boston, formerly Roxbury, and shown on a plan marked "City of Boston Parker Hill Avenue, Roxbury, June 10, 1924, William J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department"; and

Whereas, Said land is no longer needed for public purposes; and

Whereas, The Robert B. Brigham Hospital for Incurables, a Massachusetts corporation, is desirous of purchasing said land with the buildings thereon, to be used by it for hospital purposes;

Now, therefore, it is Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor of the City of Boston be, and he hereby is, authorized, upon the payment to the said City of Boston by the said Robert B. Brigham Hospital for Incurables of thirty-four thousand, eight hundred dollars ($34,800), to grant in the name and behalf of said City of Boston to the said Robert B. Brigham Hospital for Incurables, its successors and assigns by an instrument in writing, satisfactory in form to the Law Department of the said City of Boston, all its rights, title and interest in and to the following described premises, namely, a certain parcel of land situate in that part of Boston, formerly Roxbury, bounded and described as follows: Northeastly by Parker Hill avenue, four hundred eighty-five and 31-100 feet; south-easterly by land supposed to belong now or formerly to Eugene N. Foss, three hundred eighty and 90-100 feet; southwesterly by land formerly belonging to the said Eugene N. Foss and now the property of the City of Boston, two hundred fifty-nine and 70-100 feet; southwesterly again by a common passageway belonging to the City of Boston, twenty-five feet; and southwesterly again by property now or formerly belonging to Eugene N. Foss, one hundred eighty-six and 60-100 feet; northwesterly by property belonging to the Robert B. Brigham Hospital for Incurables, two hundred seventy-four and 60-100 feet, containing 191,367 square feet of land, more or less, being the greater part of the property taken by the City of Boston as aforesaid.

On December 2, 1929, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 15, nays 2.

The question came on taking the matter from the table.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, in view of the arguments made against the adoption—

President DONOVAN—No debate is in order. The question is on taking from the table.

Coun. WILSON—All right, Mr. President.

The Council voted to take No. 2 from the table.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I doubt the vote taking No. 2 from the table and would ask for a roll call.

The Council voted to take No. 2 from the table, yeas 15, nays 2.

Yeas—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Deveney, Donovan, Fitzgerald, Lynch, Mahoney, McMahon, Motley, Murphy, Murray, Parkman, Ruby, Sullivan, Wilson—15.

Nays—Coun. Dowd, Dowling, Fish, Gallagher, Ward—5.

President DONOVAN—The order has been taken from the table, and the question now comes on its passage. The Clerk will call the roll.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, I move that the matter be referred to the next City Council.

The motion to refer to the next City Council was declared carried.

Coun. ARNOLD doubted the vote and asked for a rising vote. The Council stood divided, and the motion to refer to the next City Council was lost, 10 to 11.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, I further doubt the vote and ask for a verification by roll call on the question of reference to the next City Council.

The motion to refer to the next City Council was lost, upon roll call, yeas 10, nays 12.

Yeas—Coun. Bush, Dowd, Dowling, Fish, Gallagher, Keene, Murphy, Murray, Sullivan, Ward—10.

Nays—Coun. Arnold, Deveney, Donovan, Fitzgerald, Green, Lynch, Mahoney, McMahon, Motley, Parkman, Ruby, Wilson—12.

President DONOVAN—The question comes on the adoption of the order, and the Clerk will call the roll.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, before the Council votes on turning over to this charitable or semicharitable organization, for the building of a so-called chronic hospital, land now owned by the City of Boston, let me state that hospital land available in Boston at the present time is very narrowly confined to one section. Let me remind the members of this Council that some three years ago the City Council, after a very heated contest, lost its battle against the present Mayor of Boston to prevent him from spending over a million dollars at Long Island instead of erecting, as suggested by Mayor Curley, over $150,000 being appropriated for the same, a chronic hospital at Parker Hill, to be occupied by the City of Boston for Boston's citizens. Say what you may about the Robert Breck Brigham or any other charitable hospital in the City of Boston, I say that the poor of Boston do not there get the consideration to which they are entitled. You say now that we should give this land to them because there are several thousand chronic cases in the City of Boston which should be taken care of. I will agree with you that there are thousands of such cases in the City of Boston that should be taken care of, but the mere fact that this hospital is going to take care of some 140 chronic cases is not going to relieve the situation to any extent. Therefore, on the closing day of this administration, when the present Mayor of Boston refuses to consider the chronic sick of Boston, when he refuses to continue the program proposed by the former Mayor of Boston, to have such a hospital for the city on Parker Hill, but instead spends $1,200,000 at Long Island, and says that Long Island is good enough for the chronic sick and poor of Boston, I say that we should not pass an order of this kind, giving this land to this institution at eighteen cents a foot. If I had my way about it and believed the principle was right, I would say give it to the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital for one dollar for the entire lot. But I do say in all seriousness that the incoming Mayor of the City of Boston may have some plans of his own for the chronic sick and poor of Boston, and I say that the time has come when a chronic hospital for the poor and sick of this city should be built by the city on the mainland in order to relieve the congestion on Long Island and to furnish a proper city hospital for the proper taking care of the chronic sick and poor of this city. You heard the Trustees of the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital at our last meeting, when they addressed the Executive Committee. I quite agree with almost everything they said, but I do say that the building of a hospital for 140 or 150 patients is not going to relieve the situation anyway, and I say it is unfair to the people of Boston, who have already expended some $150,000 at Parker Hill, to now give to this semicharitable organization this land at Parker Hill. I contend that the City of Boston itself needs every available piece of land in order that a chronic hospital may be built there by the people of Boston themselves, not giving it to any charitable organization, and I say it is unfair to the incoming administration and unfair to the Council to ask us to go on record at our last meeting as giving to this semiprivate organization land that can be used by the City of Boston to build a chronic hospital which would hold 1,000 patients and positively remove the stigma of pauperism attaching to these unfortunates at Long Island.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, there has been so much said and so many erroneous statements made in regard to the adoption or rejection of this particular order, that I wish to place on the minutes of the City Council the actual facts in the case which I feel have not been presented here today, however excellent may have been the speech of the gentleman from Roxbury. As I understand it, there has been nothing placed on record in the minutes of this body giving the true facts as outlined to us by the gentlemen who appeared not only before the Public Lands Committee but also before the Executive Committee of the Council a week or so ago. As a matter of fact, this particular hospital, I would state for purposes of the record, was originally provided for by the will of Robert Breck Brigham, who left some $2,000,000, the income from which was to be used for the operation of a hospital for the chronic sick among the destitute citizens of Boston. We are given to understand, I believe, from the figures, that it costs about $215,000 a year to run this hospital, and that $70,000, or about one third of that expense, was obtained last year out of the income received under the Brigham will. Of the 114 patients now at the hospital only forty are paying patients, while seventy-four are free patients. That is, almost two-thirds of the total number are free patients, although only one-third of the expense is taken care of from the money received under the Brigham will. Thus, although the Brigham money, as I have stated, pays for only one third of the expense, two thirds of the patients in the hospital are from the destitute poor of the City of Boston, every man, woman and child being from the destitute poor of the City of Boston. In addition there are 133 free outside patients, thus making about one fifth of the patients paying patients out of the total number now being handled, 247. The hospital, according to the information we received, was first instituted planning for 100 free beds, but the income from the Brigham estate left the institution annually in the hole, and paying patients were admitted, as I understand it, to help carry the expense of the entire hospital and make possible the care of additional destitute chronic ill. The hospital now wishes to buy the adjoining land having as the first thing in mind the erection of an additional building which will contain forty more free beds. Later, they hope to add, I understand, another paying ward to help carry the expense of the additional forty free beds. Bear in mind that one third of the patients are not only chronic sick but incurable sick. To give some light, as a matter of record, on the present proposed sale and the price to be charged, two points may be raised. In the first place, the most recent purchase by the hospital was of land directly across the street from the present hospital, from private owners in the open market, at twenty cents a foot. That throws some light on the value of the particular land in question. In the second place, the price fixed for this particular lot was fixed by appraisers appointed by the Boston Real Estate Exchange. And, even after this proposed purchase, there are still ten acres available for the construction of a chronic hospital for the sick of the city on the mainland, should the new Mayor so desire. Of course, we have nothing to do in reference to the fight between the trustees under the will and the trustees of the hospital. That is none of our business. I understand that that is being fought out in the courts, in an endeavor to obtain a larger income from the $2,000,000. But, even if they get six or five per cent, even if they obtain a larger income than they now receive, it will not carry the cost of $215,000 annually. I may be under a wrong impression but, if I am correctly informed, no member of the Council has any authority for directly or indirectly stating or even intimating that the next Mayor is unalterably opposed to this purchase, and I don't believe any such intimation should be given unless such a direct statement is made. This is not a fight between the present Mayor of the City of Boston and the members of the City Council, and my personal vote, like the vote of most men in the room, I believe, will be cast irrespective of whether or not this is favored by the present city administration. With reference to the question of whether we may need an additional chronic hospital for the city's unforturnates on the mainland, I can't understand the position of the councilor from Roxbury when we bear in mind the fact that there will still be plenty of room for the erection by the city of a hospital to care for the chronic sick of the City of Boston after this proposed sale of land. A recent survey shows that there are from 4,000 to 5,000 chronic sick in this city and that there are only 900 hospital beds. But there will still be a large amount of land left, so that there will be plenty of room for nice, warm, healthy competition between a Boston hospital and any others that may be willing to help out in the care of the chronic sick. Bringing out one additional point, I fail to follow the argument that this would be in competition with a proposed city hospital, or that it would be against the desires of the incoming Mayor and contrary to the interests of the city, when all the facts are considered. In the first place, the hospital will pay a fair price for the land. In the second place, while under the terms of the will the hospital was to be used for the chronic sick of the City of Boston, it is at the present time, to the extent of two thirds, taking care of the chronic sick and destitute of the city free, although only one third of the expense of carrying on the work is met under the Brigham will, and every patient so treated by the hospital is saving the City of Boston not less than $5 a day expense. The gentleman from Roxbury states that if he were in favor of the idea he would favor giving the land to the hospital. For his information I might state that it was the majority, if not the unanimous opinion, of the Committee on Public Lands, that the most decent, proper and public spirited way for the city to act would be to make a free transfer of this particular land to the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital, instead of which, under this order, they are paying what I insist is a fair market price for the land.

Coun. BUSH—Mr. President, my sentiments with regard to the construction of a chronic hospital on the mainland are a matter of record. I have always been in favor of having a chronic hospital of the city on the mainland. I opposed the expenditure of $1,000,000 dollars on the Long Island Hospital at the time when the Mayor first sent the order up, with that idea in view. I thought it was a mistake to spend so much money on a hospital that was exiled from the mainland. I feel, after listening to the arguments presented by the councilors from Dorchester and Roxbury, that should the new Mayor wish to build a chronic hospital on the mainland, there will still be sufficient land available for the purpose, as I am given to understand that there are ten acres left after this transfer is made, on which a chronic hospital could be built. I don't think, Mr. President, that any member of the City Council can afford to act as a stumbling block in the way of such a worthwhile work as the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital is fulfilling. I know from personal knowledge of several destitute citizens of Boston who are being taken care of in that hospital, and I know that its work is being done irrespective of race, color or creed, that those citizens are taken into that hospital and that they have been splendidly treated for a considerable period of time, both as chronic and as temporary patients. I feel that it would be highly improper and detrimental to the city for the members of this Council to vote against this order which will help the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital to carry on work in furtherance of its charitable purposes.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, four years ago Ali Baba and some thieves came in to run the affairs of the citizens of Boston, and we have had this administration of Boston for the past four years. The present Mayor has about three quarters of an hour remaining in which he will be Mayor. I think that this particular order ought to go over to the next administration. I think the incoming Mayor should be allowed to exercise this power. If this is something that should be done, and if it meets with the plans of the incoming administration, there is no reason why the trustees of the hospital cannot take this land over immediately under the new Mayor. What is to be gained, Mr. President, by this precipitous action just at this time? What is to be accomplished? What harm will be done by letting it go over? Mr. Brown, of the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital, came before the Executive Committee at the last meeting, and what did he say? He said that the hospital at Long Island was not a success, that nobody wanted to go there. Still, when we came in here as members of the Council four years ago, Mayor Nichols decided in favor of the plan of placing the chronic hospital on Long Island; and yet Doctor Brown comes in here and says before the same members that the chronic hospital at Long Island is not a success. I don't know what the incoming Mayor's plans are on this particular project, but I do know what I would like to see, myself. I would like to see a chronic hospital of the city on the mainland, and I think the incoming Mayor, having in mind the position he has taken before, would like to see such a hospital on the mainland. So, with the possibility or probability that that particular property may be so used, why not let the matter go over to the next administration? If the next Mayor decides to give to the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital this particular land let him decide to do it, and don't let it be the job of Ali Baba.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. Chairman, I would like to ask the chairman of the Committee on Public Lands a question, if he remembers,—when this was first referred to the Committee on Public Lands?

President DONOVAN—I understand, on November 18.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I believe this matter is so important to the citizens of Boston that we ought not to hesitate. There are certain matters which I believe should be handled by the incoming Mayor—such as eleventh-hour propositions involving the expenditure of millions of dollars for the construction of buildings and the buying of land. But this is a matter that I cannot see for the life of me how any man in this Council who has in his heart the milk of human kindness, who has in his mind any thought for the sick, infirm and poor of this city, can oppose, after hearing the story told by the doctor before our committee. I don't see how, under the circumstances, any member can vote against this proposition, and I say that if members here do so, there will be a reckoning, of retribution. There will be a day when they will regret their action. I hope that no member of the body has been approached by anybody to vote against this order. A man spoke to me the other day, when I was coming through the City Hall Annex, about my position on the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital proposition, and I said I believed that we should pass the order in the interest of humanity. He said, "Well, it is a shame,—it is a good piece of land, and ought to be sold for building purposes." I hope there are no unseen hands here of so-called building speculators who hope to reap a harvest, and who hope to exert influence so that they may get this land into their hands at a later date. I think we ought to act today. We cannot do too much for the poor and sick of this city in institutions of that kind. We all heard what the chairman of the Committee on Public Lands reported here after an inspection of that hospital, in regard to children and others. There was one who had been there for fourteen years, bedridden, and who was thoroughly satisfied with the treatment. Why, the people of the city don't know the work that they are doing there. I hope no man in the Council will vote against this proposition. It would be an outrage and a shame, as the councilor from Dorchester has said. We should give the land free, not charging a cent. Why, look at the situation in the Holy Ghost Hospital,—you can't get anybody in there, there isn't a chance, they have such a waiting list. People are continually clamoring to get in, and they cannot take them. I have been told of a case where a man was not taken into this hospital because he had three sons who should take care of him. Of course, there are those borderline cases, cases where it might not be thought fair to others who were more needy to take in certain people. It is true that the three sons were married and had their responsibilities. But you have those cases just over the line. Of course, some members here may talk for publicity, may talk for the galleries. But let us have the truth. I do not believe that the incoming Mayor cares one iota about having action on this matter delayed until he comes into office. He is too great a man to take such a position. His sympathies and his speeches would all tend to show that. I believe we ought to give this land to this institution, which is doing such wonderful work.

Coun. ARNOLD—Mr. President, I don't believe this Council is going to reverse itself or is going to be guided by the bitterness of some members in the closing hour of this administration. I want to say to the gentleman from Roxbury that in my experience as a physician I have yet to find people urging me as a practitioner to send them to hospitals, where it is not necessary. I don't know of anybody who is sick who is anxious to go to a hospital, and I am sure that nobody is anxious to be sick. We all know what was said about the work done by this particular hospital along the line of handling cases of arthritis. We heard last week what a prominent part they played in the activities and the functions of the hospital. Probably other members of the Council, Mr. President, do not realize what any progress along the line of treating this malady means to suffering humanity. It is one of the most prevalent afflictions of mankind. It is an affliction for which very little has ever been done; and if this institution, which is asking to be permitted at its own expense to add to its facilities in such lines, wishes to carry on such work to better advantage, I believe that this Council has an opportunity to assist humanity which it has not previously had during the four years in which it has been my privilege to sit here among you. I believe the Council understands perfectly the situation involved, Mr. President, and I therefore move the previous question.

The main question was ordered, and the order was given its second and final reading and passage, yeas 16, nays 6:

Yeas—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Deveney, Donovan, Fitzgerald, Green, Keene, Lynch, Mahoney, McMahon, Motley, Murphy, Murray, Parkman, Ruby, Wilson—16.

Nays—Coun. Dowd, Dowling, Fish, Gallagher, Sullivan, Ward—6.

PAY ROLL OF REGISTRY OF DEEDS.

The pay roll of the Registry of Deeds from December 9 to December 31, 1929, inclusive, amounting to $2,953.03, was received and approved.

INQUIRY BY COUNCILOR DOWLING.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, I rise for information. If I recall correctly, the Clerk a few moments ago read a communication from his Honor the Mayor in regard to the transit system?

President DONOVAN—The message is in the hands of the City Clerk. It has been ordered placed on file and will be printed in the records.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, I would like further to ask if any report has come from the Mayor's office or from the special committee appointed early in the administration to recodify the statutes relating to the City of Boston?

President DONOVAN—I understand that no such report has been submitted.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, if I am correctly informed, the Council appropriated $20,000 or more for a special commission which was to recodify the laws of Massachusetts with relation to the City of Boston. The commission that was appointed for that purpose was composed of—while I am looking up the names—I would characterize them as panhandling lawyers.

President DONOVAN—The Chair will have to rule that Councilor Dowling will have to have unanimous consent to make a statement.

Coun. DOWLING—Well, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement—although I don't expect to get it.

President DONOVAN—If there is no objection.

Coun. ARNOLD—Mr. President, I object.

SIDEWALK ON ASHMONT STREET.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Ashmont street (east side), from Adams street to Neponset avenue, Ward 16, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

WORK ON RECODIFYING LAWS.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I move that we recess, subject to the call of the Chair, in view of the fact that I would like to hear if any progress has been made in four years on recodifying the laws.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, I don't doubt the sincerity of the member from Ward 17 (Coun. Wilson) but I do doubt the sincerity of members of the Council who will deny to a fellow member who has served here honestly and faithfully for four years an opportunity to ask a question in order to obtain information. And so I hope, in spite of the intense partisan loyalty of the gentleman from Ward 4 (Coun. Arnold), who has always been a "yes" man, who has always responded to every call of this administration, that an opportunity will be given me to get an answer to the questions I would like to ask in reference to the $20,000 of the people's money that we authorized the expenditure of for the purpose of recodifying the laws, and I hope the motion for a recess will not prevail at this time.

President DONOVAN—The question is on Councilor Wilson's motion to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The motion was declared lost.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, I asked as politely as I could, and as earnestly as I knew how, whether there was any information in the hands of the Council with reference to the work which a specially appointed commission of panhandling lawyers attempted to carry out in codifying the laws of Massachusetts with relation to the City of Boston.

President DONOVAN—The Chair has asked the question of the City Clerk, and I believe there is no record of such a report from the Mayor's office on file.

Coun. DOWLING—I now ask unanimous consent, Mr. President, to make a statement, in view of that information, with no expectation that it will prevail.

Coun. ARNOLD—I continue to object, Mr. President.

Coun. BUSH—Mr. President, I would ask, on a point of information, who the members of the special commission appointed to recodify the statutes are.

President DONOVAN—The Chair is unable to give Councilor Bush the information.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, may I ask for unanimous consent to furnish that information?

President DONOVAN—Does the Chair hear any objection? (No response.) There apparently being no objection, the councilor may furnish that information.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, I am surprised that the gentleman from Ward 4 (Coun. Arnold) should be willing to learn anything or listen to anything. The members of the commission appointed by the frenzied Mayor for this particular purpose were Harold J. Field—and God knows who he is!—John T. Myron, who is an office boy for one of the four horsemen, Charles H. Innis, and David A. Marshall.

President DONOVAN—Does that furnish the desired information?

Coun. DOWLING—I don't think it furnishes all the information that the gentleman asked for.

President DONOVAN—The Chair will have to rule that that furnishes the desired information.

Coun. DOWLING—Well, Mr. President, there is plenty more where that came from.

RECESS.

On motion of Coun. WILSON, the Council voted, at 12.25 p. m., to take a recess, subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President DONOVAN at 12.32 p. m.

INFORMATION ABOUT CODIFICATION OF STATUTES.

Coun. DOWLING offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested to inform the City Council what progress, if any, has been made on the codification of the statutes relating to Boston, and how much more time will be required and how much more expense will be involved for its completion.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, when I originally spoke on this matter, I had an honest and sincere desire to get some information, notwithstanding the fact that some members of the Council are so full of information that they will not listen to anybody who has something to say on a matter. Now, Councilor Bush asked for some information, also, indicating that there are other members of the Council who would like a little information on this matter. Therefore, I would like to tell the Council that on June 15, 1926, when the "four horsemen" were new at the job, they submitted an order providing that $20,000 be expended by the Corporation Counsel, under the direction of the Mayor, and charged to the Reserve Fund, for the codification of special statutes relating to the City of Boston. Twenty thousand dollars was provided for this inquiry—of doubtful value, unless other members of the Council disagree with me on that point, in which case perhaps I would be compelled to submit to their superior judgment on that one thing. But codification of the special statutes relating to the City of Boston is not anything that would disturb the average fellow who works for a living. Possibly the amount of money appropriated was all right, although in 1908, which was not so very long ago, the City Council passed a special appropriation for the Law Department to revise the statutes up to that time, the job costing $11,090.47, and being completed in two years. But, as I say, this special hand-picked commission, composed of Field, Myron and Marshall—who have little to do, and had to have something to do, the city being easy to do, were appointed on that commission; and in 1926—and, mind you, the order appropriating this money was not passed until June 15, 1926, but before the end of that year, the three members of that commission, who had not opened an ink bottle or wet a pen, who had not looked over a single statute relating to the City of Boston,—came down to the City Treasurer's office, as boldly as burglars, and took from the city treasury $3,656.65 for services, not one bit of which they rendered to the City of Boston, because no work had been done by that commission at that time. In 1927, by the end of that year, when there was not a comma, semicolon or a period put to a piece of paper in connection with this work—and I know whereof I speak; not a particle of work was done by that commission—these sandbaggers went down to the City Treasurer's office and sandbagged the city for $7,320 for services, without having rendered any services; and in 1928, well trained in the path that leads to the paymaster's window and encouraged by the men who placed them in that position where they could drain money out of the city, they marched boldly again to the paymaster's window and took out another $7,506.85, with no services performed. (The lights in the Chamber flickered at this point.) No wonder the lights went out, Mr. President. (Laughter.) And in 1929, up to March 1, still hankering for this easy money, the three yeggmen went to the City Treasurer's office and collected all that there was left of that $20,000 appropriation. They probably expected more, but imagine their disappointment when they found only $1,237.47 left. That was on March 1, 1929. Now, Mr. President, I know, the City Auditor knows and other men know that after the last dollar was grabbed by these three lawyers, they connived or attempted to connive, through administration influence, to coerce the City Auditor into making another $2,500 contribution to their Christmas basket fund. But the money for that purpose did not come as easily as the money came from the contractors and department heads who were assessed two weeks ago for sums ranging from $100 to $500 with which to buy a new "Lizzie" for the passing Mayor, Mr. Carven—whom I have known for thirty years, and who knows more about municipal administration and municipal finance than all the present mayors, morning, afternoon and evening—found no way to give Field, Myron and Marshall another crack at the city treasury. They were told plainly that there was no more for them. Just imagine the situation, Mr. President, with these three commissioners, who held this luscious job, for which they have performed little service, if any. This information, which is called for in this way through the Law Department, is not available even now. After four years of diligent effort, largely confined to raiding the city treasury, no report has been submitted. And now, Mr. President, one of those phony commissioners, with lucrative income, is sitting on another commission in which the city is involved. That is, I may be mistaken, but I think he—I will not use the particular person's name in this connection—is a master, the lawyers present may correct me if I am wrong, appointed by the Court to determine whether any person connected officially with the city was seeking to mulct the city in connection with the purchase of water meters. One of these phony commissioners is sitting, I believe, as master in such a case in which he might, if the circumstances warranted it, find that a very prominent city official—and, mind you, I am going to make this clear,—who has something to do with municipal finances, had entered into a conspiracy to mulct the city in the matter of water meters. This so-called commission on recodifying the statutes relating to the City of Boston was interested in only one thing—getting $20,000 as swiftly as they could get it—and was performing as little service as it possibly could. That, Mr. President, is why I asked for information, and that may be why the gentleman from Ward 4 did not want the information. I know Ward 4, Mr. President,—although, thank God, I never lived there and have rarely visited there. I know Ward 4. I know the habits of nearly everybody that goes through there. And I know, Mr. President, that it is a recent practice—and I do not doubt a good one—established by this administration to name bridges for gentlemen who lived in outside towns, but who did business in Ward 4. I submit that the naming of a bridge after anybody in Ward 4 is entirely proper, because bridges are on the level, and I think the gentleman for whom the last bridge was named was on the level,—and that is about all that is on the level in Ward 4.

Coun. ARNOLD—Mr. Chairman, I hope that when the time comes for me to sing my swan song to this body, it will have more melody in it than that to which we have just listened. It is not my purpose to rise here to defend myself or to defend the ward which I have the honor to represent here, or to defend the three eminent attorneys who have also been attacked. I hold no brief for any attorney, Mr. President. I have always found that the members of the legal profession were able and willing to defend themselves when occasion required. As for visiting that ward, Mr. President, I believe the gentleman to whom we have just listened made some complaint during the last two or three years because he was charged a quarter or so for his visit to Ward 4.

Coun. DOWLING—Everybody is charged there, Mr. President. (Laughter.)

Coun. ARNOLD—I tried in my humble way, Mr. President, at that time to relieve the situation so that the gentleman might visit the ward with more frequency and more ease. I believe, now that he has got this attack onto the record, he ought to be satisfied with his four years here. I believe that his valedictory must be to him a source of great pride, and I leave it there, Mr. President.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REJECTION OF CONSTABLE.

Coun. RUBY called up No. 1 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor October 28, 1929, of Thomas Cannizzaro, to be a Constable.

On motion of Coun. RUBY the appointment was indefinitely postponed.

CLOSING PROCEEDINGS.

Coun. PARKMAN offered the following:

Resolved, That the thanks of the City Council be extended to Councilor Timothy F. Donovan for the able and impartial manner in which he has presided over the deliberations of the Council during the present municipal year.

Coun. PARKMAN—Mr. President, in every legislative body, I suppose, there must be controversy. In the very nature of things that must be so. Issues presented to a body for determination should be hard fought and fought sincerely to a conclusion. That certainly has been the case in this body. We have seen issues vigorously debated here, sometimes with considerable acrimony and bitterness. Nevertheless, at all times the proprieties of debate have been observed, and in general there has been good feeling between the members of this body. Certainly, I may say with absolute truth and without fear of contradiction, on leaving the floor of this Chamber, that a friendly spirit has existed between the various members of the body; and that result, to my mind, Mr. President, is due in no small measure to your good humor, your character, your unfailing firmness and friendliness in dealing with all the members of the body. Many measures have been debated on this floor during the past year, and you have at all times presided with dignity and impartiality. At various times, parliamentary situations have arisen which have been difficult of determination, but in all cases you have cleared up the situation with credit to yourself, with the assistance of our able clerk, Wilfred Doyle. May I say just one more personal word, Mr. President? This is my last day in the City Council, my last day on a service here extending through the past four years. It is with regret that I leave the Council. I have enjoyed my service here; I have enjoyed the friendships that I have made, and I would not willingly let any of them go. I hope that in the years to come those friendships will not lessen, but will increase, and I wish to express on the floor of the Council at this time my gratitude to the other members of the body for what they have done in adding to the pleasantness of my associations here. (Applause.)

The resolution was adopted by a unanimous rising vote.

President DONOVAN—I want to say to my colleagues that once more I desire to thank them for the honor conferred upon me during the past year in selecting me as their president. I want to thank the members of this body for their fairness at all times; I want to thank them for helping me to preserve proper decorum at all times, even in the heat of debate. It is needless for me to say that I have enjoyed the association with my colleagues. The friendships that have developed here will be, I feel, only strengthened as the years go on. I want to say to Mr. Parkman that I know I speak for all his colleagues when I say we deeply regret that he is not coming back to the City Council, although we all feel assured that future honors are in store for our senator. In closing, I want to thank the members from the bottom of my heart for their fairness during the year. (Applause.)

Adjourned sine die, at 12.50 p. m., on motion of Coun. WARD.

PETITIONS APPROVED.

The Mayor has approved the following petitions received from the Board of Street Commissioners:

Placed on file and leave of absence granted for the period specified.

PETITION FOR ADDITIONAL LEGISLATION

Mrs. Barron offered the following:

ORDERED, That the Chairman is hereby authorized, for and in behalf of the School Committee, to petition the General Court for additional appropriation to provide funds for increasing the salaries of assistants, elementary schools, and assistants, intermediate schools, and for such other salary adjustments as may be found advisable.

On Mr. Sullivan's motion, and with Mrs. Barron's consent, the order was referred to the Board of Apportionment for report either to the present Committee or the incoming Committee, sufficiently early to permit of filing the necessary petition to the Legislature before the final date for filing of petitions.

CARE OF CRIPPLED CHILDREN

Mr. Sullivan offered the following:

ORDERED, (a) That in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (b) the School Committee hereby appropriates monies for land, plans and construction of school building or buildings to provide adequate facilities for the proper care and education of crippled school children, and be it further ORDERED, (b) That the Board of Superintendents and the Board of Apportionment devise ways and means and report same to the School Committee.

Mr. Sullivan: Mr. Chairman, in public meeting Dec. 10, 1929, I declared my purpose to present this order at the meeting of the School Committee on Dec. 16.

I incorporate herein the closing paragraph of an unsolicited letter, dated Dec. 11, 1929, addressed to me by Dr. John A. Ceconi, Director of School Hygiene, as follows:

"Mr. Sullivan: May I be permitted to unequivocally endorse your feelings that Boston should have available facilities for the proper care and instruction of its crippled children? I feel that your prospective order will have both the encouragement and endorsement of all medical and non-medical minds."

128 pupils who ought to be in our Boston public schools are now enrolled in the Industrial School for Crippled Children, on St. Botolph Street, Boston, a privately endowed institution.

10 of our Boston public school children are located in the New England Peabody Home, a privately endowed institution where they are instructed and also boarded.

40 of our public school pupils are enrolled in the Massachusetts Hospital School in Canton, a State institution.

103 crippled children of school age are not attending school because of lack of facilities in Boston, as of Dec. 5, 1929.

416 crippled children, at severe hardship to themselves, are now attending regular classes in our public schools.

In all, 697 crippled Boston school children whose welfare ought to be our chief concern and surely is our responsibility, now have no proper place to go for their care and education.

No disparagement is here intended to privately endowed institutions. However, I maintain that the health and education of the crippled school children is a public duty and ought not to depend on private patronage.

Boston is proud of its public schools, of its Horace Mann School for the Deaf, of its conservation of eyesight classes, of its rest and nutrition classes, of its hospital classes. Boston is in the van in all its splendid special class activities. But Boston is remiss in its duty in the education of its crippled school children.

New York City, Cleveland, Chicago and other representative American communities provide for the proper care and education in the public schools of crippled children of school age and it is the unanimous opinion of specialists in orthopedics, and school health officials, that special schools should be provided and equipped with proper facilities for the care and education of these handicapped school children. Hospital classes should take care of the acute orthopedic cases, such as infantile paralysis. Such work is now carried on by teachers provided by the School Committee in the Boston City Hospital.

However, a central school for crippled children is an absolute necessity. It will provide a school attitude rather than an institutional atmosphere; together with the protection and expert care of their physical defects.

The establishment of local centers in the several school districts for the care and education of the crippled is impracticable because of transportation and educational limitations. It might be well to note here that the New York school authorities employ 55 school busses to transport its crippled children.

The proper care and education of our crippled children requires a special building devoted exclusively to that type education. The hazards that obtain for crippled children in the stereotype style of school make imperative the construction and maintenance of the exclusive school called for in my order.

Classes on the second and third floors of our school buildings wherein some of our crippled school children are now being educated, are a distinct menace to their health and safety, especially in case of fire or other hazard.

Crippled children ought to be housed in a school building built for them. Their physical handicaps ought to be the controlling feature in determining the architecture and equipment of the school.

Experts agree this special school should be preferably one story, but if more than one story, that suitable ramps and elevator service ought to be installed to eliminate stair climbing.

The equipment and furniture ought to be adjustable to the individual needs. This requirement is now impossible, all to the hardship of our crippled school children because of maladjustment of school buildings and furniture which necessarily must obtain in a system whose curriculum features inter-departmental changes.

The curriculum for this special school shall be determined by the Board of Superintendents cooperating with the Department of School Hygiene and the Department of Physical Education, with special stress on the following:

1. A shorter school day.
2. More frequent periods of rest, relaxation and medical supervision.
3. The physical condition of each pupil.

The citizens of Boston yearly spend approximately twenty million dollars in the support and maintenance of our public schools. Thousands and thousands of dollars are spent annually on costly shops and shop equipment; on the extended use of the schools for recreational and social functions; for musical instruments and other activities too numerous to mention, whose educational need and value have provoked universal query and criticism; and not a single penny expended in the care and education of the crippled child.

It is high time that we meet this urgent issue now.

I want to say, Mr. Chairman and members of the School Committee in support of these orders, in addition to what I have already stated, that in my six years' service here on the School Committee and in the many activities of which I have been a part, and in the matter of the many, many orders which I have introduced, some of which have failed of passage and others of which passed and are now in operation in the school system—I feel sincerely and deeply that this order for the creation and maintenance of a special type school for crippled children, the little boys and girls in Boston who were handicapped at birth or subsequent thereto, brings me more real joy and happiness than any other labor I have performed here. I hope and trust that the members of this Committee will take action on this matter because after all this committee as a composite board has been here averaging more than three years each, and I feel very strongly that this is the Committee, having the picture of the Boston schools, which ought to act on this legislation.

Mrs. Barron: Mr. Chairman, I think the order Mr. Sullivan introduced is an excellent one, and I think that Boston would be taking a most progressive and most humane step, and would be practicing what we preach—equality of opportunity for all our children regardless of their physical condition. I am heartily in favor of the order. I suggest inasmuch as a survey of the crippled children is now being made by the State, that our Board of Apportionment communicate and cooperate with that State Board on this problem.

Mr. Sullivan: Mr. Chairman, I have no objection to Mrs. Barron's suggestion of reference—not reference of the subject matter—to certain officials, except that this order, or these orders, do not actually now call for an appropriation of money, because section (a) says,—“that the School Committee hereby appropriates monies . . . in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (b).” Paragraph (b) sets forth that the Board of Superintendents and the Board of Apportionment shall devise ways and means which of course will include and set forth the appropriation.

Mrs. Barron: May I suggest, Mr. Chairman, if Mr. Sullivan has no objection, that the orders be referred to the Board of Superintendents as well, in accordance with our custom.

On motion, the two orders introduced by Mr. Sullivan were referred to the Board of Superintendents and the Board of Apportionment for consideration and early report.

CARE OF EPILEPTICS

Dr. Lyons offered the following: ORDERED, That the Board of Superintendents formulate and report back to this Committee a plan to solve the educational problems concerning epileptic children in our schools.

Dr. Lyons: Mr. Chairman, since March 28, 1929, a survey has been in progress of the epileptic problem as it exists in the Boston schools. The primary purpose of the investigation, after conference with the Superintendent, was to solve the educational problem of the epileptic child. This problem has always existed and will continue to exist until suitable provision is made for the proper care and education of this group.

The State law specifically decrees that all children must receive an education until they are sixteen years of age. It is absolutely impossible to live up to this mandate in reference to the epileptic child under existing conditions. This defective type child deserves and should receive all the educational advantages that any other handicapped pupil receives, and it is the consensus of opinion that any pupil who has attacks of epilepsy should not be permitted to attend the regular day school, as the effect upon other children is demoralizing, for they are constantly on the watch for an expected paroxysmal attack.

The afflicted child becomes an object of considerable interest and many times self-consciousness causes aggravation of his own nervous condition, and any stimulus such as this frequently brings on an epileptic seizure.

The ordinary classroom has no facilities for the proper care and special education of these pupils, either from a medical or classroom point of view, to say nothing of the necessity of providing a special person to watch such children during the attack and subsequently escort the child home.

When one visualizes the ordinary classroom with its many chairs and desks with their sharp corners, one can readily understand the hazards that exist if a child in a seizure falls and sustains in the fall a traumatism that may produce serious result, such as a fractured skull, etc.

The tendency of the epileptic toward ill and ungoverned disposition makes these cases susceptible of fear from others, as it is not uncommon to have an epileptic become a source of danger to other pupils; this unstable temperament makes school attendance of epileptics in the ordinary classroom hazardous to both teachers and pupils.

A teacher should have special training and be thoroughly conversant with the method of caring for the child in an attack and this situation does not obtain and is not to be expected of the ordinary classroom teacher. It is absolutely necessary that the teacher be of strong physique and of exceptionally fearless and unworried mind, for ample assistance must be instantly available when a seizure occurs.

In the classroom, work is apt to be interrupted frequently and this in itself tends to destroy the morale of the class.

In other cities, special classes for epileptics are provided and these classes are conducted not only because of the reasons given above in an endeavor to establish special training for this handicapped group, but because public sentiment desires their establishment.

Summing up: In Boston we have absolutely no available facilities for the care of this group. These children are either recommended for institutional care or are excluded from school because they are considered a menace to themselves and to others. Of course some of the epileptics who have minor seizures remain in school, but often when attacks become severe they must be excluded.

Another important factor that should enter into the establishment of proper scholastic environment for the epileptic, is the inalienable right and rights of the parents. The parents love these individual children just as much as any other parent loves the normal child or any child that is handicapped, and on many occasions these parents have objected, and rightfully, to the commitment of their children to institutions far distant from Boston. The problem has been most severe when the parent says, “The Boston Public Schools are responsible for the education of our children, and there is no justifiable reason why my child should be weaned from its proper home surroundings.”

When one thinks of the exclusion of these pupils from the classroom, one necessarily must think also of the probability of danger to them, because, as generally happens, the child is out of school and is on the public thoroughfares, and in some instances becomes a victim to the automotive hazard and perhaps to moral hazards.

In passing, it may be said that there are other epileptic children of school age who because of the severity of their symptoms have never been admitted to our schools. If a suitable epileptic school environment could be established, this group could be admitted and have the additional advantages of education and care that could be provided.

Mr. Sullivan: It occurs to me that the epileptic may fall within the category of the crippled child. I anticipate that they do. I think Dr. Lyons's order would be embraced, at least in spirit, in mine, and I think in letter. I am, of course, going to vote for Dr. Lyons's order, for its reference to the Board of Superintendents. I hope, Mr. Chairman and members, it won't take so long to interpret “epileptic” as to delay the report beyond the termination of my membership on the Committee.

Mrs. Barron: I shall be happy to vote in favor of reference of Dr. Lyons's order. I think every one of us realizes since we have been on the School Committee the hardships of the epileptic child in school. I personally have been visited by many parents who sought some relief.

Dr. Lyons's order was referred to the Board of Superintendents and the Board of Apportionment.

CARE OF FEEBLE-MINDED CHILDREN

Superintendent: There is another group which should be included if the Committee contemplates the establishment of a building for institutional charge of the children, namely, those who are mentally incapable of taking care of themselves, children of low grade mentality for whom we have now no provision.

Mrs. Barron: I think that the suggestion of the Superintendent is admirable.

I therefore move that the Board of Superintendents and the Board of Apportionment in considering the orders introduced by Mr. Sullivan and Dr. Lyons this evening, also take into consideration the so-called feeble-minded child, the non-improvable type who is not now eligible for admission to our special classes.

The motion passed.

Mr. Sullivan: In connection with the study which my orders entail, I want it clearly understood that the orders in no way contemplate the creation of a clinic for crippled children. The orders embrace only the statement outlined and prepared and read by me this evening.

Mr. Sullivan expressed the hope that the Board of Superintendents and the Board of Apportionment, in considering the several orders now referred, will treat his orders as a distinct entity and the other orders similarly as distinct in their relation one to the other.

The Committee adjourned.

MAYOR CURLEY PLANS $1,000,000 STRANDWAY FOR ORIENT HEIGHTS SECTION OF EAST BOSTON — WILL INCLUDE BEACH AND PARK — WILL CONNECT LATER WITH TRAFFIC TUNNEL.

SKETCH OF PROPOSED STRANDWAY FOR ORIENT HEIGHTS PROPOSED BY MAYOR CURLEY AND WHICH IS TO COST $1,000,000 — WILL INCLUDE BEACH AND PARK.

Mayor Curley has given approval to an improvement in the East Boston district that has met with the hearty consent of all the citizens of that section and one that will long remain as another monument to his third administration. This is a project that contemplates the expenditure of more than $1,000,000 for the completion of a strandway and bathing beach as well as a waterfront park in the Bayswater section of Orient Heights. The strandway will be similar to the one at Columbus Park, South Boston.

It is planned to expend about $750,000 on the project this year, of which some $540,000 would be used in hydraulic dredging of 1,800,000 feet of material by which the park and strandway would be created.

Plans for the project, prepared under the direction of Park Commissioner William P. Long, call for a reclamation of the land from the present World War Memorial Park, East Boston, to Belle Isle Inlet at the Winthrop boundary line on Saratoga street.

The park at which this new area would begin has been suggested to Park Department officials as an ideal location for the state's World War memorial.

Provision has been made for a future extension of the proposed strandway from World War Memorial Park to the East Boston portal of the new vehicular tunnel, affording, thereby, a direct traffic thoroughfare from Boston to Winthrop by a waterfront highway which would be part of the municipal park system.

In anticipation of such a project, Mayor Curley during his last administration caused Neptune road, East Boston, the entrance to World War Memorial Park, to become a 90-foot roadway, with a reservation for shrubs and trees in the center.

The strandway development contemplates a continuation of Neptune road, following the new shore line along a circuitous route of a mile and a half beyond the end of Bayswater street to Belle Isle Inlet, where it would join Saratoga street at the point where the latter thoroughfare becomes Main street, Winthrop.

To bring about this huge undertaking it would be necessary to fill in two large areas which at the present time are covered by water only at high tide.

The larger of these two areas begins at the northeast edge of World War Memorial Park. Today, the only land between the Bennington Street Cemetery and the harbor is a narrow fill which forms the roadbed of the Narrow Gauge Railroad.

This stretch of mud flats extends northeast to the Harbor View Depot of the Narrow Gauge line.

The second indentation which would be reclaimed extends northeast from a point near Wordsworth street to within 200 yards of the Orient Heights Station of the Narrow Gauge.

This development and the plan of the Metropolitan Planning Division for a new thoroughfare, joining Day square, East Boston, with the Newburyport Turnpike, preferably by a physical connection with the international highway in Revere, which joins the turnpike in Malden, propose improvements which are intended to be of great benefit to East Boston.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

ACTION OF BOARD OF ZONING ADJUSTMENT ON PETITION HEARD.

Petition of Peter M. Conley and others to extend the L-40 zone in an easterly direction along Washington street and to a depth of 100 feet on either side from the present zoning boundary line on Allen road to the boundary line on Eastburn street and as extended northerly, said area being at the present time in an R-40 district, or such extension or modification of this area or use as may appear advisable to the Board (Zoning Sheet 5). Change authorized.

GOVERNOR'S ISLAND TRANSFER TO CITY AWAITS ACTION OF SECRETARY OF NAVY ADAMS.

Former Congressman Joseph A. Conry on January 15 reported the results of his trip to Washington with reference to the transfer to the City of Boston of custody of Governor's Island in Boston Harbor. The former congressman reported that upon presentation of the case to the Assistant Secretary of the Navy that the Navy Department, while at first opposed to the project, decided to investigate and after investigation appeared more favorably disposed toward the request of the City of Boston.

In view, however, of the absence from the city of the Secretary of the Navy, Hon. Charles Francis Adams, the officials of the department requested that in deference to Mr. Adams, inasmuch as the property involved was located in his native state, final action be withheld until the return of Secretary Adams, sometime around the first of March.

EXPENDITURE OF $1,000,000 ON AIRPORT AWAITS FEDERAL ACTION ON GOVERNOR'S ISLAND.

Mayor Curley on January 14 sent the following telegram to Hon. Joseph A. Conry, Washington, D. C.:

Arrangements have been made to expend $1,000,000 additional for the development of the Boston Airport at East Boston, but I am reluctant to proceed with the work until I have assurance from the Navy Department, through you, that the Federal Government will transfer the custody and control of Governor's Island to the City of Boston. Immediate and favorable action upon this matter is desirable as an emergency measure to relieve unemployment and to provide for aerial development at the Port of Boston.

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR WIRES CONGRESSMAN DOUGLASS TO AID IN SECUR- ING GOVERNOR'S ISLAND TRANSFER.

Mayor Curley, on January 11, sent the following telegram to Hon. John J. Douglass, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.:

Joseph A. Conry will arrive Washington Monday morning. Would appreciate your meeting him and calling conference of Democratic senators and congressmen from Massachusetts to wait with Conry on President Hoover and ask President for executive order authorizing retransfer of Governor's Island to City of Boston for making same addition to airport and establishing mooring mast for dirigibles, which would serve as auxiliary defense for Boston Navy Yard in time of trouble and at same time be of commercial value to city.

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

DAMAGES ACCEPTED.

James J. MacPherson agrees to accept the sum of $100 as full payment for all land taken from, all rights acquired in, and all damages occasioned to his estate on Oakton avenue by the laying out and construction of said street, under the order of the Street Commissioners and Mayor of July 26, 1928.

Richard F. O'Leary agrees to accept the sum of $10 as full payment for all land taken from, all rights acquired in, and all damages occasioned to his estate on Codman Hill avenue by the laying out and construction of said street, under the order of the Street Commissioners and Mayor of November 9, 1928.

MAYOR CURLEY ORDERS ABATEMENTS OF TAXES TO BE CHECKED IN EFFORT TO SAVE CITY MONEY.

Mayor Curley on January 15 forwarded the following communication to Chairman Edward T. Kelly of the Board of Assessors:

MY DEAR MR. KELLY,—With a view to "plugging leaks" I had occasion within the last week to direct the attention of the Public Works and other departments to the necessity of cutting overtime payments, which in the year 1926 showed an increase of more than 100 per cent in excess of the amount allowed in 1925, my last year in the office of Mayor.

I find, upon investigation, that an even more menacing system of leakage has been developed in the Assessing Department, and which, unless checked, may prove serious to the city.

Personally, I favor the law which permits abatements in taxation to widows in need where the value of a home is not in excess of $7,500.

I cannot, however, conceive of any good reason why abatements such as are pending and which, fortunately, through the wisdom and courage of you and your associates, were not granted, involving many millions of dollars in valuations should be allowed.

My investigation discloses the fact that the individuals or corporations seeking these abatements were enjoying in their respective industries a larger measure of prosperity than at any period of time in previous years. This is true, not only of the steam railroads but also of the hotel corporations, and I know of no way in which abatements in these cases is justifiable.

While I have a profound respect for the honesty and ability of every man employed in your department as first assistant assessors, I am nevertheless of the opinion that the city's interests would be better served if a shift were made by you in the district assigned to every first assistant assessor in your department.

You are directed to refuse to grant abatements now pending and any individual or corporation seeking redress is at liberty to proceed in conformity with the law.

I will greatly appreciate your directing the Corporation Counsel's attention to my decision in this matter, assuming, as I do, that you will share my views.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR CURLEY ADDRESSES PRESIDENT HOOVER ON UNEMPLOYMENT SITUATION.

The Mayor has addressed the following communication to President Hoover:

HON. HERBERT HOOVER, President of the United States, Washington, D. C.

YOUR EXCELLENCY,—In conformity with an order adopted by the Boston City Council, a copy of which is herewith submitted, I sincerely trust that the information requested will be furnished.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

CITY OF BOSTON, IN CITY COUNCIL.

Whereas, The unemployment situation in Boston is extremely acute at the present time; and

Whereas, A statement appeared in the local newspapers during the past week to the effect that the Boston Navy Yard is to be closed down within a few days because no work has been assigned there, which will mean the discharge of several hundred mechanics and skilled laborers; and

Whereas, In view of the fact that President Hoover has held several conferences with leaders of industry in the United States in an effort to devise ways and means to stabilize industry, it is the opinion of the members of the City Council of Boston that President Hoover should instruct Secretary of the Navy Adams to send work to the Boston Navy Yard and thus follow out the principles which he has been advocating; therefore be it

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to communicate immediately with President Hoover asking him to instruct the Secretary of the Navy to at once assign work to the Boston Navy Yard and thus forestall the threatened discharge of hundreds of employees.

In City Council, January 6, 1930.
Passed. Attest:

W. J. DOYLE,
City Clerk.

Approved January 8, 1930.

JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston Mass.

MAYOR CURLEY ANNOUNCES FEATURES TO BE CONNECTED WITH BOSTON'S CELEBRATIONS OF TERCENTENARY—SPECIAL OBSERVANCES FOR JULY 4 AND COLUMBUS DAY.

Mayor Curley, during a conference with officials and citizens relative to the cooperation of Boston in the celebration of the tercentenary, suggested to Herbert Parker, chairman of the State Tercentenary Commission, observances of Independence Day and Columbus Day from the standpoint of their international historical prominence.

The Mayor also stated that it was his plan to invite the President of France or an ex-President of that nation to be the guests of the Commonwealth and Boston, on July 4. Columbus Day might be recognized, he said, as an excellent time to entertain the Presidents of the Pan-American states and the ambassador from those countries. He designated September 17, the natal day of Boston, as worthy of a celebration to which the mayor of Boston, England, can be invited.

The celebration of Evacuation Day, Patriots' Day and Bunker Hill Day can well be featured by military spectacles and be suggested the shifting of the date of the annual parade of the high school cadets so that all of the school-boys could march in the June 17 parade in Charlestown.

Mayor Curley indicated his willingness to unite with the Tercentenary Commission in the planning of programs for the holidays which Boston has celebrated, and pledged the support of the city to make these particular features of the state-wide celebration outstanding.

Chairman Parker outlined the scope of the celebration which the state commission has planned. The meeting in the Mayor's office was called primarily to re-establish the commission on the marking of historical sites in Boston but the Mayor combined it with consideration of the tercentenary plans. He made known his purpose to have all statues in Boston thoroughly cleansed and included the exterior of the City Hall in his plans.

Mr. Parker said that the State Commission intends to mark historical sites in Suffolk, Middlesex, Essex, Norfolk and Plymouth counties but he agreed to the suggestion of Walter Gilman Page, chairman of the Boston committee, that a conference to avoid duplication would be productive of valuable results. It is the plan of the Mayor to illuminate the markers at historical sites in Boston. Already forty have been marked and one hundred others await markers. If permanent bronze tablets cannot be erected this year, in time for the major features of the tercentenary, temporary signs will be substituted.

Mr. Parker revealed that the state plans propose pageants on land and sea, a spectacular revival depicting the old whaling industry at New Bedford and Nantucket, international yacht races, including a contest of fishing vessels, a celebration to be arranged by lawyers to which members of the British, French and Canadian Bar Associations will be invited, a special session of the Legislature in October, to be a reunion of the former Legislature, and a variety of other features which will begin June 1 and continue for the rest of the year.

Mayor Curley announced the appointment of J. Philip O'Connell as Director of Public Celebrations, a position which he held under the previous Curley administration.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Charles Struzziery has been granted an extension of the time of completion of the contract for building sewerage works in Highview avenue and outlet in Washington street, West Roxbury, from December 28, 1929, to February 28, 1930—sixty-two days.

L. P. Federico & Susi Company have been granted an extension of the time of completion of the contract for laying and relaying water pipes in Southern Artery, etc., from December 31, 1929, to May 1, 1930.

Charles Capone has been granted an extension of the time of completion of the contract for constructing sheet asphalt pavement in Elven road, from Washington street to Stony brook, and in Waldren road, from Walnut park to Westminster avenue; from July 1, 1929, to December 31, 1929.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

The Mechanics Iron Foundry Company have been granted an extension of time for delivery of Class B castings to the Water Service, from December 31, 1929, to January 31, 1930.

MAYOR CURLEY MOVES TO CHECK ACCIDENT AWARDS AGAINST CITY.

Mayor Curley has sent the following letter to Corporation Counsel Deland regarding accident awards for defects in the highways:

FRANK S. DELAND, Corporation Counsel, Boston.

DEAR MR. DELAND,—Orders for payment to individuals who have brought action against the municipality for defects in the highways appear not only numerous but the awards fairly respectable.

I would accordingly appreciate a report from you as to the number of cases tried, the number won and the number lost; the ad damnum in the cases that have been won and the award by jury. Also as to the number that have been settled out of court, the amount of settlement agreed upon and the ad damnum during the past three months, by each month, and also furnish me with a list of the representatives of the Law Department who have acted in each case, whether won or lost.

Sincerely yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 1454.

A trial board consisting of Captains Gallivan, Perry and Smith, having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman John V. Miller of Division 5, charging him with neglect of duty, has reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty as charged. In accordance with which it is hereby ordered that the said Patrolman John V. Miller perform one hundred and five hours' punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 1455.

Patrolman Charles A. Kihlgren of the City Prison having arrived at the age of sixty and two-twelfths years, having performed faithful service in the Police Department for twenty-nine and ten-twelfths years, and having requested to be retired from active service, it is hereby Ordered, That the said Patrolman Kihlgren be retired from active service and that his name be placed upon the department pension roll with pay at the rate of one thousand and fifty (1,050) dollars per annum (payable monthly), said sum being one half of the amount of compensation received by him in the office from which he is retired; to take effect at 5.45 o'clock p. m., Monday, January 13, 1930.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 1456.

Sergt. Charles F. Bannister of the City Prison having arrived at the age of sixty-five years, and having performed faithful service in the Police Department for thirty-seven and five-twelfths years, it is hereby Ordered, His Honor the Mayor having approved the same, that the said Sergt. Charles F. Bannister be retired from active service and that his name be placed upon the department pension roll with pay at the rate of twelve hundred and fifty (1,250) dollars per annum (to be paid monthly), said sum being one half of the amount of compensation received by him in the office from which he is retired; to take effect at 5.45 o'clock p. m., Monday, January 13, 1930.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 1457.

It is my sad duty to announce the death on January 13, 1930, of Patrolman James J. Troy of Division 6 of this department who was killed outright by a murderer's bullet while in the performance of duty, seeking the arrest of a dangerous criminal.

It is regrettable that the public must be informed in this manner of the invaluable services rendered by police officers of this department. Constantly exposed to death from vicious criminals while protecting lives and property, the killing of this young, brave officer epitomizes the hazards and dangers police officers must subject themselves to in performing their sworn duties.

Patrolman Troy was appointed to this department August 10, 1921, and assigned to Division 6, to which station he was continuously attached.

Although realizing that it is in no degree commensurate with the loss sustained and the sorrow to be borne by his immediate family, I wish to extend to his wife and children and the members of his immediate family the sympathy of the Police Department and to state that they may well have pride in a father, son and brother who faced and met death so courageously, as was to be expected of him who so bravely fought as a soldier in defense of his country.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 1458.

Sergeant Weston Shorey of Division 1 having arrived at the age of sixty-two and three-twelfths years, having performed faithful service in the Police Department for twenty-nine and one-twelfth years, and having requested to be retired from active service, it is hereby Ordered, That the said Sergeant Shorey be retired from active service and that his name be placed upon the department pension roll with pay at the rate of $1,250 per annum (payable monthly), said sum being one half of the amount of compensation received by him in the office from which he is retired. To take effect at 5.45 o'clock p. m., Thursday, January 16, 1930.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 1459.

The resignation of Patrolman Cornelius P. Delaney of Division 14 having been presented it is hereby accepted, to take effect at 7.45 o'clock a. m., Friday, January 17, 1930.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

MOVES TO ESTABLISH UNDERPASS AT MASSACHUSETTS AND COMMONWEALTH AVENUES.

Mayor Curley, on January 11, forwarded the following communication to Chairman William P. Long of the Park Department:

MY DEAR MR. LONG,—At the conference held at the Mayor's office on Thursday it was definitely determined that an underpass be established at Massachusetts and Commonwealth avenues for the relief of traffic.

I am extremely desirous that this work proceed at once, provided there are no legal restrictions that would prohibit the creation of this much-needed improvement.

I would greatly appreciate your conferring at the earliest possible date with the Corporation Counsel with a view to determining the legal right of the city to construct the proposed underpass at Commonwealth and Massachusetts avenues.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.
(STATE AND CITY.)

CORRECTION OFFICER, DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTION, JANUARY 29.

The salary ranges from $1,680 to $2,040 a year. There are several vacancies at the present time.

Applicants for appointment as officers in State Prison and Massachusetts Reformatory must be not less than twenty-five nor over forty years of age at the time of filing application. Applicants for appointment as officers in the Prison Camp and Hospital must be not less than twenty-three nor over forty years of age at the time of filing application. All applicants for these places must be not less than 5 feet 7 inches in height and weigh not less than 135 pounds.

A certificate of date of birth must be filed with the application.

Subjects and weights: Training and experience, 4; practical questions covering general disciplinary and penological methods, 3; personality and fitness, as determined by an oral interview, 3; total, 10.

In marking the subject of training and experience credit will be given for the satisfactory completion of courses on the conduct and management of penal institutions. The amount of credit will be determined by the Division of Civil Service and will depend on the standing of the department or institution giving the course and the length of time required for its completion.

Applicants will be required to obtain a mark of at least 60 per cent in practical questions and at least 70 per cent in the other subjects in order to become eligible.

Applicants must have education equivalent to graduation from a grammar school.

Physical fitness to be determined by physical examination and strength tests.

Educational test, 3; physical test, 1; total, 4.

STENOGRAPHIC SERVICE, FEBRUARY 1 AND FEBRUARY 15.

This is the regular examination for the stenographic service of the state and of all cities and of such towns in the state as are classified under civil service. On February 1 the examination will be held in various centrally located cities. On February 15 the examination will be held in Boston, and all persons who reside within commuting distance will be notified for examination on this day.

This examination will be given to fill positions in all grades of the Stenographic Service. All applicants will be given the same examination and will be placed on the list in the order of marks received, and will be certified for any and all stenographic positions in the order of standing on the list unless in the opinion of the Commissioner of Civil Service the mark attained is lower than is proper for the particular position to be filled.

Applicants must be not less than sixteen years of age at the time of filing application.

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 5; stenography, 5; business correspondence, 2; word knowledge, 1; grammar, 1; reasoning, 1; total, 15. The dictation is given at the following rates of speed: 80, 100 and 120, the dictation at each rate of speed consisting of a letter of about 300 words in length. Each applicant selects any two of the three speed tests for transcription. The transcription is marked for both speed and accuracy. Applicants are obliged to obtain at least 70 per cent in accuracy of transcription of one speed test.

Applicants will be required to obtain a mark of at least 50 per cent in each of the other subjects and at least 70 per cent in general average in order to become eligible.

Specimen examination papers may be obtained at the Civil Service office.

AUTOMOBILE FATALITIES.

Automobile fatalities for the months of January and February of this year, as compared with last year, decreased considerably in the cities and increased considerably in the towns and country, as indicated by the Nation-wide reports received by the National Safety Council.

These reports show that the cities had six per cent fewer automobile deaths this year than last year; 61 of the 90 cities that reported showed declines, or no changes at all, as compared with a year ago. But the state-wide reports received during the same period showed an increase of 11 per cent in fatal automobile accidents. In the total, there were an estimated 4,240 motor vehicle deaths during January and February of this year, as compared with 4,220 such fatalities during the same two months of last year.

SITUATION OF BOSTON.

Latitude, North, 42 degrees, 21 minutes, 29.596 seconds; Longitude, West, 71 degrees, 3 minutes, 51.040 seconds (exact situation of apex of State House dome, according to United States Coast and Geodetic Survey). Boston's latitude is similar to that of Detroit and the southern boundary of Oregon, also Rome (Italy), Sofia (Bulgaria), and Mukden (Manchuria); longitude nearly that of Quebec (Canada), Bogota (Colombia) and Santiago (Chile).

$5,000,000 OVERPASS AND BRIDGE ACROSS CHARLES RIVER, APPROVED BY MAYOR CURLEY, IS ORDERED SUBMITTED TO STATE COMMISSION ON WAR MEMORIAL — ISLAND PROPOSED TO BE NEAR HARVARD BRIDGE.

Mayor Curley has instructed William P. Long, chairman of the Park Commission, to submit to the War Memorial Commission the plans for a new bridge over the Charles river to be joined with a traffic overpass from the railroad bridge on Charlesgate West, across Commonwealth avenue and Beacon street. The state commission has recommended the erection of an island in the river at Harvard Bridge and the erection of a war memorial.

Park Commissioner Long submitted the sketch of the suggested bridge and overpass to the Mayor. He was interested in such improvement five years ago, but a definite plan was not prepared until recently and it impressed the Mayor so much that he instructed Commissioner Long to submit it to the War Memorial Commission.

The estimated cost of the overpass and bridge is $5,000,000. Upon the assumption that the island, if it is created, will be located west of Harvard Bridge, with the memorial in the center, Commissioner Long has suggested another bridge which will cross the island not far from its southern extremity.

The possibilities of an overpass as a relief to traffic congestion, due to the movement of vehicles into Massachusetts avenue towards Harvard Bridge from Beacon street, have been stressed in the plan.

The overpass which has been suggested would follow a slightly curving route from the crest of the grade in Charlesgate West to the bridge which would extend to Memorial Drive in Cambridge.

Provision has been made for anchor-shaped approaches to the overpass, from Commonwealth avenue and Beacon street, and the plans call for an underpass at Newbury street at the junction of Charlesgate East and West.

PLAN OF OVERPASS AND BRIDGE ACROSS CHARLES RIVER SUBMITTED BY MAYOR CURLEY IN CONNECTION WITH WORLD WAR MEMORIAL.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

INAUGURAL EXERCISES.

Symphony Hall, Boston, Mass.,
Monday, January 6, 1930.

The ceremonies attending the inauguration of Mayor-elect James M. Curley and the City Councilors-elect of the City of Boston were held in Symphony Hall at 10 o'clock a. m., the Mayor-elect and the members-elect of the Council for 1930 all being present.

The invocation by Rev. Father James F. Kelly, of Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Jamaica Plain, was as follows:

In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

Almighty God, Eternal Father, whose eyes are upon all the earth and who giveth strength to those who trust in Him, look down, we pray thee, upon this assembly. Bless our city; bless and guide him whom the voice of his fellow citizens has called to civic leadership and who enters this day upon his solemn duties. Mindful of thy word, O God, "lest the Lord keep the city, they labor in vain who keep it," do Thou grant to him and to those who have been chosen to counsel with him in our city's government the will to labor patiently. Give them light, O God, to see, give them courage to overcome difficulties, give them strength and steadfastness to be faithful to their stewardship, that our city's name may grow in honor and Thy name be glorified, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.

In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

City Clerk DOYLE read a communication from the Board of Election Commissioners certifying to the election of James M. Curley as Mayor.

The oath of office was administered to Mayor-elect James M. Curley by Chief Justice Arthur P. Ruger.

City Clerk DOYLE read a communication from the Board of Election Commissioners, certifying to the election of members of the City Council, as follows:

City Council.

Ward 1, Timothy F. Donovan, 100 Bayswater street.

Ward 2, Thomas H. Green, 117 Baldwin street.

Ward 3, John I. Fitzgerald, 7 Allen street.

Ward 4, Seth F. Arnold, 92 Huntington avenue.

Ward 5, Laurence Curtis, 2d, 464 Beacon street.

Ward 6, Michael J. Mahoney, 270 West Third street.

Ward 7, William G. Lynch, 670 Columbia road.

Ward 8, John F. Dowd, 22 Greenville street.

Ward 9, Richard D. Gleason, 66 Highland street.

Ward 10, Leo F. Power, 12 Eldora street.

Ward 11, Edward L. Englert, 92 West Walnut park.

Ward 12, Herman L. Bush, 132 Seaver street.

Ward 13, Joseph McGrath, 9 Castle Rock street.

Ward 14, Israel Ruby, 102 Talbot avenue.

Ward 15, Francis E. Kelly, 24 Toplift street.

Ward 16, Albert L. Fish, 12 Rowena street.

Ward 17, Robert Gardiner Wilson, Jr., 44 Kenwood street.

Ward 18, Clement A. Norton, 8 Austin street.

Ward 19, Peter A. Murray, 7 St. John street.

Ward 20, Joseph P. Cox, 176 Temple street.

Ward 21, James Hein, 1135 Commonwealth avenue.

Ward 22, Edward M. Gallagher, 21 Oak Square avenue.

It appeared that all were present. A roll of the members-elect of the City Council was called by Assistant City Clerk Hynes, and as the names were called, the members arose. The oath of office was administered to them by Mayor Curley.

Mayor CURLEY, before commencing his inaugural address, said:

Honorable City Clerk, Reverend Father, honored guests and friends, and, in addition, the invisible radio audience unable to be present but who are listening in, and, included in that invisible audience, one who has been at my side for twenty-four years at every public function and who would be here today were it not that God wills otherwise. (Applause.) For her I ask the prayers of all.

Mayor CURLEY then delivered his inaugural address.

The Mayor and suite and the members of the City Council withdrew from Symphony Hall.

MEETING OF THE CITY COUNCIL.

The City Council of 1930 were called to order in the Council Chamber, City Hall, by Coun. DONOVAN, President of the City Council of 1929, at 12.35 p. m.

Chairman DONOVAN—The Council will be in order. The Chair will call on Coun. Cox of West Roxbury, the senior member of the Council, to preside.

Coun. COX took the chair and said:
The clerk will call the roll to ascertain the presence of a quorum.

The clerk called the roll and all the members of the Council were found to be present, as follows:

Ward 1, Timothy F. Donovan; Ward 2, Thomas H. Green; Ward 3, John I. Fitzgerald; Ward 4, Seth F. Arnold; Ward 5, Laurence Curtis, 2d; Ward 6, Michael J. Mahoney; Ward 7, William G. Lynch; Ward 8, John F. Dowd; Ward 9, Richard D. Gleason; Ward 10, Leo F. Power; Ward 11, Edward L. Englert; Ward 12, Herman L. Bush; Ward 13, Joseph McGrath; Ward 14, Israel Ruby; Ward 15, Francis E. Kelly; Ward 16, Albert L. Fish; Ward 17, Robert Gardiner Wilson, Jr.; Ward 18, Clement A. Norton; Ward 19, Peter A. Murray; Ward 20, Joseph P. Cox; Ward 21, James Hein; Ward 22, Edward M. Gallagher.

Chairman COX—A quorum is in attendance. Motions, orders and resolutions.

Coun. MAHONEY—Mr. Chairman, I move that we now ballot for the election of a president.

Coun. DONOVAN—I would move to amend that, Mr. Chairman, that we ballot for a president for the current municipal year, 1930.

Coun. MAHONEY—Mr. Chairman, I accept the amendment.

The Council voted to proceed to a ballot for president for 1930. The clerk called the roll, with the following result:

For Edward M. Gallagher—Coun. Arnold, Fox, Curtis, Dowd, Englert, Fish, Gallagher, Hein, Kelly, Norton, Power—11.

For John I. Fitzgerald—Coun. Bush, Donovan, Fitzgerald, Gleason, Green, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, Ruby—9.

For Joseph P. Cox—Coun. Murray—1.

For Herman L. Bush—Coun. Wilson—1.

And there was no choice.

Coun. FISH—Mr. Chairman, I move you, sir, that we now proceed to the election of a president for the ensuing year.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. Chairman, before that ballot is cast, let me state that last year when this Council balloted for president it took nearly one hundred ballots to elect our president. It took us three months before the City Council really started to function. Today we sit down again as a representative body of the citizens of the City of Boston and we find nine new faces in this Council. I hope and trust that the word will not go out today that the City Council is again deadlocked on this issue. It is very plain to me that a majority of the councilors who have voted really desire to have as their president. Then, why prolong the situation? Councilor Gallagher of Brighton has eleven votes for the presidency of the Council. There is not an individual here who would not like to be president. I do not want it to be said, however, that we cannot agree on any candidate. We can and should do so, and I hope and trust that on the next ballot Mr. Gallagher will receive the twelfth and deciding vote.

Coun. Fish's motion to proceed to the election of a president for the year 1930 was declared carried, and the clerk called the roll with the following result:

For Edward M. Gallagher—Coun. Arnold, Cox, Curtis, Dowd, Englert, Fish, Gallagher, Hein, Kelly, Norton, Power—11.

For John I. Fitzgerald—Coun. Bush, Donovan, Fitzgerald, Gleason, Green, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, Ruby—9.

For Joseph P. Cox—Coun. Murray—1.

For Herman L. Bush—Coun. Wilson—1.

And there was no choice.

PAYMENT OF AID TO SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

Coun. MAHONEY offered the following:

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 115 of the General Laws, and acts in amendment thereof or in addition thereto, the amounts set forth in the list of allowances hereto annexed, for the month of January, 1930, of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families residing in the City of Boston or having a settlement therein, be hereby approved and paid until otherwise ordered, unless the person named shall previously become ineligible to receive said aid.

Passed.

RULES OF THE CITY COUNCIL.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That the rules of the City Council of 1929, except Rules 13, 24 and 34, be adopted as the temporary rules of this body, until permanent rules are adopted.

Passed.

REINSTATEMENT OF MICHAEL KELLEY.

Coun. MAHONEY offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council favors legislation providing for the reinstatement of Michael Kelley in the Boston Fire Department.

Passed.

LEGISLATION IN RE CONSTRUCTION OF STREETS.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council favors the enactment of legislation providing for the laying out and construction of certain streets and highways in the City of Boston.

Passed.

UNEMPLOYMENT SITUATION IN BOSTON.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:

Whereas, The unemployment situation in Boston is extremely acute at the present time; and

Whereas, A statement appeared in the local newspapers during the past week to the effect that the Boston Navy Yard is to be closed down within a few days because no work has been assigned there, which will mean the discharge of several hundred mechanics and skilled laborers; and

Whereas, In view of the fact that President Hoover has held several conferences with leaders of industry in the United States in an effort to devise ways and means to stabilize industry, it is the opinion of the members of the City Council of Boston that President Hoover should instruct Secretary of the Navy Adams to send work to the Boston Navy Yard and thus follow out the principles which he has been advocating; therefore be it

Resolved, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to communicate immediately with President Hoover asking him to instruct the Secretary of the Navy to at once assign work to the Boston Navy Yard and thus forestall the threatened discharge of hundreds of employees.

Passed.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT.

Coun. ARNOLD—Mr. Chariman, I move that we proceed to the election of a president for the current municipal year, 1930.

The motion was carried, and the clerk called the roll, with the following result:

For Edward M. Gallagher—Coun. Arnold, Cox, Curtis, Dowd, Englert, Fish, Gallagher, Hein, Kelly, Norton, Power—11.

For John I. Fitzgerald—Coun. Donovan, Fitzgerald, Gleason, Green, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, Murray, Ruby—9.

For Robert G. Wilson, Jr.—Coun. Bush—1.

For Herman L. Bush—Coun. Wilson—1.

And there was no choice.

Coun. MAHONEY—Mr. President, I move that we now take another ballot for president for the municipal year 1930.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, whereas it appears that this Council is again going to be deadlocked on balloting for president, and as I have done my utmost to elect the man of my choice, Councilor Gallagher, I desire to inform the Council that on the next ballot I am going to vote for the man whom I feel will be the next President of the Council, Councilor Lynch of South Boston.

Chairman COX—The clerk will call the roll.

The clerk called the roll, with the following result:

For Edward M. Gallagher—Coun. Arnold, Cox, Curtis, Englert, Fish, Gallagher, Hein, Kelly, Norton, Power—9.

For Robert G. Wilson, Jr.—Coun. Bush—1.

For Joseph P. Cox—Coun. Murray—1.

For William G. Lynch—Coun. Donovan, Dowd, Fitzgerald, Gleason, Green, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, Ruby, Wilson—10.

Before the vote was announced, the following members arose and changed their votes for President for 1930 to William G. Lynch—Coun. Bush, Murray, Englert, Fish, Power.

Chairman COX—William G. Lynch has fifteen votes, Edward M. Gallagher seven, and William G. Lynch is elected President of the Council for the municipal year 1930. (Applause.) The Chair appoints Coun. Dowd and Donovan to escort Mr. Lynch to the chair.

The committee performed the duty assigned, and President Lynch assumed the chair.

President LYNCH—Fellow members of the City Council, I am very proud to receive this honor at your hands. I can only say that I hope that when I leave the office it will be with your best wishes and that I will have been able to fulfill the duties of the office as capably and fairly as my predecessor. I thank you once more. (Applause.) The Chair awaits the pleasure of the Council.

REPAVING OF ELM HILL AVENUE.

Coun. BUSH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to include in the budget for 1930 a sum sufficient to repave Elm Hill avenue, Ward 12, with either asphalt or bitulithic pavement.

Passed.

UNIFORMS OF FIRE AND POLICE DEPARTMENTS.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioners of the Fire and Police Departments be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to see that all future contracts for the manufacture of uniforms for the members of their respective departments be awarded to firms having a place of manufacture in Boston, and preferably to citizens of Boston.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, now that the Council has organized I do not feel restrained from introducing this resolution, especially after hearing, as we did this morning, in that wonderful inaugural address of the Mayor, his reference to the unemployment situation in Boston. I know that his sentiments are those expressed in this order—that, certainly with the present unemployment here, uniforms which are used for employees of the City of Boston should be manufactured in our city, and certainly where such uniforms can be as well or better manufactured here as in any other city in the country. If I am correctly informed, the uniforms worn by the police of Boston today are made in Philadelphia, and I cannot for the life of me understand how we can expect to encourage industry and the employment of our own citizen labor unless we, functioning as a City Council, endeavor through our department heads to have the city itself set an example along that line. I am also informed that there will be in the very near future contracts for the manufacture of both firemen's and policemen's uniforms here. There are today, if I understand correctly, over 1,600 men in the personnel of the Fire Department and almost 2,300 in the personnel of the Police Department. If those uniforms are made in Boston from goods purchased in Boston, we will be helping to relieve the unemployment situation here and will have helped to carry out the suggestions in the inaugural of his Honor the Mayor this morning. I ask for a suspension of the rule and the passage of the order.

The order passed under suspension of the rule.

REFERENCE TO COMMITTEES.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That matters referred to this City Council by the City Council of 1929 be referred to the appropriate committees of this body when appointed. Passed.

RULES FOR PROCEEDINGS.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That a committee of five members of the City Council be appointed to prepare and report rules for the proceedings of this body.

Passed.

BALLOT FOR DOCUMENT CLERK.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I now move that we proceed to a ballot for document clerk of the City Council for the ensuing year.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I offer a substitute motion, that the Council take a recess for ten minutes.

The motion to take a recess was lost.

Coun. BUSH—Mr. President, I move that the matter be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. Bush's motion was put and the Chair, being in doubt, called for a rising vote. The motion to refer the matter to the Executive Committee was carried by a rising vote.

RECESS.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I move that we take a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Council voted, at 1.18 p. m., to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The members reassembled in the Council Chamber at 3.50 p. m., President LYNCH in the chair.

ELECTION OF DOCUMENT MAN.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Council now proceed to the election of a document man in the City Messenger Department.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, may I suggest, while there are several candidates for this position, that, in my opinion, there is no person better qualified to fill the position than the candidate from my district. I believe he is entitled to the position, and I am going to ask each and every member here, particularly the new members, to cast their vote for Thomas W. McMahon for the office of document clerk.

Coun. Kelly's motion to proceed with a ballot for document clerk was declared carried, and the clerk called the roll, with the following result:

For Thomas W. McMahon—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Curtis, Donovan, Dowd, Englert, Fish, Gallagher, Gleason, Green, Hein, Kelly, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, Norton, Power, Ruby, Wilson—19. For Peter J. Murphy—Coun. Murray—1.

Before the result was announced, Coun. MURRAY said:

Mr. President, I would like to change my vote from Mr. Murphy to Mr. McMahon, to make it unanimous.

President LYNCH—Mr. McMahon has twenty votes and is duly elected to the position of document clerk.

Adjourned at 4.03 p. m., on motion of Coun. RUBY, to meet on Monday, January 13, at 2 p. m.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, January 13, 1930.

Regular meeting of the City Council held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., President LYNCH in the chair. Absent, Coun. Wilson.

Severally laid over a week under the law.

TEMPORARY LOAN IN ANTICIPATION OF TAXES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, January 13, 1930.

To the Honorable City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of the attached request and I recommend to your honorable body for adoption the accompanying order providing for the necessary funds to meet the financial requirements in anticipation of taxes for the year 1930.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Auditing Department, January 13, 1930.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am submitting herewith customary order for temporary loan in anticipation of taxes, and respectfully request same to be forwarded to the City Council, with recommendation for its adoption.

Respectfully yours,

RUPERT S. CARVEN, City Auditor.

Ordered, That to provide temporarily money to meet the appropriations for the financial year 1930, the City Treasurer issue and sell, at such times and in such amounts, as he may deem best, notes or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston not exceeding twenty-four million dollars in the total, in anticipation of the taxes of the current municipal year; that all such notes or certificates of indebtedness be dated the day the money for the same is received, be made payable with the interest thereon within one year of their date from the taxes of the year 1930, and bear interest from their date until the same are made payable at such rate as the City Auditor, the City Treasurer and the Mayor may determine.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I understand that that is to provide necessary money to care for current expenses until the budget has been made up, and I ask a suspension of the rules and the passage of the order.

President LYNCH—The Chair would state that this order requires two separate readings, fourteen days apart.

Coun. McGRATH moved a suspension of the rule and the passage of the order.

The rule was suspended, and the order was given its first reading and passage, yeas 20, nays 0.

LAND, BATH STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, January 8, 1930.

To the Honorable City Council.

Gentlemen,—As pointed out in my inaugural message the municipality has its limitations in the matter of providing relief for unemployment and without the assistance of individuals and corporations, either engaged in business in the city or contemplating engaging in business in the city, little can be accomplished.

The really important work confronting the city government of Boston is to give that character of aid and encouragement that will not only inspire confidence but promote a desire on the part of enterprise to locate in Boston.

A tender has been submitted by a Boston enterprise for the purchase of an unused piece of realty comprising a portion of Bath street to enable them to erect immediately a structure with an estimated value of $1,000,000 and to which later they propose an addition representing an equal expenditure. The conditions in the building trades at the present time justify a suspension of the rules by your honorable body that action may be expedited and that not only opportunities for the unemployed to secure work may be created, but that in addition taxable property may be erected which will continue permanently to add to the revenues of the City of Boston. I have assurances that if immediate action is taken the work will be begun within five days from the date of the signing of the order.

Under the circumstances I sincerely trust that your honorable body will vote to suspend the rules and adopt the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Whereas, It is proposed that Bath street in the City of Boston be discontinued;

Now, therefore, it is Ordered, That in the event of such discontinuance the Mayor of the said City of Boston be, and he hereby is, authorized to grant to the Water Street Company, a Massachusetts corporation, by an instrument in writing satisfactory to the Law Department of said City of Boston, all the right, title and interest which the said City of Boston may have at the time of or after said street is discontinued in and to the following parcels of land which make up said Bath street, namely, a certain parcel of land containing 929 square feet, shown on a plan entitled "Plan of Land in Boston, Scale 8 feet to 1 inch, May 23, 1929, Aspinwall & Lincoln, Civil Engineers," filed in the land registration office June 19, 1929, numbered 13639A, and filed with certificate of title numbered 26757 in the Suffolk Registry District of the Land Court; a parcel of land containing one hundred thirty-four and 6-10 square feet, shown on a plan of land entitled "Plan of Land in Boston, Scale 8 feet to 1 inch, July 19, 1929, Aspinwall & Lincoln, Civil Engineers," filed in the land registration office August 23, 1929, numbered 13751A, and filed with certificate of title numbered 26758 in the Suffolk Registry District of the Land Court, upon the payment to the said City of Boston of thirty thousand dollars and upon the further consideration that the said Water Street Company shall, by an instrument in writing, satisfactory to the Law Department of the said City of Boston, agree to hold the said City of Boston harmless from all claims and demands for damages caused by or in any way growing out of said discontinuance, or growing out of this grant;

And it is further Ordered, That the Mayor of the City of Boston be, and he hereby is, authorized to execute and deliver the said instrument which shall be satisfactory in form to the Law Department of the City of Boston.

On motion of Coun. BUSH the rule was suspended and the order was given its first reading and passage, yeas 20, nays 0.

LOAN FOR SEWERAGE WORKS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, January 13, 1930.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—It is customary, in conformity with the provisions of chapter 426 of the Acts of 1897, as amended by chapter 204 of the Acts of 1908, to make an annual appropriation in the sum of $1,000,000 for sewerage works.

It has long been recognized that this amount is wholly inadequate since both materials and wages have advanced more than three hundred per cent since the adoption of the 1908 Act.

Legislation is now sought to make available sufficient funds to properly meet the requirements in sewerage works and, pending action by the Legislature, I recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 426 of the Acts of 1897, as amended by chapter 204 of the Acts of 1908, the sum of $1,000,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated to be expended under direction of the Commissioner of Public Works for sewerage works, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

The order was referred to the Committee on Finance.

LOAN FOR COLUMBUS PARK IMPROVEMENTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, January 13, 1930.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—With a view to the completion of one of Boston's major public improvements, and, in addition, to provide some relief for unemployment, I recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $750,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated to be expended by the Board of Park Commissioners for Columbus

Park, Improvements, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City to said amount.

On motion of Coun. DOWD, the rule was suspended, and the order was given its first reading and passage, yeas 20, nays 0.

ESTABLISHMENT OF BRANCH LIBRARIES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, January 13, 1930.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—In the opinion of the trustees of the Boston Public Library a more effective method of distribution should be created.

In my opinion the establishment of two branch libraries each year for a period of twenty years will solve the distribution problem without seriously burdening any generation, and I accordingly recommend the initial step in this program by the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $200,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated to be expended by the Trustees of the Boston Public Library for Branch Libraries, Establishment of, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

MUNICIPAL PRINTING DEPARTMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, January 13, 1930.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—The Municipal Printing Department since its creation has occupied leased premises in various sections of the city and in every case, prior to the expiration of the leases, which have usually been of short duration, have been required to pay increased rentals or compelled to move at a considerable expense to the city because of the character of equipment.

With a view to alleviating this situation the Superintendent of Printing was requested by me some years ago to permit departmental earnings to accumulate with a view to the creation of a sufficient fund at some time to purchase a site and erect a building for use of the Printing Department and such other municipal departments as it might be deemed advisable to provide quarters for therein.

As a consequence of this policy the Printing Department at the present time has in its possession slightly in excess of $300,000, a sum sufficiently ample to provide for the purchase of site and the erection of necessary structure, and I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $300,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated to be expended by the Superintendent of Printing for Printing Department, Building, said appropriation to be met from the revenue of the Printing Department.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

PAY ROLL OF REGISTRY OF DEEDS.

The pay roll of Registry of Deeds, amounting to $4,765.37, for regular employees, January 1 to 15, inclusive, was received and approved.

RULES OF CITY COUNCIL.

Coun. DONOVAN, for the Committee on Rules, reported a draft of the rules for the government of the City Council for 1930-31, being the same rules as were in force during the term of the previous City Council, recommending its adoption, viz.:

Rule 1. Unless otherwise ordered from time to time the regular meeting of the City Council shall be held on every Monday at two o'clock p. m. Special meetings may be called by the President at his discretion, and by the City Clerk for the purpose only of drawing jurors.

President.

Rule 2. The President of the Council shall take the chair at the hour to which the Council shall have adjourned and shall call the members to order, and a quorum being present, shall proceed with the regular order of business. In the absence of the President the senior member by age present shall preside as temporary president or until a presiding officer is chosen.

Rule 3. The President shall preserve decorum and order, may speak to points of order in preference to other members and shall decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal. Any member may appeal from the decision of the Chair, and, when properly seconded, no other business, except a motion to adjourn or to lay on the table, shall be in order until the question on appeal has been decided. The question shall be put as follows:

"Shall the decision of the Chair stand as the judgment of the Council?" The vote shall be by a roll call, and it shall be decided in the affirmative unless a majority of the votes are to the contrary.

Rule 4. The President shall propound all motions in the order in which they are moved, unless the subsequent motion shall be previous in its nature, except that, in naming sums and fixing times, the largest sum and the longest time shall be put first.

Rule 5. The President shall, at the request of any member, make a division of a question when the sense will admit of it.

Rule 6. The President shall, without debate, decide all questions relating to priority of business to be acted upon.

Rule 7. The President shall declare all votes; but if any member doubts a vote, the President shall cause a rising vote to be taken, and, when any member so requests, shall cause the vote to be taken or verified by yeas and nays.

Rule 8. The President shall appoint all committees, fill all vacancies therein, and designate the rank of the members thereof.

Rule 9. When the President of the Council or the president pro tempore shall desire to vacate the chair he may call any member to it; but such substitution shall not continue beyond an adjournment.

Motions.

Rule 10. Every motion shall be reduced to writing if the President shall so direct.

Rule 11. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible; but a motion to strike out being lost shall not preclude amendment, or a motion to strike out and insert.

Rule 12. No motion or proposition of a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment.

Rule 13. When an order or resolution relates to a subject which may properly be examined and reported upon by an existing committee of the City Council, such order or resolution shall, upon presentation, be referred to such committee. When a motion is made to refer any subject, and different committees are proposed, the motions shall be put in the following order:

1. To a standing committee of the Council.
2. To a special committee of the Council.

Any member offering a motion, order or resolution, which is referred to a committee, shall be given a hearing on the same by the committee before a report is made thereon, provided he so requests at the time of offering the order or before final action by the committee.

Any matter referred to a committee may be recalled by a majority vote of all the members of the Council, if such matter is not reported upon within one month from the date of reference.

Rule 14. After a motion has been put by the President it shall not be withdrawn except by unanimous consent.

Rule 15. When a question is under debate the following motions only shall be entertained, and shall have precedence in the order in which they stand arranged:

1. To adjourn.
2. To lay on the table.
3. The previous question.
4. To close debate at a specified time.
5. To postpone to a day certain.
6. To commit.
7. To amend.
8. To postpone indefinitely.

Rule 16. A motion to adjourn shall be in order at any time, except on an immediate repetition or pending a verification of a vote; and that motion, the motion to lay on the table, the motion to take from the table, and the motion for the previous question, shall be decided without debate.

Readings.

Rule 17. Every ordinance, order and resolution shall, unless rejected, have two several readings, both of which may take place at the same session unless objection is made, provided, however, that all orders for the expenditure of moneys, unless reported upon by a committee of the Council, shall lie over for one week before final action thereon. Whenever the second reading immediately follows the first reading, the document may be read by its title only; provided, that all orders releasing rights or easements in or restrictions on land, all orders for the sale of land other than school lands, all appropriations for the purchase of land other than for school purposes, and all loans voted by the City Council shall require a vote of two thirds of all the members of the City Council, and shall be passed only after two separate readings and by two separate votes, the second of said readings and votes to be had not less than fourteen days after the first.

Reconsideration.

Rule 18. When a vote has been passed any member may move a reconsideration thereof at the same meeting. No member shall speak for more than ten minutes on a motion to reconsider.

Rule 19. When a motion to reconsider has been decided, that decision shall not be reconsidered, and no question shall be twice reconsidered unless it has been amended after the reconsideration; nor shall any reconsideration be had upon the following motions:

To adjourn.

The previous question.

To lay on the table.

Take from the table.

To close debate at a specified time.

A motion to reconsider may be laid on the table or postponed indefinitely, and the effect of such action in either case shall be to defeat the motion to reconsider.

Conduct of Members.

Rule 20. Every member when about to speak shall rise, address the Chair, and wait until he is recognized, and, in speaking, shall refrain from mentioning any other member by name, shall confine himself to the question and avoid personalities. Any member who, in debate or otherwise, indulges in personalities or makes charges reflecting upon the character of another member, shall make an apology in open session at the meeting at which the offence is committed or at the next succeeding regular meeting, and, failing to do so, shall be named by the President or held in contempt and suspended from further participation in debate until said apology is made.

Rule 21. No member shall speak more than once on a question when another member who has not spoken claims the floor, and no member speaking shall, without his consent, be interrupted by another, except upon a point of order.

Rule 22. No member shall be permitted to vote on any question, or to serve on any committee, where his private right is immediately concerned, distinct from the public interest.

Rule 23. Every member who shall be present when a question is put, unless he is excluded by interest, shall give his vote, unless the Council for special reason shall excuse him. Application to be so excused on any question must be made before the Council is divided, or before the calling of the yeas and nays; and such application shall be accompanied by a brief statement of the reasons, and shall be decided without debate.

Standing Committees.

Rule 24. The following standing committees of the Council, and all other committees, unless specially directed by the Council, shall be appointed by the President:

1. A committee, to be known as the Executive Committee, to consist of all the members of the Council.

2. A Committee on Appropriations, to consist of seven members of the Council, to whom shall be referred such appropriation orders as may be submitted to the Council from time to time.

3. A Committee on Claims, to consist of five members of the Council, to whom shall be referred all claims against the city arising from the act or neglect of any of its departments. They shall report annually an account of the claims awarded or approved by them, and the amount of money awarded or paid in settlements thereof.

4. A Committee on County Accounts, to consist of five members of the Council.

5. A Committee on Finance, to consist of seven members of the Council, to whom shall be referred all applications for expenditure which involve a loan.

6. A Committee on Inspection of Prisons, to consist of five members of the Council.

7. A Committee on Jitney Licenses, to consist of five members of the Council.

8. A Committee on Legislative Matters, to consist of five members of the Council, who shall, unless otherwise ordered, appear before the committees of the General Court and represent the interest of the city; provided, said committee shall not appear unless authorized by vote of the City Council, and shall not, unless directed so to do by the City Council, oppose any legislation petitioned for by the preceding City Council.

9. A Committee on Ordinances, to consist of seven members of the Council, to whom shall be referred all ordinances or orders concerning ordinances.

10. A Committee on Parkman Fund, to consist of five members of the Council, to whom shall be referred all matters concerning the Parkman property, or the expenditure of the income from the Parkman Fund.

11. A Committee on Printing, to consist of five members of the Council, who shall have the charge of all printing, advertising or publishing ordered by the City Council as one of its contingent or incidental expenses, and the supply of all stationery or binding for the same purpose. The committee shall fix the number of copies to be printed of any document printed as above, the minimum, however, to be four hundred; and they shall have the right to make rules and regulations for the care, custody and distribution of all documents, books, pamphlets and maps by the City Messenger.

12. A Committee on Public Lands, to consist of five members of the Council, to whom shall be referred all matters relating to public lands.

13. A Committee on Rules, to consist of five members of the Council, to consider all matters concerning the rules, and to whom shall be referred all resolutions expressing opinions, principles, facts or purposes.

14. A Committee on Soldiers' Relief, to consist of five members of the Council, who shall determine the amount of aid to be allowed to soldiers and sailors and their families and submit a schedule of the same to the City Council monthly.

Order of Business.

Rule 25. At every regular meeting of the Council the order of business shall be as follows:

1. Communications from his Honor the Mayor.
2. Presentation of petitions, memorials and remonstrances.
3. Reports of city officers, etc.
4. Unfinished business of preceding meetings.
5. Reports of committees.
6. Motions, orders and resolutions.

Spectators.

Rule 26. No person, except a member of the Council, shall be permitted to occupy the seat of any member while the Council is in session.

Rule 27. No person, excepting heads of departments, officials connected with the City Council, and reporters, shall be allowed in the ante-rooms or upon the floor of the Council Chamber while the Council is in session. Spectators will be allowed in the gallery of the Council Chamber when the Council is in session, and no one will be admitted to said gallery after the seats are occupied. The City Messenger shall enforce this rule.

Burial Grounds.

Rule 28. No permission for the use of land for the purpose of burial shall be granted until a public hearing shall have been given by the Executive Committee of the City Council on the application for such permission, after due notice has been served upon abutters.

Smoking in the Council Chamber.

Rule 29. No smoking shall be allowed in the Council Chamber when the Council is in session.

Committee Meetings.

Rule 30. No meeting of any committee shall, without the consent of all the members thereof, be called upon less notice than twenty-four hours from the time the clerk shall have mailed the notices or dispatched them by special messenger, provided, however, that meetings of the Executive Committee may be held in the recess period of any meeting of the Council without such consent or notice. No committee, unless authorized by an order of the City Council, shall incur any expense. No committee meetings shall be called later than one hour immediately preceding the time set for any regular meeting of the City Council, nor shall any committee remain in session later than the hour named for any such regular meeting.

Form of Votes.

Rule 31. In all votes the form of expression shall be "Ordered" for everything by way of command, and the form shall be "Resolved" for everything expressing opinions, principles, facts or purposes.

Transfers.

Rule 32. Every application for an appropriation to be provided for by transfer shall be referred to the Executive Committee, unless otherwise ordered, and no such appropriation shall be made until the said committee has reported thereon.

Use of Committee Rooms.

Rule 33. No person except members of the City Council and regularly assigned city hall reporters shall be admitted at any time to committee room 48A, the locker room, or the President's room, except when invited on official business, or when present by invitation of and accompanied by a member of the City Council.

Amendment and Suspension.

Rule 34. The foregoing rules shall not be altered, amended, suspended or repealed at any time, except by the votes of two-thirds of the members of the City Council present and voting thereon.

Report accepted; rules adopted.

CITY WARDS WITH MORE PEOPLE THAN A STATE.

The city of Chicago is divided into fifty wards, each of which sends an alderman to the City Council. According to figures recently compiled by Frederick Rex, librarian of the Chicago Municipal Reference Library, eighteen of the wards each have a population exceeding that of the state of Nevada, now estimated as 77,000. In the state of Illinois the city next to Chicago in size is Peoria, estimated at 84,500 as of July 1, 1928. Eleven of the Chicago wards are of greater size than this. The largest—the seventh—has a population estimated at 114,729, about the same as Tampa, Duluth, or Reading, Pa.

DEATH PERIL ONLY 75 TIMES AS GREAT IN AIR NAVIGATION AS IN MOTORING.

Man has now reached the point in his development of air navigation where it is only seventy-five times as dangerous to operate a plane for a given number of miles as an automobile, for a trip of the same length, according to a computation made by The World (New York) from figures released by F. C. Martel, Chief of the Statistical Bureau of the Aeronautics Branch of the Department of Commerce.

Aviation accidents in the United States took 384 lives in 1928, Mr. Martel reported. The total distance flown by all aircraft, civilian, commercial and Government, during 1928, according to the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce, was 65,658,936. This means one life for every 170,960 miles.

The National Automobile Chamber of Commerce estimates that 24,932 were killed in motor accidents in the United States during 1928. There were 24,493,124 cars, which, according to the Chamber's estimate, traveled 6,000 miles each. Computation shows that one life is sacrificed for every 6,001,219 automobile miles. The latter number divided by 170,960 gives thirty-five. The ratio of danger per mile of automobiling to aviation would therefore be one to thirty-five were it not that some 55 per cent of those killed in motor accidents, according to the Chamber, are pedestrians.

The relative danger of autos and planes was computed by multiplying 35 by 2 and adding 5, giving the approximate ratio of 1 to 75.

LIFE-GIVING PATRIOTISM IS LOCAL.

By civic patriotism is meant the feeling and the taking of a deep, unselfish, earnest, ever-wakeful, active interest in the affairs of one's own city or local community, regarding it as having an autonomy, a distinct personality, a name and interests of its own, and, if one pleases, endowed with a sense of personal honor and with all laudable ambitions for the promotion of the welfare of its people.

Where such civic virtues exist the local community will neither suffer from the dry-rot of public indifference and neglect nor become tainted with graft or corruption. Its life will be healthful, and, like the ocean, will be kept pure by its own ceaseless flow and movement. All life-giving patriotism is local.

Show a good municipal citizen and one will see a citizen who loves his state, and who loves his nation, and who will discharge all the duties of this triple relation. Good government in local affairs is the best assurance of good government in state and national affairs.

Rules for Examinations.

All examinations shall be given in English.

Applicants for Class B or journeyman's certificate must be at least eighteen years of age and have had at least two years' practical experience or the equivalent in the installation of wires, conduits, apparatus, fixtures and other appliances for carrying or using electricity for light, heat or power purposes.

Applicants for Class A or master's certificate must be at least twenty-one years of age and have had at least two years' experience in the business of installing wires, conduits, apparatus, fixtures and other appliances for carrying or using electricity for light, heat or power purposes.

Examinations shall consist of applicant's knowledge of the National Electrical Code and practical electrical work.

All persons desiring to be examined, either for a master of journeyman certificate, shall have application on file at least ten days previous to the date of such examination.

Applicants for examination will be required to obtain at least 70 per cent in order to obtain a certificate.

Applicants who fail to obtain the required 70 per cent will not be entitled to re-examination until a period of three months has elapsed, and those who receive less than 50 per cent, or who fail on the practical demonstration, will not be re-examined for a period of six months.

Any person found referring to notes or books, or misbehaving during an examination, will be debarred from that examination.

Notice will be sent to applicants for certificates when and where examination will be held, and only those so notified will be examined on that day.

CONSOLIDATION OF COUNTIES TO REDUCE TAXES.

Just as consolidation of small business under holding or managing companies reduces overhead costs, it is fair to believe that consolidation of small counties into larger units would reduce taxes through eliminating duplicating offices, etc.

New York has a plan for recasting more than 60 counties into 37 units, and Tennessee, after already having merged 2 counties, now plans to merge the 95 counties in the state into 11 new units.

The results of Tennessee's experience in merging Hamilton and James counties in 1919, as portrayed by J. W. Manning of Vanderbilt University, are interesting. He points out that taxes in James County have been reduced one half, paved highways have been increased from two miles to fifty miles, and many manufacturing plants have entered the county because of the reduction in taxes. The results in New York and Tennessee will be watched with interest by the whole country.

NEW $100,000 IMPROVEMENT PROPOSED FOR STRANDWAY AT SOUTH BOSTON — APPROACH TO TOWER AT THOMAS PARK, INCLUDING NEW BOAT LANDING AND WALL TO REACH EAST EIGHTH STREET — PREPARED BY PARK DEPARTMENT.

DRAWING SHOWING PROPOSED NEW $100,000 IMPROVEMENT AT STRANDWAY, SOUTH BOSTON, NOW BEING CONSIDERED BY MAYOR CURLEY.

Mayor Curley has had submitted to him for approval plans of the Park Department, under Chairman William P. Long, for an approach to the marble tower at Thomas Park, South Boston, which overlooks the Strandway, a project involving an expenditure of $100,000 and which can be carried out in connection with the Strandway improvements which the Mayor favored in his inaugural.

The suggestion is that a direct approach to the tower be made from the proposed new boat landing to be located on the beach about 800 feet from the bath house. The mall would run parallel to Covington street and would be 100 feet wide at the lower end and 70 feet at the crest of the incline. It would be so steep that there would be no problem of traffic speeding. The mall would extend from the Strandway to East Eighth street where graduated steps would be constructed to the base of the tower.

It would be necessary for the city to acquire considerable property to make the improvement, but the only buildings in the way are inexpensive dwellings.

Commissioner Long described the work which will be done this year at Columbus Park and which he intends to start March 1. At a point near Columbus Circle bleachers of horseshoe shape will be erected, to seat 10,000 persons, and inside the bleachers will be laid out a football field, a baseball field, an oval running track and other athletic fields.

Between this area and the old athletic field there will be a large grove of trees, and provision has been made for the erection of a bandstand. The work at the old field will include filling and grading and the laying out of seven or eight baseball fields.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,

May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,

MAYOR CURLEY CALLS FOR SPIRIT OF UNSELFISHNESS ON PART OF CITIES IN GREATER BOSTON FOR GREATER GOOD OF ALL IN PREDICTING A "METROPOLITAN BOSTON" WITHIN NEXT YEAR. ADDRESSES REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE MEMBERS AT "BOOST BOSTON" BANQUET.

Prediction that the residents of the cities and towns within a fifteen-mile radius of City Hall would approve of the proposition of the creation of a metropolitan city within the next year was made by Mayor Curley on January 23, when he was the guest of honor at the "Boost Boston" banquet of the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange. The banquet was held at the Hotel Statler and was attended by more than 500 persons.

In the presence of the chief executives of neighboring communities, the Mayor scoffed at the arguments which seek to obstruct the organization of a greater city. Referring to the removal of home rule by the State and Metropolitan District Commission, the Mayor warned, "We have waived most of our power now. And it is only a matter of a short time when the mayors and selectmen will have nothing but titles, devoid of authority."

He declared that it will take the committee of experts headed by Dr. Joseph H. Beale, Harvard law professor, about six months to draw up a skeleton program for the proposed metropolitan city, and five months more to fortify the public mind in its favor, "so that I am confident that the program, through the sheer logic of its presentation, will meet with the approval of the citizenship of the communities which will soon comprise Metropolitan Boston."

URGES CONCERTED ACTION.

The Mayor stressed the importance of concerted action on the part of the forty cities and towns, so that Boston may speak with the voice of authority of 2,000,000 people in protecting its industries and inviting others.

He pointed to the growth of Philadelphia through consolidation with adjoining communities, and referred to full page advertisements in which Philadelphia appealed to New England industries to locate there.

"There is the value of advertising," said the Mayor. "Philadelphia, though forty miles from the Atlantic Ocean, grows, while Boston, on the coast with the best harbor in the world, saving three days on a round trip voyage to Europe, slips backward into ninth place. Baltimore passed us last night."

Referring to the Metropolitan District Commission system of "taxation without representation," the Mayor explained that Boston is forced to pay 52 per cent of the cost of the police patrol on the Fellsway and other parkways. Boston's improvements have been made for the benefit of the surrounding communities.

TUNNEL TO BENEFIT ALL.

"The East Boston traffic tunnel, costing from $22,000,000 to $25,000,000 before it is finished, will be built by Boston, not for itself, but for the cities and towns to the north," said the Mayor, for the first time publicly stating that the $16,000,000 authorized by law would be insufficient to build the tunnel, on the basis of past legislative estimates.

"Somerville," he said, "is a splendid bedchamber for Boston. It has practically no industries and 70 per cent of its residents earn their living in Boston. Yet they have nothing to say at the polls here.

"Cambridge, with one-third of its area occupied by nontaxable educational institutions, will soon have a tax rate so high as to drive out home-owners and industrial leaders," the Mayor said.

"Quincy has the Fore River shipyards. If they closed, where would Quincy be?" asked the Mayor, pointing out that Boston has just built a $12,500,000 rapid transit system through Dorchester for the benefit of Milton, Quincy and points south.

"New England's textile, shoe and other industries," charged the Mayor, "have been strangled and destroyed in the house of its friends," referring to passage of industry to the South while representatives of New England held important posts at Washington.

The reason for the stripping of New England, he said, was the lack of a voice of authority, a concentrated movement to stop the pillage. With the forty cities and towns united, he said, pressure could be exerted to protect this section of the country.

MUST DROP SELFISHNESS.

"Our cities and towns," said the Mayor, "must get away from the spirit of individualism, we must cut away from this spirit of selfishness; we must work together for the common good. We may think foolishly that we are sailing on the 'Leviathan.' But we are actually in a mite of a leaky boat, just like a sieve, and unless we all row together, we will sink together."

Together, he said, the cities and towns must offer inducements to other industries to come here. He announced his intention of reorganizing the Commercial, Industrial and Publicity Bureau to boost Boston.

He plans to build of concrete and steel a tremendous industrial area near the East Boston Airport, where steamship, railroad and air transportation will be linked, provided that the business leaders will back the movement.

"We will not try to make a huge profit on this land which I propose to reclaim between East Boston and Governor's Island," said the Mayor. "We will lease it to industrial plants for the mere cost of the charges. Our return will come when they establish their plants, giving the city millions of dollars in taxes and more important, putting hundreds of thousands of our people to work so that they may enjoy peace and happiness in their homes."

The Mayor told how he had chased the late E. M. Statler to Florida and California and built a park to force the hotel magnate to erect a building here. He explained how he had aided the waiving of the building law to permit the construction of a 155-foot-high building here, resulting in the opening of the Ritz.

These, he said, are the duties of a progressive city government. To aid in the development of the North Station area and the new Manger Hotel, now under construction next to the Boston Garden, the Mayor said that in a few days he will sign an order for the expenditure of $1,000,000 to widen Charles street, connecting with the widened Nashua street leading up to the doors of the new hotel.

The Mayor was given an ovation by the real estate men from every section of the state as he concluded his address, and immediately left to return home to Mrs. Curley, who is still seriously ill. As a tribute to her from the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange, President George D. Kimball presented the Mayor with a beautiful bouquet of roses to carry to her bedside at Jamaicaaway.

CONTRACT AMENDED.

P. J. Cantwell & Son have been allowed to amend the contract for the erection of shelters at various schools by striking out the words, "Nine weeks after date of contract," on page 14, section 4, and substituting therefor the word and figures, "January 15, 1930," so that the beginning of the last paragraph of said section 4, on page 14, shall read: "The work is to be commenced on award of contract and is to be completed on or before January 15, 1930."

BIDS FOR SNOW REMOVAL DEEMED TOO LOW FOR FAIR RETURN TO CITY.

Mayor Curley, on January 21, sent the following letter to Chairman Frank A. Goodwin of the Finance Commission.

MR. FRANK A. GOODWIN, Chairman, Finance Commission, 44 School Street, Boston.

DEAR SIR,—I have been examining the bids made for snow removal and find in some cases the bids are as low as 35 cents per yard. It is impossible for anyone to remove snow for less than 50 cents per yard unless he received two or three tickets for every yard removed. The same condition pertains with reference to crushed stone and in my opinion it is about time to plug this "leak."

Personally I would favor an increase of 25 per cent, or even more, in the cost of snow removal and in the price charged the city for crushed stone, provided the deliveries were in conformity with the provisions of the contract.

It would in my opinion be of benefit to the city and of benefit to legitimate contractors doing business with the city that persons contracting to do work for less than it is possible to actually perform the work without financial loss, were required to live up to the provisions of their contract. Under the circumstances it might be advisable for the Finance Commission to consider appointing inspectors to check up on the regular municipal inspection force and I trust the commission will give consideration to this suggestion.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

ADDITIONS TO CONTRACT.

Thomas O'Connor and Company, Incorporated, have been ordered to make the following additions to the contract for erecting and completing a fire department building at Cambridge and Bulfinch streets:

Addition No. 1: A—Underpinning rear existing wall of boiler room where said wall did not extend to the grade of new boiler room, 21 linear feet at $28 per lineal foot, $588; B—Removal of old cistern in order to start new concrete foundation; 10 cubic yards pier excavation at $10, $100; 10 cubic yards reinforced concrete at $25 (unit prices as per contract), $250—$350; C—Extra work necessary to make the top of rear existing wall structurally safe to receive the two floors that come in connection with it; removing 72-foot concrete wall, 6 feet high by 1 foot thick; 432 cubic feet or 16 cubic yards at $13 per yard, $208; 16 cubic yards new reinforced concrete wall at $25 per yard (unit prices as per contract), $400—$608; D—Excavating old footing as ordered by the Building Department; 58 cubic yards each excavation at $10 per yard (unit prices as per contract), $580; 23.3 cubic yards concrete floor excavation at $10 per yard, $233; 58 cubic yards backfilling at $1 per yard (unit prices as per contract), $58; replacing concrete floor 1,512 square feet, $0.70 (unit price for concrete floor excavation was arrived at by taking rock excavation (trench) at $12 and deducting earth excavation at $2), $1,058.40—$1,929.40; E—Extra work for new columns and strap beams, as ordered by the Building Department: Concrete, 5.4 cubic yards at $25 (unit price as per contract), $135; pier excavation, 16 cubic yards at $10 (unit price as per contract), $160; concrete excavation, 4.1 cubic yards at $10 (this price was arrived at by taking rock excavation (trench) at $12 and deducting therefrom earth excavation at $2, $41; 396 feet new granolithic floor 5 inches thick at 70 cents per foot, $277.20—$613.20.

Total additions, $4,088.60; original contract, $270,000; total contract with addition No. 1, $274,088.60.

Although this is in addition to the work contemplated in the original contract it is incidental thereto.

The work called for in these additions could not be foreseen. When the foundations of the Revere Building were uncovered it was found that they did not agree with the plans on file at the Building Department. This necessitated considerable excavating and underpinning which was not included in the original contract. (A, D and E.)

An old cistern was found in a position where it had to be removed in order to insure a sound footing for one of the columns. (B.)

The top of the rear existing wall of the boiler room had to be rebuilt to make it structurally safe to receive the two floors that come in connection with it. The old wall was considerably battered and the reinforcing was twisted and bent. (C.)

MAYOR CURLEY GETS UNDER WAY PLANS FOR COMPLETION OF HOSPITALIZATION PROGRAM INSTITUTED BY HIM EIGHT YEARS AGO — TO SPEND $1,450,000 THIS YEAR.

At a conference held at the office of the Mayor on January 20 definite steps were taken looking to the early completion of the hospital program started some eight years ago, the completion of which will result in Boston having the best-equipped municipal hospitalization facilities of any American city.

Orders submitted to the Council provide for a new Administration Building representing an expenditure of $420,000; a Laundry Building representing an expenditure of $175,000; a Children's Pavilion representing an expenditure of $325,000; and reconditioning and reconstruction of Administration and Nurses' Home at the South Department representing an expenditure of $80,000. In addition, the sum of $450,000 for the completion of hospital program at the tuberculosis institution at Mattapan.

The adoption by the City Council of this hospitalization program, representing a total expenditure of $1,450,000, should prove a distinct contribution to the relief of unemployment in the building trades and unquestionably the City Council will expedite the adoption of this legislation, necessary not only for the health of the people but essential in reducing unemployment.

Following the Council meeting the Mayor issued orders that plans for additional buildings to be erected next year, at a cost of $1,665,000, must be completed before December 1, 1931.

The completed program, Mayor Curley believes, will make the City Hospital the best equipped in any American city. Next year's expenditures will be $1,350,000 for a surgical building and $315,000 for a kitchen and equipment.

Mayor Curley for fifteen years has planned to develop the City Hospital into a medical center.

Total.—Basch Cap Company, $1,680; Rosenfield Uniform Company, $1,755; Leopold Morse Company, $1,680; Tobias Hat and Cap Company, $1,710.

Upon January 16 the Mayor approved a contract with the Clifton Manufacturing Company for approximately 300 rubber coats for the Fire Department. Bids, opened January 14, were as follows:

United States Rubber Company, $4.60 each; discount, ten days 2 per cent; Clifton Manufacturing Company, sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, $4.60; size 48, $4.85; size 50, $5.10; special size coats, $1.60 extra; discount, ten days 3 per cent.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Upon January 17 the Mayor approved a contract with the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Ltd., for repairing Fireboat Engine 31. A communication from Eugene C. Hultman of the Fire Department was as follows:

BOSTON, January 16, 1930.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—On December 31, 1929, while Engine 31 (fireboat) was proceeding to the coal wharf to take on coal the port propeller was lost. Superficial examination showed that the propeller shaft was probably broken. It was necessary to place the boat in dry dock at the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Ltd., and have the following work done for which the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Ltd., submitted a figure of $835.

Dry-dock vessel for examination, remove starboard propeller, split off cast-iron coupling from both port and starboard shafts, haul both shafts and remove same to shop, blank off port and starboard stern tubes, undock vessel, remove four blades from the starboard propeller for examination, make pattern for shaft and couplings and make patterns for bronze liners for shafts, furnish material for two steel shafts, furnish brass tubing to fit between shaft liners for two shafts. Material furnished is now at our plant and available for any disposal which the Fire Department cares to make of same.

The boat was also examined by the United States Steamboat inspectors and the following work was ordered done:

Machine two steel shafts, furnish and fit three bronze liners to each shaft, fit brass tubing between liners, cut keyways and finish shafts to fit propeller hubs, furnish castings and machine two cast-iron couplings, make new coupling bolts for both shafts, dry-dock vessel, install shafts and connect couplings, repack stern glands, furnish material and make and fit two new bronze propeller nuts, make patterns for bronze propeller hub, furnish brass casting and machine propeller hub complete for fit of shaft and fit of blades, make and furnish all new studs and nuts for same, bore out starboard hub to fit new shaft assemble four blades on each propeller hub, install two propellers on shafts, undock vessel, furnish new set of drawings of shaft and hubs.

Owing to the extent of the work ordered done figures were obtained from the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Ltd., and the Richard T. Green Company. For the new work ordered after the preliminary work had been done the following figures were received:

Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Ltd., $1,625; Richard T. Green Company, $2,160.

As the lowest figure was received from the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Ltd., I request your Honor's permission to make a contract, without advertising, with the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Ltd., at a total sum of $2,460, to cover all the work required as a result of the lost propeller.

These two shipbuilding companies are the only firms in Boston equipped to do this work and there would be no advantage to the city in advertising for bids. Furthermore, the time required for bids would keep the boat out of service too long.

Yours very truly,

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Fire Commissioner.

INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

Upon January 22 the Mayor approved a contract with the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Ltd., for repairing the steamer "George A. Hibbard." A communication from William S. Kinney of the Institutions Department was as follows:

BOSTON, January 21, 1930.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—On Thursday, January 16, the steamer "George A. Hibbard" was found to be badly leaking and also in need of engine repairs, and in this emergency I sent her to the Atlantic Works, a division of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, where she has customarily been repaired.

It was necessary to do this as there were no steamers in the harbor which could be hired and during the interval of repairs all employees at night had to be transported on the launch "Minot," which had not a sufficient carrying capacity to accommodate such a large number of people in the winter months.

The work is nearing completion at a cost of approximately $1,249, a figure which I have been daily requesting in order that I might submit same to you for approval.

Under these circumstances your approval of these emergency repairs is requested.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM S. KINNEY,
Commissioner.

LIBRARY DEPARTMENT.

Upon January 17 the Mayor approved a contract with John Farquhar's Sons, Incorporated, for repairs, etc., for condensation roofing. A communication from Gordon Abbott of the Library Department was as follows:

BOSTON, January 13, 1930.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

SIR,—Under the dates February 27, 1928, and February 19, 1929, the Trustees of the Public Library have requested authorization to employ a selected contractor without competition to repair the condensation roofing of the Central Library Building, as this work is of a special nature.

With the approval of the Mayor this work has been carried on both years in a wholly satisfactory manner by the same contractor.

At the time the work was undertaken it was understood that the scope of operations was necessarily limited to the sum allotted to the work under the budget for that year; that the said sum would be insufficient for complete renovations of the entire area, and that subsequent applications for funds would doubtless be made.

The department, looking forward to the continuation of these operations and with the hope of their completion, included in its application for budget funds for 1930 the sum of $4,000 for renovation of the condensation roof. The trustees, upon the architects' recommendation, respectfully request your authorization to employ John Farquhar's Sons, Incorporated, 9 Silver street, South Boston, Mass., without competition, to renovate, repair and replace portions of the condensation roofing, together with certain operations accessory thereto, at the Central Library Building, Copley square, Boston, upon the understanding that the work shall be limited in scope of operations to not exceed in cost to the city the sum of $4,000, and that the sum to be allowed and paid the contractor by the city under the agreement shall be computed, subject to the limit above referred to, on the same basis of reimbursement and compensation as was set forth in the contract for the previous undertaking (approved March 15, 1929), all of the provisions of which would be set forth in a contract for the work to which this recommendation refers.

Respectfully yours,

TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY,
by GORDON ABBOTT,
President.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

Upon January 21 the Mayor approved a contract with John Evans & Co., Incorporated, for erecting stone statues in Franklin Park. A communication from William P. Long of the Park Department was as follows:

BOSTON, January 20, 1930.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Your authority is respectfully asked to award, without advertising to John Evans & Co., Incorporated, 77 Huntington avenue, Boston, a contract for erecting stone statues with stone pedestals complete at Franklin Park, for the approximate sum of $19,500. The cost of the work is to be paid for as follows:

Erecting stone statues with stone pedestals, including foundation, $17,500 plus 6 per cent for supervision. For refinishing stone statues, the cost of labor plus 15 per cent, plus the cost of materials.

On December 12, 1929, this department received bids for the erection of the stone statues with stone pedestals, exclusive of any refinishing, as follows:

First bidder, $16,469; second bidder: $17,190; third bidder, $17,543.

The reason for this request to award without advertising is that this company is expert in this class of work and, in my opinion, is the best qualified company in Boston to be given the contract.

These statues, until just recently, were located on top of the old Post Office Building. They are works of art, being one of the first works of Daniel C. French, sculptor. The statues are very valuable and have been given to this department without any charge. On account of the danger of doing damage to these expensive works of art that can never be replaced, I believe that only the best craftsmen in this locality should be allowed to do this work.

I therefore respectfully recommend that this contract be awarded, without advertising, to John Evans & Co., Incorporated, 77 Huntington avenue, for the approximate sum of $21,000, same to be charged to the special appropriation, "Franklin Park, Improvements."

Very respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG,
Chairman.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon January 18 the Mayor approved a contract with the Pierce Arrow Sales Company for one seven-passenger limousine. A communication from Herbert S. Frost of the Supply Department was as follows:

BOSTON, January 16, 1930.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising for same, to the Pierce Arrow Sales Company to deliver to the Mayor's office the following:

One Pierce Arrow seven-passenger inclosed drive, Model 144, limousine, sapphire blue, Serial 3025039, motor 300022, equipped with wood wheels, trunk rack, two spare rims with tires, mounted forward in welled fenders, delivered for the sum of $4,915.

As the Pierce Arrow Sales Company are the manufacturers, no advantage would accrue from publicly advertising for same.

Respectfully yours,

HERBERT S. FROST,
Superintendent of Supplies.

ADDITIONS TO AND DEDUCTIONS FROM CONTRACTS.

The following additions to and deductions from contracts have been approved:

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

John Bowen Company, contractor for erection and completion of Admission Building, Mattapan, has been instructed to add to the contract the sum $2,349.60 for furnishing and installing temporary connections to return condensate from the Admission Building and Men's Open Air Ward. Original contract, $634,000; corrected contract, as per order No. 1551, $667,381.09; now added, $2,349.60; corrected contract, $669,730.69; total added, $44,712.94; total deducted, $8,982.25.

John Bowen Company, contractor for erection and completion of Admission Building, Mattapan, has been instructed to add to the contract the sum of $838.50 for additional rock excavation as follows: 129 cubic yards open rock excavation at $7.50, add $967.50; for earth excavation omitted: 129 cubic yards at $1, deduct $129; total addition $838.50, original contract, $634,000; corrected contract, as per order No. 1562, $669,730.69; now added, $838.50; corrected contract, $670,569.19; total added, $45,551.44; total deducted, $8,982.25.

HON. HERBERT PARKER ACCEPTS INVITATION TO DELIVER JULY 4 ADDRESS.

Mayor Curley on January 21 received the following communication from Hon. Herbert Parker:

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR.—I am profoundly honored in accepting the invitation you have so kindly and graciously extended to me, to make the Fourth of July address at Faneuil Hall.

This ceremony, as you so well know, is of ancient and continued interest. I shall be inspired by this influence, but more especially by your own generous consideration, and by your exalted faith in the city and Commonwealth you have so loyally and devotedly served.

With very real respect, I am,

Obediently yours,

HERBERT PARKER.

MAYOR SEEKS CHANGE TO LIGHTER CURBING FOR PAVING.

Mayor Curley, on January 22, forwarded the following communication to Commissioner James H. Sullivan of the Public Works Department:

DEAR SIR,—In my opinion it would be advisable to consider, in connection with your street paving work, the establishment of new standards with reference to granite curbing and granite paving block.

The Hoover Commission on standardization report that 50 per cent of the granite curbing in use in America today is but 5 inches in width and 16 inches in depth. Personally, I can see no benefit to be derived from the continuance of the present specifications, which require a 7-inch width and an 18-inch depth.

In connection with granite block paving, you will recall that in 1916 standard blocks were changed from 7 inches in depth to 5 inches in depth and there has been no occasion that I am aware of to regret such change.

Some years ago it was necessary to repave School street and we found on examination that granite paving laid for thirty-eight years had worn but $\frac{5}{8}$ of an inch in that time.

It might be advisable in this connection for you to give serious thought to changing specification of granite block from 5 inches to 3 inches in depth, which, with a concrete base, if undisturbed, should serve for at least one hundred years.

Respectfully

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR CURLEY TO ASK STATE TO APPROVE PLANS FOR BASIN IMPROVEMENTS—DECISION AFTER CONFERENCE WITH CITIZENS.

Plans for the improvement of the Charles River Basin and widening of Charles street, the subjects of a conference on Tuesday, January 21, at the office of Mayor Curley, were held in abeyance for the present to enable Mayor Curley to confer with Governor Allen and the State Department of Public Works regarding certain lands exchanged by the Boston & Maine Railroad for lands of the Commonwealth.

Martin M. Lomasney addressed the meeting, calling attention to the land necessary for the improvement and suggested that the city pay $1 for the land. Gen. Richard Hale of the State Department of Public Works said that the land is now owned by the port of Boston.

He pointed out that whatever price was paid it would not be unfair, as the money would not go to the state, but to the port funds. Mayor Curley said that he thought Mr. Lomasney's figure of $1 was a fair price.

"We have a community of interest," said Mayor Curley, "and the state has an opportunity to serve the city." He then announced that he would arrange a conference with the Governor and the Public Works Department.

Mayor Curley referred to the investment of the Boston & Maine in the district and said that the investment must be forfeited in order to be successful. He said it was not necessary to point out depreciations in value in the district and spoke of Atlantic avenue and the South End—which was beginning to "come back"—and the "comeback" staged by Beacon Hill. He referred also to the $1,000,000 contribution of Mrs. James J. Storrow to improve the Basin.

Chairman William P. Long of the Park Commission exhibited a plan of proposed improvements, which included a swimming pool 100 by 400 feet to which salt water would be pumped and space for two baseball diamonds and a running track. Much ground would be obtained by hydraulic filling. The nature of the fill would have its drawbacks, he said, for it would require two years for settling before work could be carried on.

A second plan was submitted for the section below Leverett street, which would permit of a small playground for children and a larger area for seats and a promenade.

Chairman Fay said that a circle at Charles and Cambridge streets would adequately solve the traffic problem there. He said the Planning Board believed plans should provide for an underpass at Charles and Nashua streets, but that though the underpass cannot be completed within the $1,000,000 appropriation, any plans should provide that whenever possible an underpass could be built. The underpass idea, he said, is recent and was not contemplated a year ago.

Mr. Lomasney declared that property had been assessed $635,000 for the big highway and he thought that the poor people of that district should have a park and swimming accommodations. It was up to the city, he said, to acquire the land transferred by the Boston & Maine Railroad and the state should turn it over for $1.

"We have been assessed," declared Mr. Lomasney, "and we ought to get something for our money. We have contributed $635,000. I have no objection to a music center at Charles street; but I am speaking for Brighton and Auburn and surrounding streets."

When Chairman Long pointed out to Mr. Lomasney the plans for the salt water pool, the latter remarked that all he wanted was a park.

Mayor Curley declared that he disliked to have any delay in the proposed improvements, but believed that the land proposition should be taken up with the state, and he indorsed Mr. Lomasney's terms of $1.

fifty (3,250) dollars, and consents that the Corporation Counsel agree to judgment in said case on the terms herein stated.

That in the matter of Yevkins Hadjian, petitioner for damages on account of the widening and relocation of Walk Hill street, under the order of the Street Commissioners and Mayor of July 12, 1928, after consultation with the Law Department, and on its advice, the Board assesses the petitioner's damages in the sum of thirty-three hundred (3,300) dollars and consents that the Corporation Counsel agree to judgment in said case on the terms herein stated.

That in the matter of Arthur C. Brady, petitioner for damages on account of the taking of an easement in 4,526, 647 and 21 square feet of land, for highway purposes, under the order of the Street Commissioners and Mayor of January 21, 1927, widening and relocating West Milton street, Hyde Park district, after consultation with the Law Department, and on its advice, the Board assesses the petitioner's damages in the sum of twenty-one hundred (2,100) dollars and consents that the Corporation Counsel agree to judgment in said case on the terms herein stated.

DAMAGES ACCEPTED.

Katherine Lyons agrees to accept the sum of $175 as full payment for all rights acquired in, and all damages occasioned to her estate on 88 Brayton road by the laying out and construction of said street under the order of the Street Commissioners and Mayor of December 12, 1928.

Nathan Damberg agrees to accept the sum of $300 as full payment for all land taken from, all rights acquired in, and all damages occasioned to his estate on 9 Duke street by the laying out and construction of said street, under the order of the Street Commissioners and Mayor of July 3, 1929.

Thomas A. and Mary McGagh agree to accept the sum of $200 as full payment for all land taken from, all rights acquired in, and all damages occasioned to his estate at 47 and 49 Codman Hill avenue by the laying out and construction of said street, under the order of the Street Commissioners and Mayor of November 9, 1928.

MAYOR CURLEY'S COMMITTEE FOR CIVIC CENTER STUDY ORGANIZES FOR WORK.

The committee appointed by Mayor Curley to investigate and make studies relative to the advisability and feasibility of a civic center for the City of Boston met on Tuesday, January 21, in the office of the City Planning Board, Room 30, City Hall.

The group organized by the election of Ralph Adams Cram as chairman and Elisabeth M. Herlihy as secretary.

There were present at the meeting:

Frederic H. Fay, Edward H. Hoyt and Miss Herlihy of the City Planning Board, Clarence H. Blackall, Charles A. Coolidge, Ralph Adams Cram, Charles D. Maginnis and William Stanley Parker.

Before taking up the question of actual location of such a civic center, if decided upon, it was agreed that the following basis for study should be adopted, each member to bring to the meeting on Tuesday, January 28, the result of his own consideration under the following headings:

- (1) What elements shall it contain?
 - (a) City Hall.
 - (b) Educational building or wing.
 - (c) Auditorium.
 - (d) Other units.
- (2) What elements of contact and intercommunication exist between City Hall and the following elements in city, county and state, and what are their relative intensities and importance?
 - (a) State House.
 - (b) Metropolitan District Commission.
 - (c) County courts.
 - (d) The business district.
 - (1) Real estate.
 - (2) Banking.
 - (3) Commerce.
 - (4) Retail trade.
 - (5) Wholesale trade.
 - (e) Residence districts.
- (3) What relation should a civic center have to
 - (a) Rapid Transit System.
 - (b) Main traffic arteries.
 - (c) Railroad terminals.
- (4) What are the probable requirements of a civic center for parking facilities?
 - (a) For official cars.
 - (b) For visitors.
 - (c) For taxis.

DAMAGES ASSESSED.

The Mayor has approved the following votes of the Board of Street Commissioners:

That in the matter of Bridget Furze, petitioner for damages on account of the taking of an easement in 195 square feet of land, for highway purposes, under the order of the Street Commissioners and Mayor of June 7, 1927, widening and relocating Ashland street, after consultation with the Law Department, and on its advice, the Board assesses the petitioner's damages in the sum of five hundred (500) dollars, and consents that the Corporation Counsel agree to judgment in said case on the terms herein stated.

That in the matter of Edward J. McGovern et al., petitioners for damages on account of the taking of an easement in 4,484 and 8,137 square feet of land, for highway purposes, under the order of the Street Commissioners and Mayor of March 11, 1927, widening, relocating and extending Morton street, Dorchester district, after consultation with the Law Department, and on its advice, the Board assesses the petitioners' damages in the sum of thirty-two hundred and

MAYOR CURLEY ACTS TO HALT PRACTICE OF ABATEMENTS OF TAXES WHERE PROSPERITY HAS BEEN ENJOYED BY CORPORATIONS AND INDUSTRIES SEEKING THEM.

Mayor Curley on January 15 forwarded the following communication to Chairman Edward T. Kelly of the Board of Assessors:

MY DEAR MR. KELLY,—With a view to "plugging leaks" I had occasion within the last week to direct the attention of the Public Works and other departments to the necessity of cutting overtime payments, which in the year 1926 showed an increase of more than one hundred per cent in excess of the amount allowed in 1925, my last year in the office of Mayor.

I find, upon investigation, that an even more menacing system of leakage has been developed in the Assessing Department and which, unless checked, may prove serious to the city.

Personally, I favor the law which permits abatements in taxation to widows in need, where the value of a home is not in excess of $7,500.

I cannot, however, conceive of any good reason why abatements such as are pending, and which, fortunately, through the wisdom and courage of you and your associates were not granted, involving many millions of dollars in valuations, should be allowed.

My investigation discloses the fact that the individuals or corporations seeking these abatements were enjoying in their respective industries a larger measure of prosperity than at any period of time in previous years. This is true, not only of the steam railroads but also of the hotel corporations, and I know of no way in which abatements in these cases is justifiable.

While I have a profound respect for the honesty and ability of every man employed in your department as first assistant assessor I am nevertheless of the opinion that the city's interests would be better served if a shift were made by you in the district assigned to every first assistant assessor in your department.

You are directed to refuse to grant abatements now pending and any individual or corporation seeking redress is at liberty to proceed in conformity with the law.

I will greatly appreciate your directing the Corporation Counsel's attention to my decision in this matter, assuming, as I do, that you will share my views.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

LAND-TAKING IN DORCHESTER.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works to be constructed as follows:

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; and except for other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly Dorchester and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Victoria road, bounded:

Northerly by the Southern Artery, six feet; easterly by another part of Victoria road, one hundred ninety-five and 93-100 feet; southerly by the same, six feet; and westerly by the same, one hundred and ninety-six feet, containing eleven hundred and seventy-six square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 190 linear feet of 16-inch pipe sanitary sewer, in the above described premises, being part of the private way known as Victoria road, leading southerly from Southern Artery for a distance of approximately one hundred and ninety-six feet.

The above described parcel of land comprises the respective parts of the following lots registered in the Land Court which lie between the middle line of said Victoria road and a line drawn parallel with and three feet distant from said middle line:

Roman Catholic Archbishop of Boston, Certificate No. 26300, Book 127, page 100.
Alexander H. Rice, Certificate No. 24546, Book 118, page 146.

This Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easement and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the parcel of land situated on the westerly side of Victoria road, beginning at a point approximately ninety-five feet south of the Southern Artery and extending southerly for a distance of approximately one hundred feet, and the parcel of land on the easterly side of Victoria road, beginning at a point approximately one hundred feet south of the Southern Artery and extending southerly for a distance of approximately one hundred feet, will receive benefit or advantage, beyond the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement herein ordered; each of said parcels to the amount hereinafter respectively set against it; said parcels and the owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 933, Sewerage Works, Victoria Road, Dorchester, November 16, 1929, William J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of said department.

MAYOR CURLEY PLANS BOARD TO REVIVE BOSTON'S COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY—HAS SUPPORT OF BUSINESS INTERESTS.

Enthusiastic approval was given Mayor Curley's proposal to establish a commercial, industrial and publicity commission to boom Boston at a conference of business men at the Mayor's office on Thursday, January 23. As the result of this the Mayor will soon appoint a director for each of three branches of the commission. They in turn will prepare a plan, assisted by committees from the various railroads, the Chamber of Commerce and the Real Estate Exchange.

W. J. McDonald suggested that $10,000 be raised in units of $1,000 and the City of Boston contribute $100,000. His idea was to first sell Boston to those in Boston and hold the business here before going after outside business.

Mayor Curley said he preferred to discourage contributions at the outset.

The Mayor said something should be done to help out the city and he referred to the New England Governors' Council. He indorsed the Storrow plan and for the Metropolitan area he said there should be provision for electrification and a belt line of steam facilities. There is no reason, he said, why manufacturers of Lynn and Brockton should ship from New York, rather than a New England port.

He called attention to the extensive advertising campaigns of Philadelphia, Atlanta, and other cities to attract industry. "We are slipping backward," he said.

He expressed the opinion that there should be a committee from this section now in Washington representing the shoe industry and also the gypsum industry. Regarding the latter he said that there was a million-dollar plant in Charlestown standing to be wiped out by proposed legislation in Washington, where it is planned to increase the duty.

Representatives of the Boston & Albany Railroad, New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad and the Boston & Maine Railroad assured Mayor Curley of their fullest support.

T. Frank Joyce of the Boston & Maine Railroad said that in activity of this kind, with the Chamber of Commerce or otherwise, the road would be glad to cooperate. He told of bringing into Lowell new industries, and that in Lawrence a new industry in the Everett mills would employ 5,000 persons,—twice as many as the mills ever employed before.

Others who spoke in favor of the creation of the commission were J. Daniels and Frank S. Davis of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, Louis Kirstein of the Boston Retail Trade Board, T. P. King of the King Terminals, Willard Welsh and John T. Scully.

John M. Whittier, industrial development division, of the Edison Company said: "Thoroughly interested in the development of the city, the Edison Electric Company organized an industrial development division over two years ago to assist established industry and aid in the development and location of new industries. The facilities and experience of this industrial development division are willingly placed at the disposal of the new bureau proposed by the Mayor."

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 3.

I. FALSE ALARMS.

Whenever a false alarm of fire has occurred, for which the alleged culprit has been apprehended, the officer in charge who responds to such an alarm will ascertain from the captain of the local police division when and at what court the case is to be presented. The officer shall promptly report such information to headquarters and report at the court specified to testify regarding the matter.

II. ASSIGNMENT OF APPARATUS.

The last paragraph of Card D of the instruction cards in the assignment box is hereby rescinded and the following paragraph is substituted:

Where there is a double engine company or a double ladder company and one of the companies leaves quarters on any alarm, the remaining company, in addition to its own assignments, shall assume the assignments of the absent company, except on multiple alarms. A company covering into such station shall, in addition to assuming the assignments of the company which it covers, assume the assignments of the other company regularly quartered at such station, except on multiple alarms. This regulation shall be posted conspicuously at the patrol desk of such stations.

III. COVERING ASSIGNMENTS.

The following change in covering assignments is hereby announced, to take effect at 8 a. m., Friday, January 17, 1930:

Boxes 2473-2474, third alarm; add Engine 32 to cover Engine 10.

Company commanders will make these additions to the assignment cards.

IV. RETIREMENT.

The Fire Commissioner is in receipt of the following notice from the Boston Retirement Board:

"The Retirement Board, at a meeting held December 27, 1929, voted to retire Harold W. Berry, employed as a ladderman in the Fire Department, on account of accidental disability at the close of business, January 31, 1930."

Ladderman Berry was appointed to this department on February 1, 1924, and retires with the best wishes of his associates.

V. FIRE ALARM BOX REMOVED FROM SERVICE.

Box 12-1251, John Morrel & Co., 75 Commercial street, has been permanently removed from service. This location should be crossed off the present assignment cards.

VI. RED CROSS.

The subscription list published in General Order No. 2, c. s., for the American Red Cross, should be corrected to read as follows: District 4, $11, instead of $3.

VII. COMMENDATION.

The following letter which the Fire Commissioner has received from the Acting Superintendent of the Boston Protective Department is hereby published for the information of the department:

HON. EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Fire Commissioner.

DEAR SIR:—I desire to express my appreciation and gratitude for the fine spirit of cooperation given this department by Chief Daniel F. Sennott and the men working under him at the fire Nos. 20 and 22 Canal street, Box 1213, second alarm, on the evening of the 14th inst.

The first arriving companies found that the fire had completely involved the top floor of a six-story building fronting on Canal street, and extending through to Merrimac street. The first floor was occupied as a bird and dog store, the upper floors for the storage and manufacturing of furniture. In this case as is usual in upper floor fires the members of the Protective Department were taxed to their utmost in spreading covers and salvaging property, thus preventing greater loss. When the fire had been knocked down the chief ordered men to help spread covers, to operate electric drills, to relieve floors of water and to otherwise assist in the salvaging of property.

Through you I want to thank the chief, the men working under him for the assistance given this department as above.

Very truly yours,

PETER E. WALSH,
Acting Superintendent.

By order of Fire Commissioner E. C. Hultman.

DANIEL F. SENNOTT,
Chief of Department.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME TO AUTOMOBILE SHOW BY MAYOR CURLEY.

The Twenty-eighth Annual Automobile Show conveys its own message; a successful institution, firmly entrenched, each year increasing in service and popularity.

As Mayor of Boston it is my very great pleasure to extend a welcome to Boston and in extending the welcome express the hope that an even larger measure of success may be enjoyed this year than any previous year in the history of the industry.

The automobile may be truly termed the advance agent of that character of progress which is represented by prosperity and pleasure; it has been instrumental in making accessible distant places; it has compelled public officials to expend huge sums of money in the providing of serviceable highways that have added immeasurably to the contentment of the entire citizenship.

May the annual gathering be in keeping with the best ever furnished an expectant public.

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

STATUE TO FOUNDERS OF BOSTON.

Mayor Curley, on January 22, forwarded the following communication to John Harleston Parker, chairman of the Art Department of the City of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—The Commission on the Marking of Historical Sites have submitted sketches of a memorial to the founders of Boston, designed by John F. Peramino, sculptor, and Charles A. Coolidge, architect, and in their opinion it is sufficiently meritorious to justify its being located at the point designated upon Beacon street.

The approval of your commission is desired.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR CURLEY CALLS FOR MORE EQUITABLE SHARE OF NAVY
WORK FOR BOSTON.

Mayor Curley, on January 21, sent the following telegram to Hon. John J. Douglass, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.:

I am forwarding by mail copy of communication received from Ernest Lee Jahncke, Assistant Secretary of the Navy. In my opinion the vital point has been overlooked in this communication, namely, that at the outset a reasonable distribution and proportion was not established. It would appear in view of the fact that the number of men employed in other yards equal in importance to the Boston Navy Yard is 200 per cent greater than at the Boston Navy Yard, that notwithstanding the statement, "it is impracticable to divert the work from one yard to another without upsetting conditions at practically all yards," that this decision should be overruled and that a distribution that would more nearly represent equity be established. It should be possible without impairing either efficiency or program in other yards to divert sufficient work to the Boston Navy Yard to permit of an increase of 100 per cent in the number of men there employed. I sincerely trust that you will enlist the support of the two members of the Senate from Massachusetts in securing what appears to be a measure of justice for the Boston Navy Yard. While I realize that unemployment is general throughout the United States I nevertheless recognize that locally it is greater than at any time since 1914 and if the program as outlined by President Hoover means anything it is about time that those agencies directly under his control set an example to others.

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Under date of January 11, 1930, Mayor Curley received the following communication from Ernest Lee Jahncke, Assistant Secretary of the Navy:

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Your letter to the President has been referred to the Navy Department for a reply.

The department regrets that a statement appearing in a local newspaper during the past week to the effect that the Boston Navy Yard is to be closed down within a few days because no work has been assigned there, whereas the facts are that the work-load of the Boston Navy Yard has been determined for the next year and the yard has been instructed relative to the said work load.

A report from the Commandant of the Boston Navy Yard states that it is very probable that additional men to the number of about eighty will be taken on in February rather than having a discharge in the near future.

As the work load, which includes the general overhaul of vessels, has been assigned to the various navy yards for the next year, it is impracticable to divert the work from one yard to another without upsetting the conditions at practically all yards.

I am pleased to inform you that the yard will not be closed down and that the department does not contemplate the discharge of several hundred mechanics and skilled laborers from the Boston Navy Yard.

Very sincerely yours,

ERNEST LEE JAHNCKE.

PROCEEDINGS OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

Dec. 23, 1929

A special meeting of the School Committee of the City of Boston was held in the Administration Building, 15 Beacon Street, at 7:30 o'clock, P. M., the Chairman presiding.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the rank of John P. Whelan, Pay Roll Clerk in the office of the Business Manager be changed to "Clerk and Inspector" to take effect Dec. 24, 1929.

REPORT OF SURVEY COMMITTEE

A communication was received from the Chairman of the Survey Committee, under date of Dec. 23, 1929, transmitting the complete Report of the Survey Committee of the Boston Public Schools, Sections I and II of Part I having been submitted to the School Committee and accepted at the meetings of Nov. 18, 1929, and Dec. 2, 1929.

The communication was placed on file and the complete Report accepted.

Mr. Sullivan: Mr. Chairman, I wish to say as a matter of record that I think the service of the Survey Committee has been superlative. I am happy, as we all are, that its first public appearance met with such spontaneous enthusiasm, wherein the Schoolhouse Commission was abolished and the new Board of Commissioners of School Buildings created.

Mrs. Barron: Inasmuch as I thought the report of the Survey Committee presented tonight was the final report of that body, not knowing that the Committee had not been dissolved, I prepared the following order:

ORDERED. That the School Committee hereby extends to the Survey Committee consisting of Judge Michael H. Sullivan, Chairman, President A. Lawrence Lowell, Francis R. Bangs, Walter F. Downey, Carl Dreyfus, Frank P. Fenton, Arthur L. Gould, Archer M. Nickerson and Mrs. Willard D. Woodbury deep appreciation of their valuable and untiring services in the interests of the public schools and the citizens of Boston. The Survey Committee was established at the meeting of the School Committee of March 19, 1928. Since its organization, the full Committee has met regularly from one to three times weekly, and sub-committees have devoted practically full time to studies and investigations, the results of which have served as the bases of reports to the full committee. Throughout the entire period, the members of the Survey Committee have given unstintingly of their time and energy, and the results of their many and varied investigations will undoubtedly react to the great advantage of the public school system.

The order passed by unanimous vote.

ASSISTANT SCHOOLHOUSE CUSTODIAN

The following was offered:

ORDERED, That the Rules are hereby amended as follows:

Sect. 125. Add the following as new paragraph 2.

2. There shall be an assistant schoolhouse custodian to whom the schoolhouse custodian may delegate such part of his authority and duties as he may deem expedient, which shall be exercised under the direction of the schoolhouse custodian who shall be responsible therefor.

Re-number Sect. 125, paragraph 2, as Section 126, paragraph 1. In the first line, strike out the word—He—and substitute in place thereof the words "The schoolhouse custodian"—so that the paragraph shall read as follows:

Sect. 126. 1. The schoolhouse custodian shall exercise general supervision and control over the custodians and their assistants employed in the several school buildings and the administration building; see that the rules and regulations for their government are enforced, and report to the School Committee, in writing, cases of negligence or inefficiency on the part of such employees.

Re-number old Sections 126 to 133, inclusive, as Sections 127 to 134, inclusive.

Mr. Sullivan: Mr. Chairman, I'd like to say that the Survey Committee, and also the Board of Superintendents, unanimously approved the creation of this position as necessary and desirable, and I shall vote for the amendment.

The rules were suspended and the order amending Sections 125 to 133 was passed.

Chairman: We will now proceed to the election of an Assistant Schoolhouse Custodian.

Mr. Sullivan: I place in nomination the name of Patrick F. X. Nagle, at present a custodian in the schools of Boston; a man of splendid accomplishments and education; a man who enlisted as a private in the World War and came back as a lieutenant; a man who possesses those administrative qualities so necessary to the successful incumbent of the proposed and created post. I am happy to place his name in nomination.

A roll call being ordered, the members, as their names were called, respectively stated that they voted as follows:

For Patrick F. X. Nagle—Mrs. Barron, Messrs. Gray, Hurley, Lyons, and Sullivan—5.

The Chair declared Patrick F. X. Nagle duly elected Assistant Schoolhouse Custodian to take effect Jan. 2, 1930.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the salary of the Assistant Schoolhouse Custodian is hereby established at the rate of thirty-five hundred dollars ($3,500) per annum, to take effect Jan. 2, 1930, and to continue until otherwise ordered.

REDUCTION IN QUOTA FOR ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

Mrs. Barron offered the following:

ORDERED, That section 291, paragraph 5 of the regulations is hereby amended to provide that the basis for appointment of teachers from Grades II to VI, inclusive, in a day elementary school district shall be forty instead of forty-two.

In explanation of the order, Mrs. Barron made the following statement:

I believe that reduction in quota of pupils of the elementary grades would eventually result in a saving to the city, for smaller classes would enable the teacher to give some time to individual pupils. A study made by a member of the Board of Superintendents about two years ago, of non-promotions over a period of years, in Grades II to VI, showed a surprising correlation between the percentage of retarded pupils and the percentage of absence. The amount of retardation was between 7 and 8%; of absence approximately 7%. No definite figures are available for determining the saving which to my mind would result by lessening by quota reduction the percentage of retardation, but I think it reasonable to suppose that there would be a considerable saving city-wide in improvement in instruction because of lessening of the strain on the teacher. Each pupil in excess of a reasonable quota increases the burden of the teacher far beyond the actual percentage increase based on class numbers.

Some months ago, Mr. Hurley suggested provision for additional appointment of temporary teachers and at the request of the Committee, the Board of Superintendents then made a study and reported that the cost of the employment of additional temporary teachers as suggested would be a very substantial sum, considerably greater than the estimated cost of reducing the quota in Grades II to VI from the present 42 to 40. The Board of Superintendents then favored a gradual reduction of the quota to a teacher with a further study of the entire proposition, and took occasion to point out the advantage in general of permanent teachers over temporary, and, in this case, with a less cost than would result with the proposed increased number of temporary teachers.

The School Committee was unable then to take action in view of the financial situation for it was felt that any substantial increase in the cost of maintenance would have to be accompanied by increased appropriating power.

I wish now to go on record as heartily in favor of seeking this additional appropriating power in order that the quota in Grades II to VI inclusive may be reduced to not more than 40 to a teacher.

I therefore move, Mr. Chairman, that this matter go over to the next Committee, which in its discretion may take it up at the first meeting, so that if the next Committee shall be in favor of this order a bill may be drafted in time to be presented to the next legislature. I understand that all members of the School Committee accepted the recommendation of the Board of Superintendents, but we were hampered by lack of funds.

Mrs. Barron's motion for reference of the order to the next Committee passed.

Mrs. Barron: Mr. Chairman, inasmuch as this is the last meeting of this Committee and I am retiring from membership, I wish to say a word in order that there may be spread on the records my appreciation of the cooperation that I have received not only from my colleagues, but from the entire staff. I feel that it has been a privilege to serve on the Boston School Committee. The problems have been varied and in their solution my colleagues and I have not always agreed; but regardless of whether we agreed or disagreed, we worked in perfect harmony and tried to cooperate each with the other, tried to solve the problems in a way that would be for the good of the Boston schools. I want to say that I had the cooperation of every member of the supervising staff.

I extend my special thanks to Dr. Burke, who has cooperated in every way with me while I have been on the Committee, even though it was not always possible to accomplish what I desired. I want to thank Dr. Ceconi, Director of the Department of School Hygiene, who has done so much for the schools; and also the entire Board of Superintendents. I want to mention also our Secretary, Miss Cronin, always able and loyal to every member of the Board, I want to extend my thanks to the principals and the teachers, and to our clerks, and to the custodians of schools. Many have been the problems which have come to us, and though they have not always been solved to my complete satisfaction, or to the satisfaction of my colleagues, there has always been a fine spirit.

Chairman: Mrs. Barron and Mr. Sullivan, at the close of this meeting we must assume your voluntary retirement from the School Committee. I want to personally express to you my appreciation and thanks for the consideration which you have both shown me in all our discussions through the four years in which I have been a member of the Committee. I also want to thank you for the earnest and vigorous discussions which we have had and for what I feel has been as a result of these discussions—though we may not have agreed always—wise decisions, for the good of the Boston schools.

Mr. Sullivan has been on the Committee for six years, Mrs. Barron for four. It has been a great pleasure to serve with you both. You have both given generously of your time and energy.

Mrs. Barron: I want to add to my words of appreciation a word to our newspaper reporters. I want to say they have been most painstaking, and it has been splendid to see the very accurate statements they have given of Committee proceedings in their respective papers.

Mr. Sullivan: I want to thank the Chair and the other members who will go over into the new Committee, and Mrs. Barron, who is retiring, and all the executives, including Dr. Burke, Mr. Sullivan and Dr. Ceconi. I had hoped that salary increases might be given, but the failure of the Law Department to communicate its opinion on time to the School Committee as to whether or not the School Committee had the power to vote increases at this time, did not make that way clear. I do hope that the work of Dr. Ceconi will be properly evaluated and his splendid service properly rewarded by the new Committee; and also other members of our executive staff and our personnel. I want to thank everybody for their kindness. I think it is a happy augury for the school service that such fighters as Mrs. Barron and myself, with apologies, leave this Board after service of four and six years, respectively, feeling a full measure of respect and admiration for the remaining members.

Mr. Hurley: I join with the Chairman in his appreciation of the services of the two retiring members. Service on the School Committee is gratuitous, and Mrs. Barron for four and Mr. Sullivan for six years have given generously of their time, energy and ability. Their experience has been of value to me in the last two years. I know I speak the sentiments of the Chairman and the other members when I say we have enjoyed our association with them and regret that like all finite things, it must come to an end.

Dr. Lyons: I agree heartily with all that has been so well expressed by the Chair and Mr. Hurley. I want to thank Mrs. Barron and Mr. Sullivan for the many kindnesses extended to me, and I wish publicly to compliment them for the splendid service they have given to the City of Boston.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

The four orders presented at the previous meeting making changes in and additions to the authorized list of text books were taken up and passed collectively and unanimously.

On motion, all unfinished business was referred to the next Committee.

The Committee adjourned.

PRO TANTO PROCEEDINGS WHERE CITY TAKES PROPERTY HALTED BY MAYOR CURLEY AS UNJUST TO TAX- PAYERS.

Mayor Curley has sent the following letter to all department heads:

DEAR SIR,—Hereafter whenever property is taken by the city for municipal purposes an agreement should be entered into with reference to the price to be paid by the city and, if accepted by the owner of the property, that should end the proceedings so far as the city is concerned, with the exception, of course, that the individual has the right to bring suit if dissatisfied with the award.

The custom of making payment and in addition agreeing to the person whose property has been taken being permitted to institute pro tanto proceedings is equivalent to providing individuals whose property has been taken by the city with the funds with which to institute proceedings against the city to secure money which they may or may not be entitled to.

The practice is eminently unfair so far as the city is concerned and an injustice to the taxpayers. In other words, it is another one of those "leaks" that should be stopped and the rule should be definitely established that no city department hereafter agree to pro tanto proceedings.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

On January 16 the Mayor issued the following statement:

Hereafter the owners of real estate from whom property has been taken for public improvements will not be permitted to make pro tanto settlements; that is, receive the amount of damages awarded by the board of officers making the taking and then institute court proceedings for the recovery of an amount in addition thereto.

If damages awarded are deemed insufficient by property owners they may have recourse to the courts and the law now provides for a speedy jury trial to determine the amount of damages to which they are entitled. Owners should not be allowed to receive the money awarded by the Street Commissioners and use it for the purpose of carrying on litigation against the city.

Where an award is taken pro tanto, if a trial is then had before a jury, if it should be determined by the jury that the damages suffered were not as great as the amount already paid to the owner, there is no way of recovering the excess from the owner. The practice heretofore existing encouraged additional litigation, as the owner had nothing to lose and everything to gain, and the city nothing to gain and everything to lose.

PROCEEDINGS OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

Jan. 6, 1930

The meeting for organization of the School Committee of the City of Boston for the current municipal year was held in the Administration Building, 15 Beacon Street, at 5:32 o'clock, P. M.

Present: Messrs. Gray, Hurley, Lyons, Mrs. Pigeon, and Mr. Reilly.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Francis C. Gray, the senior member.

MEMBERS-ELECT OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE

The following communication was received:

BOARD OF ELECTION COMMISSIONERS, CITY HALL ANNEX, COURT SQUARE.

Boston, November 22, 1929
Miss Ellen M. Cronin,
Secretary School Committee,
15 Beacon Street, Boston.
Dear Madam:

We certify that at the City Election held in the City of Boston, November 5th, 1929, for the choice of two members of the School Committee for the term of four years, the following were elected to said office.

Elizabeth W. Pigeon, 58 White Street.

William A. Reilly, 99 Orchard Street.

Respectfully yours,
(Signed)

FRANK SEIBERLICH,
PATRICK H. O'CONNOR,
NINA M. GEVALT,
JAMES J. MULVEY,

Board of Election Commissioners.
Placed on file.

ELECTION OF CHAIRMAN

The Committee proceeded to the election of a Chairman, and the Secretary was directed to call the roll.

Mr. Hurley: Mr. Chairman, I am casting my vote for Mr. Gray as Chairman. I realize that Mr. Gray is not a candidate for reelection but I am taking this method of expressing my appreciation and, I believe, the appreciation of the other members of the Committee, of the splendid service which Mr. Gray has rendered as Chairman. Were he a candidate for reelection, I am sure that he would be re-elected by unanimous vote.

The members as their names were called respectively voted as follows:

For FRANCIS C. GRAY—Mr. Hurley and Mrs. Pigeon—2.

For JOSEPH J. HURLEY—Messrs. Gray, Lyons, and Reilly—3.

Mrs. Pigeon moved that she be permitted to be recorded in favor of Mr. Hurley in order that the election shall be unanimous.

The motion passed.

Mr. Joseph J. Hurley was thereupon declared duly elected Chairman of the Committee.

Mr. Hurley, taking the Chair, thanked the members of the Committee for the honor conferred upon him and expressed the hope that he will merit the confidence placed in him.

RULES INVOLVING EXPENDITURE OF MONEY

On motion, it was

ORDERED, That the Rules of the School Committee and the Regulations of the Public Schools of last year which involve the expenditure of money, are hereby adopted for the present year until otherwise ordered.

RULES NOT INVOLVING EXPENDITURE OF MONEY

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the Rules of the School Committee and the Regulations of the Public Schools of last year which do not involve the expenditure of money, are hereby adopted for the present year until otherwise ordered.

ELECTION OF TREASURER

The Committee proceeded to the election of a Treasurer of the Corporation.

The Secretary was directed to call the roll, and the members as their names were called respectively voted as follows:

For JOSEPH V. LYONS—Messrs. Gray and Hurley, Mrs. Pigeon, and Mr. Reilly—4.

For ELIZABETH W. PIGEON—Dr. Lyons—1.

The Chairman declared Dr. Joseph V. Lyons duly elected Treasurer of the Corporation.

AMENDMENT AND APPROVAL OF MINUTES

On motion, the minutes of previous meetings were amended, as follows:

Nov. 4, 1929, on page 265, to provide that the approval by the Division of Vocational Education of the establishment of a department of aeronautics, consisting of courses in airplane mechanics and airplane engine mechanics in the Boston Trade School, shall read "an Airplane Service Department, consisting of courses in Airplane Mechanics and Airplane Engine Mechanics," as requested by the Department of Education.

Nov. 18, 1929, on page 274, as amended Dec. 23, 1929, to provide that the appointment from the eligible list of John E. Fuller as junior master in the Brighton High School, to take effect Jan. 2, 1930, shall read "ninth year."

Nov. 18, 1929, on page 275, to provide that the appointment from the eligible list of Margaret J. O'Brien as assistant, elementary, Francis Parkman District, to take effect Dec. 4, 1929, shall read "fourth year."

The reading of the minutes of the previous meeting was omitted, the Committee approving them as printed.

APPOINTMENT AND SALARY OF SUPERINTENDENT OF CONSTRUCTION

A communication was received from Richard J. Lane, Chairman, Board of Commissioners of School Buildings, reporting that at a meeting of the Board of Commissioners of School Buildings of the City of Boston held the eighteenth day of December, 1929, at 15 Beacon Street, Boston, at which the three Commissioners constituting said Board were present, the following vote was passed:

"VOTED: That the salary for the position of Superintendent of Construction provided for in Chapter 351 of the Acts of 1929 be and the same is hereby established by the Board of Commissioners of School Buildings of the City of Boston at the rate of Twelve Thousand Dollars ($12,000) per annum. It was VOTED, further, that a copy of this vote be transmitted by the Chairman of this Commission to the School Committee of the City of Boston with a request that in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 351 of the Acts of 1929, the School Committee approve the establishment of the salary of the said Superintendent of Construction at the rate of Twelve Thousand Dollars per annum."

Placed on file.

The following communication was received:

CITY OF BOSTON
OFFICE OF THE CITY CLERK
CITY HALL

To the School Committee:

You are hereby notified that on December 30, 1929, at three minutes after five o'clock P. M. the Board of Commissioners of School Buildings appointed under the provisions of chapter 351 of the Acts of 1929, elected Louis K. Rourke to be Superintendent of Construction. Under the terms of section three of the act, upon the election of said Superintendent the Schoolhouse Department and the Schoolhouse Commission existing under the authority of chapter 473 of the Acts of 1901, were abolished.

Attest:

(Signed) W. J. DOYLE
City Clerk

Placed on file.

Mr. Gray offered the following:

ORDERED, That this Committee hereby ratifies the action of the previous School Committee approving the establishment by the Board of Commissioners of School Buildings of the salary of the Superintendent of Construction at the rate of twelve thousand dollars ($12,000) per annum, to take effect Dec. 31, 1929, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 351 of the Acts of 1929.

The Chairman stated that at the Conference of the School Committee on Dec. 23, 1929, it was agreed to approve the establishment of the salary of the Superintendent of Construction at the rate of twelve thousand dollars ($12,000) per annum, and on Dec. 31, in order to meet the wishes of the City Auditor, the three members of the Committee who were then within call, individually affixed their signatures as evidence of approval, to the attested copy of the vote of the Board of Commissioners of School Buildings which established the salary of the Superintendent of Construction at the rate of twelve thousand dollars ($12,000) per annum.

The order passed by unanimous vote.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, January 20, 1930.

Regular meeting of the City Council in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., President LYNCH in the chair. Absent, Coun. Dowd.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE MAYOR.

Subject to confirmation by the Council, the Mayor submitted appointments for the term ending April 30, 1930, viz.:

Constables: Samuel Gordon, 236 Chambers street, Boston; Marx Goldfarb, 27 Allen street, Boston; Simon Hirshon, 96 Linden street, Boston; Michael J. Fields, 94 G street, South Boston.

Severally laid over a week, under the law.

LAUNDRY, DOVER STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 20, 1930.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith submit to you report of Park Department in compliance with your order of January 13, 1930.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, January 16, 1930.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of January 15 inclosing order from the City Council: That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to remove the laundry from its present location on Dover street to some other suitable quarters.

This matter is being studied at the present time in conjunction with the building of the new bath house at L street.

Very respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG,
Chairman.

QUARTERS FOR EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 20, 1930.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith submit to you report of Public Buildings Department in compliance with your order of January 13, 1930.

Very truly yours,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Buildings Department,
January 16, 1930.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—Replying to the inclosed order of the City Council that the Superintendent of Public Buildings be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to assign suitable quarters near City Hall for the use of the Municipal Employment Bureau, now located at Haymarket square, I respectfully report that there is a fire house located on Church street which was recently turned over to this department and which, I think, could be used for this purpose by the expenditure of possibly $2,000. I have talked this matter over with Mr. Shields and he seems favorably impressed with the location inasmuch as it is in a centrally located district where much activity prevails. By the utilization of this property the annual rental of $2,400 which we now pay for the Haymarket square property could be saved, which is quite in keeping with your Honor's suggestion.

I might also add that I have received a communication from John C. Kiley offering stores on the Court square side of the Kimball Building for the purpose of housing the Employment Bureau at a rental of $2,000 per year. Personally I do not believe this to be a good location, it being too close to City Hall and not located in the business section where work would be more liable to be available.

However, I await your pleasure in the premises.

Respectfully yours,
JOHN P. ENGLETT,
Superintendent of Public Buildings.

FIRE DEPARTMENT UNIFORMS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 20, 1930.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith submit to you report of Fire Department in compliance with your order of January 6, 1930.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Fire Department, January 14, 1930.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of the following order passed by the City Council on January 6, 1930, and approved by your Honor on January 8, 1930: "Ordered, That the Commissioners of the Fire and Police Departments be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to see that all future contracts for the manufacture of uniforms for the members of their respective departments be awarded to firms having a place of manufacture in Boston, and preferably to citizens of Boston."

In reply thereto I would say that for the past few years the contract for manufacturing the uniforms of members of the Boston Fire Department has been awarded to firms having a place of manufacture in Boston and to citizens of the city.

Yours very truly,
E. C. HULTMAN,
Fire Commissioner.

STANDING IN JITNEY BUSES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 20, 1930.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of a communication from the General Manager of the Boston Elevated Railway Public Trustees and believing that the position taken by him upon the matter is worthy of consideration I beg to submit to your honorable body, for such action as you may deem proper, an amendment to the ordinances of the City of Boston so that the same may conform with the rules and regulations adopted by the Department of Public Utilities as at present in force in the neighboring cities and towns served by the Boston Elevated Railway System.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Boston Elevated Railway,
Boston, January 9, 1930.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston,
Dear Sir,—In the effort to meet the practical situation with regard to running satisfactory bus service we are confronted with short periods of time where fluctuations in movement of passengers for short distances indicate that it would be in the interest of the car riders themselves to have the privilege, up to a reasonable limit, of boarding buses in excess of the seating capacity, which limit is now set by ordinance at the seating capacity. The Department of Public Utilities in the rules and regulations which they have laid down recognize and provide for standing passengers up to twenty-five per cent of the seating capacity, as follows:

"Standees and Seats. Passengers in excess of 25 per cent above the seating capacity of the motor vehicle shall not habitually be carried. Where the number of passengers regularly applying for transportation exceeds that above provided for, it shall be the duty of the licensee to furnish additional facilities to carry such passengers. In no event shall standing passengers be carried for a distance in excess of 15 miles."

The ordinances in the towns of Arlington, Belmont, Brookline, Medford, Malden, Somerville, Watertown now provide for standing passengers to meet the very conditions to which I am calling attention.

The more modern type of buses which are now being manufactured lend themselves to this situation also in a very much more noticeable degree.

It is manifestly impossible for car riders to carry the expense involved of additional operators, buses, etc., to take care of such brief periods of overload. The inconvenience now caused such passengers of waiting for following buses can be obviated if the city would modify the ordinance to coincide with the regulations now in effect of the Department of Public Utilities.

There are short peaks in the movement of traffic as well as emergencies where it would seem as if such action would be in the interest of those who ride.

I am calling this to your attention with the hope that we may have this cooperation extended to us in Boston, as is done in the other cities and towns.

Yours very truly,
EDWARD DANA,
General Manager.

An Ordinance Concerning Passengers on Jitneys. Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Chapter thirty-nine of the Revised Ordinances of 1925 is hereby amended by striking out section one hundred and one, and inserting in place thereof the following:

Section 101. The license issued for each motor vehicle shall fix and specify its seating capacity, exclusive of the operator. Passengers in excess of twenty-five per cent above the seating capacity of such motor vehicle shall not habitually be carried. Whenever the number of passengers regularly applying for transportation exceeds the number hereinbefore provided for it shall be the duty of the licensee to furnish sufficient additional facilities to carry such passengers. No person operating or in charge of any such vehicle shall take on or suffer or permit more persons to ride or to be carried thereon at any one time than is authorized by this section, or permit any person to stand or sit upon any running board, steps, fender, dash or hood thereof, or permit any person to ride on such motor vehicle outside the body thereof; provided, however, that in addition to the number of passengers which said motor vehicle by the terms of this section is permitted to carry, children under seven years of age may be carried therein, in arms, or seated on the laps of adult persons accompanying them, but no passenger with a child in arms or seated on the lap shall be permitted on any front seat of the vehicle.

Referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

WORK AT NAVY YARD.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 14, 1930.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I beg to forward herewith reply received from the Navy Department at Washington in response to resolution adopted by your honorable body and forwarded by the Mayor's office, as directed.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Navy Department,
Assistant Secretary's Office,
Washington, January 11, 1930.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

My dear Mr. Mayor,—Your letter to the President has been referred to the Navy Department for a reply.

The department regrets that a statement appeared in a local newspaper during the past week to the effect that the Boston Navy Yard is to be closed down within a few days, because no work had been assigned there, whereas the facts are that the work load of the Boston Navy Yard has been determined for the next year and the yard has been instructed relative to the said work load.

A report from the commandant of the Boston Navy Yard states that it is very probable that additional men to the number of about eighty will be taken on in February rather than having a discharge in the near future.

As the work load, which includes the general overhaul of vessels, has been assigned to the various yards for the next year, it is impracticable to divert the work from one yard to another without upsetting the conditions at practically all yards.

I am pleased to inform you that the yard will not be closed down and that the department does not contemplate the discharge of several hundred mechanics and skilled laborers from the Boston Navy Yard.

Very sincerely yours,
ERNEST LEE JAHNCKE.

RESOLUTIONS APPROVING LEGISLATION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 16, 1930.
To the Honorable City Council:
Gentlemen,—The joint rules of the Legislature provide that petitions for legislation to authorize a city to borrow money outside the debt limit will not be considered unless approved by the Mayor and City Council. I accordingly submit for your consideration and recommend the adoption of the accompanying resolutions approving legislation I have sought for the following purposes:

Widening and Construction of Dorchester Avenue.
Widening and Construction of Summer and L Streets.
Construction of Permanent Street Pavement.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston favors the enactment of legislation authorizing the appropriation of a sum not exceeding ten million dollars for the purpose of the construction of permanent street pavement on now existing highways in the City of Boston, as set forth in a bill, accompanying a petition of the Mayor of the City of Boston, or like legislation to accomplish the same ends, and favors the borrowing of money outside the legal limit of indebtedness to accomplish said purpose like or as set forth in said bill.

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston favors the enactment of legislation authorizing the widening and construction of Dorchester avenue from a point in the vicinity of the Fort Point Channel Bridge to Old Colony avenue, as set forth in a bill, accompanying a petition of the Mayor of the City of Boston, or like legislation to accomplish the same ends, and favors the borrowing of money outside the legal limit of indebtedness to accomplish said purpose like or as set forth in said bill.

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston favors the enactment of legislation authorizing the widening and construction of Summer and

L streets from a point in the vicinity of the Army Base, so-called, to Broadway in the South Boston district, as set forth in a bill, accompanying a petition of the Mayor of the City of Boston, or like legislation to accomplish the same ends, and favors the borrowing of money outside the legal limit of indebtedness to accomplish said purpose like or as set forth in said bill.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

MARKING OF HISTORICAL SITES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 20, 1930.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—The Commission on Marking of Historical Sites, whose membership is representative of the historical and educational authorities of Boston, have agreed to serve the city once more, gratis.

I feel it needless for me to point out to the City Council the importance of marking in enduring bronze historical sites intimately connected with scenes and events associated with the history of Boston. This year, 1930, being the tercentenary of the founding of the city will unquestionably cause Boston to be the mecca for millions of people representing every section of the United States.

Under the circumstances it is desirable that early action be taken upon the accompanying order, the adoption of which is hereby recommended.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the Commission on the Marking of Historical Sites be, and hereby is, authorized to expend under the direction of the Mayor, a sum not to exceed twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) in the prosecution of their duties, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund when made.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

LOAN FOR SANATORIUM BUILDINGS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 20, 1930.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—The sum of $1,400,000 was authorized in May, 1928, for the development of the Sanatorium Division of the Hospital Department, in keeping with the needs of the community.

To complete that program, and that the entire facilities may be available for public use, the sum of $450,000 additional is necessary, and I accordingly recommend the adoption by your honorable body of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $450,000 be, and the same hereby is, appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Trustees of the Boston City Hospital, for Hospital Department, Sanatorium Division, New Buildings and Additions and Equipment and Furniture, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City to said amount.

Coun. ARNOLD—Mr. President, I was very much impressed with what the Mayor had to say about this particular project, and, having been honored at your hands with the chairmanship of the Hospital Committee, I wish, for one, to say that I am in entire accord with the Mayor's program. I believe, therefore, that the Council would do well to suspend the rule and act at the present time.

The rule was suspended and the order was given its first reading and passage, yeas 19, nays 0.

LOAN FOR MEDICAL PAVILION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 20, 1930.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—The medical pavilion of the Boston City Hospital, representing an expenditure approximating in excess of three quarters of a million dollars, is rapidly approaching completion. It is absolutely essential, in the interests of the public, that the facilities of the medical pavilion be made available for public use at the earliest possible date.

Accordingly I recommend the adoption by your honorable body of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $70,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated to be expended by the Trustees of the Boston City Hospital for New Medical Pavilion, Furnishing and Equipping, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City to said amount.

Coun. BUSH—Mr. President, while I am thoroughly in favor of speeding up these orders relating to hospitals by passage under suspension of the rule, I would like to call the attention of the Council to the fact that this ought only to be done in cases of emergency, because it is establishing a precedent whereby the work is being taken away entirely from our committee, which, if this sort of thing were done right along, would not function at all. However, in view of the fact that it is highly important that the work of hospital construction proceed as rapidly as possible, I move suspension of the rule and passage of the order.

The rule was suspended and the order was passed, yeas 20, nays 0.

LOANS FOR CITY HOSPITAL BUILDINGS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, January 20, 1930.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—The City Hospital Trustees are desirous of completing the program adopted in 1922 and I believe that the work should be expedited, both as a means of providing necessary hospitalization facilities for the public and, in addition, relieving unemployment through a building construction program.

At a conference held this day with the City Hospital Trustees, the superintendent of the Boston City Hospital and the architects assigned to the drafting of plans, it was the unanimous opinion that four of the projects involving an expenditure of $1,000,000 can be completed this year.

The projects in question are the Children's Pavilion, $325,000; Laundry Building, $175,000; Administration Building, $420,000; remodeling and reconstructing Nurses' Home and Administration Building located in what is commonly known and called the South Department, $80,000.

In conformity with the provisions of the statute providing for hospitalization facilities the municipality is required to provide one half of the required amount within the debt limit, and one half outside of the debt limit.

I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying orders.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 237 of the Acts of 1928 the sum of $210,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Trustees of the Boston City Hospital for Administration Building, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City to said amount.

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 237 of the Acts of 1928 the sum of $162,000 be, and the same hereby is, appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Trustees of the Boston City Hospital for Children's Pavilion, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City to said amount.

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 237 of the Acts of 1928 the sum of $87,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Trustees of the Boston City Hospital for Laundry Building, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City to said amount.

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 237 of the Acts of 1928 the sum of $40,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Trustees of the Boston City Hospital for South Department Buildings, Remodeling, et cetera, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston to said amount.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

Later in the session Coun. ARNOLD said:

Mr. President, just before recess the Council passed two orders of minor importance in connection with the building program of the Hospital Department. The Council, however, referred to the Committee on Finance a million dollar appropriation for the City Hospital, which included an appropriation of $325,000 for a children's pavilion, $420,000 for administration building, $80,000 for nurses' home and $125,000 for a laundry building. I am now going to move, Mr. President, that the reference to the Committee on Finance be withdrawn, for the reason that I believe, and believe sincerely, that the demands upon the City Hospital are going to be much greater on account of the financial condition of the City of Boston at this particular time of depression and unemployment.

The Council voted to recall the order from the Committee on Finance, and the order was given its first reading and passage, yeas 20, nays 0.

PETITIONS REFERRED.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

BORROWING CAPACITY OF CITY IN 1930.

A communication was received from the Board of Commissioners of Sinking Funds submitting a statement of the borrowing capacity of the city, the same being $5,738,545.04.

Placed on file.

CONFIRMATION OF EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS.

President LYNCH called up, under unfinished business, Nos. 1 and 2 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor January 13, 1930, of James McGovern, to be a Weigher of Coal.

2. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor January 13, 1930, of the following-named persons to be Constables: John J. Stanton, Samuel C. Koupehik, Gabriel Grappocio, Thomas J. Killian, John Anderson, William E. Elton, George Nelson, Frederick J. Lundy, Patrick J. Monahan, James V. Hartrey, Barney C. DeLuca, Joseph J. O'Mara.

The question came on confirmation. Committee—Coun. Gallagher and Fitzgerald. Whole number of ballots 19, yeas 19, and the appointments were confirmed.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

Coun. MAHONEY, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted report recommending passage of order for payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston for month of January, 1930.

Report accepted and order passed.

COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC LANDS REPORT.

Coun. McGRATH, for the Committee on Public Lands, submitted the following:

1. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred September 30, 1929) recommending cancellation of lease from Commonwealth of Massachusetts to Airport Development Company and payment of damages in a sum not to exceed $15,000—that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. ARNOLD—Mr. President, I feel, in order to act intelligently on a matter like this, that I should ask the chairman of the committee to tell the Council about it.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, this is one of the orders that was left over when the last Council went out of office, and I found it in our box when I came in. It relates to the airport in Ward 1. It seems that five or six years ago, when the state was in control of that property, they made a lease with a concern known as the Boston Airport Company that covered a period of at least ten years. Since that time the city has taken over the property and enlarged it to such an extent that the property with the lease on it is right in the center of the flying field. Therefore, at the request of Mr. Long of the Park Department, we held meetings at which representatives of the two Boston newspapers representing the airport were present and it came out that no federal appropriation will be made until such time as this matter has been cleared up. Because there was no opposition to it our committee saw no reason to take any other action than that which has been taken as presented here today. They feel that there should be a cancellation of the lease and that this should be taken over as city property.

Coun. DONOVAN—I might say further, in addition, that having the airdrome in the middle of the field prevents the landing of the flyers, and that this action proposed by the committee will possibly relieve the situation.

The order was passed, yeas 21, nays 0.

2. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred December 23, 1929) for release of restrictions on land on Concord street—that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I would like to have the chairman on the committee explain this.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, this is the property now owned by the Home for Destitute Catholic Children upon Shawmut avenue, and at the corner of Stoughton street. At the time they bought the land from the City of Boston it was so restricted that it could not be sold for anything but charitable purposes. Because that section has long since outlived its usefulness, from the standpoint of new development, they now ask that the restrictions be removed and that they be allowed to sell their property, as any other institution would sell it, in the event that they can find a customer.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, might I ask the chairman whether they have an upset price on it?

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, they are not going to sell immediately, as I understand from their attorney, Michael H. Coughlin, but in the event that they do ever sell, inasmuch as the land is owned privately, the question of an upset price is not up to the City Council.

The order was given its first reading and passage, yeas 21, nays 0.

LAND FOR WARD 17 PLAYGROUND.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the sum of four thousand dollars be, and hereby is, appropriated, to be expended by the Park Commissioners for the purchase of land for playground purposes in the vicinity of Dunbar avenue, Ward 17, Dorchester, and for the construction of said playground, and that to meet the said appropriation the City Treasurer be, and he hereby is, authorized to issue, from time to time, upon the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston to said amount.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, with reference to this small loan order, I would simply state, for the benefit of the new members of the Council, that the Committee on Parks and Playgrounds when it last made a report, under the previous administration, recommended seven playgrounds, including one in Ward 17, for which they submitted a figure of $21,000, based on assessed valuation of the three previous years. After a loan order for that amount had been passed by the Council and signed by the Mayor, it turned out that the value of that four or five acres was slightly increased by the latest figures, bringing the amount necessary up to $25,000, approximately, instead of $21,000. This particular project has received the approval of the Committee on Parks and Playgrounds and also of the City Council, and, in view of the fact that this is merely to correct a slight oversight because of change in the figures on the basis of a three years' valuation, I ask a suspension of the rule and the passage of the order at this time.

The rule was suspended and the order was passed, yeas 20, nays 0.

APPROPRIATION FOR TERCENTENNIAL CELEBRATION OF DORCHESTER DAY.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Director of Public Celebrations through his Honor the Mayor be, and he hereby is, respectfully requested in his budget for 1930 to provide an extra appropriation this year for the Tercentennial Celebration of Dorchester Day.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I introduce this order at this time owing to the fact that, as I have read in the newspapers recently, the present administration, incidental to the Tercentennial Celebration of the present year, proposes to double the appropriation for the various holidays in Boston—including, for example, Evacuation Day for two South Boston wards, the Bunker Hill Day for Charlestown, and various other holidays in different parts of the city. I realize that it was no doubt due to oversight, but I do wish to call the attention of the administration at the present time to the fact that Dorchester Day is one of the anniversaries for which an additional appropriation should be available, in view of the fact that Dorchester covers one fourth of the entire city and that it had a good deal to do with what occurred 300 years ago.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING WASHINGTON STREET, DORCHESTER.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works through his Honor the Mayor be, and he hereby is, respectfully requested to resurface Washington street, Dorchester, from Grove Hall to Fuller street during the year 1930.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING KENWOOD STREET, DORCHESTER.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works through his Honor the Mayor be, and he hereby is, respectfully requested to resurface Kenwood street, Dorchester, during the year 1930.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

HEALTH UNIT IN DORCHESTER.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be, and he hereby is, respectfully requested to promptly consider the advisability of the erection of a health unit in the Dorchester District, such health unit to be conveniently and centrally located.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

MUNICIPAL BUILDING, CENTRAL DORCHESTER DISTRICT.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be, and he hereby is, respectfully requested to consider in his budget for 1930 the erection of a municipal building in the central Dorchester district, preferably in conjunction with a health unit and in any event in conjunction with a local accident ward.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ST. GREGORY STREET, WARD 17.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out St. Gregory street, Ward 17, as a public highway.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ABBOTSFORD STREET, WARD 12.

Coun. BUSH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth paving Abbottsford street, Ward 12.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

HOLLANDER STREET, WARD 12.

Coun. BUSH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth paving Hollander street, Ward 12.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SCHUYLER STREET, WARD 12.

Coun. BUSH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth paving Schuyler street, Ward 12.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ENLARGEMENT OF EAST BOSTON COURTHOUSE.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars be, and the same hereby is, appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Superintendent of Public Buildings for the enlargement of the East Boston Courthouse, and that to meet such expense the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

HEARINGS ON GASOLINE PETITIONS, ETC.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to notify the City Council of all proposed hearings on permits for the storage and sale of gasoline, oil, and all other inflammable materials.

Coun. DONOVAN—Mr. President, my reason for filing that order at this time is to protect not alone my colleagues, but to protect in our several districts our constituents. In order to correct an erroneous impression that may prevail, let me say that on last Tuesday, when a hearing was had before the Street Commissioners at which nobody appeared, in the case of a petition of the Standard Oil Company in East Boston for the storage of oil, and so on, it was because nobody was notified or knew about it. Therefore, my reason for filing this order is that we may protect our constituents at other hearings.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ANNUITY TO WIDOW OF FRANK H. LASKEY.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston favors the enactment of legislation authorizing the City of Boston to pay an annuity to the widow of Frank H. Laskey, late member of the Fire Department.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PAYMENT TO WIDOW OF JAMES J. TROY.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That an annuity of six hundred dollars be allowed and paid to the widow of James J. Troy, late member of the Boston Police Department, who died in the performance of his duty, such annuity to continue so long as said widow remains unmarried and to be charged to the appropriation for Police Department, Pensions and Annuities.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. DONOVAN also offered the following:
Resolved, That the Boston City Council favors the enactment of legislation providing for the payment of a sum of money to the widow of James J. Troy, late member of the Boston Police Department, who lost his life in the performance of his duty.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

LIGHTING ON ST. BOTOLPH STREET.

Coun. ARNOLD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to include in the 1930 budget a sum sufficient to provide for the completion of the installation of the boulevard lighting system on St. Botolph street, from Irvington street to Massachusetts avenue.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ALLEY BETWEEN HUNTINGTON AVENUE AND ST. STEPHEN STREET.

Coun. ARNOLD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to lay out and accept as a public alley the private alley between Huntington avenue and St. Stephen street, from Symphony Hall to Opera place.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

EMPLOYMENT OF CITIZENS ON CONTRACT WORK.

Coun. MAHONEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct the heads of departments to strictly enforce the provisions of the ordinances requiring the employment of citizens on contract work with the city.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTANCE OF WARD 11 STREETS.

Coun. ENGLERT offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to lay out and accept View South avenue, Ward 11, as a public highway.

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to lay out and accept Orchard avenue, Ward 11, as a public highway.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPAVING OF MARCELLA STREET.

Coun. ENGLERT offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave Marcella street, Ward 11, with smooth paving.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

MOZART STREET, WARD 10.

Coun. POWER offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface Mozart street, Ward 10.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTANCE OF SHEPHERD AVENUE, WARD 10.

Coun. POWER offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Shepherd avenue, Ward 10, as a public highway.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PAYMENT TO HUSBAND OF RACHEL S. WATSON.

Coun. MAHONEY, for Coun. Dowd, offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston favors the enactment of legislation to enable the city to pay a sum of money to the husband of Rachel S. Watson, who died at the Boston City Hospital.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PAYMENT TO MOTHER OF DAVID McDONALD.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council favors the enactment of legislation providing for the payment of a sum of money to the mother of the late David McDonald, said David McDonald having been killed by an officer of the Boston Police Department.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ANNUITY TO WIDOW OF JOHN MONTAGUE.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council favors the enactment of legislation providing for the payment of an annuity to the widow of John Montague, late sergeant of the Boston Police Department.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

HYDE PARK AVENUE, WARD 18.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to reconstruct Hyde Park avenue, Ward 18, from Neponset avenue to Metropolitan avenue, and from Cleary square to the Readville race track.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

WIDENING OF BEECH STREET.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to provide for the widening of Beech street, from Washington street to Poplar street, Ward 18, to a uniform width of 40 feet.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BRANCH LIBRARY, WARD 18.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Trustees of the Boston Public Library be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to establish a branch library in Mt. Hope section, Ward 18.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTANCE OF WARD 21 STREETS.

Coun. HEIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to lay out and accept as a public highway Corey road, from Washington street to Summit street, Ward 21.

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to lay out and accept as a public highway Radcliffe road, three hundred feet in from Quint avenue, Ward 21.

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to lay out and accept as a public highway Elizabeth avenue, from Allston street to Commonwealth avenue, Ward 21.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

REPAVING OF WARD 21 STREETS.

Coun. HEIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth paving Allston street, from Brighton avenue to Washington street, Ward 21.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth paving Ashford street, from Linden street to Melvin street, Ward 21.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth paving Gardner avenue, from Harvard avenue to Melvin street, Ward 21.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

STANLEY RINGER PLAYGROUND, WARD 21.

Coun. HEIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the sum of fifty thousand dollars be, and the same hereby is, appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Park Commission for the enlarging of the Stanley Ringer Playground, Ward 21, by removing seventy-five feet of ledge on said playground, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Coun. HEIN—Mr. President, so far as this particular playground is concerned, the land is now owned by the city. Every councilor here is interested in playgrounds and in having them kept in proper condition. Out in Ward 21, to my knowledge, there isn't a playground fit for anyone to play in. On this playground there is a ledge, and when it rains the water runs off and collects, so that it makes a beautiful skating rink in the winter time and a swimming pool in the summer. I move a suspension of the rule and the passage of the order.

The rule was suspended, and the order was given its first reading and passage, yeas 19, nays 0.

RECONSTRUCTION OF WARD 22 STREETS.

Coun. GALLAGHER offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to reconstruct Franklin street, Ward 22.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to reconstruct Western avenue, Ward 22.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to reconstruct Haskell street, Ward 22.

MAYOR CURLEY SEEKS MEANS OF EMPLOYMENT FOR HEADS OF FAMILIES.

With a view to relieving distress due to unemployment, his Honor the Mayor on January 22 conferred with the chairman of the Civil Service Commission seeking a suspension of the civil service regulations to the end that preference be given in temporary employment as laborers to men with more than five children dependent upon them for support.

The chairman of the Civil Service Commission, while expressing sympathy with this view, stated that under existing law a suspension of the regulations could not be granted unless approved by the Governor's Council, and after approval did not become operative for a period of sixty days.

In view of this ruling, made necessary by the law, appointments to the city service must be made in conformity with their standings upon the civil service list.

The Park Commissioner, accordingly, was this day directed to make requisition for fifty gardener-laborers to be employed for a period of ninety days.

MAYOR CURLEY STOPS $100,000 "LEAK" IN REPAIRING OF CITY'S MOTOR APPARATUS.

Mayor Curley, on January 18, sent the following letter to Edward G. Richardson, property clerk, Public Works Department:

MY DEAR MR. RICHARDSON,—I have been investigating a prolific source of waste of public funds in your department; namely, the repair of motor vehicles, and my opinion is that in 1929 the City of Boston expended for repair of trucks in excess of $100,000. There is no way in which to justify the continuance of a "leak" of this volume, in view of the fact that the City of Boston maintains a repair shop in the municipal garage at Albany street and in view of the additional fact that every reputable trucking concern maintains a repair department, you are directed to make no contracts hereafter for repairs other than with the concern manufacturing the type of truck that is to be repaired.

In the event that any truck requiring repair is sold by some concern that does not maintain a service station in the vicinity of Boston, have that repair work done at the repair shop on Albany street.

At the earliest opportunity kindly furnish this office with the following information:

Amount expended for repair of motor vehicles during the years 1925, 1926, 1927, 1928 and 1929.

Also the names of the concerns to whom the work was allotted and the amount paid to each concern during each one of these years.

Sincerely yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR NAMES EDMUND L. DOLAN ACTING CITY TREASURER.

Mayor Curley on January 22 accepted the resignation of Frank L. Brier as City Treasurer, and appointed Edmund L. Dolan, Sinking Funds Commissioner, as Acting City Treasurer. The following communications were forwarded to the above named:

MY DEAR MR. BRIER,—I have accepted your resignation as City Treasurer, effective at the close of business, on Saturday, January 25, 1930.

I am deeply appreciative of the splendid services which you have rendered the City of Boston and the gracious courtesy you have exhibited towards me, as evidenced by the tender of your resignation subject to my acceptance.

Sincerely yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MY DEAR MR. DOLAN,—I have this day designated you to serve as Acting City Treasurer for the City of Boston, the appointment to be effective as of Monday, January 27, 1930.

I have accepted the resignation of the present City Treasurer, Frank L. Brier, effective at the close of business, Saturday, January 25, 1930.

In view of the fact that you enjoy friendly relations with Mr. Brier it might be advisable for you to confer with him relative to the conduct of the office before he retires therefrom.

Sincerely yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR CURLEY BATTLES VALIANTLY FOR SHOE INDUSTRY OF GREATER BOSTON AND THE STATE—ADDRESSES COMMUNICATION TO MEMBERS OF CONGRESS, URGING ACTION WHEN SENATE FAILS TO PROVIDE PROTECTION FOR INDUSTRY IN WHICH CITY RANKS FOREMOST.

Mayor Curley came valiantly to the aid of Boston, Massachusetts and New England business on January 27 following failure of the United States Senate to provide protection for the shoe industry, thus allowing American markets to be flooded with the products of Czechoslovakia. He addressed a communication to the members of Congress from Boston and Massachusetts.

The Mayor in his letter said: "It is apparently the purpose of certain interests in Congress to safeguard the investments of international bankers, even though such a course might result in the destruction of established American industries."

He suggests a conference of Massachusetts Senators and Representatives to adopt a retaliatory program against farm relief, or any other pending legislation, unless action is taken for the preservation of the Bay State's established industries.

The communication to the members of both branches of Congress from Massachusetts was as follows:

DEAR SIR,—Under ordinary circumstances I am averse to suggesting to any member of the Congress of the United States a possible course of procedure.

The threat, however, to the continued existence of the boot and shoe industry in the territorial limitations of what is known as Greater Boston, in the failure of the United States Senate to provide any measure of protection to this industry, prompts me to write you.

$114,477,047 Shoe Business in 1928.

The Massachusetts state census for the year 1928 discloses the fact that the value of boots and shoes manufactured in Greater Boston was $114,477,047, apportioned as follows:

Boston, $30,851,477; Lynn, $27,991,243; Chelsea, $8,748,725; Beverly, $2,626,008; Brockton, $39,375,061; Everett, $1,168,734; Salem, $3,715,799.

In the value of products in the boot and shoe line, including cut stock and findings, this industry ranked not only first in 1928 for the City of Boston, but likewise first for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

The growth of imports is most illuminating: in 1922 the total imports of men's, boys', women's and children's boots and shoes was less than 200,000 pairs, while in 1929 it was in excess of 6,000,000 pairs.

Vast Importations Shown.

Boot and shoe importations from Czechoslovakia in 1929 was about four and a half millions of pairs, valued in excess of ten and a half millions of dollars, while the total imports to the United States in the same year was 6,182,000 pairs of leather boots and shoes, valued at seventeen millions of dollars.

Fully 80 per cent of the imports of women's shoes were received from Czechoslovakia where, previously, the principal source of production was Massachusetts.

The effect of the invasion of American markets in the shoe industry is best attested by a study of the figures of this industry as they apply to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

In 1924 the total number of establishments engaged in the leather industry, including manufacture of boots and shoes, cut stock and findings, was 948; the number of employees was 69,505, and the value of the products $307,234,609.

In 1928, the last year for which complete figures are available, the number of establishments was reduced to 817, a reduction of 131 establishments; the number of employees was reduced to 63,093, a reduction of 6,412, while the wages paid was reduced from $79,732,000 to $72,157,000.

It requires no very vivid imagination or knowledge of economics for any individual to determine the duration of the existence of the boot and shoe and leather findings industry in Massachusetts, unless protection is provided.

American Industries Threatened.

It is apparently the purpose of certain interests in Congress to safeguard the investments of international bankers, even though such a course might result in the destruction of any established American industries through failure to provide protection from invasion of our markets by foreign-made goods.

The continuance of the present policy, which permits the flooding of American markets with manufactured boots and shoes, fabricated in countries where neither the wage scale nor living conditions are comparable to those obtaining in America, threatens the chief industry of Massachusetts unless adequate protection is provided.

I trust you will pardon the suggestion, but, in my opinion, extreme measures are necessary if these industries are to be saved from destruction through an invasion of cheap labor and foreign-made goods.

I beg to suggest the advisability of a conference of Massachusetts Senators and Representatives to consider the adoption of a retaliatory program toward farm relief, or any other pending legislation, unless action is taken for the preservation of these established industries which represent the chief means of livelihood of many thousands of self-respecting men and women in the cities and towns of Massachusetts.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

A PENSION FOR OLD AGE WAS URGED BY MAYOR CURLEY AS RELIEF FOR UNEMPLOYMENT—SUGGESTS GASOLENE TAX BOOST AS MEANS FOR OBTAINING REVENUE WITH WHICH TO RELIEVE CONDITION.

An urgent plea for old-age pensions to relieve both present unemployment and unemployment which must ever be increasing because of the unwillingness of industrial leaders to employ men over forty-five years of age, was made by Mayor Curley when he visited the State House to appear at a committee hearing in behalf of his tax-limit bill. He was before the Legislative Committee on Municipal Finance.

The Mayor declared that, like other executives of cities, he had to take his hat in hand and come before the Legislature for the passage of the measure to remove state restrictions in establishing a tax limit in the City of Boston and he branded the necessity as a "demeaning process."

Swerving from his remarks in support of relief from state restrictions, the Mayor declared that a possible means of arriving at accumulation of funds to finance old-age pensions was the raising of the gasoline tax for automobiling from two to three cents, the increase of one cent to be set aside in whole or in part for a fund to relieve distressing conditions.

REVENUE FROM GASOLENE TAX.

He estimated that if one half of the additional cent were set aside for a period of twenty-five years, millions would be accumulated to handle the old-age pension question, and if the whole cent were set aside the accumulation would, of course, be much greater. He insisted that the old-age pension problem, whether it is called socialism or not, must be faced in a statesmanlike manner. While he said he preferred to have the problem handled as a federal proposition he realized that the passage of a federal old-age program seemed improbable and the state should take the subject over.

He was certain of one thing, he declared, and that is that the municipality should not continue to meet the financial problem arising from unemployment. In discussing unemployment conditions in Massachusetts the Mayor said that "people were flocking to this state even from Nova Scotia looking for work," and that the tendency of the smaller places in the state was to send its idle to Boston.

He declared that last week he studied figures pertaining to expenditures for public welfare in the City of Boston. He found that in 1925, $1,500,000 had been expended for this work. In the next year the expenditure was $1,750,000, but in 1929 it had jumped to $2,240,000. More striking than this, the Mayor said, was the fact that relief is not given as exclusively as previously to people of extreme old age, but is given to people just over forty-five out of employment.

He said that last week 600 men reported every day seeking an opportunity to saw wood to get food to keep themselves and their dependents alive. He cited the fact that industrial leaders had promised President Hoover to keep employment going as far as possible, but said they necessarily were having difficulty in keying up their machinery.

"The City of Boston," said the Mayor, "was planning many public projects to give work," but declared that, owing to necessities of advertising, etc., this work could not be started much before February 25 and that it might be spring before the work was actually well under way. He claimed that the present statute fixing the tax limit interfered with the fixation of a program by the city and this tended to slow up the program of providing work for those out of employment.

SOME RELIEF MUST BE FOUND.

Declaring that the Boston Elevated, the New Haven, the Boston & Maine,

Standard Oil Company, and other large employers of labor were "not taking men over fifty," he said that some definite means of relief must be taken. He claimed that all crime waves and sick waves had been associated with periods of unemployment and asserted that if men were not given a proper amount of work suicide increased and the public must be willing to adjust itself to the perpetration of crime, "People," he said, "must be willing to pay either in money or blood."

Touching more specifically on the tax limit bill before the committee, the Mayor said that department estimates submitted to him showed increases of $3,900,000 over actual expenditures of last year. He said he felt that he might decrease this increase by 50 per cent. He would like to decrease it, he said, 75 per cent, but this seemed hardly possible.

Mayor Curley was asked whether he thought the removal of the present municipal tax limit regulation would make it possible for a mayor to have a budget ready by the last of January. The Mayor replied this would be possible in all years excepting the year in which a mayor was elected. In that year, he said, too short a time would be allowed to prepare the budget as the incoming mayor was busy "removing Republicans from office and making his own appointments." This was greeted with laughter by the committee, in which Mr. Curley joined.

The Mayor was asked how the Finance Commission stood on his tax limit proposal, and he said he did not know. He declared that his relations with the Finance Commission were very pleasant and that if there was a break in these pleasant relations it would not be due to him.

MAYOR CURLEY NAMES HON. JOHN F. FITZGERALD CHAIRMAN BOSTON'S TRICENTENARY COMMITTEE.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald, formerly Mayor, and authority on Boston of the present and early days, has been named chairman of the City of Boston Tercentenary Committee. Mrs. James M. Curley, wife of the Mayor, is a vice chairman. Other vice chairmen are Gen. F. H. Appleton of Boston and Ipswich, lineal descendant of the first settlers, and whose home at Ipswich is on the original grant, and Frederic Winthrop, lineal descendant of Governor Winthrop.

The first meeting of the committee was held at the Old South Meeting House at 2:30 o'clock Friday, January 31. Mayor Curley introduced the chairman, Ex-Mayor John F. Fitzgerald.

The executive committee follows: Frank C. Brown, chairman; Miss Elisabeth M. Herlihy, William C. Crawford, Joseph A. F. O'Neil, Miss Mary A. Barr, Frank S. Davis, Edmund L. Dolan, Gleason L. Archer, Carl W. Johansson, Arthur L. Race, Thomas F. Lockney, Mrs. Eva Whiting White, Col. Percy A. Guthrie, Gen. Richard K. Hale, Carl Dreyfus, James W. Reardon.

TRICENTENARY VISITORS TO DRINK FROM BOSTON'S FIRST SPRING.

Mayor Curley has announced that as part of the tercentenary celebration now imminent, the famous old spring which tempted William Blackstone to become the first settler of Boston, will be reopened.

Mayor Curley's announcement was that he has requested the Park Department to pipe the spring, and carry the water from it to a memorial fountain on the Common, opposite No. 50 Beacon street, so that visitors may drink from the very fountain head, as it were, of Boston's greatness.

His "cottage" was, according to the histories of Boston, about where Pinckney street runs now, and the spring was, east of the house, and near to it. The books say it was about in the center of Louisburg square.

It is interesting to remember that this was not the spring which drew Governor Winthrop across the river, bringing the frame of his projected house with him. That spring was what was called the "great spring," and it was in what is still called Spring lane.

AID FOR CHARLESTOWN NAVY YARD — WORK PROMISED MAYOR CURLEY BY CONGRESSMAN DOUGLASS.

Mayor Curley, on January 24, received the following communication from Congressman John J. Douglass:

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Your communications relative to the very unsatisfactory assignment of naval establishment work at the Navy Yard, Boston, resulting in extensive layoffs of workmen at this yard, are received.

My continued efforts, as suggested, to obtain the united support of the entire Massachusetts delegation in Congress is being earnestly followed with the hope that this will cause the Navy Department to allocate sufficient work to the Boston Navy Yard to materially improve the work situation now existent.

Assuring you of my appreciation of having your deep personal activity and sympathy in this matter, and with good wishes, I am,

Sincerely yours,

JOHN J. DOUGLASS.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Upon January 23 the Mayor approved a contract with John D. Sheehy & Son for the laundry work of the Fire Department. A communication from Eugene C. Hultman of the Fire Department was as follows:

BOSTON, January 17, 1930.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—On December 18, 1929, bids were received and opened at this office for the laundry work of the Fire Department, in accordance with an advertisement in the City Record of December 7 and 14. Only one bid was received, namely, that of John D. Sheehy & Son, who submitted a proposal for the laundry work on sheets, pillow slips, towels and spreads at 4½ cents per piece; on blankets, single and double, 25 cents per piece.

The City Auditor informed me that Mr. Sheehy's duplicate proposal had been received at the auditor's office a few minutes later than the time named in the advertisement.

Since receiving the original proposal John D. Sheehy & Son have submitted an amended proposal as follows: Sheets, 3½ cents per piece; pillow slips, 3½ cents per piece; spreads, 3½ cents per piece; towels, 3½ cents per piece; blankets, single and double, 20 cents per piece.

On the basis of the usual quantities of work required the approximate total for the year under this proposal will be $5,000.

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to accept the amended proposal of John D. Sheehy & Son, and reject his original bid.

My reason for requesting this permission is that John D. Sheehy & Son have been doing this laundry work for some time and are quite familiar with the requirements of this department and their work has been satisfactory. I believe the prices he has submitted to be fair for the work required, and I believe that no advantage would be gained by further advertising.

Yours very truly,

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Fire Commissioner.

PENAL INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

Upon January 25 the Mayor approved a contract with the Columbian Insecticide Company for the extermination of vermin at the House of Correction. A communication from Philip A. Chapman of the Penal Institutions Department was as follows:

BOSTON, January 23, 1930.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Your approval is respectfully requested for the award of a contract, without advertising, to the Columbian Insecticide Company, 7 Water street, Boston, for the extermination of vermin at the House of Correction from February 1, 1930, to December 31, 1930, both dates inclusive, at a cost of $1,650.

The Columbian Insecticide Company has performed this work at Deer Island for a number of years in a highly satisfactory manner. This is an important matter in an institution, and I believe it advisable to retain a company whose services have proven satisfactory rather than make a change which might prove unsatisfactory.

In my opinion this is a fair price.

Respectfully yours,

PHILIP A. CHAPMAN,
Penal Institutions Commissioner.

ADDITIONS TO AND DEDUCTIONS FROM CONTRACTS.

The following additions to and deductions from contracts have been approved:

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

John Bowen Company, contractor for erection and completion of Admission Building, Mattapan, has been instructed to add to their contract the sum of $139.56 for furnishing and installing louvers in the masonry walls and in the metal covered door of switchboard room No. 24, as per letter of January 2, 1930. Original contract, $634,000; corrected contract as per order No. 1565, $670,569.19; now added, $139.56; corrected contract, $670,708.75; total added, $45,691; total deducted, $8,982.25.

PRESIDENT OF SENATE PROMISES MAYOR CURLEY CO-OPERATION IN "HOME RULE FOR BOSTON" BATTLE.

Mayor Curley was paid high tribute by Hon. Gasper G. Bacon, President of the Massachusetts Senate, in addressing a gathering of more than 300 persons at the fourth annual banquet of the Roslindale Board of Trade in the Municipal Building, Roslindale. He gave high praise to the integrity of the Mayor and stated that he was in accord with the Mayor in his fight for "home rule for Boston."

That he would give the Mayor his full cooperation in any legislation filed that would benefit the city of Boston, was a further assertion of President Bacon. He added that although he hasn't as yet discussed any bills with the Mayor, in the near future he will have a talk with him. In closing his talk President Bacon believed, with Mayor Curley, that Boston could take care of itself.

Other speakers were Capt. James P. Smith of the West Roxbury police, Representative Joseph White, William Mc-Morrow, Joseph Logan, Harold Duffie, Councilors Clement A. Norton and Joseph Cox, Mark B. Mulvey, and Mrs. Warren H. Brayton, president of the Roslindale Community Club. John F. Kindelan, president, presided.

OFFERS SERVICES TO MAYOR IN "SPLENDID WORK FOR CITY OF BOSTON."

Mayor Curley, on January 29, received the following communication from Victor A. Heath:

DEAR MR. CURLEY,—I just received your very kind letter asking me to serve as a member of the Park Commission. I wish it were possible for me to accept but I have severed my connection with the Ferdinand Blue Store and I am leaving for an extended vacation in Southern California.

My pleasantest memories are of my association with you during the War as chairman of the Public Safety Committee, and I hope that sometime during the next four years I may be of service to you in your splendid work for the City of Boston.

Wishing you every success, and with kind personal regards, I am,

Sincerely yours,
VICTOR A. HEATH.

SURPLUS IN CITY FUNDS WITH WHICH TO START NEW YEAR AMOUNTS TO $1,231,321.04—MAYOR CURLEY MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT IN DISCUSS- ING 1930 TAX RATE.

On January 28 Mayor Curley issued the following statement:

After paying all known liabilities incurred during the year 1929 the surplus has been determined at the end of the period to be $884,635.88. In addition to this there is a School Surplus of $346,686.06, making a total surplus of $1,231,321.94. Under the law the School Surplus is not merged with the City Surplus, but is carried forward for school appropriations in the new year. It is, however, available in addition to the City Surplus for deduction in arriving at the tax rate for the new year.

As compared with the total surplus for the year 1928, viz., $3,454,558.38, it is apparent that there will be available for tax rate purposes $2,223,236.64 less, or approximately $1.15 on the tax rate. The following tabulation shows the amount available at the end of each year as a deduction in the succeeding year in arriving at the tax rate.

	City Surplus.	School Surplus.	Total Surplus.
1929.....	$884,635 88	$346,686 06	$1,231,321 94
1928.....	2,786,378 39	668,180 19	3,454,558 58
1927.....	1,701,724 79	617,992 33	2,319,717 12
1926.....	309,715 62	739,519 94	1,049,235 56

It should be stated that the substantial surplus in 1927 and 1928 was due in large measure to the receipts from Income Tax from the state. That there will be a material reduction in this revenue during the year 1930 has been predicated by the Commissioner of Taxation and others, and, of course, will have a bearing upon the tax rates of all the cities and towns of the state.

The amount of uncollected 1929 taxes at the end of the year was $8,416,244.63, which exceeded by $1,000,000 the largest amount outstanding in any one previous year, and was due to economic conditions over which the city had no control. Were it not for general depression in business in the latter part of the year, the normal collections would have produced sufficient revenue in taxes to have made available a total surplus of $2,300,000, which would have been a material factor in the fixing of the tax rate for 1930.

WILL USE PLANTS TO REPRODUCE OLD BOSTON.

Mayor Curley has sent instructions to Chairman Long to arrange in connection with the tercentenary to reproduce in the Park Department plot at Copley square a facsimile of Old Boston, in plants. It will be carpet bedding and will require 10,000 plants.

Mayor Curley also directed the Park Commission to place on the Public Garden during conventions of the American Legion, American Federation of Labor, Knights of Columbus and the colored Elks insignia of these organizations in plants.

TRAFFIC COMMISSION RULINGS.

Voted, That for reasons of public safety and convenience, during the period of underground construction by the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, estimated to be one week, parking of vehicles is prohibited on the south side of Milk street, between Congress street and Pearl street.

Voted, That for reasons of public safety and convenience during the period of paying repairs on Atlantic avenue, estimated to be one week, parking of vehicles is prohibited on the east side of Atlantic avenue between Central Wharf and Long Wharf.

ADVERTISING CONCERN JOINS MAYOR CURLEY'S EFFORT TO BOOM BOSTON.

Mayor Curley, on January 24, received the following communication from Mr. E. C. Donnelly, Jr., of the Donnelly Advertising Company:

To His Honor the Mayor.

I have on hand a report from my Mr. Mitchell whom I delegated to attend the conference at your office this morning.

I wish to inform you that I am heartily in accordance with your plans and, as far as our organization is concerned, we hold it available for your use at any time.

We have, through our National Outdoor Advertising Association, statistics that are covering all these questions that were brought up at your conference this morning, and it has been our idea for the past year to carry out the plans as Mr. William J. McDonald discussed at your meeting, that is, to sell Boston to the people that live in Boston and then sell it all over the country.

Every letter that leaves our office has incorporated in it some achievement that Boston has made, or some inducement to call to the attention of the large industries that we do business with, that Boston is progressing and holding out greater inducements for business.

I trust that our organization may be of service to you and that in the future when you have these conferences I shall be able to attend.

Very truly yours,

E. C. DONNELLY, JR.,
JOHN DONNELLY & SONS.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 5.

I. ASSIGNMENT CARDS.

Assignment card for Box 3571 is being returned to the department today. The attention of the department is called to the fact that Box 12-3571, Rugby Freight House, New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad has been added to this card in accordance with paragraph 1, General Orders No. 106, series of 1929.

Assignment card for Box 7136 has been returned. The attention of the department is called to the fact that Box 12-7136, Gillette Safety Razor Company, 47 West First street, has been added to the card 7136 as announced in General Orders No. 115, series of 1929.

A new card for Box 3477 is being issued to the department today. The attention of the department is called to the fact that the location of this box is Oakton avenue and Glide street instead of Oak avenue and Glide street,—the name of Oak avenue having been changed. Company commanders will return the old cards to Box 3477 to Headquarters not later than Thursday, January 30. The cards are to be marked on the back in lead pencil with the number of the company returning the card.

II. BOSTON AUTOMATIC FIRE ALARM COMPANY.

A new page 16 for the Boston Automatic Alarm Company assignment book is being issued to the department today. Old page 16 will be returned to Headquarters in the envelopes provided not later than Thursday, January 30, 1930.

III. COMMENDATIONS.

Hoseman Francis E. Hollum of Engine Company 29 is hereby commended for responding to and working at fire, Box 5225, at 12.33 a. m., January 15, 1930, while off duty.

Ladderman Lawrence J. Harvey of the Fire Prevention Division is hereby commended for responding to and working at fire, Box 4161, at 12.09 a. m., January 20, 1930, while off duty.

At 8.17 a. m., January 21, 1930, while Ladderman Florence J. Driscoll of Ladder Company 9 was off duty his attention was attracted to a fire at 458 Bunker Hill street. Ladderman Driscoll was on the scene of the fire before the arrival of the apparatus. He immediately entered the building and found a woman eighty-six years of age and her son thirty-five years of age in a room in the rear of the apartment beyond the fire. He assisted the mother to the stairway and then returned and brought the son, who was overcome, to the stairway and safety. The fire extended to the room from which the two people were rescued. Because of the prompt action and excellent judgment shown by Ladderman Driscoll and because of the exposure to which he submitted himself he is commended in General Orders and granted one week's absence without loss of pay to be added to his regular vacation. This case is also referred to the Board of Merit for 1930.

By order of Fire Commissioner E. C. Hultman.

DANIEL F. SENNOTT,
Chief of Department.

Sincerely,

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

Approved:

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor.

ASSESSING DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 31, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the Assessing Department:

From the appropriation for B-28, Expert, $100, to the appropriation for D-1, Office Supplies, $100.

From B-28, Expert, $75.93, to B-14, Motor Vehicle Repairs and Care, $75.93.

To cover deficit in appropriation.

Respectfully,

EDWARD T. KELLY,
Chairman.

The above transfers were made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 31, 1929.

BOSTON, December 31, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the Assessing Department:

From the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, 3 Clerks at $1,700-$1,900 a year, $13.70, to the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, 1 (3) Clerks at $2,500 a year $13.70; 1 Clerk, Executive, at $2,700 ($2,800) a year, $0.00.

From A-1, Permanent Employees, 8 (7) Clerks at $2,300-$2,400 a year, $6.51; 5 (4) Clerks at $1,900-$2,100 a year, $5.80; 3 Clerks at $1,700-$1,900 a year, $5.48; 2 Clerks and Stenographers at $1,400-$1,500 a year, $17.72, to A-1, Permanent Employees, 18 Second Assistant Assessors, $35.51.

The above transfers were made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 31, 1929.

BOSTON, December 31, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the Assessing Department:

From the appropriation for A-2, Temporary Employees, $1, to the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, Stenographer, 1 at $2,100 a year, $1.

Respectfully,

EDWARD T. KELLY,
Chairman.

The above transfer was made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 31, 1929.

BOARD OF APPEAL.

BOSTON, December 30, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—I respectfully request a transfer in the appropriation of this department as follows:

From the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, 1 Secretary at $2 per hour, $11, to the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, Members of Board, $11.

From B-29, Stenographic, Copying, etc., $129, to A-1, Permanent Employees, Members of Board, $5 and $10 per meeting, $129.

There are five members of the Board. Each member of the Board is paid $10 per diem for services actually rendered. The appropriation to cover this amount is $30. The amount necessary to remunerate them for services actually rendered would be $170. I therefore ask for the above mentioned transfer of $140, which amount does not exceed the legal compensation allowed by law.

Very respectfully yours,

J. H. FITZPATRICK,
Chairman, Board of Appeal.

The above transfers were made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 31, 1929.

BOSTON TRAFFIC COMMISSION.

BOSTON, December 31, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the Boston Traffic Commission:

From the appropriation for A-1, Personnel, 1 Designing Draftsman at $2,100 a year, $4.66, to the appropriation for A-1, 3 Stenographers at $1,700 a year, $4.66.

From A-1, Permanent Employees, Painters, 10 (0) at $1,900 a year, $485.28, to A-1, Permanent Employees, Painters, Sign Writers, etc., 12 at $6 a day, $485.28.

From B-28, Expert, at $318.76, to B-35, Fees, etc., $7; B-39, General Plant, $311.76.

From C-7, Furniture and Fittings, $7, to C-9, Office, $7.

From B-28, Expert, $222.18, to D-11, Motor Vehicle, $222.18.

To adjust Boston Traffic Commission personnel.

Respectfully,

WILLIAM A. FISHER,
Commissioner.

The above transfers were made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 31, 1929.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 31, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the Building Department:

From the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, 14 Plumbing Inspectors at $2,000-$2,500 a year, $77, to the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, 12 Gasfitting Inspectors at $2,000-$2,500 a year, $77.

The appropriation is not enough.

Respectfully,

JAMES H. SULLIVAN,
Acting Commissioner.

The above transfer was made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 31, 1929.

BOSTON, December 31, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the Building Department:

From the appropriation for D-1, Office Supplies, $12.20, to the appropriation for D-11, Motor Vehicle Supplies, $12.20.

This item lacks the above amount to make total payment on bills of supplementary draft which closes the account for the year 1929.

Respectfully,

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Acting Commissioner.

The above transfer was made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 31, 1929.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

BOSTON, December 31, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the City Council Proceedings:

From the appropriation for City Debt Requirements, Interest, $618.40, to the appropriation for B-1, Printing and Binding, $618.40.

Respectfully,

WILLIAM J. CASEY,
Superintendent.

The above transfer was made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 31, 1929.

CITY DOCUMENTS.

BOSTON, December 31, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the City Documents:

From the appropriation for Available Sources, City Debt Requirements, Interest, $1,890.01, to the appropriation for City Documents, $1,890.01.

The above shortage is the amount plus the original appropriation billed to date on the budget item City Documents. Therefore we would respectfully request that there be a transfer from available sources to cover the shortage.

Respectfully,

WILLIAM J. CASEY,
Superintendent.

The above transfer was made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 31, 1929.

CITY RECORD.

BOSTON, December 31, 1929.

BOSTON, December 31, 1929.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Under authority of section 3 of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909, and amendments thereto, I will, with your approval, make the following transfers in the appropriation of the County Debt Requirements.

From the appropriation for Serial Loans, $0.99, to the appropriation for Interest, $0.99.

From Insanity Cases, B-35, Fees, etc., $741.23, to Interest, $741.23.

Respectfully,

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

The above transfers were made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 31, 1929.

ELECTION DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 31, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the Election Department:

From the appropriation for B-10, Rent, $0.21, to the appropriation for B-8, Light, $0.21.

Expense not anticipated when budget for the year 1929 was compiled.

Respectfully,

The above transfer was made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 31, 1929.

FINANCE COMMISSION.

BOSTON, December 31, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within appropriations of the Finance Commission:

From the appropriation for B-10, Rent, Taxes and Water, $66.67; C-7, Furniture and Fittings, $23.52, to the appropriation for B-1, Printing and Binding, $16.80; B-13, Communication, $32.22; C-10, Library, $9.72; D-1, Office Supplies, $30.95; D-2, Food and Ice, $0.50.

From B-8, Light, Heat and Power, $37.80, to G-2, Special Investigations, $37.80.

It is necessary that the above transfers be made in order to provide funds to pay bills under their proper classifications.

Respectfully,

FRANK A. GOODWIN,
Chairman.

The above transfers were made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 31, 1929.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 31, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,

From the appropriation for F-7, Pensions and Annuities, $51.13, to the appropriation for D-1, Office, $51.13.

This transfer is requested to take care of necessary final postage and stationery bills.

Respectfully,

E. C. HULTMAN,
Fire Commissioner.

The above transfer was made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 31, 1929.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 31, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the Health Department:

From the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, 1 Clerk at $1,100 a year, $2, to the appropriation for A-1, Permanent Employees, 5 (6) (7) Clerks at $1,600 a year, $1; 5 (6) Inspectors, Supervising, at $300-$2,500 a year, $1.

The above transfer to cover two new positions.

Respectfully,

F. X. MAHONEY, M. D.,
Commissioner.

The above transfer was made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 31, 1929.

BOSTON, December 31, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,

PARK DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 31, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the Park Department:

From the appropriation for Swimming

Instructors, 3 at $1,800 a year, $1, to the appropriation for Clerk and Stenographer, 0 (1) at $1,600 a year, $1.

Respectfully,

WILLIAM P. LONG,
Chairman.

The above transfer was made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 31, 1929.

BOSTON, December 31, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the Park Department:

From the appropriation for Park Department, A-1, Permanent Employees, Laborers, Mechanics, etc., 333 at $5 a day, $25.47, to the appropriation for Park Department, A-1, Permanent Employees, Chief Engineer, 1 at $3,700—$4,000 a year, $25.47.

MUNICIPAL COURT, CHARLESTOWN
DISTRICT.

BOSTON, December 31, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the Municipal Court of the Charlestown District:

From the appropriation for A-2, Temporary Employees, $6.50, to the appropriation for C-10, Library, $2.50; D-2, Food and Ice, $4.

A-2, December 17, 1929, transfer of appropriations was requested from A-2 of $280, leaving a balance in A-2 of $104.74, which I considered ample to cover bills to accompany supplementary draft. Because of the absence of the justice on the last six days of the year, which was unexpected, and if transfer requested December 17 was made, it will now be necessary to transfer back to A-2, the sum of $63.55 to cover bills submitted with December 31st supplementary draft.

C-10, bills for books required exceeded appropriation by $2.50.

D-2, bill for ice for year is $4 in excess of appropriation.

Respectfully,

CHARLES S. SULLIVAN,
Justice.

The above transfer was made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 31, 1929.

MUNICIPAL COURT, DORCHESTER
DISTRICT.

DORCHESTER, December 30, 1929.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—In reply to your letter of December 19, we are making the following transfers in our budget to cover all the expenditures for this year.

First, transfer from B-4, the sum of $67.32, and apply it to A-2, Special Justices.

Second, transfer from B-4, $2.68; B-13, $30.29, and from C-10, $33.56, making a total of $66.53 and apply it to D-1.

Third, you will kindly have an appropriation made in the sum of $127.39 from some source to meet the expense incurred in D-1, Office, as we have exceeded the amount allotted to us, plus the transfers asked for in this letter.

We have made all necessary transfers of money left from the different items as stated above and this appropriation asked for is due to the increase of business during the past year.

Yours truly,

ALPHEUS SANFORD,
Clerk.

The above transfers were made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 31, 1929.

*$127.39 transferred from Insanity Cases, B-35, Fees, etc.

NEW ORLEANS BUILDING THREE NEW INCINERATORS.

Three new incinerators to cost a total of $700,000 are under construction at New Orleans and will add appreciably to that city's sanitation system. This will make a total of five plants where garbage can be readily disposed of. The plants, according to Commissioner of Public Property John Klorer, will be equipped in the most scientific manner with special provision for the prevention of any smoke nuisance.

The incinerators are conveniently distributed about the city, one of the new ones being almost ready for use. The one now nearing completion can handle 170 tons of garbage every 16 hours with no odor escaping, and its stacks are 125 feet high.

NATIONAL CONVENTION OF AMERICAN LEGION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, January 27, 1930.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—The National Convention of the American Legion will be held in Boston, October 6 to 9, 1930, inclusive.

Legislation was enacted under chapter 337 of the Acts of 1928, authorizing the expenditure by the City of Boston of $25,000 to aid in defraying the expenses incidental to the holding of the convention, and I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 337 of the Acts of 1928 the sum of $25,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Mayor, for the purpose of providing proper facilities for public entertainment at the time of the national convention of the American Legion, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund, when made.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

LOAN FOR NEW FERRYBOAT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, January 24, 1930.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I beg to forward herewith communication received from the Commissioner of Public Works setting forth the important need of a new ferryboat to replace the "General Sumner." The appended data received from the Commissioner of Public Works sets forth the fact that to recondition the "General Sumner" in conformity with the regulations and recommendations of the United States Steamboat Inspection Bureau would represent an expenditure approximating $200,000. A new steel ferryboat, in all probability, could be constructed for $350,000 and possibly less.

I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Public Works Department, January 9, 1930.

To the Honorable the Mayor.

The report of the United States Steamboat Inspectors on the condition of the ferryboat "General Sumner," with recommendations, is such that it is not advisable to consider the boat for further service.

To comply with the recommendations of the inspectors would entail an expense of approximately $200,000, which I do not consider advisable. The character and weight of the traffic using the ferries is such that this boat would not be satisfactory. Therefore, I respectfully recommend that the "General Sumner" be sold as soon as may be, to avoid further expense.

We find it necessary to keep the pumps at work to prevent the boat from sinking and, furthermore, we could use the dock for more important purposes.

Yours respectfully,

JAMES H. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Ordered, That the sum of $350,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Public Works Commissioner, for new ferryboat, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Referred to Committee on Finance.

SALE OF FERRYBOAT "GENERAL SUMNER."

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, January 27, 1930.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—It is the opinion of the Commissioner of Public Works that the ferryboat "General Sumner" should be replaced by a new boat and I have recommended to your honorable body a loan order of $350,000 for that purpose. The appended communication from the commissioner advises the sale of the old boat and I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be, and hereby is, authorized to sell at a duly advertised public auction, at an upset price of $2,500, the ferryboat "General Sumner."

Referred to Executive Committee.

SANITARY CONDITIONS AT MUDDY RIVER.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, January 27, 1930.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of the accompanying communication from the Park Department with reference to the improvement of sanitary conditions at Leverett pond and Muddy river. This matter, as you will note by the communication, has been the subject of investigation between the City of Boston and the town of Brookline for a period of six years, during which time the conditions have steadily become more menacing to the health of the city.

The terms arranged for the permanent improvement of sanitary conditions appear equitable and the result to be obtained most desirable.

Under the circumstances I recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Park Department, January 22, 1930.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—In June of 1924, your Honor called the attention of the Park Department to the condition of the lower end of Leverett pond, adjacent to Huntington avenue, from which Muddy river, so called, rises, and directed this department to take it up with the Board of Health; also, to call the attention of the Board of Selectmen of the town of Brookline to conditions.

The result of communications forwarded from this department to the Board of Health and the Town Selectmen of Brookline lead to a conference, at which Henry X. Goodnough, chief engineer, Division of Sanitary Engineer Department of Public Health; Henry A. Varney, chief engineer, representing Brookline; Arthur A. Shurtleff, landscape architect, representing Boston, were appointed a committee to make a report and estimate and also to suggest an equitable apportionment of the cost of removing a deposit in Leverett pond and the Riverway.

In March, 1925, a report was received from this committee advocating that Brookline pay 58 per cent and Boston 42 per cent apportionment.

In August, 1926, a final report was made and a 60 per cent-40 per cent agreement was reported. This apportionment was not satisfactory to the Park Department and the matter has been hanging fire during the past four years.

I have had a number of conferences with the Board of Selectmen of the town of Brookline and finally have made an agreement with them that they will pay 66 2/3 per cent and Boston 33 1/3 per cent. This seems to be a fair and equitable apportionment. It means that Muddy river, from Brookline avenue, will be dredged to a depth of 5 feet to a point in Leverett pond—100 yards beyond the outlet of Mother brook, which will clear the river, allow the fish to again use the waters—mosquitoes will be done away with and it will also give an uninterrupted flow of water and remove a number of other objectionable features.

It is estimated that 40,000 cubic yards of material will be removed; also, a considerable amount of the edge planting will be destroyed. The estimated cost of this work and the restoring of the banks of the river, planting, etc., will be $105,000. I am asking for an appropriation of $35,000 for Boston's share of the expense so that this work can be started during the winter months when it will be least objectionable. It will also allow of the placing of the 40,000 cubic yards of material on the Strandway improvements, and will save the city the expense of having to purchase this amount of fill that will be required to do a portion of the work at this point.

Very respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

Ordered, That the sum of $35,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Park Commissioners, for Muddy River and Leverett Pond, Improvements, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Referred to Committee on Finance.

BUDGET FOR CURRENT YEAR.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, January 27, 1930.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—Under the provisions of section 3 of the city charter the Mayor is required to submit the budget within thirty days after the beginning of the fiscal year.

Under existing law the city may raise $6.52 on each one thousand of the average valuation for three years, less abatements, for general municipal purposes, exclusive of schools. Since 1918 the statutory figure has proven inadequate to provide for the needs of the city. As a result it has been necessary to appeal annually to the Legislature for an increase in the statutory tax limit.

Boston is the only city in the Commonwealth which is forced to make an annual petition of this kind. Believing that Boston should enjoy the same measure of home rule in so far as appropriations are concerned as the other cities of the Commonwealth, I have requested the Legislature this year to remove the tax limit. Until this request is acted upon it is impossible for me to submit to your honorable body the annual budget in full segregated form.

In order to avoid any question being raised as to the submission of a budget within the time limit stated in the city charter, I submit herewith the budget in lump sum form.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

APPROPRIATIONS AND TAX ORDERS FOR THE FINANCIAL YEAR 1930.

Ordered, That to meet the current expenses payable during the financial year beginning with the first day of January, 1930, for performing the duties and exercising the powers devolved by statute or ordinance, or by vote of the City Council during the year, upon the City of Boston or County of Suffolk, or the departments or officers thereof and to meet their respective obligations for interest on debt, sinking fund requirements and maturing debt not provided for by sinking fund, the respective sums of money specified in the tables and schedules hereinafter set out be, and the same are, hereby appropriated for the several departments and for the objects and purposes hereinafter stated.

Ordered, That the appropriation for Water Service, current expenses and the payment to the state under the provisions of chapter 488 of the Acts of 1895 and acts in addition or amendment thereto, and for the interest and debt requirements or for loans issued for water purposes be met by the income of said works and any excess over income from taxes; that the appropriation for Printing Department be met by the department income and any excess over income from taxes; and the appropriation for City Record be met by the income of said publication and any excess over income from taxes; that the other appropriations hereinafter specified be met out of the money remaining in the treasury at the close of business on December 31, 1929, exclusive of the money raised by loan or needed to carry out the requirements of any statute, gift, trust or special appropriation, and by the income of the financial year beginning January 1, 1930, and taxes to the amount of $17,771,904.56 and that said amount be raised by taxation on the polls and estates in the City of Boston.

Ordered, That all sums of money which form no part of the income of the city, but shall be paid for services rendered or work done by any department or division for any other department or division, or for any person or corporation other than the City of Boston be paid into the general treasury, and that all contributions made to any appropriation be expended for the objects and purposes directed by the several contributors thereof.

Ordered, That all taxes raised to meet the appropriations of the city and all taxes assessed for meeting the city's proportion of the state tax for the year 1930, or for any other taxes or assessments payable to the Commonwealth, be due and payable on the fifteenth of September, 1930; that interest shall be charged on all taxes remaining unpaid after the second day of October, 1930, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 59, section 57, of the General Laws, until paid, except the taxes assessed upon shares of national banks, which shall bear interest at the rate of 12 per cent per annum from the fifteenth day of September, 1930, until paid, and that all interest which shall have become due on taxes shall be added to and be part of such taxes.

Ordered, That except as the appropriation for any purpose or item shall be increased by additional appropriations or transfers lawfully made, no money shall be expended by any department for any of the purposes or items designated in the tables and schedules hereinafter set out in excess of the amount set down as appropriated for such specific purpose or item; and except as aforesaid, no salary or wages shall be paid in excess of the rate in said tables and schedules.

LOAN FOR BRIGHTON COURTHOUSE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 24, 1930.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—The facilities for the transaction of civil and criminal business at the Brighton Court are already overtaxed and, in the opinion of the judge of the Brighton District Court, additional accommodations are necessary.
When provision was made for the erection of the original structure in 1925 the amount of money available was insufficient to complete the same and as a result it has been in an incomplete state to the present time.

The Superintendent of Public Buildings and the architect are of the opinion that $160,000 additional will be necessary to provide suitable accommodations to complete the Brighton Courthouse, and I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $160,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Superintendent of Public Buildings, for Courthouse, Brighton, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

LOAN FOR COLUMBUS PARK AND STRANDWAY IMPROVEMENTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 23, 1930.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—Through an inadvertence, oversight or error, the order pending before your honorable body providing an expenditure in the sum of $750,000 for improvements at South Boston reads "Columbus Park Development and Improvement."
It was intended, and should read "Columbus Park and Strandway Improvements," and I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order, providing an amendment to pending order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $750,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated to be expended by the Board of Park Commissioners for Columbus Park and Strandway Improvements, etc., and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

On motion of Coun. MAHONEY, the rule was suspended, and the order was given its first reading and passage, yeas 16, nays 0.

COLUMBUS PARK IMPROVEMENTS.

President LYNCH called up, under unfinished business, No. 4 on the calendar, viz.:

4. Ordered, That the sum of $750,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated to be expended by the Board of Park Commissioners for Columbus Park,

Improvements, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

On January 13, 1930, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 20, nays 0.

On motion of Coun. LYNCH, the order was rejected.

SALE OF ARMORY BUILDING, EAST BOSTON.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 27, 1930.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—The Armory Building, located at 154 Maverick street, East Boston, in the opinion of the Supervisor of Construction of the Building Department, is in a dangerous and unsafe condition for public use.

The Supervisor of Construction recommends a list of improvements which, if provided by the city, would represent an expenditure fully as great as the entire assessment of the property in question.

In my opinion it would be the part of wisdom to dispose of this property at an upset price of $5,000. I appreciate that this may appear an arbitrary figure since it covers little more than the value of the land yet, nevertheless, it appears a fair one and I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be, and hereby is, authorized, in the name and behalf of the city, to sell at public auction at an upset price of $5,000 title and interest of the City of Boston in and to the property known as the Old Armory Building, 150 and 152 Maverick street, East Boston, in said Boston, and containing 4,337 square feet of land, more or less, and a two-story wooden building, and to execute and deliver a deed of the same to the purchaser in form satisfactory to the Law Department.

BRANCH LIBRARY IN GERMANTOWN DISTRICT, WARD 20.

Coun. COX offered the following:

Ordered, That the Trustees of the Boston Public Library be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to establish and maintain a branch library in the Germantown district of Ward 20.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

The Council voted at 2.29 p. m., on motion of Coun. ENGLERT, to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber at 3.02 p. m., and were called to order by President LYNCH.

CONFIRMATION OF EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS.

President LYNCH called up, under unfinished business, No. 1 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor January 20, 1930, of Samuel Gordon, Marx Goldfarb, Simon Hirshon, Michael J. Field, to be Constables.

The question came on confirmation of the appointments. Committee, Coun. Gallagher and Englert. Whole number of ballots 14, yeas 14, and the appointments were confirmed.

LOAN IN ANTICIPATION OF TAXES.

President LYNCH called up, under unfinished business, No. 2 on the calendar, viz.:

2. Ordered, That to provide temporarily money to meet the appropriations for the financial year 1930, the City Treasurer issue and sell, at such times and in such amounts as he may deem best, notes or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston not exceeding twenty-four million dollars in the total, in anticipation of the taxes of the current municipal year; that all such notes or certificates of indebtedness be dated the day the money for the same is received, be made payable with the interest thereon within one year of their date from the taxes of the year 1930, and bear interest from their date until the same are made payable at such rate as the City Auditor, the City Treasurer and the Mayor may determine.

On January 13, 1930, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 20, nays 0.

The order was given its second and final reading and passage, yeas 19, nays 0.

LAND, BATH STREET.

President LYNCH called up, under unfinished business, No. 3 on the calendar, viz.:

3. Whereas, It is proposed that Bath street in the City of Boston be discontinued:

Now, therefore, it is Ordered, That in the event of such discontinuance the Mayor of the said City of Boston be, and he hereby is, authorized to grant to the Water Street Company, a Massachusetts corporation, by an instrument in writing satisfactory to the Law Department of said City of Boston, all the right, title and interest which the said City of Boston may have at the time of or after said street is discontinued in and to the following parcels of land which make up said Bath street, namely, a certain parcel of land containing 929 square feet, shown on a plan entitled "Plan of Land in Boston, Scale 8 feet to 1 inch, May 23, 1929, Aspinwall & Lincoln, Civil Engineers," filed in the land registration office June 19, 1929, numbered 13639A, and filed with certificate of title numbered 26757 in the Suffolk Registry District of the Land Court; a parcel of land containing one hundred thirty-four and 6-10 square feet, shown on a plan of land entitled "Plan of land in Boston, Scale 8 feet to 1 inch, July 19, 1929, Aspinwall & Lincoln, Civil Engineers," filed in the land registration office August 23, 1929, numbered 13751A, and filed with certificate of title numbered 26758 in the Suffolk Registry District of the Land Court, upon the payment to the said City of Boston of thirty thousand dollars, and upon the further consideration that the said Water Street Company shall, by an instrument in writing satisfactory to the Law Department of the said City of Boston, agree to hold the said City of Boston harmless from all claims and demands for damages caused by or in any way growing out of said discontinuance, or growing out of this grant;

And it is further Ordered, That the Mayor of the City of Boston be, and he hereby is, authorized to execute and deliver the said instrument which shall be satisfactory in form to the Law Department of the City of Boston.

On January 13, 1930, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 20, nays 0.

The order was given its second and final reading and passage, yeas 19, nays 0.

PAY ROLL, REGISTRY OF DEEDS.

The pay roll of Registry of Deeds for work performed to the amount of $7,412.25, viz., piece work A-2 and A-3, January 1 to 18, inclusive, regular employees, January 16 to 31, inclusive, was received and approved.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. MAHONEY, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on communication from secretary of Old South Association of Boston (referred today) requesting Council to name two members of association—that the communication be placed on file.

The report was accepted, and the communication was placed on file.

President LYNCH.—The Council will now proceed to elect two managers of the Old South Association.

The roll was called by the clerk, Coun. Curtis receiving 19 votes and Coun. Mahoney 18 votes, with the result that both were declared elected managers of the Old South Association.

2. Report on petitions (referred today) for children under fifteen years of age to appear at places of public amusement, viz.:

Lester P. Gould, at Washington Auditorium, February 3; H. B. Simpson, at George W. Brown Hall, January 25, that leave be granted.

Report accepted; leave granted on usual conditions.

3. Report on communication from the Mayor and order (referred today) that the Commissioner of Public Works be authorized to sell at duly advertised public auction, at an upset price of $2,500, the ferryboat "General Sumner"—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

4. Report on communication from the Mayor and order (referred today) that City of Boston appropriate $25,000 for purpose of providing proper facilities for public entertainment of National Convention of the American Legion to be held in Boston October 6-9, 1930—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted, said order passed, yeas 20, nays 0.

FINANCE REPORT.

Coun. DONOVAN, for the Committee on Finance, submitted the following:

1. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred January 13) for a loan of $1,000,000 to be expended under direction of Commissioner of Public Works for Sewerage Works—that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. DONOVAN.—Mr. President, briefly I might explain this for the benefit of the newer members of the Council. It is the customary loan order allowed under the Act of 1908 for $1,000,000 annually for construction of the sewer system of Boston. As a matter of fact, there is dire need not only for the $1,000,000, but for $3,000,000 or $5,000,000 to carry on the contemplated sewer plans of the Mayor; and it will require large expenditures to make the necessary improvements in order that the sewer plans may be carried out in such sections as East Boston, Roxbury, West Roxbury, Dorchester and Hyde Park. For example, twenty streets were laid out and accepted last year, but not constructed, because they ran out of money. Now, if a proper amount of money is not allowed for this work, and there should be $1,500,000 instead of $1,000,000 at the present moment it must be curtailed. There is dire need for the prompt passage of the order at this time.

The report was accepted, and the order passed, yeas 20, nays 0.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

Coun. MAHONEY, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted report recommending passage of order for payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston for the month of January, 1930.

Report accepted, said order passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS.

Coun. BUSH, for the Committee on Claims, submitted report on petition of A. A. Tapp (referred December 23, 1929) for reimbursement for amount of execution against him on account of his acts as member of the Boston Fire Department, submitted report recommending passage of accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of $175 be allowed and paid to A. A. Tapp in reimbursement for the amount of an execution against him on account of his acts as a member of the Boston Fire Department, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

The report was accepted and the order passed.

COMMITTEE ON JITNEY LICENSES.

Coun. MURRAY, for the Committee on jitney Licenses, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition (referred November 12) of Boston Elevated Railway Company to operate motor vehicles between South Station and the junction of Clarendon street and Columbus avenue—recommending leave be granted.

Coun. WILSON.—Mr. President, I would like to hear something with reference to that particular order, feeling, as I do, that we have enough jitney bus lines in the central district of the City of Boston. We now have bus lines going down School street, up along Washington street and other streets, through Post Office square, that ought to be abolished. Therefore, I would like to know as to the necessity for this particular bus line, its route, and how many buses are involved.

Coun. MURRAY.—I might say, Mr. President, that this is not a new route, but is really a curtailment of an old route. Instead of going to Copley square, it will now stop at Clarendon street. It was at the suggestion of the councilor from the district that the committee voted to report in favor. He might be able to give any information the councilor from Dorchester wants to have.

Coun. WILSON.—I understand that, so far as this particular bus route is concerned, it means really a shorter route?

President LYNCH—According to the councilor, it does.

Coun. ARNOLD.—I have nothing to add to that, Mr. President. This just shortens up the present route and makes the service more frequent. As far as my district is concerned, the people had just as soon have the buses stop at the lower end instead of coming up into the more congested section of Copley square. But I think the action proposed here is along the line of action that Councilor Wilson said should be taken.

The report was accepted, and license granted, under the usual conditions.

BRANCH LIBRARIES IN EAST BOSTON.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Trustees of the Boston Public Library be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to establish and maintain branch libraries in the Day Square section and First Section area of East Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SPECIAL COMMITTEES PROPOSED.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:

Ordered, That the President of the City Council be authorized to appoint a special committee consisting of seven members of the Council and to be known as the Committee on Boston Tercentenary Celebration.

Ordered, That the President of the City Council be authorized to appoint a special committee consisting of seven members of the Council and to be known as the Port of Boston Committee.

Ordered, That the President of the City Council be authorized to appoint a special committee consisting of seven members and to be known as the Greater Boston Committee.

Severally referred to the Committee on Rules.

NEW BUILDING FOR ROXBURY MUNICIPAL COURT.

Coun. BUSH offered the following:

Ordered, That the sum of seven hundred fifty thousand dollars be, and the same hereby is, appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Superintendent of Public Buildings for the purchase of a site and the construction of a new building for the Municipal Court of the Roxbury District, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City to said amount.

Coun. BUSH.—Mr. President and members of the Council, both the criminal and civil business of the Roxbury District Court has been increasing at a tremendous ratio for the last few years, and the business has outgrown the facilities of the court to handle it. On any day when business is being handled at the court you will find that crowds of people are overflowing the courtrooms and corridors, almost down to the street. There are no facilities there for rooms for counsel, where counsel may interview clients; there are no waiting rooms for women; the wash rooms are inadequate, and the entire facilities of the courthouse are in a disgraceful condition, because of the tremendous increase in business. The time has arrived when something has to be done in order to afford increased and better facilities.

During the past year there was an order introduced here for an increase in the quarters, making provisions for increased quarters for the Probation Department. That was denied by the Council for reasons then stated. But increase in those quarters alone would not begin to satisfy conditions out there. While the building was originally fairly well built, it was built without any view apparently to the future needs of the district, because the business has far outrun the capacity of the building. It would, therefore, seem necessary as well as desirable, that this order should pass, in order that we may have a new courthouse for that district.

The order was referred to the Committee on Finance.

REPAVING OF MOUNTFORT STREET.

Coun. HEIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth paving Mountfort street, from Beacon street to St. Mary's street, Ward 21.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ELM DALE STREET, WARD 16.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to lay out and accept Elm Dale street, Ward 16, as a public highway.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPAVING OF WARD 14 STREETS.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth pavement Bullard street, Ward 14.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth pavement Bernard street, Ward 14.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth pavement Greenwood street, Ward 14.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

BRANCH LIBRARIES.

Coun. WILSON, for Coun. Norton, offered the following:

Ordered, That the Trustees of the Boston Public Library be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to establish and maintain a branch library in the Readville section of Hyde Park.

Ordered, That the Trustees of the Boston Public Library be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to establish and maintain a branch library in Ward 18, Mattapan.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

Adjourned, at 3.23 p. m., on motion of Coun. POWER, to meet on Monday, February 3, at 2 p. m.

AUTOMOBILE FATALITIES.

Automobile fatalities for the months of January and February of this year, as compared with last year, decreased considerably in the cities and increased considerably in the towns and country, as indicated by the Nation-wide reports received by the National Safety Council.

These reports show that the cities had six per cent fewer automobile deaths this year than last year; 61 of the 90 cities that reported showed declines, or no changes at all, as compared with a year ago. But the state-wide reports received during the same period showed an increase of 11 per cent in fatal automobile accidents. In the total, there were an estimated 4,240 motor vehicle deaths during January and February of this year, as compared with 4,220 such fatalities during the same two months of last year.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

PROPOSALS FOR CONSTRUCTING FIELD HOUSE AT READVILLE PLAYGROUND, HYDE PARK.

The Park Commissioners of the City of Boston, 33 Beacon street, Boston, invite proposals for constructing Field House at Readville Playground, Hyde Park. Forms of proposals must be obtained at the engineer's office of the Park Department, 33 Beacon street, Boston. Each proposal should be signed by the bidder and inclosed in an envelope, sealed, and marked "Proposal for Constructing Field House at Readville Playground, Hyde Park," and left before 12 o'clock noon on Thursday, February 6, 1930, at the office of the Park Department, with a certified check for $1,000, payable to and to be the property of the City of Boston if the proposal is not carried out, and will then and there be publicly opened and read. A duplicate proposal, without check, must be deposited with the City Auditor previous to the time named for opening the bids. A bond will be required for doing the work in the sum of at least 50 per cent of the contract price, of a surety company approved by the Commissioners, to secure the due performance of the contract and the full protection of the city. The Commissioners reserve the right to reject any or all proposals.

MAYOR CURLEY BEGINS TO COMPLETE $10,000,000 HOSPITALIZATION PLAN FOR CITY INSTITUTIONS INAUGURATED BY HIM IN PREVIOUS ADMINISTRATION — NEW DOCTORS' HOUSE TO BE ERECTED AT DEER ISLAND TO COST ABOUT $80,000 — OLD HOUSE ALSO TO BE RECONSTRUCTED.

ARCHITECTS' PERSPECTIVE OF NEW HOUSE FOR DOCTORS AT DEER ISLAND, TO BE READY FOR OCCUPANCY IN SEPTEMBER.

One of the first steps in the plan of Mayor Curley to complete the $10,000,000 hospitalization plan for city institutions, inaugurated during his previous administration, has been the erection of a new Doctors' House at Deer Island. Bids for the construction of this building have been advertised and it is expected that the contract will be awarded soon. Altogether there will be $135,000 expended. Of this amount, however, $55,000 will be devoted to reconstruction of the old building and the balance, $80,000, will be the cost, approximately, of the new house. It is expected to be ready for occupancy early in September.

In selecting a type of architecture for the new Doctors' Residence at Deer Island, it seemed best to break away from what might be called "Prison Architecture" and to make this building frankly domestic. Situated as it is on our New England coast, one's mind naturally turned, especially in this year of the tercentenary, to the architecture of the Colonies.

In viewing the perspective drawing of the new building, one is impressed with the simple grandeur of the front, which is enhanced by a broad expanse of lawn running to the water's edge. The brick walls are two stories in height with a generous base and fitly crowned with a fine sweep of roof.

The only bit of exterior detail which makes the least pretension of richness is about the doorway, which is flanked by broad, fluted, pilasters surmounted by richly carved Corinthian capitals and crowned by a curved pediment so much used in the architecture of the early periods.

The rest is but plain brick walls, pierced in absolute regularity with windows. To the west is a low wing containing the kitchen, which is balanced by another wing at the east side which contains the sunroom. On the ocean side, the door opens directly into the living room, and the doorway on the similar northern façade opens into a hall, which will have rubber tile floor and a circular stairway depending for its charm on the sweep of the handrail with its slightly tapered mahogany spindles, pleasing in their simplicity and much easier to maintain than painted ones.

MAYOR CURLEY'S TERCENTENARY COMMITTEE GETS UNDER WAY WITH ENTHUSIASTIC INDORSEMENT BY 350 LEADING CITIZENS—BOSTON TO HAVE GREATEST SHOW IN ITS HISTORY, ACCORDING TO PLANS OUTLINED.

Plans were put under way on January 30 for making the tercentenary celebration in Boston the greatest in the city's history when Mayor Curley named those on the committee to have charge of the event, and the first meeting of the committee on the following day at the Old South Meeting House.

Mayor Curley named the following committee on Thursday, January 30:

Chairman, Hon. John F. Fitzgerald; Vice Chairmen, Mrs. James M. Curley, Gen. F. H. Appleton, Frederic Winthrop. Executive Committee as follows: Frank C. Brown, Chairman; Miss Elisabeth M. Herlihy, Mr. William C. Crawford, Mr. Joseph A. F. O'Neil, Miss Mary A. Barr, Mr. Frank S. Davis, Mr. Edmund L. Dolan, Mr. Gleason L. Archer, Mr. Carl W. Johansson, Mr. Arthur L. Race, Mr. Thomas F. Lockney, Mrs. Eva Whiting White, Col. Percy A. Guthrie, Gen. Richard K. Hale, Mr. Carl Dreyfus, Mr. James W. Reardon.

This committee held its first meeting at 2.30 p. m., when 350 of the leading citizens of the community gathered to discuss plans. The Mayor was given promise of enthusiastic support of his plans for the celebration at a minimum expense to the city treasury.

Declaring that the city had got away at a late start, because of the "lethargic situation during the past four years," the Mayor announced that Boston would put on the greatest show in its history through the efforts of the committee serving under former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, whom he presented as "a young man, a human dynamo of energy and activity, who will arouse the interest of the city he loves."

Chairman Fitzgerald was given a warm reception by the committee, particularly when one of the members declared that he had no objection if the former Mayor could make the celebration a handle to his campaign for the governorship.

"Well, let's go," coaxed Chairman Fitzgerald, outlining plans for the organization of the committee and his desire to attract the support of every group in the city, "especially the bankers, because we want their money to make this the greatest observance in the annals of Boston."

Of the 360 who were invited to attend the meeting as members of the tercentenary committee, 288 accepted, and Chairman Fitzgerald declared that it was the most representative assembly ever held with "the 'Scythia' as well as the 'Mayflower' passengers listed through their descendants."

PLAN BIG DAY SEPTEMBER 17.

Cooperation of the Commonwealth was recorded by Chairman Herbert Parker of the State Tercentenary Commission, who was chosen by Mayor Curley to deliver the Independence Day oration at Faneuil Hall.

On motion of Gen. John H. Dunn, the committee adopted a resolution, requesting the Bay State delegation in Congress to secure the approval of the federal government to the assignment of the largest number of troops and vessels here on September 17, to participate in the Boston Day celebration.

That the schoolboy cadets' parade could be put over until September 17, so that the 30,000 student soldiers might take part in the celebration, was the opinion of Dr. Jeremiah E. Burke, Superintendent of Schools.

Suggestions for parades, concerts, music festivals, athletic events, pageants, marine demonstrations and other features were offered by the score of speakers and referred to sub-committees organized to draw up the program, at further meetings which will be held within a few days.

The tercentenary celebration will actually start on February 16, when the school children of the city will hold a joint Washington-Lincoln observance at Symphony Hall, with Doctor Burke as the orator, the Mayor announced.

From then on the celebration will continue with expanded programs for the holidays usually observed here, special attention being given to July 15, which will be State Day, and September 17, the anniversary of the settlement of Boston 300 years ago.

REPLICA OF "MAYFLOWER" ON RIVER.

Already the Mayor has ordered the Commission for Marking Historical Sites, headed by Chairman Walter Gilman Page, to set up bronze and granite tablets at about 100 points of interest in the city's history, he said, and with the approval of the Art Commission, he will ask the City Council on Monday to appropriate $35,000 for the erection of a memorial fountain on the Common, opposite 50 Beacon street, as a permanent reminder of the tercentenary.

Construction of a replica of the "Mayflower" on the Charles River Basin to be used during the week of September 17 as a bandstand for a band of 2,000 musicians, presenting concerts for 250,000 listeners on the Cambridge and Boston parkways as well as the bridges, was suggested to the committee by the Mayor.

MAY HAVE COW ON THE COMMON.

He explained that it was his desire to have every patriotic, racial, religious, fraternal, civic and other organization represented in the activities of the celebration, and he urged that they contribute pictorial floats for the parades out of their own funds.

For the Independence Day celebration the Mayor proposed the participation of distinguished guests, including the President of France and the descendants of Lafayette, Rochambeau, and other heroes in the battle for liberty. The Mayor of London, England, would be invited to be present on Boston Day, he said.

More general display of the national flag this year was urged by Director of Public Celebrations J. Philip O'Connell, who outlined the programs for the national holidays. To make the celebration picturesque, he suggested that it may be possible to secure a cow to graze once again on the Common as in the Colonial days of William Blaxton (Blackstone), the first settler.

NOTABLES PLEDGE SUPPORT.

Among those who pledged their support to the city's committee were:

Judge Robert Grant, Mrs. Curtis Guild, John Jackson Walsh, Mrs. William Lowell Putnam, chairman of the racial groups; Vincent Brogna, head of the Sons of Italy; Dean Gleason L. Archer of Suffolk Law School, Manager Frank S. Davis of the Maritime Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, Col. Thomas Frothingham of the Bunker Hill Monument Association, Rabbi H. H. Rabinovitz, former Lieutenant-Governor Edward P. Barry, Judge Frank Leveroni, President William C. Crawford of the City Club, who offered the use of the Civic Center to the committee; James H. Carney, past president of the Charitable Irish Society; Chairman Frank C. Brown of the executive committee, Chairman N. Winthrop Robinson of the Dorchester committee; Miss Elisabeth M. Herlihy, secretary of the City Planning Board; Richard J. Dwyer, Mrs. Charles L. Bogan, president of the Women's Patriotic and Civic League; Mrs. Henry D. Tudor of the Women's Municipal League, Mrs. Maria E. Bate-man, president of the Kearsarge Veterans Auxiliary; George A. Hosley, national chief of staff of the G. A. R.; President Nathan Sidd of the Boston Central Labor Union, President Thomas H. Green of the Charitable Irish Society, former Congressman Joseph H. O'Neill, Judge William J. Day and Attorney Henry M. Rogers.

MAYOR NAMES BOGAN TO STREET COMMISSION.

Mayor Curley, on February 5, appointed Charles F. Bogan, of 1500 Commonwealth avenue, Brighton, to the position of Street Commissioner. Mr. Bogan has been employed in the service of the city since 1899. He has worked in the Street Laying-Out Department continuously as transit man, conveyancer and chief conveyancer in charge of the assessment division. He is a past commander of Bogan Camp, United Spanish War Veterans.

MAYOR CURLEY FELICITATES CHIEF JUSTICE TAFT ON RETIREMENT.

A telegram sent by his Honor the Mayor on February 4 to Honorable William Howard Taft, retiring Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, was as follows:

February 4, 1930.

Honorable William Howard Taft,
Washington, D. C.

My Dear Mr. President:

May every happiness attend you in your retirement to a well deserved rest.

James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

HOSPITALIZATION PLAN.*(Continued from page 153.)APPOINTMENTS TO BE COMPLETE.

The northern facade overlooks the present Administration Building and the entrance is back only about forty feet from the main road which traverses the Island. Aside from the hall, the only rooms on this side of the house are the doctors' office, and a library, with wash-room beyond. The living room and dining room occupy the entire waterfront, and above them are the rooms of the three permanent residents: the doctor, chaplain, and chief clerk.

In the northeast corner opening off the vestibule leading to the chaplain's room, is a chapel and a small but compact vestry. In the northwest end there is a linen room opening off the service stairs. Between this and the front hall is an extra bedroom, intended for the assistant physician.

The third floor contains a suite, for the use of visiting clergy, two other bedrooms and a storeroom. All the bedrooms have private baths except two on the third floor, which will use a common bathroom.

The living room and dining room have been made large enough to accommodate official guests and are connected by double doors. There is a fireplace at the end of each room and the walls are paneled with applied wood moldings, except the fireplace end of the living room which is all wood with pilasters flanking the mantle. To the left of this fireplace a door leads to the sunroom with its eight pairs of French doors, which when open really convert the room into a porch. A row of trees to the north will conceal the other buildings on the Island from this room, leaving the open lawn sloping down to the water on the east and south. The dining room is separated from the kitchen by a convenient serving pantry. There is also a small laundry and store pantry in the service wing. The walls and finish throughout, except the stair rail, will be painted.

As the building will be heated from the main plant, there is no basement except a small amount for storage, under the service wing.

It is expected that the new building will be ready for occupancy early in September.

MAYOR MAY INSTITUTE LEGAL PROCEEDINGS AGAINST NICHOLS-NAMED LAW CODIFYING COUNSEL.

Mayor Curley, on February 5, received the following communication from the Corporation Counsel:

DEAR SIR,—I have received your letter, dated February 3, with reference to the codification of the laws relating to the City of Boston, and undoubtedly my letter to you on this matter must have been received by you subsequent to the dictation of the letter received by me. I have assigned one of my assistants to make a thorough investigation of just what work has been accomplished by the counsel who are codifying the laws. I have advised these men that if I receive a report from my assistant that they have not made sufficient progress that I will institute proceedings to compel a return of the money paid them.

Very truly yours,

SAMUEL SILVERMAN,
Corporation Counsel.

CIRCULAR LETTER NO. 1.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, February 1, 1930.

To Heads of Departments.

GENTLEMEN,—For your information and compliance the following order of the City Council, passed January 20, 1930, is forwarded to you:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct the heads of departments to strictly enforce the provisions of the ordinances requiring the employment of citizens on contract work with the city."

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

WILL REDUCE NUMBER OF AUTOS USED BY CITY OFFICIALS.

Mayor Curley, on February 4, forwarded the following communication to Chairman Frank Seiberlich of the Election Department:

MY DEAR MR. SEIBERLICH,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your communication this day in which you suggest the advisability of assigning an automobile, with chauffeur, for use of the Board of Election Commissioners.

Replying thereto I beg to state that from what I have been able to observe the fleet of city automobiles now in use is greater than that in use by the Federal Government, and rather than increase the number it is my purpose during the coming year to materially reduce it and, in addition, provide that all individuals connected with any department, with the exception of the head of the department, operate the car which is assigned to that department.

It would be advisable for you to confer with the Commissioner of Public Works and arrange for a loan of a car whenever the necessities of your department require the use of one.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

TRAFFIC COMMISSION RULINGS.

Voted, That for reasons of public safety and convenience commercial vehicles are excluded from East Concord street, between Harrison avenue and Albany street, for a period estimated to be three days.

Voted, That for reasons of public safety and convenience, during the period of sewer construction by the Federal Construction Company, vehicles are excluded from Bolton street, between D street and E street, for a period estimated to be five days.

Voted, That for reasons of public safety and convenience during the period of underground construction by the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston, vehicles are excluded from Bedford street, between Kingston street and Chauncy street, between the hours of 7 p. m. and 7 a. m., effective January 31, 1930, for a period estimated to be four days.

MAYOR CURLEY RESUBMITS NAMES OF DEPARTMENT HEADS TO CIVIL SERVICE.

On February 5, the Mayor issued the following statement:

The failure of the Department of Civil Service and Registration to confirm the appointments of Joseph A. Rourke as Commissioner of Public Works and James E. Maguire as Institutions Commissioner, coupled with the request that the names of these two men be resubmitted for further examination and reconsideration, and the failure to approve the nomination of Hon. Joseph A. Conry as Traffic Commissioner and Edward F. McLaughlin as Fire Commissioner, in view of their exceptional qualifications for the positions that they seek, and in view of the further fact that by education, training and experience all are qualified for the positions they have been designated to fill, I am this day resubmitting the names to the Civil Service Commission as apparently sufficient time for investigation and consideration has not been given in any one of these four cases.

PORT OF BOSTON.

Boston Harbor comprises an area of about 47 square miles (exclusive of the islands), including all the expanse of tidewater within a straight line from Point Allerton to Point Shirley and extending therefrom to the mainland. It is the best of natural harbors, near open sea, sheltered and spacious for anchorage; main ship channel 35 feet in depth at mean low water, increasing to 40 feet from President Roads to open sea; new dredging operations in charge of United States engineers are under way for increasing depth of said main channel to 40 feet; waterfront (i. e., lineal pier space) 40 miles, 6 miles fronting on 30 feet depth at low water.

Commonwealth Pier No. 5, South Boston, 1,200 feet long, 400 feet wide, accommodating five 600-foot ships at one time, 40 feet depth at mean low water on both sides, with three 2-story fireproof buildings of steel and concrete construction, containing 900,000 square feet of floor space, total cost of this enterprise to State, $4,500,000. Commonwealth Pier No. 6, South Boston (Fish Pier), buildings on same erected by lessee, Boston Fish Market Corporation, cost to State, $1,487,361. Commonwealth Pier, No. 1, East Boston, 900 feet long, costing State $764,600 for site and $426,674 for construction. New dry dock at South Boston (probably the largest in world), completed in 1919, 1,200 feet long and 120 wide, costing $3,169,651 and taken by United States Government at total cost.

Islands in Boston Harbor over 3 acres in area, 17, with total area of 965 acres; Long Island the largest, or 215.5 acres Owned by United States, 392 acres; by City of Boston, 334 acres. Number of wharves, 143, of which eight are owned by the city.

There are 38 foreign steamship lines with regular sailings to and from Boston, ten coastwise lines and three intercoastal. In 1915 a revision of the harbor lines was made and the project undertaken whereby 600 acres of flats between Governor's Island and Jeffries Pt. will be filled in and used for extensive commercial developments under State control. About 175 acres of flats have recently been filled in and added to the land area of East Boston and 160 acres to that of South Boston.

In April, 1918, the Government decided to establish its Army Supply Base on a portion of the Commonwealth lands in South Boston. About 57.6 acres were purchased of the State, the price being $1,317,510, soon followed by the construction of two pier sheds, each 920 feet long, a wharf shed and other buildings, including one of the largest storehouses in the world, built of reinforced concrete, eight stories high, 1,638 feet long, 126 feet wide and with floor space of over 1,650,000 square feet. The total outlay for the plant was $26,000,000.

Total expenditure by State for improvement of Boston Harbor $22,575,827 from 1859 to November 30, 1927, inclusive; in the same period, there was expended additionally $951,992 on small channels; total Federal expenditure from 1790 to June 30, 1927, $13,258,846.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of fifty or sixty persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about four hundred persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town polity, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a governor and council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on October 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott fifteen years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving twelve years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed eighty-two years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

BOSTON INCORPORATED AS A CITY, 1822.

The act of incorporation was passed by the Legislature on February 23, 1822. On March 4 following, the voters of Boston accepted said act, chapter 110, 1821-22, as its first city charter by a majority of 916 in a total vote of 4,678. The vote was 2,797 yeas, 1,881 nays. Previous attempts to incorporate as a city had been made in 1650, 1659, 1667, 1708, 1744, 1762, 1784, 1791, 1804 and 1815. The charter was revised in 1854, 1885 and 1909. Amendments to the 1909 charter were enacted in 1910, 1912, 1914, 1918, 1919, 1921, 1922 and lastly in 1924 (see "Municipal Register" for 1928, pages 19-43).

MAYOR CURLEY PRAISED FOR ACHIEVEMENTS IN PUBLIC HEALTH DEVELOPMENT DURING HIS TERMS IN OFFICE.

Mayor Curley has received the following communication from Dr. Charles F. Wilinsky, Director of the Beth Israel Hospital and Deputy Commissioner of the Health Department:

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Everyone truly mindful of the intimate relationship between health and economic progress looks back with much satisfaction upon your previous administration because of our splendid public health developments under your leadership which focused attention upon Boston and challenged the imaginations of other municipalities.

The development of our health units has brought people here from all over the world and similar community set-ups are springing up. Its real significance and value may perhaps be epitomized by the contents of a letter from Professor Winslow to me, in which he qualified our units as the outstanding development and contribution to public health in many years.

Second only to this ideal scheme for community health and welfare organization was our reorganization in child hygiene, splendidly indorsed by you, which made it possible for us six years ago to take over child hygiene activities of the private organizations and effect a definite amalgamation with the pediatric departments at Harvard, Tufts and Boston University, whereby those three splendid medical schools furnished the doctors for our baby clinics—we in turn giving them teaching opportunities at these centers. This resulted not only in our providing the finest medical service for the babies of today, who are the men and women of tomorrow, but also marked a new era in medical education, Boston blazing the way in emphasizing to the doctor of the future the real significance and value of preventive medicine.

While I must admit, Mr. Mayor, a strong bias in favor of the virtues of public health, I nevertheless regard what you did in making these things possible as the outstanding achievements of your many contributions to Boston's progress, for after all only upon the secure foundation of good health can any community really prosper.

I welcome exceedingly your cordial invitation to again affiliate myself with the work in which I have found so much interest for twenty years and particularly because I am going to be privileged to continue my work in the Health Department under your official administration. Needless to say, you may count upon my cooperation and assistance at any and all times in the fostering of your interests, and I want you to feel that I am at your service whenever you may demand it.

Again thanking you for the opportunity you have given me and with personal warm regards, believe me, always,

Your sincere friend,

CHARLES F. WILINSKY.

GAFFNEY APPOINTED TO BOARD OF APPEAL.

Mayor Curley, on February 5, appointed James F. Gaffney, of 51 Adams street, Dorchester, as a member of the Board of Appeal, vice John D. Marks, resigned. The salary is $10 for actual service but not more than $1,000 in any one year.

Mr. Gaffney has had fifteen years' experience as an architect and builder, during which time he has been in business for himself.

MAYOR PRAISES HON. A. C. RATSHESKY FOR SERVICE TO CITY.

Mayor Curley, on January 31, forwarded the following communication to Hon. A. C. Ratschsky:

MY DEAR MR. RATSHESKY,—In view of your departure shortly to assume your manifold duties as Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary, representing the United States of America at Czechoslovakia, I have this day accepted your resignation, tendered by yourself as chairman of the Tercentenary Committee.

The City of Boston has been extremely fortunate in that you have at least conserved and prevented the squandering of such money as has been appropriated for a proper observance, and this is in keeping with the exceptional character of public service that you have given in every responsible position to which you have been assigned.

I trust that in your new field of activity you may be permitted to enjoy both health and happiness, and assure you of the good wishes of the citizenship of Boston, and in extending these wishes I am simply giving expression to what I believe are the sentiments of all Boston citizens.

Sincerely yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR NAMES SECRETARIES TO PUBLIC WELFARE BOARD.

Mayor Curley, on February 6, made the following appointments:

Arthur B. Corbett, 53 Chelmsford street, Dorchester, to be Overseer of the Public Welfare, vice Oliver C. Elliot, resigned; Frank B. Howland, 6 Waverly street, Roxbury, to be Overseer of the Public Welfare, vice Joseph T. Zottoli, resigned.

Both of these positions are unsalaried.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR ADDITION TO THOMAS J. KENNY SCHOOL.

Mayor Curley on February 6 approved the award of a contract to the Frank Imhof Company, of 164 Dudley street, Roxbury, the lowest bidder, on erecting and completing addition to the Thomas J. Kenny School. These bids were submitted to the Schoolhouse Commissioners and opened on October 17, 1929. The bids were as follows:

Cantwell & Son, $101,900; Lamont Brothers Company, Incorporated, $101,944; John Bowen Company, $104,000; Crane Construction Company, $104,437; Joseph A. Singarella, $107,700; Matthew Cummings Company, Incorporated, $108,731; John B. Dolan, $114,800; Rugo Construction Company, Incorporated, $118,434; Benjamin Steiberg, $128,000.

ADDITIONS TO CONTRACTS.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Water Service).

An addition, amounting to $40, on contract with Charles Struzziery for laying and relaying water pipes in Agnes avenue, Blake street, River street, Tileston street and Woodland road, Hyde Park, on account of searching for old 16-inch pipe; trucking, handling and re-handling stock delivered on job and returned to South End Yard, due to shutting down work at River Street Bridge. Original contract, $2,882.50; total addition, $40; contract as standing, $2,922.50.

An addition, amounting to $125, on contract with Appel & O'Toole for laying and relaying water pipes in Byrd avenue, Charne avenue, Clarendon Park, Dent street, Herbert road, Montvale street, Rowe place, Stimson street, West Roxbury; Linwood and Thatcher streets, Hyde Park, on account of furnishing labor for operating pipe lines to avoid cutting off supply to Unity Theater; cutting concrete drain; building embankments around water gates, and furnishing and placing extra 3-inch blocking in bad trench bottom. Original contract, $2,759; total addition, $125; contract as standing, $2,884.

SITUATION OF BOSTON.

Boston is situated in latitude, north, 42 degrees, 21 minutes, 29.596 seconds, longitude, west, 71 degrees, 3 minutes, 51.040 seconds (exact situation of apex of State House dome, according to United States Coast and Geodetic Survey). Boston's latitude is similar to that of Detroit and the southern boundary of Oregon, also Rome (Italy), Sofia (Bulgaria) and Mukden (Manchuria); longitude nearly that of Quebec (Canada), Bogota (Colombia) and Santiago (Chile).

DIMENSIONS, ETC., OF BOSTON.

Boston's greatest length, 13.8 miles, i. e., from northern end of East Boston to southern end of Hyde Park; greatest width, 7.75 miles, i. e., from Marine Park shore to western end of Brighton; median transverse width, 5.75 miles, i. e., from Charles river at Harvard Bridge to Neponset river at Blue Hill avenue; width of business center, 1.2 miles, i. e., from Charles river at Cambridge Bridge to Fort Point channel at Summer street. Geographical center of city in Roxbury, corner Walnut and Westminster avenues.

CONSOLIDATION OF COUNTIES TO REDUCE TAXES.

Just as consolidation of small business under holding or managing companies reduces overhead costs, it is fair to believe that consolidation of small counties into larger units would reduce taxes through eliminating duplicating offices, etc.

New York has a plan for recasting more than 60 counties into 37 units, and Tennessee, after already having merged 2 counties, now plans to merge the 95 counties in the state into 11 new units.

The results of Tennessee's experience in merging Hamilton and James counties in 1919, as portrayed by J. W. Manning of Vanderbilt University, are interesting. He points out that taxes in James County have been reduced one half, paved highways have been increased from two miles to fifty miles, and many manufacturing plants have entered the county because of the reduction in taxes. The results in New York and Tennessee will be watched with interest by the whole country.

HEALTH UNITS INCREASING.

The number of health units created through the munificence of the late George Robert White already number three, and in addition there is the original health unit in Boston still functioning at 17 Blossom street, and the other in the South End section of the city, where the new Out-Patient Department Building of the Boston Sanatorium Department has been converted into a real, fully equipped health unit. Thus the total is now five.

The trustees of the White Fund have recently acquired land in a central location in Charlestown, at the corner of High and Elm streets, where the next health unit will be erected for the people of that section of the city. It is expected that the old structures that are now on the land will soon be removed to make way for this modern miniature health department.

In the Roxbury section of the city, at the corner of Savin street and Blue Hill avenue, the trustees of the White Fund have purchased a building that is admirably suited for the functions of a health unit, and after alterations are made within the building it will compare favorably with any of the existing health units now operating. The taking over of this building will expedite the addition to the complete chain of health units contemplated by the trustees of the White Fund.

NEW ORLEANS BUILDING THREE NEW INCINERATORS.

Three new incinerators to cost a total of $700,000 are under construction at New Orleans and will add appreciably to that city's sanitation system. This will make a total of five plants where garbage can be readily disposed of. The plants, according to Commissioner of Public Property John Klorer, will be equipped in the most scientific manner with special provision for the prevention of any smoke nuisance.

The incinerators are conveniently distributed about the city, one of the new ones being almost ready for use. The one now nearing completion can handle 170 tons of garbage every 16 hours with no odor escaping, and its stacks are 125 feet high.

PARK DEPARTMENT DECORATIONS FOR CONVENTION VISITORS.

Mayor Curley, on January 30, sent the following instructions to Chairman Long of the Park Commission relative to the celebration of the Tercentenary this year.

The Park Commission will arrange in connection with the celebration of the Tercentenary to reproduce in the Park Department plot in Copley square, facsimile of Old Boston in plants.

In addition the Park Commission will arrange to place on the Public Gardens during the week when conventions are held of the American Legion, American Federation of Labor, Knights of Columbus, and the Colored Elks, insignia in plants of these organizations.

MAYOR CURLEY ORDERS 15 PER CENT REDUCTION IN BUDGET ESTIMATES.

Mayor Curley on February 5 forwarded the following communication to Charles J. Fox, Budget Commissioner:

DEAR SIR,—I have examined the budget list as submitted to me by you and find that the departmental estimates are $3,900,000 in excess of what was expended in 1929.

I would appreciate your communicating with the heads of the various departments and request that they revise their budget rolls, reducing the estimates 15 per cent, without reducing the number of employees, and submit the same within ten days to me.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

BOARD OF ZONING ADJUSTMENT HEARING.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1930, ROOM 30, CITY HALL.

Petition No. 199, at 2 p. m.—Public hearing on petition of Elizabeth Pearce by Nutter, McClennen & Fish, attorneys, to extend the present B-80 district (General Business, 80 feet) on both sides of Worcester street, between Tremont street and Columbus avenue 100 feet in a general westerly direction; said district to extend on the northerly side of Worcester street 330 feet and on the southerly side of Worcester street 360 feet, westerly from Tremont street; or such extension or modification of this area or use as may be deemed advisable by the Board; said petition being brought to definitely establish the boundary lines in accordance with the apparent intent of the original Zoning Survey and for further reasons as set forth in the applicant's petition. (Zoning sheet No. 3.)

PETITIONS DISAPPROVED.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 1464.

Acting under the provisions of chapter 521, Acts of 1922, creating the Contributory Retirement System, the Boston Retirement Board has notified this department that it has approved for retirement, on account of age, Deputy Superintendent Thomas C. Evans of the Superintendent's Office, who is a member of said Contributory Retirement System; such retirement to take effect at midnight, Friday, January 31, 1930.

Wherefore, In view of this operation of law, the Police Commissioner states that on and after January 31, 1930, at the hour stated, the said Deputy Superintendent Thomas C. Evans shall no longer be an active member of this department, and it is hereby ordered that its records be so amended.

Deputy Superintendent Thomas C. Evans was appointed to the force on December 21, 1882, promoted to the grade of sergeant November 14, 1887; on August 23, 1890, raised to the rank of lieutenant; appointed Inspector of Carriages, June 24, 1893; on May 6, 1895, appointed a captain and on June 3, 1921, made Deputy Superintendent of Police.

As an officer of rank, Deputy Superintendent Evans has served at Headquarters and in many of the divisions of this department.

Few police officers in this department ever had a broader or more varied experience in important police matters. His knowledge of police law and the details of police business was exceptionally extensive. His advice and counsel on police matters was always sound and when sought was readily given to members of the force.

Upon his retirement, I wish to convey to Deputy Superintendent Evans the expression both of the members of this department and myself that he may enjoy for a long time his present good health, and that his well-earned period of rest may be filled with happiness.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 1465.

The resignation of Patrolman Robert J. Ready of Division 21, having been presented while charges against him are pending, it is hereby accepted, to take effect Friday, January 31, 1930, at 7.45 o'clock a. m., seven days' notice waived.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

TRANSFER OF APPROPRIATIONS.

AUDITING DEPARTMENT,
December 31, 1929.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,

The above transfers were made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 31, 1929.

ASSOCIATE MEDICAL EXAMINER.

BOSTON, December 31, 1929.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—I hereby request permission to transfer the below amount, which is within my appropriation for the year 1929, Associate Medical Examiner Service, Northern Division:

The sum of $3 from D-1, to D-5.

This transfer is requested to provide payment for bill due December, 1929, under appropriation D-5.

Yours respectfully,

WILLIAM J. BRICKLEY,
Associate Medical Examiner.

The above transfer was made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 31, 1929.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.*General Order No. 6.REPORT OF THE MAYOR'S COMMITTEE ON FIRE INSURANCE RATES.

1. Copies of the report of the Mayor's Committee on Fire Insurance Rates will be distributed to the fire fighting force of the department as follows: One copy to each deputy chief and district chief and two copies to each company.

2. The department is expected to familiarize themselves with the contents of this report, and comments from members of the department, in writing, will be received directly by the commissioner.

3. A copy of the report is being sent by the commissioner to the Civil Service Commission with the request that questions based upon this report be included in the next promotional examinations.

4. These books will be kept in the custody of company officers who will be held accountable for their safe keeping. Books are to be loaned to members and not taken from company quarters. They must be returned to the company officers in good condition at the time stated.

By order of Fire Commissioner E. C. Hultman.

DANIEL F. SENNOTT,
Chief of Department.

*General Order No. 7.COMMENDATIONS.

1. The Fire Commissioner is in receipt of a check for $10 from Miss Margaret V. Fowler, principal of the Old Colony School, 317 Beacon street, as a contribution to the Boston Firemen's Relief Fund, in appreciation of the services rendered by members of this department at a fire in the Old Colony School, Sunday evening, January 26.

2. The Fire Commissioner is in receipt of the following letter from the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Ltd., concerning the services rendered by members of this department on the S. S. "Felix Taussig" January 13, 1930.

January 18, 1930.

HON. EUGENE C. HULTMAN, Fire Commissioner.

DEAR SIR,—On Monday, January 13, 1930, a fire broke out on the S. S. "Felix Taussig" which is under repair at our Atlantic Works Plant. This fire was in the vicinity of the ship's oil tanks and might have proven serious if it had not been brought quickly under control.

I was very much impressed with the efficient way in which the Fire Department handled this situation, working as they were under adverse conditions. I am taking this opportunity to extend my compliments both to you and to the district chief and I want you both to know we appreciate this sort of service.

Very truly yours,

BETHLEHEM SHIPBUILDING CORPORATION, LTD.,
G. H. STEBBINS,
General Manager.

3. Lieut. William B. Coughlan of Engine Company 50 is hereby commended for responding to and working at fire, Box 7443, second alarm, January 25, 1930, while off duty.

4. Operator William H. Griffin of the Fire Alarm Office, is hereby commended for responding to and assisting at a fire at 209 K street, South Boston, January 26, 1930, for which he requested a still alarm sent in at 1.59 p. m., while off duty.

By order of Acting Fire Commissioner E. C. Hultman.

DANIEL F. SENNOTT,
Chief of Department.

*General Order No. 8.I. HEATING EQUIPMENT FIRES.

District chiefs will report in writing on Form 5 a list of all fires giving the location, time and box number which have occurred in their respective districts since January 1, 1929, to December 31, 1929, due to the following causes, specifying the cause in each case:

Defective chimneys; defective fire-places, defective stoves; defective smoke pipes; smoke pipe, chimney or stove in contact with woodwork; unprotected chimney openings; furnaces, boilers or cooking ranges of heavy duty type in hotels and restaurants not properly installed with proper protection under same; overheating of furnaces, stoves, boilers and ranges.

These reports are to be forwarded to this office on or before Monday, February 17.

II. COMMENDATIONS.

His Honor the Mayor is in receipt of the following letter from the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Ltd., East Boston, which is published for the information of the department.

January 30, 1930.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY, City Hall, Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Last night we had a dangerous fire at our Atlantic Works plant in East Boston which threatened several buildings. The Boston Fire Department arrived promptly at the scene and quickly brought the fire under control, confining the damage practically entirely to one structure.

Deputy Chief Henry J. Power, who was in charge of the work, and his assistants deserve to be commended for the workmanlike and efficient manner in which they met the situation.

Very truly yours,

BETHLEHEM SHIPBUILDING CORPORATION, LTD.,
G. H. STEBBINS,
General Manager.

Capt. James J. Harrington of Engine Company 37 is hereby commended for extinguishing a fire in the clothing of Leo Maltman and sending him to the Boston City Hospital in a passing automobile on January 13, 1930, while off duty.

By order of Acting Fire Commissioner E. C. Hultman.

DANIEL F. SENNOTT,
Chief of Department.

SALARY OF ASSISTANT, OFFICE OF BUSINESS MANAGER

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the order establishing the salary of Mary F. Whitney, assistant, Group D, in the office of the Business Manager, passed at the meeting of Dec. 16, 1929, is hereby rescinded.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the salary of Mary F. Whitney, assistant, Group D, in the office of the Business Manager, is hereby established at the rate of twenty-one dollars and eighty-six cents ($21.86) per week, to take effect Dec. 23, 1929, and to continue until otherwise ordered.

ADDITIONAL CUSTODIAN SERVICE, SUPPLY ROOM

A communication was received from the Business Manager, under date of Jan. 6, 1930, recommending that provision be made for day and night custodian service for the Supply Room at 440 Brookline Avenue, in accordance with the accompanying orders.

Placed on file.

The Chairman stated that the Business Manager has felt that because of the large amount of books, educational material, and supplies which are housed in the Brookline Avenue Supply Room, it is essential that there shall be a competent night watchman on duty every night throughout the year, and in this opinion the Committee has concurred.

The following was offered:

ORDERED, That Sect. 435 of the Regulations is hereby amended by the insertion of the following new paragraph as paragraph 3.

3. The custodian of the Supply Room shall have entire charge of the cleaning, heating and ventilation of the building and the cleaning and care of sidewalks and areas at sides, front and rear of the building. He shall clean all glass with the exception of the windows and transoms in the offices of the Supply Room. He shall furnish day and night service and shall be paid for such service at a rate to be established by the School Committee. He shall be allowed a vacation period not to exceed three calendar weeks which shall be taken during the summer months.

Renumber paragraphs 3 to 11, inclusive, as paragraphs 4 to 12, inclusive.

The rules were suspended and the order passed.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the custodian of the Supply Room be paid at the rate of thirty-five dollars ($35) per week in addition to the regular schedule rate, for the purpose of providing day and night service for the building as required by the Regulations, to take effect Jan. 8, 1930, and to continue until otherwise ordered.

Placed on file and the transfer of John McCloskey approved to take effect on the date stated.

A communication was received from the Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of Jan. 20, 1930, transmitting a list of candidates desiring transfer to the custodianship of the Oliver Holden Schoolhouse, and recommending that Margaret M. O'Neil, custodian, Copley Schoolhouse, who stands at the head of the list, be appointed to the position to take effect Jan. 17, 1930.

Placed on file and the transfer of Margaret M. O'Neil approved to take effect on the date stated.

APPOINTMENT TO PREMISES AT NO. 3 FREMONT PLACE

A communication was received from the Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of Jan. 20, 1930, recommending that the custodian of the Edmund P. Tileston Schoolhouse be also appointed custodian of the hired quarters at No. 3 Fremont Place, and that he be allowed and paid for this service additional compensation at the rate of seven dollars ($7) per week, to take effect Jan. 3, 1930.

Placed on file, and the appointment approved, to take effect on the date stated.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the salary of the custodian of the No. 3 Fremont Place Schoolhouse is hereby established at the rate of seven dollars ($7) per week, to take effect Jan. 3, 1930.

APPOINTMENT TO PREMISES AT NO. 93 FOREST HILLS STREET

A communication was received from the Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of Jan. 20, 1930, recommending that the custodian of the Margaret Fuller Schoolhouse be also appointed custodian of the hired quarters at No. 93 Forest Hills Street, and that he be allowed and paid for this service additional compensation at the rate of seven dollars ($7) per week, to take effect Sept. 12, 1929.

Placed on file and the appointment approved to take effect on the date stated.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the salary of the custodian of the No. 93 Forest Hills Street Schoolhouse is hereby established at the rate of seven dollars ($7) per week, to take effect Sept. 12, 1929.

ADDITIONAL COMPENSATION FOR SERVICE AS ACTING SCHOOLHOUSE CUSTODIAN

The following was offered:

ORDERED, That there be allowed and paid to James J. Mahar, Domestic Engineer in the office of the Business Manager, additional compensation at the rate of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) per month for additional services rendered as acting Schoolhouse Custodian during the period Aug. 22, 1929, to Jan. 1, 1930, inclusive.

The Chairman stated that the compensation recommended in this instance is the difference between the salary of the Domestic Engineer and the salary of the Schoolhouse Custodian. This difference the Committee believes should be paid Mr. Mahar in consideration of the very satisfactory service which he rendered during the absence of the Schoolhouse Custodian.

The order passed.

PETITION FOR ADDITIONAL LEGISLATION

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the action of the Chairman on behalf of this Committee in making application to the General Court for legislation to provide increased appropriations for additional school accommodations and for maintenance of the schools, is hereby approved and confirmed.

Successful applicants will be required to file a certificate from a physician designated by the commissioners, as to their physical fitness for the position.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS. (STATE AND CITY.)

STENOGRAPHIC SERVICE, FEBRUARY 15.

This is the regular examination for the stenographic service of the state and of all cities and of such towns in the state as are classified under civil service. The examination will be held in Boston, and all persons who reside within commuting distance will be notified for examination on this day.

This examination will be given to fill positions in all grades of the Stenographic Service. All applicants will be given the same examination and will be placed on the list in the order of marks received, and will be certified for any and all stenographic positions in the order of standing on the list unless in the opinion of the Commissioner of Civil Service the mark attained is lower than is proper for the particular position to be filled.

Applicants must be not less than sixteen years of age at the time of filing application.

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 5; stenography, 5; business correspondence, 2; word knowledge, 1; grammar, 1; reasoning, 1; total, 15. The dictation is given at the following rates of speed: 80, 100 and 120, the dictation at each rate of speed consisting of a letter of about 300 words in length. Each applicant selects any two of the three speed tests for transcription. The transcription is marked for both speed and accuracy. Applicants are obliged to obtain at least 70 per cent in accuracy of transcription of one speed test.

Applicants will be required to obtain a mark of at least 50 per cent in each of the other subjects and at least 70 per cent in general average in order to become eligible.

Specimen examination papers may be obtained at the Civil Service office.

SAFE DRIVING.

Most cities and towns have a long list of "don't's" but do little to educate the drivers of cars. If one half the time that is used trying to make people do something or not to do something was spent in educating the drivers much better results would be obtained. We need drivers' schools and the city or town that first starts such a school will be doing a real service.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

EMPLOYMENT OF CITIZENS ON CONTRACT WORK.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 30, 1930.
To the Honorable City Council.

Gentlemen,—In compliance with your order of January 20, 1930, I have instructed heads of departments to strictly enforce the provisions of the ordinances requiring the employment of citizens on contract work with the city.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Placed on file.

VEHICLES USING EAST BOSTON FERRY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 3, 1930.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith submit to you report of the Commissioner of Public Works relative to the number of vehicles using the East Boston Ferry, which is in compliance with your order of January 13, 1930.

Respectfully yours,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, January 27, 1930.
To the Honorable the Mayor.

I return order of the City Council, dated January 13, 1930, requesting the Commissioner of Public Works to keep a record of the number of vehicles using the East Boston Ferry since the increase in tolls and the amount of revenue received, etc.

The Division Engineer of the Bridge and Ferry Division has these records and will continue to keep them for such purpose as they may be needed.

Yours respectfully,
JAMES H. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Placed on file.

REPAVING GREEN STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 3, 1930.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith submit to you report of the Commissioner of Public Works relative to the repaving of Green street and removing of car tracks which is in reply to your order of January 13, 1930.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, January 27, 1930.
To the Honorable the Mayor.

I return order of the City Council, dated January 13, 1930, requesting the removal of the tracks and the repaving of Green street, Ward 3.

The estimated cost of removing the tracks from Green street, from Bowdoin square to Chambers street, and laying recut granite block pavement on concrete base, resetting the edgestone and laying artificial stone sidewalks, is approximately $11,400.

Yours respectfully,
JAMES H. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Placed on file.

BLEACHERS ON WILLIAM F. SMITH PLAYGROUND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 3, 1930.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I herewith submit to you report of the Park Commission relative to erecting bleachers on the William F. Smith Playground, Brighton, which is in reply to your order of January 20, 1930.
Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, January 27, 1930.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.
Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of January 24, with inclosure, order from the City Council that the Park Commission be requested to erect bleachers on the William F. Smith Playground, Brighton district.
I regret exceedingly to inform you that there are no funds available to do this work. Bleachers to hold 1,000 people will cost $10,000.
Very respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.
Placed on file.

ENLARGING PLAYGROUND AT CHARLESTOWN HEIGHTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 3, 1930.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I herewith submit to you report of the Park Commission relative to enlarging playground at Charlestown Heights which is in compliance with your order of January 20, 1930.
Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.
City of Boston,
Park Department, January 27, 1930.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.
Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of January 24, with inclosure, order from the City Council that the Park Commission be requested to make a survey of conditions at Charlestown Heights and to inform the City Council as to the amount of money that will be required to fill in the slope on the Medford street side for the purpose of enlarging the playground and installing an all-year-round swimming pool.
To build a retaining wall, do the necessary amount of filling, grading, etc., and to build an all-year-round swimming pool, inclosing same in building, would cost $375,000.
Very respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.
Placed on file.

REPAVING NORTH MEAD STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 3, 1930.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I herewith submit to you report of the Commissioner of Public Works relative to repaving North Mead street which is in compliance with your order of January 20, 1930.
Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.
City of Boston,
Public Works Department, January 30, 1930.
To the Honorable the Mayor.
I return order of the City Council, dated January 20, requesting that North Mead street, Ward 2, be repaved with smooth pavement.
North Mead street was ordered accepted in 1929, but the order of the Street Commissioners failed to receive the approval of his Honor the Mayor. The street, therefore, is still private and outside the jurisdiction of the Public Works Department.
Yours respectfully,
JAMES H. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.
Placed on file.

CONVENIENCE STATION IN BRIGHTON TOWN HALL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 3, 1930.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I herewith submit to you report of the Superintendent of Public Buildings relative to establishing a convenience station in the Brighton Town Hall, which is in reply to your order of January 20, 1930.
Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.
City of Boston,
Public Buildings Department,
January 25, 1930.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.
Dear Sir,—Replying to the inclosed order of the City Council that the Superintendent of Public Buildings be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to establish a convenience station in the Brighton Old Town Hall, Ward 22, I respectfully report that this matter has been discussed for some time past during which I have investigated same thoroughly and had tentative sketch prepared. I estimate that the cost would be approximately $15,000.

I do not feel this would be money well spent, as the building itself is very old and sooner or later will require considerable attention. Furthermore, there are toilets in this building that the public can have access to, the doors being open at all times and janitor service being provided.
However I will be glad to go into further detail if it is your desire.

Respectfully yours,
JOHN P. ENGLERT,
Superintendent of Public Buildings.
Placed on file.

APPROPRIATION FOR COMMERCIAL, INDUSTRIAL AND PUBLICITY BUREAU.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 1, 1930.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—The necessity for the creation of cooperation between a municipality and the commercial and industrial activities located therein is today recognized by the leading cities of the United States. To this policy may be traced any large measure of progress and success achieved by those cities which outrank in population, and in industry and commerce the City of Boston.
It is essential that if commercial and industrial progress and prosperity is to be achieved that steps be taken at the earliest possible date for the creation of a municipal agency that will serve as a contact bureau of cooperation between the municipality and the commercial and industrial establishments here located.
That this consummation, the necessity of which is accepted, may become a reality, I respectfully recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.
Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That a sum not in excess of $25,000 be expended, under the direction of the Mayor, by the Commercial, Industrial and Publicity Bureau in the prosecution of its duties, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund, when made.
Referred to the Executive Committee.

PURCHASE OF OLD RECORDS AND BOOKS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 31, 1930.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—One of the results of the general interest in the celebration of the tercentenary of the settlement of Boston has been the bringing to light of records, books and other publications of considerable historical interest.
While no doubt copies of many of the volumes to which attention has been drawn are preserved in the libraries of historical societies, and in the Boston Public Library, I think it advisable that a historical library as complete as possible should be established and maintained at City Hall, where it will be convenient for consultation by officials and inspection by visitors.
In furtherance of that purpose I recommend the passage of the accompanying order authorizing the expenditure of $1,000.
Under the order the City Clerk will be in a position to acquire from time to time such publications as he may consider to be of historical value, to form the foundation of such a library.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.
Ordered, That the City Clerk be authorized to expend not more than one thousand dollars for the purchase of old records and books and other publications relating to the history of Boston and the settlement of New England; the amount so expended to be charged to the Reserve Fund.
Referred to the Executive Committee.

SALARY OF CORPORATION COUNSEL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 3, 1930.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—The Assistant Corporation Counsel at present receives a salary of $7,500 per annum and in addition the sum of $2,000 annually for services as attorney upon legal matters affecting the Boston Transit Department, or a total equivalent to $500 annually in excess of the amount which, in conformity with section 5 of chapter 3 of the Revised Ordinances of 1925, is paid to the Corporation Counsel.
In view of the fact that the Corporation Counsel is charged with complete responsibility for the department of which he is head, it would appear proper that he be paid a salary at least in excess of that enjoyed by a subordinate official of the Law Department.

Accordingly I recommend the adoption by your honorable body of the accompanying amendment to the City Ordinances.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

An Ordinance Concerning the salary of the Corporation Counsel.
Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Section 1. Section five of chapter three of the Revised Ordinances of 1925 is hereby amended in the clause establishing the salary of the corporation counsel by striking out the words "nine thousand" and inserting in place thereof the words "ten thousand."

Section 2. This ordinance shall take effect beginning with the first day of February, 1930.
Referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

APPROPRIATION FOR MUNICIPAL EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 3, 1930.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—The Municipal Employment Bureau, which has functioned in a most helpful way for a period of eight years, will require for the balance of the fiscal year, for the conduct of departmental activities, a sum of $25,000, and I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That a sum not in excess of $25,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated to be expended by the Municipal Employment Bureau, under the direction of the Mayor, in the prosecution of its duties, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund, when made.
Referred to the Executive Committee.

President LYNCH called up, under unfinished business, No. 15 on the calendar, viz.:

15. Whereas, By indenture made September 24, 1926, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts leased to the Airport Development Company, a Massachusetts corporation, a certain parcel of land situate in East Boston in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and more fully described in said lease; and

Whereas, By lease dated August 10, 1928, the said Commonwealth of Massachusetts leased to the City of Boston certain premises for use as an airport situate in said East Boston and more fully described in said lease, which premises included the premises leased as aforesaid to the Airport Development Company; and

Whereas, The said lease from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to the City of Boston was made subject to the rights of the Airport Development Company and the said lease between the Commonwealth and the Airport Development Company was assigned to the City of Boston; and

Whereas, It is expedient for the proper and necessary development of said airport that the said lease to the Airport Development Company be canceled and terminated;

Now, therefore, it is Ordered, That the Park Department be, and it is hereby, authorized in the name and behalf of the City of Boston to cancel and terminate said lease from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to the Airport Development Company; and it is further authorized to pay as damages on account of the cancellation of said lease and the consequent damage to property thereby a sum not exceeding $15,000, to be charged to the appropriation for airport improvements.

On January 20, 1930, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 21, nays 0.

The order was given its second and final reading and passage, yeas 20, nays 0.

RELEASE OF RESTRICTIONS ON CONCORD STREET LAND.

President LYNCH called up, under unfinished business, No. 16 on the calendar, viz.:

16. Whereas, By deed dated July 25, 1871, recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Lib. 1142, folio 201, the City of Boston, in consideration of $30,000, conveyed to the Association for the Protection of Destitute Catholic Children in Boston about 40,000 square feet of city land, situate on Concord street, Stoughton street and Harrison avenue in said Boston; and

Whereas, The said deed contained among several conditions the following two conditions, namely:

No. 2. "The land is to be used as a home for orphans and destitute children and for no other purpose."

No. 4. The said "Association may release themselves from the two next preceding conditions numbered two and three, at any time before a breach of them or either of them, by paying to the said City of Boston a sum equal to seventy-five cents for each square foot of said land and interest on said sum from the date hereof; but in case of such release the said association and its assigns shall thereafter hold the said land upon and only upon the following conditions."

and

Whereas, By deed dated January 26, 1876, and recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Book 1313, page 22, the City of Boston, in consideration of $5,006.25, conveyed to the Association for the Protection of Destitute Catholic Children in Boston about 10,012 and 5-10 square feet of city land, situate on Concord street, Stoughton street and Harrison avenue in said Boston; and

Whereas, The last mentioned deed contained among several conditions the following, which is numbered Condition 2:

"It shall be used for no other purpose than a home for orphan and destitute children, unless at any time the owners of the said land for the time being shall pay to the city a sum equal to seventy-five cents for each square foot of said land, in which case the said land may thereafter be used for dwelling houses, subject to the following restrictions."

Whereas, By an indenture dated November 30, 1876, and recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Book 1360, folio 105, it was agreed by and between said association and the City of Boston that the conditions of the above two deeds should be released upon the covenant of the said association to hold this said land subject to the following restrictions:

"It shall be used for no other purpose than a home for orphan and destitute children, unless at any time the owners of the said land for the time being shall pay to the city a sum equal to seventy-five cents for each square foot of said land, in which case the said land may thereafter be used for dwelling houses, subject to the following restrictions."

Whereas, The said association is desirous that the above referred to restrictions be released,

Now, therefore, it is hereby Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be, and he hereby is, authorized in the name and behalf of the said City of Boston, by a release satisfactory in form to the Law Department of the City of Boston, to release the above mentioned restriction upon the payment to the said City of Boston by said association of the sum of one dollar.

On January 20, 1930, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 21, nays 0.

The order was given its second and final reading and passage, yeas 20, nays 0.

FINANCE REPORTS.

Coun. DONOVAN, for the Committee on Finance, submitted the following:

1. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred January 27) appropriating $350,000, to be expended under the direction of the Public Works Commissioner for new ferryboat—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed, yeas 19, nays 0.

2. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred January 13) for appropriation of $150,000 for the resurfacing of Bunker Hill street—recommending the passage of the order in the accompanying new draft, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of $100,000 be, and the same hereby is, appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works, for the resurfacing of Bunker Hill street, Ward 2, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. DONOVAN—Mr. President, I might say before we vote on this order that, with the agreement of Councilor Green, your Committee on Finance amended the order to read $100,000 instead of $150,000, due to the fact that the Commissioner of Public Works said that the work could be done for $100,000. As I say, Councilor Green was in favor of amending it.

The order was passed, yeas 21, nays 0.

CLAIMS.

Coun. BUSH, for the Committee on Claims, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition of W. M. Dundon (referred January 13) for reimbursement for judgment against him—recommending the accompanying order:

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. MAHONEY, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition (referred today) for children under fifteen years of age to appear at places of public amusement, viz.:

Mary Sullivan. East Boston High School, February 7,—that license be granted.

Report accepted; leave granted on the usual conditions.

2. Petition of Boston National League Baseball Company for renewal of license for Sunday sports at Braves Field (referred October 7)—that license be granted.

Report accepted; license granted on usual conditions.

3. Report on order (referred January 20) that annuity of $600 be paid to widow of James J. Troy, late member of Boston Police Department—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

4. Reports on messages of Mayor and orders (referred today) recommending appropriation of the following amounts, viz.:

$25,000, to be expended by Municipal Employment Bureau.

$25,000, to be expended by Commercial, Industrial and Publicity Bureau.

$1,000, to be expended by the City Clerk for purchase of old records and books and other publications relating to history of Boston and settlement of New England.

Reports severally accepted; said orders passed, yeas 20, nays 0.

SIDEWALK ON LEXINGTON AVENUE.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Lexington avenue, both sides, Ward 18, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BOND OF BOSTON NATIONAL LEAGUE BASEBALL COMPANY.

The bond of the Boston National League Baseball Company, to cover possible injuries in baseball park, in the total sum of $100,000, was received.

The question came on the approval of the bond.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I should like to be assured that at least the clerk has seen this or somebody has seen it before we vote on it, so that we may know it is all right.

President LYNCH—The clerk informs me that the bond insures the Boston National League Baseball Company, and is issued by a recognized bonding company.

The bond was approved by the Council.

AMOUNT EXPENDED FOR TERCENTENARY CELEBRATION.

Coun. HEIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Director of Public Celebrations be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to submit to the City Council a report as to the amount of money expended by his department in connection with the coming Boston Tercentenary celebration.

Coun. HEIN—Mr. President, I understand that there was a considerable sum of money appropriated last year for this particular celebration, and spent outside the city, for publicity purposes, and so far I don't think the City Council knows anything at all about how it has been spent. So I would like to have a report as to how the money has been expended, so that we may get some line on what has been done, and whether the committee has functioned or not.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I don't think we ought to be precipitate in voting for this order. As I understand it, $25,000 was appropriated sometime last year for this committee, and, if I am correctly informed, only $4,000 of that $25,000 was spent, and the balance was turned back to the City of Boston from the Tercentenary Committee by the Hon. A. C. Ratschky, chairman of the committee. I think I read in the newspapers a short time ago about how Mr. Ratschky was complimented on his turning back of that $21,000. If $4,000 has been spent for publicity, newspaper or otherwise, inside or outside Boston and the Commonwealth, of course there will be a report in regard to that, and we know that his Honor the Mayor has just appointed the chairman of the Tercentenary Committee this year, which we have every reason to believe will be a properly functioning committee, because of the dynamic man who has been placed at its head in the person of John F. Fitzgerald, former Mayor of Boston. I think, judging from the action taken last Friday, at the Old South Meeting House, we should be satisfied that everything will go along in a proper and progressive way. I do believe, however, that this is not the time to request the present Mayor of Boston to have a report made in regard to the $25,000 appropriated last year, because as I say, $21,000 has been turned back, and I believe that when the money has been spent, together with the further sums that will be authorized from time to time, a proper report will be made by the proper authorities. I do think that there is no need for the passage of this order offered by the councilor from Ward 21 at the present time.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I think the order offered by the gentleman from Ward 21 should perhaps pass at this time. I am glad to hear, authentically or otherwise, that Mr. Ratschky was able to return to the coffers of the city at least $21,000 out of the $25,000, and, knowing something of what has been done with money appropriated for past conventions, I think he deserves some credit. He must have had a tough job to be able to return the $21,000 out of the $25,000 with that particular outfit. I would like to know how much of the $25,000 is still available—whether Mr. Ratschky, with the difficulties he must have encountered, was really able to keep the $21,000 intact for this administration. If so, we may as well have the facts, together with other expenditures so far as the Tercentenary Committee is concerned, and may also be able to find out what progress has been made since the new administration coming in the first part of January this year. For that reason, I favor the order; I believe we should know what the money has been spent on, and for whom.

Coun. HEIN—Mr. President, it was not my idea to reflect on anybody. But I do think that we should know, if only $4,000 was expended, how it was spent, and what was done with the other $21,000. If the committee did not function, there is no question in my mind that the committee that the present Mayor will appoint will function, and will be able to use whatever money is available to good advantage. So I should like to know what was done with the money appropriated last year, as well as getting information in regard to what is done with the money appropriated this year.

Coun. BUSH—While I feel that the order will not serve any useful purpose, at the same time, when a member of the Council desires information about funds that have been appropriated for certain purposes, I think, as an elected representative of the citizens of Boston, he is entitled to the information. This is an order looking to the discovery of facts, and, as such, I think it should pass.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Adjourned, at 3.59 p. m., to meet on Monday, February 10, 1930, at 2 p. m.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE OF THE CITY OF BOSTON.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING, 15 BEACON STREET,
OFFICE OF THE BUSINESS MANAGER.

PROPOSALS FOR FURNISHING PAPER, BLANK BOOKS AND ENVELOPES FOR THE BOSTON PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The School Committee of the City of Boston invites bids for furnishing and delivering at supply room, paper, blank books and envelopes as per schedule. Only proposals obtained at the office of the Business Manager of the School Committee, Administration Building, 15 Beacon street, tenth floor, signed by the bidder and left before 12 o'clock m. on Wednesday, February 19, 1930, at said office with a certified check for $100, payable to the city if the proposal is not carried out, will then and there be publicly opened and read. Envelopes containing proposals should be plainly marked "Proposal for Paper, Blank Books and Envelopes." The bid must be in duplicate, the one with the check to be sent as above, the other filed with the City Auditor, City Hall, previous to the time named for opening bids. The successful bidder will be required to deposit a surety bond or a certified check for the sum of not less than 50 per cent of the amount of the contract, payable to the City of Boston, which check shall become the property of the city unless the bidder carries out his agreement in accordance with the specifications. The School Committee reserves the right to reject any or all bids, or to accept such bid or part of bid as may be deemed best for the interests of the city.

CITY RECORD

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 22.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1930.

No. 7

MAYOR CURLEY ORDERS CONSTRUCTION WORK BEGUN TO FIT CITY'S PLAYGROUNDS FOR CAPACITY USE BY CHILDREN AND CITIZENS — CONTRACTS FOR THREE FIELD HOUSES BEGUN ALSO AS MEANS OF RELIEVING UNEMPLOYMENT.

FIELD HOUSE TO BE ERECTED ON READVILLE PLAYGROUND, HYDE PARK, UNDER DIRECTION OF MAYOR CURLEY, WORK ON WHICH WILL BEGIN SOON.

Mayor Curley has recently awarded contracts for the construction of three playground field houses, one in Roxbury, one in Mattapan, and one in Readville.

It will be his policy to provide a building containing shower baths, locker and toilet facilities for every playground. He believes that contracts let now for this type of work will tend to relieve the present slackness in the building construction business. Buildings advertised and constructed now are being built at lower prices than what would prevail at other seasons of the year.

The field house now under construction in Roxbury is located at the Jefferson Playground, Day and Heath streets. The contract for this building was awarded to the Banspar Construction Company at a price of $15,551. This construction will fill a long-felt want of this particular playground.

A second contract has been recently awarded for the construction of a field house on the Almont Street Playground, Mattapan. This contract was awarded to the Crane Construction Company at a price of $19,091. In a section of the city that has rapidly developed in the past fifteen years this comparatively new playground has been without locker, shower and toilet facilities. This large playground requires a modern house and other modern conveniences.

Another contract has been awarded for the construction of a field house at Readville Playground, Milton street, Readville. This contract was awarded to R. J. Connolly at a price of $9,920.

All of these field houses are to be of the best construction and of the best materials obtainable. The exteriors of the buildings are to be of dark red, rough texture brick, all to be laid up with dark gray cement mortar points. The interior finish of the walls and partitions of the buildings is to be of salt-glazed, buff-colored brick. All floors and foundation walls are to be of concrete. The first floor of each building is to have a terrazzo surface finish. Plumbing and heating fixtures are to be of the best materials that money can buy. The abuses, extreme wear and tear that these buildings will be subjected to make it necessary to use only the very best materials. The buildings will be equipped with toilets, lockers and shower baths for boys and girls.

Organized games and healthful sports can be practised only on modern, fully equipped playgrounds and parks. Mayor Curley believes that every playground should be modern, and he has taken a definite step to accomplish this idea at a very opportune time.

MAYOR CURLEY THANKED FOR PROMPT ACTION ON "BATH STREET" SALE.

Mayor Curley, on February 10, received the following letter from Herbert K. Hallett, Chairman of the Board, The Atlantic National Bank of Boston.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—A week ago today, through your efforts I am fully convinced, we received a deed of the remnant of "Bath street" without which we could not erect the building which had for months been planned. In behalf of our Board, as well as for myself, I thank you for so promptly making possible the purchase by us from the city of this land at a price which had been agreed upon by the Street Commissioners and ourselves.

This morning the steam shovels are on the job, and both architects and contractors have been urged to proceed with the greatest possible diligence. Thus has your energy and your determination to carry forward the progressive policy announced at the outset of your administration borne fruit.

Now, may I make a suggestion which I think is well worth considering?

Post Office square, as it has existed for many years, has been cluttered by miscellaneous parking, the exchanging of loads by truck drivers, and even the assembling of ash cans, with the result that, notwithstanding the adornment by the Angell Memorial, it is in the main unsightly. Is it not possible to protect from unnecessary parking and traffic the center of the square, and maintain within a curbing a small plot of green grass and shrubs, thus changing a displeasing aspect to one of some beauty?

To me it seems that such a spot would impress most favorably all out-of-town visitors to this part of the city, and that it would afford satisfaction to those who pass daily through the square.

With sincere well wishes for the success of your administration, I am,

Respectfully,

H. K. HALLETT,
Chairman of the Board.

MAYOR CURLEY ASKS THAT MACHINE SHOP NEAR DRY DOCK BE CONSTRUCTED AS UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF.

Mayor Curley, on February 10, forwarded the following communication to Hon. John J. Douglass, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.:

DEAR FRIEND JOHN,—For a period of ten years the I-beams and steel necessary for the erection of a machine shop at the largest dry dock in the world, namely, in the vicinity of the Army Base, South Boston, where it is customary to dock the "Leviathan," has been permitted to rot and rust through the failure of Congress to provide the sum of $400,000 for the erection and equipment of this plant.

If my memory serves me right the item is always inserted in the Boston budget for submission to the Committee on Naval Affairs, but to the present time has never got beyond that stage.

The erection of this plant would enhance the value of the dry dock property and, in addition, provide some measure of relief in the employment of many of those now seeking work in Boston and unable to secure it.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR CURLEY PROVIDES BOAT FOR USE BY HARBOR POLICE.

Mayor Curley, on February 7, forwarded the following communication to Acting Fire Commissioner Eugene C. Hultman:

DEAR SIR,—You are hereby directed to confer at once with the Police Commissioner and make such arrangements as may be necessary to furnish the Police Department with a boat for use until such time as a new police boat has been constructed, having the same operated jointly by members of your department and the police department.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR CURLEY CUTS COST OF BRIDGE CONSTRUCTION.

Mayor Curley, on February 8, forwarded the following communication to Mr. John E. Carty, Division Engineer of the Bridge and Ferry Service:

MY DEAR MR. CARTY,—I am extremely desirous that the cost of bridge decking be reduced at least forty per cent this year. Will you kindly arrange to install corrugated steel plates wherever possible on bridge decking that is subject to heavy traffic, on such bridges as Northern Avenue, Summer Street, Boylston Street Bridge and such other places.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.*General Order No. 9.ANNUAL BALL.

The fifty-first annual ball of the Boston Fire and Protective Departments will be held on Thursday evening, February 13, 1930, at Mechanics Building, Huntington avenue, Boston. It is hoped that this ball will be the most successful, both financially and socially, in the history of the department, and this can be accomplished if every member of the department will put his shoulder to the wheel and render every possible assistance to the Ball Committee which has been untiring in its efforts.

Members of the department detailed to the ball will report to the floor marshal, James F. McFadden, at the above mentioned hall at 7 p. m. sharp on that date, unless otherwise ordered.

Members will attend strictly to the duties assigned to them.

The Acting Fire Commissioner is distinctly interested in the success of the ball, and with the committee in charge, requests that all aides take part in the grand march together with as many other members of the department as is possible. Officers and members of the platoon are expected to be present and should appear in uniform. Permission to wear the uniform on this occasion is hereby granted.

Trustees, aides and members detailed to the ball will be granted detailed leave from 4 p. m. February 13 to 8 a. m. February 14, 1930.

Regulation uniform, sackcoat, black shirt and tie, white gloves and aide badge will be worn on this occasion. This applies to all members in uniform, acting as aides or not.

By order of Acting Fire Commissioner E. C. Hultman.

DANIEL F. SENNOTT,
Chief of Department.

*General Order No. 10.I. NEW FIRE ALARM BOXES.

The following new fire alarm boxes will be established shortly:

12-3573. Prendergast Preventorium, 1000 Harvard street. This box will be connected into circuit No. 80.

12-3722. Edison Service Station, Hyde Park avenue. This box will be connected into circuit No. 81.

6121. Boston Airport, near Administration Building. This box will be connected into circuit No. 28. The assignment of this box will be the same as for Box 6123.

II. NEW BOX LOCATION.

The location for Box 6123 will be changed to Boston Airport, near Colonial Air Transport Hangar. This box will be changed from circuit No. 48 to circuit No. 76.

The location for Box 3721 has been changed from Huntington avenue, opposite No. 109 to Huntington and Richards avenues.

III. ASSIGNMENT CARDS.

Assignment cards for Box 3722 and 3573 will be returned to Headquarters on or before Friday, February 14, in order that the new boxes may be added to them. A copy of the assignment cards for these two boxes should be placed in the assignment box as a memorandum while the card is out. The returned cards are to be marked on the back in lead pencil with the company number.

The card for Box 6123 should have the location corrected by the company commander and new cards for this box with the correct location printed thereon will be furnished later.

IV. INCOME TAX RETURNS.

All members of the Boston Fire Department who received more than $2,000 for the year 1929 are obliged to fill out an income tax return in accordance with the statutes of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

In addition, such members are required to fill out the cards issued with this order and return them to Headquarters immediately. These blanks are to be filled out with the name and address of the members in the space provided. In the right hand corner of the card the company number is to be inserted. The lower half of the blank is not to be filled out.

These blanks are to be made out only by all men who came into the department on or before February 1, 1924.

V. GENERAL ORDERS INDEX.

The index for General Orders for 1929 is issued to the department today.

VI. RESCUE CARS.

On January 23, 1930, a new rescue car was placed in service with Rescue Company 1 replacing Pierce Arrow truck which was formerly in service with that company.

On January 28, 1930, a new rescue truck was placed in service with Rescue Company 3 replacing American-LaFrance hose wagon which was formerly in service with that company.

These trucks are the Federal make with cab and closed body. The weight, fully equipped without men, 8,100 pounds.

VII. COMMENDATIONS.

Ladderman Augustus J. Beaupre of Ladder Company 28 is hereby commended for rescuing a woman at fire, Box 3741, on January 30, 1930. Ladderman Beaupre performed this service in a very effective manner. Ladderman David A. Shea of Ladder Company 16 is hereby commended for assisting Ladderman Beaupre in the rescue.

Hoseman John M. Shugrue of Engine Company 37 is hereby commended for responding to and working at fire 656 Huntington avenue, February 3, 1930, while off duty.

Ladderman John R. Concannon of Ladder Company 1 is hereby commended for responding to and working at fire, Box 3546, February 8, 1930, while off duty.

By order of Acting Fire Commissioner E. C. Hultman.

DANIEL F. SENNOTT,
Chief of Department.

COMMISSION ON MARKING HISTORICAL SITES APPROVES TRICENTENARY MEMORIAL TO FOUNDERS.

Mayor Curley, on February 11, received the following communication from Mr. Walter Gilman Page, Chairman of the Commission on Marking Historical Sites:

MY DEAR MAYOR CURLEY,—At a meeting of the Commission on Marking Historical Sites, held on Saturday, February 8, the plan for the Tercentenary Memorial to the Founders, submitted to us by John F. Paramino, the sculptor, received the enthusiastic and unanimous approval of the members and it is our expressed hope that Boston will have a permanent memorial to show to future generations the regard in which the memory of the founders was held by the men and women of today, and brought about largely through your patriotic and sympathetic interest.

We trust the plan will receive your approval.

Yours very truly,

WALTER GILMAN PAGE, Chairman.

INAUGURATION OF THE CHARLES RIVER BASIN IMPROVEMENTS UNDER DIRECTION OF MAYOR CURLEY NOW UNDER WAY—TO COST $1,475,000 AND WILL INCLUDE WIDENING OF CHARLES STREET, UNDERPASS AND FACILITIES FOR RECREATION.

PLAN FOR CHARLES STREET WIDENING AND IMPROVEMENT OF BASIN BANKS BETWEEN LONGFELLOW BRIDGE AND THE VIADUCT, WORK ON WHICH WILL BE STARTED SOON.

Plans for the inauguration of the improvements on the Charles River Basin have moved rapidly forward under the direction of Mayor Curley and work will be begun soon. The work will involve an expenditure of $1,475,000. Mayor Curley has notified the Street Commissioners to take steps immediately in the improvement, which includes street widening, traffic circles, a salt water swimming pool, playground, athletic fields and other recreation features.

Charles street will be widened to 120 feet from the Longfellow Bridge at the foot of Cambridge street to the viaduct at Leverett street, traffic circles 240 feet in diameter will be constructed at the intersection of Charles and Cambridge streets and at the end of Leverett street. An underpass 40 feet wide will be built from a point on Charles street at the county jail, under the bridge to Embankment road. The work will cost $1,000,000.

A similar development is planned by the Metropolitan District Commission beyond the Longfellow Bridge, and, combined, the contributions will add considerably to the beautiful park system.

Park Commissioner William P. Long's plans call for the conversion of all land between Charles street and the river, from Longfellow Bridge to the Nashua street extension 400 feet beyond the viaduct at Leverett street, into one continuous stretch of recreational development.

Charles street will have a 40-foot parkway through the center and 40-foot roadways on each side, in appearance similar to Commonwealth avenue. The construction will take 60 feet along the Charlesbank and properties at the corners of Charles and Cambridge streets and a block at the corner of Leverett street. Traffic circles will require the property takings.

The abutments of the elevated structure which have given traffic troubles at Cambridge and Charles street have been carefully considered by Chairman Thomas J. Hurley of the Street Commission, and he plans his traffic circles so that the abutments will be in the center. The circle and the underpass is expected greatly to relieve traffic congestion.

Though the Charlesbank will have a 60-foot strip cut off, the recreation center will greatly benefit, for on the river side with the aid of dredges there will be added a strip 240 feet wide from the Longfellow Bridge to Poplar street. Part of the girls' gymnasium at the Charlesbank will be torn down because of the underpass and nearby will be a field for baseball and football.

Near the viaduct will be constructed a salt water bathing pool, fed by water pumped from a point 400 feet from shore. The pool will range in depth from three to seven feet. Bathers will use the present field house for dressing and a new athletic house will be built.

The city is receiving from the state by real estate swap and some cash and street improvements two tracts of land near Nashua street, and that land will be used for a playground for children.

The cost of the development, according to estimates by Park Commissioner Long, of the work between the bridge and the viaduct, is $400,000, with an additional $75,000 for the Nashua Street Playground.

MAYOR CURLEY NEGOTIATES WITH STATE FOR LAND FOR BASIN IMPROVEMENTS.

Mayor Curley, on February 7, forwarded the following communication to Mr. Frank E. Lyman, Commissioner of Public Works for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts:

MY DEAR MR. LYMAN,—The City of Boston is prepared to deliver to the State of Massachusetts deed of land, ownership of which is vested in the City of Boston, and adjoining some 2,000,000 feet of state-owned land at First Street Extension, South Boston, in return for the conveyance of land of the Commonwealth, lying between Marine Park and Castle Island, containing about 305,800 square feet. In addition, the City of Boston will pay to the state $25,000 in cash and agree to expend not in excess of $35,000 for the construction of certain streets now laid out on land owned by the state in the vicinity of Summer street.

In consideration of the above payment of $25,000 and the agreement to expend a sum not in excess of $35,000 for the construction of said certain streets, and the exchange of land above referred to, the state is to convey to the City of Boston the land located in the vicinity of Nashua and Leverett streets, in two parcels, parcel No. 1 containing 52,256 square feet and parcel No. 2 containing 30,829 square feet, which the city proposes to be developed for park, playground and beach purposes.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR CURLEY PRESENTS PEN TO MARTIN M. LOMASNEY, AFTER SIGNING ORDER FOR BASIN IMPROVEMENT.

Mayor Curley, on February 11, forwarded the following communication to Hon. Martin M. Lomasney:

MY DEAR MR. LOMASNEY,—I beg to forward to you, through Councilor John I. Fitzgerald, the pen with which the order for the appropriation of $1,000,000 for the widening and improvement of Charles street was signed and, in addition, the order for the expenditure of $65,000, divided between cash and highway construction appropriations to the state, for the establishment of a recreation park with bathing facilities in the West End of Boston.

It is a pleasure to forward this pen to you as the father of these public improvements, which will add so materially to the health and happiness of the residents of the district you have so long and ably led and represented.

Very truly yours,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR CURLEY ASKS LEGISLATURE FOR ENABLING ACTION FOR GOVERNOR SQUARE AND MASSACHUSETTS AVENUE TRAFFIC RELIEF DURING THIS SESSION. WANTS TRANSIT DEPARTMENT TO BEGIN WORK SOON.

"I see no reason why the Legislature should not pass the enabling bill providing for the settlement of the Governor square problem at this session," said Mayor Curley on Wednesday afternoon before the Legislative Committee on Metropolitan Affairs.

Three bills were before the committee on this question that has been hanging fire since the Legislature of 1925 passed the enabling act.

One by Representative Martin Hays of Brighton, provided that the Transit Department of the City of Boston be authorized to construct an extension of the Boylston Street Subway from Governor square through Brookline to Newton. The bill of Representative Leo M. Birmingham and Mr. Hays, jointly, provided for the elimination of the crossing at Governor square and the assessment of the financial burden on certain communities. The bill of Mayor Curley provided for the underpass under the long-time financial method in vogue and with no increase in fare.

Most of the discussion centered in the remarks of the Mayor and Mr. Harriman, the former declaring that it was absurd to think that the Elevated would have any difficulty in meeting its rental charges if a decided improvement in service were provided over that route.

He cited the success of the Dorchester rapid transit system as evidence that people would use the Elevated in preference to their automobiles if they suffer fewer inconveniences in getting in and out of the city, and he made it plain that the City of Boston had gone the limit in providing vehicular accommodations for the public of other cities and towns.

Both Mayor Curley and Mr. Harriman agreed that the Huntington avenue subway project is perhaps as important as that for Governor square, but the former improvement would mean an expenditure of approximately $12,000,000 while the latter would mean only $3,000,000. The Mayor thought the trustees had no leg to stand on in insisting on a departure from present policy as to rentals. He did not think it fair that any part of the burden should be placed on the car riders and that is why he insisted in the bill that fares should not be increased.

In view of the expenditures of the road for the last ten years at $40,781,000, the Mayor could not see how the trustees could balk on a mere matter of $135,000 annually to meet the Governor square problem. In this connection he expressed the opinion that the public would indorse the feasibility of public ownership, and saw no reason why they should not do so.

Mayor Curley saw no reason why the Legislature of this year should not pass his bill, even though the question of the future management of the road will come before the public next fall on a referendum. It would take at least three years, he said, if the Transit Department could go to work at once. The Mayor said he could not justify at this time an extension beyond Brighton avenue, which would be necessary for Waltham, Newton and Watertown car riders. Chairman Warren asked if the Mayor favored a transfer of the Boston subways to the district council, and the reply was "not until we have a metropolitan city is it hardly right to hand over $53,000,000 worth of property, and I think we shall have the metropolitan city."

Mayor Curley, continuing, said it is now a question whether the city need expend nearly $500,000 for an underpass at Massachusetts avenue and Commonwealth avenue, since the new traffic lights went into operation. He had observed at that point that the delays in traffic have been lessened to a minute.

The Mayor then answered a number of questions from Representative Wadsworth, prompted by a statement which the Mayor had read on expenditures of the Elevated and the decrease in the number of car riders. Mr. Curley insisted that the Elevated would have more passengers if it provided better facilities.

Chairman Warren asked the Mayor whether, in his opinion, the trustees of the Elevated had acted in the interests of the stockholders or the public, and the Mayor indicated by his reply that he preferred to withhold his opinion until he took the stump next fall, if he had to do so.

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

MAYOR CURLEY TELLS LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE ON HARBORS AND PUBLIC LANDS LACK OF LAND HALTS BOSTON AIRPORT WORK, SPEAKING IN FAVOR OF BILLS FOR LEASE OF ADDITIONAL AREA FROM STATE.

Mayor Curley headed the delegation appearing before the Legislative Committee on Harbors and Public Lands, Wednesday, February 12, at the State House where arguments were heard on bills concerning the enlargement of the Boston Airport to meet the demands of future business. At the hearing it was stated that lack of available land at the Boston Municipal Airport is making it difficult to operate large transport and military airplanes in and out of the port as well as halting any future development of the port. The hearing was on three bills for the lease of additional lands from the Department of Public Works.

Mayor Curley, Corporation Counsel Silverman, Chairman Long of the City Park Commission, Theodore G. Holcombe, manager of the Aviation Bureau of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, and Waldo Brown, New England district manager of Colonial, were among those speaking in favor of the bills.

One of the bills, House 878, had been introduced by Mayor Curley himself. Another was Senate 109, a petition of Senator Henry Parkman, Jr., and the third another petition of Mayor Curley introduced through Representative William H. Hearn of East Boston, House 878. Senator Soule of New Bedford and Representative McKay of Newburyport sat as chairman.

"In my thirty years of contact with municipal experience," Mayor Curley stated, "I cannot remember a time when there was a more serious and concerted movement for metropolitan industrial expansion. Business organizations, the Port Authority, railroad and steamship lines are cooperating in sending us their best men to assist in working out a program."

He added that Dean Wallace B. Donham of Harvard Business School, President Stratton of M. I. T., and Dean Everett Lord of the College of Administration of Boston University had placed the facilities of their institutions at the disposal of the metropolitan committee.

BOSTON FAILING TO USE HARBOR FACILITIES.

Boston had been failing to use its harbor facilities to the best advantage, he continued. He cited the Army Base "operated or rather manipulated by a group of non-residents," and the $7,000,000 destroyer plant at Squantum, which it planned to lease to a lumber storage company.

The Mayor predicted an improvement in conditions shortly, asserting "that in only two years the citizens of Brookline, Newton and other communities would have overcome their timorousness at becoming a part of Boston."

In support of the bills, Mayor Curley said: "This is the start of our plan to extend the airport out to and including Governor's Island, which we are trying to secure back from the Federal Government and to use as a mooring mast for dirigibles, removing the hill for filling in the flats between. Eventually, we will have a $1,000,000 development of the Bird Island flats for shipping and industrial use as well as for aviation purposes."

Elaborating on the bill, Corporation Counsel Silverman explained that the city would spend $250,000 filling in the flats and extending the runways and another $100,000 building the concrete seaplane ramp. Two years ago, he said, the city had leased the Boston Airport from the state for twenty years at a cost of $1. Chairman Long of the Park Commission presented the committee with a map showing the port and the desired land.

Recorded in favor of the bill were Franklin Collier, aviation editor of a Boston newspaper; Gardner Fiske, Frank S. Davis of the Maritime Association of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, Crawford Hollis, Gardner Fiske and Arthur L. Richmond, chairman of the State Advisory Board of Aeronautics.

The other East Boston airport bill, which also included a provision for leasing the flats to private industries, was presented by Representative Hearn. He declared that the water and rail facilities in East Boston, made that district an ideal section in which industries should locate. William J. MacDonald also spoke in favor of this measure.

A related project was urged by proponents of a bill sponsored by the United Improvement Association, authorizing the Department of Public Utilities to dredge that portion of the Bird Island flats between the present harbor line and the shore of East Boston.

F. W. Merrick, representing the association, declared the Bird Island shoals were a menace to navigation in the outer harbor. He also stated that unless they were dredged, the shoals would be a hazard for seaplanes at low tide. E. S. Dorr, president of the association, substantiated these statements. The Massachusetts Bay Yacht Clubs' Association was recorded as supporting the bill by Edward Morris of Boston. Representative Hearn also expressed approval.

MAYOR CURLEY TO DISCUSS APPOINTMENT WITH CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

Mayor Curley, on February 12, received the following communication from Mr. Elliot H. Goodwin, Commissioner of Civil Service:

DEAR SIR,—The Commissioners of Civil Service have received the certificates of the appointment of James E. Maguire, Joseph A. Rourke, Edward F. McLaughlin and Joseph A. Conry, and considered them at their meeting yesterday.

In the cases of Mr. Maguire and Mr. Rourke, inasmuch as they informed you that, if their names were resubmitted they would give them further consideration, I have to say that they will proceed to the completion of their investigation without delay.

In the cases of the appointment of Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Conry, the commissioners completed the investigation and reached a decision thereon. If there is new evidence in regard to their qualifications for the positions to which you have nominated them, the commissioners will be willing to reopen the cases and give such evidence careful consideration. They will be glad to receive from you therefore any new evidence which you as Mayor of Boston may desire to submit, either orally or in writing, as you may prefer.

Very truly yours,

ELLIOT H. GOODWIN,
Commissioner of Civil Service.

Mayor Curley forwarded the following communication to Mr. Elliot H. Goodwin in answer to the above:

DEAR SIR,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your communication this day with reference to certification of appointments submitted by me for the office of Fire Commissioner and the office of Traffic Commissioner.

I shall be very pleased to avail myself of the very gracious tender contained in your communication and, provided the same is agreeable to you, shall request the two gentlemen whom I have nominated for these positions to accompany me to the office of the Department of Civil Service and Registration upon such day and at such hour as you may designate during the week of February 17.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

REPORT OF DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC CELEBRATIONS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 10, 1930.
To the Honorable City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit report from J. Philip O'Connell, Director of Public Celebrations, which is in reply to your order of February 3, 1930.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Office of Director of Public Celebrations,
February 8, 1930.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—In accordance with the order of the City Council, dated February 3, 1930, I respectfully submit the following:

The amount of money expended to date from the Reserve Fund on account of the Tercentenary Observance of the Settlement of Boston, under order of the City Council, approved by the Mayor, July 17, 1929, is $2,137.

This amount incurred by the previous administration was for preliminary drawings of newspaper advertisements, made up of art work and composition, and was paid as follows:

To Wood, Putnam & Wood Company..	$1,132
Glasser & Marks.....	1,005
	$2,137

Respectfully yours,
J. PHILIP O'CONNELL,
Director of Public Celebrations.

AVIATION MEMORIAL COMMITTEE TABLETS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 10, 1930.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of the inclosed communications submitted by the chairman of the Park Commission and by the Aviation Memorial Committee and respectfully recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, January 27, 1930.
William P. Long, Esq.,
Chairman, Park Department.

Dear Sir,—In reply to your inquiry of January 22, 1930, in which you request information as to what measures are necessary for the Aviation Memorial Committee to erect certain memorials at the Administration Building at its expense, and which the City of Boston would take over, and the desire of the said committee to turn over the balance of cash which they have on hand to the City of Boston be advised as follows:

It will be necessary that an order be adopted by the City Council and approved by his Honor the Mayor before the gifts can be accepted. It will then be necessary to comply with the provisions of chapter 410 of the Acts of 1898, as amended by chapter 87 of the Special Acts of 1919, which provides as follows:

Section 3. "The board shall have the custody and care of all works of art owned by the city and heretofore under the control of any department thereof. No work of art shall become the property of the city by purchase, gift or otherwise, until it, or a design or model thereof, and the situation proposed therefor shall have been approved by the board, and no work of art, until approved by the board, shall be erected or placed in, over or upon, or allowed to extend in, over or upon any street, avenue, square, park or other property belonging to the city. The board may, with the approval of the mayor, order the removal, relocation or alteration of any existing work of art owned by the city, and no such work of art shall be removed, relocated or altered without such order and approval. The board shall, at the request of the mayor, study, consider and report upon the design of any municipal building, bridge, approach, fence or other structure erected or to be erected upon land belonging to the city, and upon the design of any arch, bridge, structure or approach which is the property of any person, firm, or corporation, and extends in, over or upon any street, avenue, highway, park or public place."

Section 4. "The term 'work of art,' as used in this act, shall apply to and include all paintings, mural decorations, statues, bas-reliefs, sculptures, monuments, fountains, arches, ornamental gateways and other structures of a permanent character intended for ornament or commemoration."

I am inclosing herewith an order to carry your suggestion into effect. If this order is adopted by the City Council and approved by his Honor the Mayor, then the subject matter as far as it relates to the memorial should be referred to the Art Commission for their approval.

Very truly yours,
FRANK S. DELAND,
Corporation Counsel.

Aviation Memorial Committee.
Boston, January 4, 1930.

William P. Long,
Park Commissioner.

Dear Sir,—The Aviation Memorial Committee has contracted with John Evans & Co., Inc., under terms outlined in my letter to Arthur A. Evans, copy inclosed, to erect, at the Memorial Administration Building, Boston Airport, tablets in the place designated by William D. Austin, architect, and according to his drawings. We wish to present this memorial to the city and desire your acceptance of it for them and your agreement to have it in your care as long as the Airport shall remain under your jurisdiction.

The balance of the fund raised by the Aviation Memorial Committee is on deposit at the State Street Trust Company and is available for the city's use to be spent in payment of the cost of the memorial portico, or part thereof, or for other memorial features of the building designated by the city.

Very truly yours,
MAJOR ROBERT F. RAYMOND, JR.

Whereas, The Aviation Memorial Committee has collected by public subscription certain sums of money for the purpose of erecting a memorial in the form of tablets on the Administration Building at the Boston Airport; and

Whereas, The said committee has contracted for the purchase of said tablets, and now finds a balance in excess of said purchase price; and

Whereas, The said committee desires to present to the City of Boston the said tablets, together with such balance as now remains in their possession;

Now, therefore, it is Ordered, That subject to the provisions of chapter 410 of the Acts of 1898 as amended by chapter 87 of the Special Acts of 1919, the said tablets and remaining money be, and hereby are, accepted.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

FIRE HOUSE, ALLSTON.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 10, 1930.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith submit to you report from the Superintendent of Public Buildings relative to leasing the old fire house on Chestnut Hill avenue, Allston, to the Allston Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, which is in reply to your order of January 27, 1930.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Office of Public Buildings Department,
February 5, 1930.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—Replying to the inclosed order of the City Council in which the Superintendent of Public Buildings be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange a lease with the Allston Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at a nominal rental the old fire house on Chestnut Hill avenue, I respectfully state that I would suggest that same be held in abeyance until such time as the city knows what disposition is to be made of the property.

I have already had a request from the School-house Department to the effect that the Superintendent of Schools is desirous of obtaining the use of this building for military drill for the boys and physical exercises for the girls in the district. I am inclosing a copy of Mr. Rourke's letter.

Respectfully yours,
JOHN P. ENGLERT,
Superintendent of Public Buildings.

City of Boston,
Department of School Buildings,
February 3, 1930.

Mr. John P. Englert, Commissioner, Public Buildings Department.

Dear Sir,—The Superintendent of Schools is desirous of obtaining the use of the old engine house at the intersection of Academy Hill road and Chestnut Hill avenue for school purposes. The building has been investigated and will serve the purposes for which he requires it, namely, military drill for boys and physical exercises for girls.

Very truly yours,
L. K. ROURKE,
Superintendent.

Placed on file.

SALE OF LAND, FANEUIL STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 4, 1930.
To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen,—Inclosed find order wherein the City of Boston conveys certain land situate on Faneuil street in Brighton to the Florence Crittenton League of Compassion and wherein the said League, as a condition precedent to the making of said conveyance, is required to deliver to the City of Boston an instrument in writing wherein the said League agrees to waive all damages and to hold the City of Boston harmless against all claims for damages when and if the City of Boston lays out Faneuil street in Brighton as a public street of the City of Boston.

There was a taking made to widen and relocate Faneuil street and filed in the Suffolk Registry of the Land Court September 9, 1919. This taking was never perfected, however, as no entry was ever made for construction. By deed dated January 5, 1921, Mr. W. Stanley Tripp of Boston signed and delivered to the City of Boston a deed which purported to convey to the City of Boston a strip of land to be used in the widening of said Faneuil street. The city paid nothing for this deed. Mr. Tripp, however, was the owner of only a portion of the land and he was the only one who signed the deed. It will be seen, therefore, that the city has no claim upon any portion of said strip except that strip that was owned by the said W. Stanley Tripp. This deed was not recorded upon the proper side of the court, namely, the Land Court side, so that it was not binding except between the parties to the deed and those who had actual notice of the transaction.

It will be seen from the above mentioned facts that the City of Boston owns this isolated piece of land which is not being used for anything at the present time and which may become a source of trouble to the city in that the city is charged with the care of it.

The Florence Crittenton League of Compassion, a Massachusetts corporation, owns the land abutting upon the said strip and is desirous of having an entrance from their land to the highway. It is necessary for the said League to go over the said strip of land which the said W. Stanley Tripp deeded to the city to reach the highway.

I am informed that the purpose of the Florence Crittenton League of Compassion is caring for wayward girls.

I recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Whereas, By an instrument of taking dated September 19, 1919, recorded with Suffolk Registry District of the Land Court as Document No. 32447 and filed with Certificate of Title numbered 7787, the City of Boston laid out Faneuil street, as described in said instrument; and

Whereas, W. Stanley Tripp of Boston conveyed to the said City of Boston a strip of land included in said taking by deed recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Book 4271, page 311, being a portion of the premises described in said deed; and

Whereas, The said taking has not been completed by an entry upon the said land taken for the purpose of construction; and

Whereas, The Florence Crittenton League of Compassion, a Massachusetts corporation, is the owner of adjacent premises and is desirous of having access to said Faneuil street over the said strip of land conveyed as aforesaid to the said City of Boston by the said W. Stanley Tripp;

It is hereby Ordered, That upon the conveyance to the City of Boston by a confirmatory deed satisfactory in form to the Law Department of the City of Boston, of that portion of the premises above mentioned which were owned by W. Stanley Tripp of Boston at the date and delivery of said deed to the said City of Boston, his Honor the Mayor be, and he hereby is, authorized in the name and behalf of the City of Boston to grant all its right, title and interest in and to the premises conveyed to it as aforesaid by the said W. Stanley Tripp to the said Florence Crittenton League of Compassion.

The premises to be conveyed as aforesaid to the said Florence Crittenton League of Compassion are bounded and described as follows:

Easterly by land supposed to belong now or formerly to White, twenty-four and 13-100 feet; southeasterly by the northwesterly line of Faneuil street, four hundred sixty-five and 42-100 feet; westerly by land supposed to be now or formerly of Brogie, thirteen and 71-100 feet; and northwesterly by land now or formerly of the Florence Crittenton League of Compassion, four hundred sixty-four and 78-100 feet, and being lot F on a subdivision plan numbered 134-J, drawn by C. B. Humphrey, surveyor for the Land Court, dated July 25, 1919, and filed with Certificate of Title No. 10911 in the Registry District of the Land Court for Suffolk County, and being a portion of the premises described in Certificate 7787, Book 34, page 187, in said Registry District.

And it is hereby further Ordered, That as a condition precedent to said conveyance by the City of Boston to the said Florence Crittenton League of Compassion the said League shall deliver to the said City of Boston an instrument in writing satisfactory in form to the Law Department of the said City of Boston wherein the said League agrees for itself, and its successors and assigns to waive all claims for damages, and to hold the said City of Boston harmless from all claims for damages caused by or in any way growing out of any laying out or widening of said Faneuil street as a public street of the City of Boston, over any portion of the premises to be conveyed to said league by this order when and if the said City of Boston shall widen and lay out said Faneuil street as a public highway of said City of Boston, and wherein the said League agrees that said agreement shall be made a part of any conveyance to the said League under the authority of this order, and wherein the said League agrees that the said agreement shall be a covenant that will run with the land.

TERCENTENARY MEMORIAL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 10, 1930.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—The City of Boston is extremely fortunate in the opportunity that is presented through the vision and sacrifice of the Commission on the Marking of Historical Sites in that it will be possible to observe, even though in a modest way, the founding of Boston.

This commission in conjunction with a former member of the Park Commission and a pupil of the sculptor Saint Gaudens have submitted sketches for a suitable memorial to commemorate the tercentenary of the founding of Boston. This memorial is to take the form of a drinking fountain and is to be located on the Common about opposite 50 Beacon street, and if practicable is to be piped from the spring which was used by William Blackstone, the first settler in Boston.

It has received the approval of the Art Commission and that it may be completed in time for unveiling and dedication upon Boston Day, September 17th of the present year, I respectfully recommend to your honorable body the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $45,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Park Commissioners, for the erection of a Tercentenary Memorial, gateway, et cetera, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City to said amount.

PURCHASE OF LAND NEAR LEVERETT AND NASHUA STREETS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 10, 1930.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—The improvement of Charles street through widening to a width of one hundred and twenty feet makes necessary the taking of a large portion of the recreation park land commonly known as Charlesbank Gymnasium. The improvement contemplated represents the contribution by the City of Boston of the Charles River Embankment improvement which was in a large measure made possible through the contribution of $1,000,000 by the widow of a former member of the City Council, the late James J. Storrow.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts in conjunction with the Leverett and Nashua Street Development purchased from the Boston & Maine Railroad approximately 80,000 feet of land. At a conference at which were present His Excellency Governor Frank G. Allen, the State Treasurer, the State Highway Commissioners, his Honor James M. Curley, the Corporation Counsel and the auditor of the City of Boston, an agreement was arrived at with reference to the amount to be paid by the City of Boston for the land purchased by the Commonwealth from the Boston & Maine Railroad. It was agreed that in consideration of the construction at a cost of $35,000 of certain streets in the industrial section of state-owned land in the vicinity of Summer street and the payment of $25,000 that title to the land would be conveyed to the City of Boston. In the event that the City Council are in agreement it is my purpose to later provide sufficient funds for the establishment of suitable bathing facilities in conjunction with the park development created upon this land. The section in question where the land is located is the most congested center of the city and I early recommend the early adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That under the provisions of section 2, chapter 371, of the Acts of 1929, the sum of $25,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated to be expended by the Park Commissioners for the purchase of land from the state in the vicinity of Leverett and Nashua streets, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

IMPROVEMENTS, WEBSTER AVENUE PLAYGROUND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 10, 1930.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—With a view to the conservation of health a program was started some ten years ago the purpose of which was to rid the city of at least one acre of unsightly, unhealthful, unwholesome disease-breeding tenement property. It was my belief at that time, and I have had no occasion to change that opinion, that this policy, rigidly adhered to for a period of twenty-five years, would remove twenty-five acres of possible sources of contagion and death.

Unfortunately my views in the matter seemingly have not appealed with sufficient force to my successors. Consequently the program has suffered abandonment with the exception of expending the money provided by me for the taking of land and with no action upon the question of development for public use.

A sum sufficient was provided in 1925 for the taking of land and for the establishment of a mothers' and children's oasis of a health-breeding small park in the most congested section of the North End. I find upon examination that the entire sum was expended in land-taking and legal settlements and that no money is now available for the carrying out of the purpose for which the money was originally appropriated.

I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $40,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Park Commissioners, for Webster Avenue Playground, Improvements, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, perhaps I was not paying attention, but in regard to what park was it that the last administration violated the law with regard to having at least a third of the appropriation used for construction? Where was it located?

Chairman DOWD—Webster Avenue Playground, North End.

SALE OF POLICE STATION, NO. 8.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 10, 1930.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—The property formerly utilized by the City of Boston as Police Station 8, and located upon Commercial street, is in such condition as to make it no longer desirable for use for any municipal purpose, and I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the property of the City of Boston, located at Commercial and Battery streets, and formerly in use by the Police Department as Station No. 8, the assessed valuation of the land being $5.50 per foot, and the building $1,000, the area of which is 5,323 square feet, be sold at public auction at an upset price equal to the land value, which is $29,000.

Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

APPROPRIATION FOR NEW FIREBOAT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 5, 1930.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit herewith report of the Fire Commissioner, based on investigations of Professor Owens of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and of Francis Minot, naval architect and engineer, with reference to the condition of the fireboats in the service of the city.

From what I have been able to ascertain the best character of protection to the waterfront, or the property located in the vicinity of the waterfront, is a modern fireboat and, in view of the condition of the fireboats now in use and the length of time they have been in service, the recommendation of the Fire Commissioner, that the city construct one each year for a period of three years is worthy of immediate consideration and action.

I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Fire Department, January 30, 1930.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I return herewith communications, addressed to your Honor, from Mr. Francis Minot, naval architect, concerning the condition of the fireboats in the service of the Fire Department of the City of Boston.

For some time past the fireboats have caused the officials of the Fire Department grave concern and it has been only because of that fact that it has been possible to keep the boats afloat and out of consideration of the large expense necessary to replace them that no recommendations have been made up to the present time for new boats. The three boats are in such a condition that it would even be difficult to recommend the order in which they should be replaced if it was decided to replace them one at a time.

Engine 31 is a small boat with one pump and a capacity of 3,000 gallons per minute. The boat was put in service in 1914, but the engines were second-hand. Engine 44 has two sets of pumps and a capacity of 6,000 gallons per minute. This boat was put in service in 1895. Engine 47 has two pumps and a capacity of 6,000 gallons per minute. The boat was put in service in 1909.

Each year it is necessary to take the boats out of service for inspection by the United States Steamboat Inspectors before the licenses are renewed for their operation. As a result of these inspections it has been found necessary to make extensive repairs to the boats each year, the amount of the repairs being gradually on the increase.

I submit below a table of the amount of money expended for repairs on the three boats during the last three years.

	Outside Contractors.	Department Mechanics.
1927.....	$10,104 86	$4,207 95
1928.....	12,595 78	1,901 47
1929.....	26,922 39	1,151 23
	$49,623 03	$8,260 65

Total, 3 years, $57,883.68.

The boats are antiquated and out of date although every effort has been made to keep them in first-class condition.

I am of the opinion that either an appropriation should be provided for the purchase of one new boat each year for three years or an appropriation be provided to employ a naval architect to work in conjunction with the officials of this department in making a study in the preparation of plans for new boats to meet the requirements of the City of Boston.

A special study has already been made of Fireboat Engine 31, a report of which is as follows:

In connection with the appropriation for the Fire Department for the year 1930 I desire to call attention to the serious necessity for replacing Fireboat Engine 31. The present boat was built in 1910-11. The hull is of wood with an iron deck house. It is equipped with a single Babcock and Wilcox boiler and the main engines are two Brown and Miller compounds, originally built for old Engine 31 and removed when it was taken out of service. For fire purposes there is a piston pumper of 3,000 gallons per minute capacity. From 1925-29 this department has spent $28,141.89 for repairs.

There is some question at the present time as to the condition of the hull. Recently an order was given for repairing or renewing three frames, three wales and the ceiling and coal bunkers. When the old wood was torn out it was discovered that twenty-five frames were badly rotted and the entire ceiling in the way of bunkers together with clamps would have to be renewed.

With the exception of three frames, the entire section from the forward fire room bulkhead to the forward end of the water tanks in the engine room has been renewed. No attempt was made to go forward in the fire room bulkhead or aft to stern of the forward end of water tanks.

There is every reason to suppose that the frames and ceilings between engine room bulkheads are in the same general condition as those in the fire room and in way of bunkers. If the present boat is continued in service during the next three or four years it will undoubtedly be necessary to do work of this kind. When this does become necessary it will be a very costly proposition since it will require the moving of the water tanks and considerable machinery. The tanks would probably have to be replaced because they will almost certainly develop leaks. All steam and water pipes in way of repairs would have to be removed.

Forward of the fire room bulkhead where recent repairs stop, there will be found the same condition as was found during the recent work since there was positive evidence of this when the bulkhead was removed. Decay was also found in the planking in several places.

The boiler is now over eighteen years old and has caused considerable trouble. During the past two years it has been necessary to replace eighteen tubes and there was every evidence to expect that it would soon be necessary to replace the boiler because of age. The ordinary life of a boiler of this type is from twelve to fifteen years.

The engines of the compound type were built for old Engine 31 to operate on 120 pounds steam pressure and now operate on 160 pounds pressure and the cylinders have been rebored from 10½ inches to 11 inches. It is only because of the constant supervision of the engineering force of the boat and prompt attention to defects that the steam plant is kept in its present state of efficiency.

The fire pump being of the direct expansion type requires three men in the fire room to supply steam for capacity operation.

In my opinion the maintenance cost of the present Engine 31 during the next five years would reach a figure out of all proportion of the value of the boat as an efficient unit of waterfront protective service. Despite any amount of money expended for renovation, we would still have a boat depending on one boiler and one pump to keep it in service.

Yours very truly,
E. C. HULTMAN,
Acting Fire Commissioner

Ordered, That the sum of $350,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Fire Commissioner, for new fire-boat, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

GIFT TO LONG ISLAND HOSPITAL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 6, 1930.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—Under the provisions of the will of the late Samuel Hirschberg, a citizen of Boston, a gift of $300 is made to the Long Island Hospital of the City of Boston.

It will be necessary for the City Council to adopt an order accepting the same before the gift can become the property of the city. There are no restrictions with reference to the use of this money, the will simply providing that it be used by the Institutions Department for the Long Island Hospital.

I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CULLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the City of Boston accepts the gift of three hundred dollars made to the City of Boston for the benefit of the Long Island Hospital under the will of the late Samuel Hirschberg of Boston.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

LOAN FOR EAST BOSTON COURTHOUSE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 4, 1930.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—To relieve overcrowding and to provide adequate accommodations for the East Boston Courthouse and Police Division 7 building an appropriation was made in 1925 sufficient to cover the taking of land and the drafting of plans by the architect. To the present time nothing further has been done in the matter and conditions have steadily grown more intolerable.

At a conference at which were present the Superintendent of Public Buildings, the judges of the East Boston Court, the Police Commissioner, Police Captain and architect, it was estimated that $250,000 additional would be necessary to cover the cost of court accommodations and $25,000 additional to provide needed space for the housing of men, automobiles and motor-cycles.

That the needed accommodations so necessary and so long delayed may be provided I respectfully recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CULLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $275,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Superintendent of Public Buildings, for East Boston Courthouse and Police Station 7, Alterations and New Building, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City to said amount.

SALE OF LAND, CHESTNUT HILL AND COMMONWEALTH AVENUES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 10, 1930.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—The property located at Chestnut Hill avenue and Commonwealth avenue, containing 66,672 square feet, is unsuited for playground purposes and in the opinion of the Park Commission should be sold.

The City of Boston has at Cleveland Circle, which is within 200 yards of the Chestnut Hill and Commonwealth avenue property, land containing 371,200 square feet, and which could be developed into a real playground.

The property at Chestnut Hill and Commonwealth avenues is assessed for $1 per foot and a fair upset price would be $1.50 per foot.

In view of the desirability of this lot it would, in my opinion, be advisable, in addition to the advertisement carried in the City Record, to advertise the same in the Boston daily papers.

Accordingly I recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CULLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the land of the City of Boston, located at Chestnut Hill avenue and Commonwealth avenue, containing 66,672 square feet, be, and the same is hereby, ordered to be sold at public auction at an upset price of $100,000.

Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

SALARY OF CORPORATION COUNSEL

Coun. RUBY, for the Committee on Ordinances, submitted the following:

1. Report on message of Mayor and ordinance (referred February 3) recommending increase in salary of Corporation Counsel to $10,000 yearly—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said ordinance passed.

LIGHTING OF TENNIS COURTS, FRANKLIN FIELD.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install flood projection lights at the tennis courts in Franklin Field, for night playing.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I am introducing this order at the request of the so-called Franklin Field Tennis and Racquet Club, composed of 200 or more members, who use the Franklin Field tennis courts for playing tennis during the week, and more especially Saturday and Sunday. As I understand it, there are twenty or twenty-one tennis courts on Franklin Field and from information I have received from the Park Commission those courts are used at all times. These courts would be available for night playing, which is done in other places, and I am given to understand that for a reasonable amount the tennis courts can be used at night with flood projection lights by those who desire to play tennis at such times. Therefore, I ask a suspension of the rule and the passage of the order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

MEMORIAL IN MARINE PARK.

Coun. MAHONEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Park Commissioners be, and the same hereby are, requested to designate a suitable site at Marine Park, in the vicinity of City Point, South Boston, commemorative of the services rendered by the United States Navy in all wars and particularly those of the Union Sailors serving on the U. A true copy of an order passed by said Board on said day.

Attest:

(Feb. 8-15.)

JOSEPH F. SULLIVAN,
Secretary.

SAFE DRIVING.

Most cities and towns have a long list of "dout's" but do little to educate the drivers of cars. If one half the time that is used trying to make people do something or not to do something was spent in educating the drivers much better results would be obtained. We need drivers' schools and the city or town that first starts such a school will be doing a real service.

CITY OF BOSTON.

2,500 feet 4-inch chemical hose.

All couplings to be unmarked according to specifications. The bidder must use the form to be obtained at the office of the Supply Department, Room 801, City Hall Annex. The successful bidder must furnish a bond for one quarter the total amount of the bid with a surety company authorized to do business in Massachusetts, as surety for the faithful performance of the contract. The bid, with a certified check for $300, payable to and to become the property of the City of Boston if the proposal is not carried out, must be left at the office of the Superintendent of Supplies, Room 801, City Hall Annex, before Tuesday, February 25, 1930, at 12 m., at which time and place the bids will be publicly opened and read. A duplicate bid, without check, must be left at the office of the City Auditor prior to the time named for opening bids. The Superintendent reserves the right to accept or reject any or all proposals, or any part of a proposal, and to award the contract as he deems for the best interests of the city. All contracts made subject to appropriations to meet payments thereunder.

MAYOR CURLEY PLANS COMPLETION OF PLAY SPOT IN NORTH END BEGUN IN PREVIOUS ADMINISTRATION—WORK BEGUN IMMEDIATELY FOR PROVIDING BREATHING SPACE FOR WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

HOW THE WEBSTER AVENUE PLAYGROUND IN NORTH END WILL LOOK AFTER BEING COMPLETED BY MAYOR CURLEY'S ORDER AT COST OF $40,000.

In keeping with Mayor Curley's plans for providing play spots in the congested districts of the city he has secured from the City Council approval of an appropriation for the immediate construction of a playground at Webster avenue, in the North End. This playground was begun under the Mayor during his previous administration, but the work was not completed. One of his first cares upon assuming office in January was to complete this work.

A small area of land in the rear of Hanover street, between Unity street and Hanover street, was established by Mayor Curley in 1925 to be developed as a small playground or breathing place for mothers and small children. It was created by the purchase and demolishing of some eleven old tenement houses. The old houses were torn down in 1926 and the old basements and cellars were filled in shortly afterwards. This open area has remained in a rough and unfinished condition since the removal of the buildings. The cost of the land and the buildings demolished amounted to $70,000.

It is planned to surface this area with concrete so as to finish it similar to other small recreation or play areas in other congested centers. Hard playground surfaces are more permanent and easier to keep clean, under the conditions of this well-populated section. Pergolas and seats are to be erected on the new playground, and swings and other playground apparatus are to be installed for the use of the children. A sanitary building is to be constructed which will provide toilet facilities for the girls and boys.

Small playgrounds in congested settlements of a large city such as Boston are a vital necessity to the people residing in such sections. A district such as this one with its narrow streets and alleys, with its old tenement houses with no improvements, lack of sunlight and fresh air certainly requires more open space. Large families predominate in such districts, and children brought up under such conditions should be given some chance for outdoor recreation. Improvements in the better sections of the city will be appreciated by more than a majority of the citizens but local improvements in the congested North End are only appreciated by those of the immediate neighborhood. It is therefore a foregone conclusion that the administration will get very little advertising for furthering this project.

Mayor Curley believes, however, that after four years it is about time that the poor people of this district be given what he believes is rightfully theirs and that their children be given a few rays of sunlight and a better chance for healthy conditions.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

ADDRESS OF JEREMIAH E. BURKE, LL.D., LITT.D., SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS, SYMPHONY HALL, FEBRUARY 16, 1930.

It is peculiarly fitting that Boston should commemorate the lives of Washington and Lincoln. These two illustrious Americans typify Liberty and Nationality. In Boston and its environs, civil liberty and American nationality had their origin. Here the seeds were sown that, carried upon the wings of democracy, have found lodgment in the hearts of mankind everywhere.

The cabin of the "Mayflower" witnessed the birth upon this continent of popular constitutional liberty. "In the presence of God and of one another," they did covenant and bind themselves together "into a civil body politic . . . to constitute, enact and frame just and equal laws . . . for the general good of the whole colony."

As early as 1636 the Pilgrims published a declaration of rights and established a body of laws. The first fundamental article was in these words: "That no act, imposition, law or ordinance be made, or imposed upon us, at present or to come, but such as has been or shall be enacted by the consent of the body of free men or associates, or their representatives legally assembled."

Here we find advanced the whole principle of free government—the whole doctrine of our republican institutions—one hundred and forty years before the Declaration of Independence.

Out of these principles, and in harmony with them, there evolved the New England town meeting, which still persists as the purest type of democracy in the world. These forefathers of ours were not merely idealists; they were far-seeing statesmen. They knew that absolutism flourishes in illiteracy, but that an unenlightened democracy shall fall! They foresaw that if freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of worship and trial by jury are to abide; if freemen are to counsel, make just decisions and rule wisely—then the electorate must be intelligent and virtuous, as well as free.

UNIVERSAL EDUCATION BULWARK OF POPULAR GOVERNMENT.

Universal education thus became the bulwark and support of popular government. There was developed a sturdy yeomanry, independent in thought and in action, characterized by respect for authority but resistance to its abuse. And when their rights were assailed, this spirit of liberty and of just resistance to the abuse of power was aroused, even the schoolboys of Boston joining in protest.

Owing to the stupidity of an alien government there followed, in rapid succession, the Navigation Laws, the Boston Port Bill, the Boston Tea Party, and the coming of alien soldiers. Boston veritably became "Rebel Boston"; the very stones of the streets "rose in mutiny." To its defence came an army from all New England. Boston ceased to be parochial; it became national. Through letters of correspondence contacts had been maintained with other colonies. And so, when a leader of the American army was to be chosen, it is not surprising to find John Adams of Massachusetts in the Continental Congress at Philadelphia, two days before the Battle of Bunker Hill, moving, that Congress "adopt" the army around Boston, and that "of the forces raised or to be raised in defence of American liberties, George Washington of Virginia be appointed Commander in Chief."

And responsive to this call of his countrymen, we see this soldierly gentleman bidding adieu to his comfortable southern home, leaving behind his horses and his hounds and the delights of the chase. And standing beneath the old Elm in Cambridge he unsheathed his sword and pledged his life, his fortune and his sacred honor to the cause of American independence.

DORCHESTER HEIGHTS FORTIFIED.

No sooner had Washington taken command of the forces around Boston than he realized the strategic position of the Heights of Dorchester, and the military necessity of occupying and fortifying them. You all know the story of that brilliant coup d'etat of the night of March 3d, 1776; and how early on the following morning, the anniversary of the Boston Massacre, the townspeople beheld, frowning from the Heights, these formidable fortifications, which, as if by magic, had sprung up during the preceding night. Howe, the British General, beheld them with consternation. He had no recourse but to evacuate the town, and accordingly on the seventeenth of March—a day of blessed memory—the officers and soldiers sailed away toward Halifax, never to return. And "Rebel Boston" was free, to remain so forever more!

The significance of the evacuation of Boston by the British has not been sufficiently emphasized. It is an epoch in our national life. It proved that the trained soldiers of England, led by veteran generals, were in no way superior to the raw, inexperienced provincials whom Washington was recruiting.

In their ragged regimentals,
Stood the old Continentals,
Yielding not.

It revealed to the world the military genius and the incomparable leadership of the new Commander of the American forces. Above all else, it was Washington's first Revolutionary victory, and it heartened him for the series of successes and reverses which followed—Trenton, Brandywine, the black night on the Delaware, the hardships and privations of Valley Forge—all the way onward and upward to Yorktown's glorious heights, where the army of Cornwallis laid down its arms, where the banner of the Georges was lowered, where the new-born flag of liberty leaped proudly forth to kiss the autumn breezes, and where the American nation took its place, a place which it shall never forfeit, but ever shall maintain, foremost and supereminent among the nations of the world.

DOUBLE CELEBRATION HAPPY THOUGHT.

It is a happy thought to celebrate on a single occasion the birthdays of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. Washington and Lincoln have often been compared, and neither suffers through contrast. The one is the complement and the counterpart of the other. Each was of heroic mold. One became the creator of the American union; the other its

HELP TO MAKE BOSTON ATTRACTIVE TO VISITORS WITHIN OUR GATES THIS TERCENTENARY YEAR.

The indications are that the greatest home-coming ever witnessed in the history of our city will take place during this tercentenary year of the founding of Boston. More than five hundred organizations have arranged to convene here and it is estimated by the State Tercentenary Committee that visitors to the number of ten million will spend some time in Massachusetts during the year.

It is desirable that every effort be made to convey a favorable impression to those who come and in no more fitting way is this possible than by making attractive the business houses and homes in Boston.

The Public Works Department is planning a clean-up campaign upon all highways during the weeks starting March 15, and I have this day approved a request of the Commissioner of Public Works for the appointment of one hundred and twenty-five permanent laborers in the Public Works Department.

A worthwhile contribution to this work is possible if the owners of realty located in Boston will sand blast their properties or otherwise clean up or paint properties. If this work is done it will serve a doubly useful purpose in that it will not only make the appearance of the city more attractive to our visitors but will materially reduce the ranks of the unemployed.

Believing that the city should lead in work of this character I have instructed the Superintendent of Public Buildings to have the exterior of City Hall sand blasted and have the Old State House cleaned, as well as cleaning other public buildings throughout the city.

The need of the hour is co-operation to make the city more attractive and making the lot of the unemployed less burdensome. I trust that all who are in a position to assist in this most necessary work will arrange to do so at once.

James M. Curley,
Mayor.

ADDRESS OF JEREMIAH E. BURKE.

defender and preserver. One made liberty a reality; the other made slavery an impossibility. One a thousand times exposed himself to death in his country's cause; the other actually offered up his life that all mankind might be free. Lincoln from the log cabin, Washington from the home of affluence and culture—each attained the highest secular office in all the world, the presidency of the United States. Oh, what a striking example of equality of opportunity! Truly, in America, Hope is the tailor of the ragged boy—of every boy, rich and poor alike!

The life of Abraham Lincoln is contradictory of all the laws of heredity and environment. We inadequately describe the early surroundings of Lincoln when we say that he was born and bred in poverty. The expression requires the qualification that his was the poverty of the poorest whites of the South.

The three dominant forces in the formation of character are the church, the home and the school; but these influences contributed very little toward molding the character of young Lincoln. Into the sparsely inhabited borderland of Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois the influence of the church had scarcely penetrated. The school life of young Lincoln was confined to one-half year under the direction of incompetent school-keepers. The home not infrequently supplies the place of all other deficiencies in early training and transforms the lowliest cabin into a spiritual mansion. Not so, however, in the case of Lincoln. His father was ignorant and illiterate. This is no offence. But he was, moreover, careless, restless, and improvident, apparently content with his pitiful surroundings.

Mrs. Lincoln must have been a woman of high ideals, but worn out by toil, and privation and neglect, she laid down her life's burden upon the floor of that miserable cabin when Abraham was a lad of but nine years. And yet somehow in some mysterious manner his "soul within was tuned to deeper chords"; somehow his soul was touched by the living coal of ambition; a kindly angel must have opened his eyes to prophetic visions of the future. Ever in our imagination we shall picture the future president crouching upon the rude cabin floor, with a pine knot for a torch, a planed board for a tablet, and a piece of charcoal for a stylus, undirected and unaided, laying the foundation of that logic, rhetoric and oratory which in later years startled the world with its simple strength and classic beauty.

Here is a picture worthy of the artist; Abraham Lincoln, the product of that lowly Nazareth, Hardin county; the rail splitter; the Mississippi boatman; the farm laborer; ungainly, unkempt, unlettered, uncultured, unprivileged, unwellcome. Abraham Lincoln stepped forth from obscurity, in the most trying hour of our nation's history, the representative of all America, and with uplifted hand registered a solemn oath to "preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

LINCOLN DISCOURAGED.

Never did mortal undertake a task with so little to cheer and so much to discourage as did Abraham Lincoln on that fourth of March, 1861, when he took that solemn oath. The situation was appalling. On every side was heard the roaring of the cataract of dissolution and despair. Seven states had already seceded from the Union; seven were wavering, ready to follow their example. Just two weeks before, Jefferson Davis had read his inaugural address as president of the confederacy. The treasury was bankrupt; the army was demoralized and many of the best generals had espoused the cause of disloyalty. Arsenals and forts were in the hands of the revoltors. The navy was prostrate. England, France and other European nations stood ready to recognize, as they almost immediately afterwards did recognize, the belligerency of the confederacy, and were anxiously expectant of an opportunity to recognize the independence of the secessionists. "The bubble is burst," said the London Times, "the great republic is no more." No party, no section, was united in the support of the President. Wendell Phillips in Massachusetts, and Horace Greeley in New York, vied with each other in denouncing the new President.

The influential politicians avoided Lincoln; some openly predicted his failure. He even found difficulty in forming a cabinet by no means devoted. Even Seward must be coaxed to accept the secretaryship of state. This untrained general surveyed the whole field of battle. The old marshals had deserted or abandoned their posts. There were none upon whom he, inexperienced and untried, could lean for support. He stood alone, and the dark night came on. And there he stood for four long direful years in the full light of publicity, in a light fiercer than any that ever beat upon a throne, the central figure in that awful tragedy in which patriots played such heroic parts; until at last the final act is finished, the curtain is falling peacefully, and we behold the crouching, cringing negroes rise erect in manhood and womanhood, holding aloft unshackled hands; and we see proudly floating, nearer heaven than ever before, baptized in blood and strengthened in love, the banner of a reunited republic.

CAREERS COMPARED.

As we contemplate the careers of Washington and Lincoln, and mark their resemblances and dissimilarities, we learn the lesson, that true worth springs not from birth or station or traditions, but from a lofty moral character, which alone is the index of true greatness.

With Washington and Lincoln we associate prudence, temperance, fortitude, justice; unimpeachable honesty, spotless integrity, purity of purpose, generosity, self-denial, self-control, and those other essential virtues without which no man in a democracy may aspire to lead. And let us not be deceived, my young friends. Unless in imitation of such leadership the people likewise practice these great fundamental virtues, no nation may expect long to endure. The greatest tribute we can offer to Washington and to Lincoln tonight is a firm resolve to emulate the qualities that made these nation-builders exalted among men and humble in the sight of God.

"... by the soul only the nation shall be great and free."

Every school pupil knows that in some respects the events that followed cessation of hostilities overshadowed in significance even the Revolution itself. This was indeed the critical era in our country's history. The Continental Congress was impotent, with no effective central organization. Loose license amounting at times to anarchy threatened the new-born liberties. The soldiers, unpaid and unfed, with unsheathed swords, were the only active coherent and organized body in the country. The soldiers were neglected, as they invariably are once battles have been won. Kipling describes aptly the soldier's lot when he sings,

O It's Tommy this, an' Tommy that, an' "Tommy, go away;"
But it's "Thank you, Mister Atkins," when the band begins to play.

The treatment of the soldiers by Congress and by the states was not merely ungrateful; it was wholly unpardonable. The soldiers had every reason to believe that nothing but personal fear could obtain consideration from the civil power. Disaffection on the part of the soldiers reached such a threatening height that Colonel Lewis Nicola, an old and respected officer, near the Commander-in-Chief in intimacy and affection, felt it his privilege to speak plainly and make known the demands of the soldiers. What he proposed was that Washington should allow himself to be made king by the all-powerful soldiery and thus put an end to the incompetency and ingratitude of the colonial governments.

AVOIDED UNWORTHY AMBITION.

Imagine the effect upon Washington of such a proposal, at such a time! Washington was incorruptibility personified. He was the soul of honor. He was a crusader in a sublime cause—the liberties of his fellow-men. In the pursuit of his ideal he shrank from unworthy ambition. Truthfully was it said of him, "Drawing his sword from patriotic impulse, without ambition and without malice, he wielded it without vindictiveness, and sheathed it without reproach." He hated treachery or usurpation. He was shocked and humiliated at the thought that an intimate officer might deem him an adventurer. He was not tempted. His rectitude was an arrow's flight beyond any bribe. With masterful self-restraint, the indignant Commander, with barbed scorn, rebuked well-intentioned Nicola. "I am at a loss to conceive," said he, "what part of my conduct could have given encouragement to an address which to me seems big with the greatest mischiefs that can befall my country. If I am not deceived in the knowledge of myself, you could not have found a person to whom your schemes are more disagreeable. . . . Let me conjure you, if you have any regard for your country, concern for yourself or posterity, or respect for me, to banish these thoughts from your mind."

The whole proceeding was repellant to the great Commander. He thrust the ignoble crown ruthlessly aside. It ill-fitted a champion of human rights. To this incomparable American, personal fealties, allegiance to principles and devotion to duty were more to be desired than all the crowns in all the chancelleries of Christendom. Properly has Washington been characterized as "the noblest figure that ever stood in the forefront of a nation's life."

LINCOLN, MAN OF HONOR AND COURAGE.

Abraham Lincoln likewise was pre-eminently a man of honor and courage. Nominated in 1858 for the United States senatorship from Illinois, in opposition to the great Stephen A. Douglas, he said: "A house divided against itself cannot stand. I believe that this government cannot endure permanently half slave and half free." He submitted his manuscript in advance to twelve devoted political friends. This body of his political peers implored him to eliminate this passage from his speech. It was politically inexpedient, they argued. It was too extreme and would alienate the more conservative member of his party, and the result would be defeat, they predicted. The politician looking for temporary advantage would have yielded to such admonition, and would have substituted for this bold message an equivocal expression, since ambiguity and compromise were the order of the day. But Lincoln did not hesitate. Straightening himself to his full height, six feet and four inches, he replied: "Gentlemen, that statement is true and I believe it as written. I would rather be defeated with these expressions in my speech held up and discussed before the people than to be victorious without them. I am not bound to win, but I am bound to be right."

This is a materialistic age; and at such a time the finer, nobler sensibilities of man are likely to be repressed or dethroned altogether. There is a certain lure about the modern so-called "new freedom," but carried to extremes—as it often is—it spells social disunion and personal disloyalties. Advocates of this "freedom" repudiate the teachings of the past. They would remove the ancient landmarks and leave their devotees to wander aimlessly, even to ruin. They regard everything as flux,—undetermined, undefined. They deny the absolute; they reject religious sanction. Behind their boasted "freedom" is concealed a profane dogma, disbelief in God. These theories based upon pessimism, skepticism, and cynicism are, after all, mere negations. They never won a battle and they never will. We are called upon to substitute for these illusive vagaries the great constructive principles of optimism, confidence and faith.

FAITH MOVES THE WORLD.

It is faith that moves and rules the world; faith that holds civilization together. How reassuring it is, therefore, to find in the lives of the truly great a firm belief in God, a consciousness of his guidance and assistance. Fortunately the lives of Washington and Lincoln give abundant evidence of their reliance on an all-ruling Power. Through those woeful years of the Civil War, out of the loneliness and the silences of his soul's struggles, we hear the great martyr-president Lincoln exclaiming:

"I am upheld and sustained by the good wishes and prayers of God's people.

"No one is more deeply than myself aware that without His favor our highest wisdom is but as foolishness, and our most strenuous plans would avail nothing in the shadow of His displeasure. I am conscious of no desire for my country's welfare that is not in consonance with His will, and of no plan upon which we may not ask His blessing. It seems to me that if there is one subject upon which all good men may unitedly agree it is imploring the gracious favor of the God of nations upon the struggles our people are making for the preservation of their precious birthright of civil and religious liberty."

George Washington likewise was a deeply religious man. From the age of thirteen, when the young moralist copied in his rules for behavior the maxim: "Labor to keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire called conscience," down to the last days of his eventful life, he subjected his thoughts and deeds to the will of God. On assuming the presidency of the Republic he impressively remarked: "It would be peculiarly improper to omit, in this first official act, my fervent supplications to that Almighty Being who rules over the universe (and) who presides in the Councils of Nations." And again, "The propitious smile of Heaven can never be expected on a Nation that disregards the eternal rules of order and right which Heaven itself has ordained." At the close of the Revolution, when the Great Cause had been won, standing before Congress to resign his commission, with a crowning touch of simplicity he said: "I consider it my indispensable duty to close this last solemn act of my official life by commending the interests of our dearest country to the protection of Almighty God, and those who have the superintendence of them to His holy keeping."

ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF GOD.

And again in his farewell address we find recorded the same acknowledgments to the God of nations: "Of all the dispositions and habits which lead to political prosperity, religion and morality are indispensable supports. Let it simply be asked, Where is the security for property, for reputation, for life, if the sense of religious obligation desert the oaths, which are the instruments of investigation in courts of justice? And let us with caution indulge the supposition that morality can be maintained without religion. Whatever may be conceded to the influence of refined education on minds of peculiar structure, reason and experience both forbid us to expect that national morality can prevail in exclusion of religious principle.

"It is substantially true that virtue or morality is a necessary spring of popular government. Who that is a sincere friend to it can look with indifference upon attempts to shake the foundation of the fabric?"

"Promote, then, as an object of primary importance, institutions for the general diffusion of knowledge. In proportion as the structure of a government gives force to public opinion it is essential that public opinion should be enlightened."

On the last day of the session of the Constitutional Convention, over which Washington presided, as the members were signing the engrossed document, the Constitution of the United States, Doctor Franklin, the printer boy of Boston, looking toward the president's chair, at the back of which a sun was painted, observed to a few friends who clustered around him, "I have often and often, in the course of the session, and the vicissitudes of my hopes and fears as to its issue, looked at that sun behind the president without being able to tell whether it was rising or setting. At length I have the happiness to know that it is a rising and not a setting sun—the rising sun of our American Democracy."

God grant that sun may never set! If perchance it should ever lower, may it be like the Arctic sun which descending seems to touch the horizon, only to gain additional strength; and then mounts upward again into the clear blue with greater power and glory. God grant that it may ever shine upon a stalwart people who cherish civil and religious liberty; who are devoted to the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States; who exalt dignified manhood and glorify virtuous womanhood; who love the home and all its endearments, and whose sweetest music is the laughter of children and the prattle of little 'babes; upon a people who in time of peace fulfill the law, and in days of strife are willing to lay down life itself upon the sacrificial altar of a common country—of a common country—that the government of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, of Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson, that a government of the people, for the people, and by the people may never perish from the earth.

And over it all rose prophetic a Voice,
Be not disheartened, affection shall solve the problems of freedom yet;
They who love each other shall become invincible,
They shall make Columbia victorious.

BOSTON PAYS TRIBUTE TO WASHINGTON AND LINCOLN IN JOINT EXERCISES HELD AT SYMPHONY HALL ON SUNDAY EVENING FEBRUARY 16, BEFORE CROWDED HALL.

Boston paid official tribute to the memories of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln at joint exercises held at Symphony Hall on Sunday night, February 16. The exercises were featured by the address of Hon. Jeremiah E. Burke, Superintendent of the Schools of Boston, and by Paul G. Curley, son of Mayor Curley, who repeated the address on Lincoln delivered by Mayor Curley at Washington during his previous administration when the Washington monument to Lincoln was dedicated.

Another feature of the exercises was the invocation, pronounced by Right Reverend Monsignor Ambrose F. Roche. This was as follows:

God of our fathers, known of old, be with us yet, lest we forget.

Teach us to follow the guidance and leadership of Washington and Lincoln. They are our exemplars of Supreme devotion to the Unity, the Safety and the Happiness of this Republic.

Lord, teach us in the very words of Washington to offer "fervent supplication to that Almighty Being who rules over the Universe—who presides in the Councils of Nations—and whose providential aids can supply every human defect—that His benediction may consecrate to the liberties and happiness of the people of the United States, a Government instituted by themselves for these essential purposes. No people can be bound to acknowledge and adore the Invisible Hand which conducts the affairs of men more than the people of the United States, since every step by which they have advanced to the character of an independent nation seems to have been distinguished by some providential agency."

In another part of his farewell address, Washington prophetically gave warning, especially suited to our own times. To quote, "Europe has a set of primary interests which to us have no relation—hence she must be engaged in frequent controversies, the causes of which are essentially foreign to our concerns. Our detached and distant situation invites and enables us not to implicate ourselves by artificial ties in the vicissitudes of her policies or in the combinations and collisions of her friendships or enmities. Why forgo the advantages of so peculiar a situation? Why, by interweaving our destiny with any part of Europe, entangle our peace and prosperity in the toils of European ambition, interest or caprice?"

In our own days it is appropriate that we pray God to keep us free from any and all entangling alliances with European nations whose history is filled with intrigue and treachery, and with brutal oppression of subject peoples; nations that even now hold in political and financial bondage vast multitudes in Asia and Africa; nations that make treaties and break them whenever their selfish interests urge; nations who have at present twenty millions of soldiers under arms, ready for the next war, that may break out at any time. The conference now in London shows what dread present conditions in Europe excite in the whole world. What will happen if the conference should fail? God of our fathers, be with us now, lest we forget the lessons of history.

God of our fathers, we beseech Thee to raise up other Lincolns in this Nation to dispel the dark clouds of conflict and dissension that now threaten the happiness and safety of our people. Class wars against class, section against section. Enormous wealth in the hands of a few begets intolerable pride and selfishness—while on the other hand farms, factories and mills stand idle, and multitudes in the richest nation of the world are in constant dread of poverty. Greed on one side and on the other widespread and dangerous resentment that does not spare in its denunciations kings of finance, powerful interests, Congress or the Supreme Court of the United States.

If united we stand, if divided we fall. Lord, give us men, real men, patriotic men, honorable men, men of impregnable probity, courageous men, men not entangled by the meshes of party politics, men not bound up with class lines nor by sectional selfishness, men with vision enough to see the perils that threaten, men strong enough not to fear them, men like Washington and Lincoln, who recognize that the happiness of a people, good order and preservation of civil government essentially depend not upon great wealth, not upon armies or navies, but upon religion, piety and morality. When these are not present, neither the life nor the property of man nor the honor of woman is sacred.

Our fathers' God, and our God, to Thee as author and preserver of our liberty, to Thee we pray. Long may our land be bright with freedom's holy light. Protect us by Thy might, Great God, our King.

CALLS FOR STUDY ON EXTENSION OF ESPLANADE EMBANKMENT.

Mayor Curley, on February 15, forwarded the following communication to Chairman Frederic H. Fay of the City Planning Board:

MY DEAR MR. FAY,—I am desirous that studies be made as to the advisability of an extension of the esplanade embankment, with a new road taking in Back street and about 40 feet of the Charles River Embankment Parkway, with an underpass at Massachusetts avenue to connect with Bay State Road Extension, and to be used as a double-barreled roadway; also a study as to the advisability of extending the Charles River Embankment road by a fill in the Charles river with retaining wall or a beach slope, extending from the Charles River Embankment to the Bay State Road Extension, a connection with the Charles River Parkway.

In this connection it would be advisable to confer, before drafting any bill, with both the Corporation Counsel and the Park Commission.

Very truly yours,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR CURLEY HAS ACTED TO PROVIDE $7,510,000 WORTH OF CONSTRUCTION WORK TO RELIEVE BOSTON'S UNEMPLOYMENT SITUATION.

Mayor Curley, on February 18, forwarded the following communication to Hon. Frank G. Allen, Governor of Massachusetts:

YOUR EXCELLENCY,—In response to your inquiry as to what the City of Boston is doing upon the programs recommended by Honorable Herbert Hoover, President of the United States, as a means of promoting industrial prosperity and relieving unemployment, I beg to say that as Mayor of Boston I have made available ninety per cent of all moneys which I am permitted by law to appropriate, or a total of $7,510,000 has been authorized, and the major portion of the work will be advertised and contracts awarded within thirty days.

I beg to sum up the contemplated improvements, which are as follows:

Hospital Improvements.....	$1,000,000
Sewerage Works.....	1,000,000
Charles Street Widening.....	1,000,000
Centre Street Widening.....	1,210,000
Columbus Park and Strandway Improvements.....	750,000
Additional Buildings at Boston Sanatorium.....	450,000
New Ferryboat.....	350,000
New Fireboat.....	350,000
East Boston Courthouse and Police Station Improvements.....	275,000
Airport Improvements.....	330,000
New Police Boat.....	260,000
Addition to Brighton Courthouse.....	160,000
Medical Pavilion, City Hospital.....	70,000
Tercentenary and Historical Memorials, Improvement of Webster Avenue Playground, North End.....	40,000
Muddy River and West End Park Improvements.....	60,000
Building of Branch Libraries.....	200,000
	$7,510,000

While the sum in excess of seven and one half millions of dollars which is now available represents a reasonable contribution to the program as enunciated by President Herbert Hoover it is imperative that it be augmented by additional necessary expenditures.

The program for Boston's schools, which I trust will shortly be compiled, should represent an additional expenditure for new construction of not less than five millions of dollars.

I have petitioned the Legislature for authority to borrow $10,000,000 to be expended for permanent street construction and the sum of $1,000,000 in addition for Strandway development at East Boston; also $2,000,000 for the widening and improvement of Summer street and Dorchester avenue.

It is imperative that authorization be granted at an early date and I would greatly appreciate your friendly intercession in behalf of early and favorable action upon these measures.

A conservative estimate at the present time places the unemployed in Greater Boston at approximately 70,000 women and men, and an expenditure in the sum of $25,000,000 as here outlined, together with the authorization, when secured, for either tunnel or bridge to East Boston, representing approximately $16,000,000, or a grand total of $51,000,000, all to be expended by the City of Boston, coupled with such additional work as may be inaugurated by public service corporations, private corporations and individuals, would aid materially in providing relief for the families of those who today seek opportunity for livelihood with extremely bleak prospect of success.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

LAW DEPARTMENT MOVES,
UPON ORDERS OF MAYOR,
TO FORECLOSE TAX TITLES.

Mayor Curley, on February 15, received the following communication from the Corporation Counsel, Samuel Silverman:

DEAR SIR,—In compliance with your request of February 10, 1930, with reference to the foreclosing of tax titles, please be advised that I shall immediately assign two members of this department to commence foreclosure proceedings at once. Every means possible will be exerted to put an end to the evil suggested in your letter and I am certain the Land Court will join with us.

Very truly yours,

SAMUEL SILVERMAN,
Corporation Counsel.

MAYOR CURLEY URGES NEW SHIPPING LINES FOR BOSTON.

Mayor Curley, on February 18, sent the following telegram to Hon. T. V. O'Connor, Chairman, United States Shipping Board, Washington, D. C., and Hon. Wallace H. White, Jr., Chairman, House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries, Washington, D. C.:

On behalf of port of Boston may I urge you to award American Diamond Lines and America France Line to United States Lines, Incorporated, as original high bidder, provided sale includes specific provision for maintenance by United States Lines of direct service from Boston to European ports.

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

The following letter was sent, on February 18, to the Massachusetts delegation at Washington in connection with the above telegram:

DEAR SIR,—I have sent this telegram to Hon. T. V. O'Connor, Chairman, United States Shipping Board, Washington, D. C., and Hon. Wallace H. White, Jr., Chairman, House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries, Washington, D. C.

I would appreciate intercession and pressure by delegation from Massachusetts, as the allocation of these lines to the port of Boston will be most helpful.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

PROPERTY OWNERS MUST PAY WATER BILLS OR FLOW WILL BE SHUT OFF. MAYOR CURLEY ORDERS DRASTIC ACTION.

Mayor Curley, on February 15, issued the following statement relative to unpaid water bills:

A conference was held this day at the office of the Mayor to consider action to be taken with reference to the new racket for avoiding the payment of water rates which has assumed most alarming proportions. The total amount of outstanding water rates due the City of Boston, December 31, 1929, was $679,580.45. The bills for the last quarter, due January 1, 1930, representing a total of $1,240,000 in addition. Of this huge sum more than $235,000 is represented by bills more than one year old.

Apparently the fear of public criticism, or possibly a more sinister motive, is responsible for the failure to collect the money necessary for the proper conduct of city activities as specifically required by the City Ordinances.

Chapter 27, section 22, of the Revised Ordinances of 1925, provides as follows:

"The commissioner shall shut the water off from, and let it on to, any particular service when notified by the city collector that the water rate therefor has not, or has, been paid, and at such other times as he deems necessary."

Under the law it is difficult for me to understand why this condition has been permitted to develop. I recognize it as my duty to enforce the collection of these outstanding water accounts, as it is a gross injustice to unfairly burden the citizens of the community who have not enjoyed political immunity in the matter of the payment of their just accounts.

Water rates are based on the percentage of revenue derived from the sale of the water and where that revenue, when due, is not paid to the city an added burden is imposed upon those who meet their just obligations.

At the present session of the Legislature a measure was presented, the purpose of which was to discontinue the practise of shutting off water where the owner of a premise failed to pay his bill and this measure was rejected by the Legislature. In view of the legislative action and in view of the ordinance as drafted I have this day instructed the Commissioner of Public Works to shut off water on all premises where water bills remain due and unpaid after March 15.

It may be contended that the enforcement of collection of water rates through the shutting off of the water is an injustice to the tenant, but the tenant or occupant of any premises has recourse to the law against the owner of the property whose failure to furnish water is due to his failure to pay the bill rendered to him for water. Chapter 555, Acts of 1920, as amended, provides a penalty of $100 or imprisonment of not more than six months for the owner of a building who fails to furnish water to a tenant.

DEPARTMENT CHANGES.

The following changes in the number, rating and compensation of the city employees have been made during the week ending Thursday, February 20:

HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

Joseph A. Cahalan has been transferred from senior clerk and acting assistant registrar in the office of the Registrar of Births, Deaths and Marriages, to senior clerk and secretary in the Health Department, at $3,500 a year.

THE METROPOLITAN DISTRICT.

With its 40 Municipalities.

Consists in the most inclusive sense of forty municipalities, including Boston, or fourteen cities and twenty-six towns, all within fifteen miles of the State House but not yet consolidated in one complete governmental system. The seven cities in the first zone, i. e., adjacent to Boston, are these, viz., Cambridge, Chelsea, Everett, Newton, Quincy, Revere and Somerville; the six cities in the second zone, not adjacent, are Lynn, Malden, Medford, Melrose, Waltham and Woburn. The six adjacent towns are Brookline, Dedham, Milton, Needham, Watertown and Winthrop; the twenty other towns are Arlington, Belmont, Braintree, Canton, Cohasset, Dover, Hingham, Hull, Lexington, Nahant, Reading, Saugus, Stoneham, Swampscott, Wakefield, Wellesley, Weston, Westwood, Weymouth and Winchester. North and northwest of Boston are situated eleven of the cities and twelve of the towns; south and southwest, two cities and fourteen towns.

MAYOR CURLEY MOVES TO MAKE BOSTON AIR-PORT OF CLASS 1 STANDARD BY IMMEDIATE IMPROVEMENTS—URGES COUNCIL TO PASS ORDER.

Mayor Curley, on February 13, sent the following communication to the City Council:

To the City Council.

GENTLEMEN,—The enactment by the Legislature of a bill permitting an additional lease of land from the state to the city permits of the enlargement and extension of the Boston Airport.

Certain improvements are necessary at once in order that Boston may receive a Class 1 rating from the Department of Commerce as to size of airport. Among the improvements desirable at once are the following:

1. The building of a hydroplane ramp to provide a landing place for seaplanes or surface boats in proximity to the present hangars.
2. The construction of a permanent road in the rear of the hangars, and also the establishment of a large area for parking purposes.
3. The erection of a fence with opening for planes in front of the hangars, to be used by the operators for the loading and unloading of passengers.
4. The development of a permanent seaplane port as filling progresses to permit of the same.
5. The establishment of suitable concrete markers.

6. Additional lighting equipment, including beacon, etc., and such obstruction lighting on nearby buildings as may be necessary.

7. The filling at the earliest possible moment of the triangular space between the National Guard hangars and Wood Island Park. (This area to be used for such additional hangars as may be required.)

8. The general development of the airport.

At the present time there remains an unexpended balance of appropriation amounting to $80,000 which can be utilized in part upon this work. The probability is that the completion of the airport will ultimately represent two years' work and an expenditure approximating one and one half millions of dollars.

I recognize that it is impossible to provide this entire sum in one year, and even if the amount were available, it would be impossible to carry through the projected development in a shorter period of time than two years.

I am, however, of the opinion that in addition to the unexpended balance on hand the sum of $250,000 additional could be expended during the present year and I accordingly recommend the adoption by your honorable body of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

CHICAGO POLICE ALLOW SPEED ON SAFETY BASIS.

Traffic police in Chicago have been ordered to make a "sane application" of the law on speeding, determining the relation of an automobile's speed to the hazards it may create, according to "Chicago Commerce," published by the Association of Commerce of that city.

Such an interpretation of the law is new to Chicago, but is based on the experience of Michigan police and of those in other states where speed limits have been legally removed in favor of the enforcement of cautious driving.

"The Illinois statute," states Police Commissioner William F. Russell, "makes it illegal to drive at a speed greater than is reasonable and proper, having regard to the traffic and the use of the way, or so as to endanger the life or limb or injure the property of any person."

"The following types of fast driving are particularly dangerous and must be stopped:

"Cutting in and out of traffic at excessive speed.

"Excessive speed while approaching or passing pedestrians in the street.

"Excessive speed while approaching an intersection where the view of the other street is obstructed.

"Driving at high speed on a boulevard or through street in such a manner as to prevent other drivers from entering or crossing the same after they have made the legal stop.

"Driving at excessive speed while turning a corner where pedestrians are crossing.

"Driving at excessive speed at any time where an accident results, causing injury to any person or property."

METHODS OF ELIMINATING GRADE-CROSSING ACCIDENTS.

Five suggestions aimed at the elimination of grade-crossing accidents are offered in the monthly report of the Street Traffic Committee of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

It is estimated that curing the grade-crossing evil would reduce traffic accidents by 10 per cent in a very short time, and the Committee presents the following five points for discussion:

1. Do away with those grade crossings which have the heaviest traffic.
2. Place warning signs not less than 500 feet back from the railroad tracks.
3. Take down all signs from obsolete trackage.
4. Use traffic-light signals (operated by trains) instead of signs, if there are fewer than five trains per day.
5. Consider scrapping all railroad signs in favor of signals for use only when train is approaching.

"The last two points merit consideration first, because, though they are new doctrines, they seem the least expensive and most practical of application."

MAYOR CURLEY TELLS ELEVATED TRUSTEES THEY CAN NOT EVADE DUTY OF APPROVING UNDERPASS AT GOVERNOR SQUARE.

Mayor Curley, on February 13, received the following communication from Henry I. Harriman, chairman of the Public Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway:

MY DEAR MR. CURLEY,—I have several times spoken to you of the very great desirability for an overpass carrying the central portion of Commonwealth avenue over the Cottage Farm Bridge, the overpass to be sufficiently wide for automobiles and trolleys. I am sending you with this letter two photographic copies of a proposed overpass and while this is merely a sketch, I think it shows the entire feasibility of the project.

The Trustees of the Elevated consider this of almost equal importance to the underpass at Governor square, as the delay to the trolley service at the Cottage Farm Bridge exceeds the delay at Governor square. Undoubtedly final plans would differ from this sketch in detail, and I am wondering whether you would be willing to have either the Park Department or the Transit Department prepare a plan for your consideration. I am very sure that the Trustees of the Elevated would be glad to cooperate with you in any way on this very important improvement which will serve alike in speeding up trolley service and increasing the usefulness of Commonwealth avenue for the many thousands of automobiles that use it.

May I congratulate you upon your final decision to go ahead with the improvement in the lower Charles River Basin. The plans seems to me admirable.

Very truly yours,

HENRY I. HARRIMAN, Chairman.

In answer to the above Mayor Curley addressed the following communication to Mr. Harriman:

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

Permission to award contracts for work, materials and supplies, in accordance with recommendations of department heads, has been approved by the Mayor.

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

Upon February 18 the Mayor approved a contract with Walter Curley & Son for moving two portable school buildings at various schools. Bids, opened February 13, were as follows:

Walter Curley & Son, $1,680; R. J. Connolly, $1,690; P. J. Cantwell & Son, $1,783; John F. Hynes, $1,800; M. Solimando, $1,840; Fermano & Russo, $1,962; John P. Cavanagh Company, $1,970; M. S. Kelliher Company, $1,989; James J. Brock, $2,055; Brophy Contracting Company, $2,750.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

The School Committee has awarded contracts for furnishing lumber to the Boston public schools. Contracts were executed with the following bidders:

February 3, Barris Lumber Company, $8,022; February 7, Blacker & Shepard Company, $3,932.90; February 3, Palmer & Parker Company, $8,636.27.

MY DEAR MR. HARRIMAN,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your communication this day with reference to the overpass on Commonwealth avenue to facilitate the passage of electric street cars on the avenue, and am in hearty accord with you in your desire to provide better traffic conditions for the patrons of the Elevated System.

I have conferred with competent authority and find that the overpass suggested by you could be constructed in a period not in excess of six months. In view of this fact, and the additional fact that the City of Boston has already taken a position on the question of improving conditions at Governor square, I can see no occasion for haste in the matter at this time. I can only reiterate what was said at the State House yesterday before the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs—that the presence on the ballot of the question as to whether the Boston Elevated Street Railway System shall be operated under public control and public ownership, or private ownership with public control, should first be settled before major expenditures are made for the improvement of traffic.

Under the circumstances there is no way to evade the responsibility for proceeding at once with the extension of subway transportation facilities in the vicinity of Kenmore square, and in view of the fact that the carrying charge sufficient to cover amortization represents but $135,000 each year, there apparently is no way in which the Public Control Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway System can evade what is clearly their duty, namely, to approve of this improvement at once.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

(b) Proposal of George K. L. Loeser, amounting to $45, for carving the word "Administration" on lintel over front entrance, the design having been made and estimate approved by the architect. (c) Proposal of Thomas F. Connor for goldleafing the aforesaid letters, amounting to $21. Summary—(a), $350; (b), $45; (c), $21. Total, $416. The allowance item being $600, deduct the difference from contract sum, $184.

Item 24—Allowance 17 ($1,000): Allowance Item 17 for shelving, counters, etc., has been omitted, deduct from contract sum for such omission, $1,000.

Item 25: Omit five door frames and staff beads included in contract for doorways in kitchen of restaurant. Omit the setting of frames and staff beads, the hanging of doors, the furnishing and application of all hardware and the painter's work. For these omissions deduct from contract sum $75.

Item 26: Omit two bronze-plated iron grilles each 30 inches by 6 inches at openings in marble wainscot in front of concealed radiator under landing of main staircase. For this omission deduct, $12.

Summary: Total amount of additional cost (Items 1 to 19, inclusive), $5,246.81; total amount of deduction cost (Items 20 to 26, inclusive), $1,555. Total net extra cost in this order No. 2, $3,691.81; original contract sum, $156,000; net extras as per order No. 1 of July 31, 1929, $1,381.26. Final and complete contract sum in full settlement of all claims for extras in the construction of the building, but exclusive of the separate charge by the contractor for running the boiler under special arrangement with the Park Department, $161,073.07.

PITTSFIELD FIRST CITY TO ADOPT WELDING SOCIETY BUILDING CODE.

Pittsfield, Mass., is the first city in this country to make formal adoption of the building code proposed by the American Welding Society to make available the advantages of welding in the construction of buildings in municipalities.

MAYOR CURLEY REPLIES TO CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSIONER ON PARK DEPARTMENT APPOINTMENTS.

Mayor Curley, on February 13, forwarded the following communication to Mr. Elliot H. Goodwin, Commissioner of Civil Service:

MY DEAR MR. GOODWIN,—In conformity with the suggestion that an opinion be secured from the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston upon an interpretation of the provisions of section 1 of chapter 22 of the Revised Ordinances of 1925, I beg to forward herewith the said opinion.

You will observe that chapter 185 of the Acts of 1875, creating the Board of Park Commissioners for the City of Boston, made no provision other than that the Park Commission should consist of three competent commissioners; consequently, the amendment to the Ordinances as adopted in 1925 being inconsistent with the Act of 1875 becomes of necessity null and void.

Very truly yours,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved the vote of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works to be constructed as follows:

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly West Roxbury and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land supposed to belong to Woodward Land Trust, bounded:

Southwesterly by Robin street, twelve and 43-100 feet; northwesterly by other land supposed to belong to said trust, one hundred twenty-three and 27-100 feet; northeasterly by land hereinafter described as taken from owners unknown (Stratford street), twelve feet; and southeasterly by other land supposed to belong to said trust, one hundred twenty and 5-100 feet; containing fourteen hundred and sixty square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Stratford street, bounded:

Southwesterly by land hereinbefore described as taken from Woodward Land Trust, twelve feet; northwesterly by another part of Stratford street, fourteen and 39-100 feet; northeasterly by easement taken by the City of Boston for sewerage purposes in Stratford street November 17, 1926, twelve feet; and southeasterly by another part of Stratford street, fourteen and 54-100 feet, containing one hundred and seventy-four square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 180 linear feet of 10-inch pipe sanitary sewer.

No betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Voted, That this Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of an easement for sewerage purposes in private land between Stratford and Robin streets, West Roxbury district, and the construction of sewerage works therein, under the order of the Board and awards no damages therefor.

MAYOR CURLEY ASKS MAYORS' CLUB TO ATTEND HEARING ON BILL FOR EXPENDITURES FOR PERMANENT IMPROVEMENTS.

Mayor Curley, on February 15, forwarded the following communication to Mayor Charles H. Ashley of New Bedford, President of the Massachusetts Mayors' Club:

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—House Bill No. 910 is set for a hearing at the State House upon Monday, February 24, at 10.30 a. m. This bill provides relief for cities in the matter of expenditures for necessary permanent improvements and in the event of its adoption it would make unnecessary the constant requests that cities are now obliged to make for permission to expend money outside of the debt limit. It would, in addition, provide opportunities to meet such emergencies as at present exist in the matter of unemployment and, in my opinion, is of sufficient importance to have notices sent to every member of the Mayors' Club to appear in favor of it.

In the event that you share my opinion I trust you will send out the notices suggested.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

PETITIONS DISAPPROVED.

The Law Department has disapproved twenty-five claims against the city, aggregating $2,387.61, and they are classified as follows:

Against the Fire Department, one, amounting to $200; against the Hospital Department, two, amounting to $60; against the Police Department, one, amounting to $750; against the Public Works Department, nineteen, amounting to $1,269.11; against the Schoolhouse Department, one, amounting to $100.

LOCATION OF STREETS.

The Mayor has approved the following vote of the Board of Street Commissioners:

Voted, That the locations, directions, widths, and grades of the following private ways, in the West Roxbury district, as shown on plans approved in writing by the Board of Street Commissioners, and on file in the office of the Street Laying-Out Department, be, and the same hereby are, approved:

Chisholm lane, from Chisholm road to Summit street.

Chisholm road, from Cornell street to Poplar street.

Chisholm terrace, northwesterly from Chisholm road for a distance of approximately one hundred and forty-one feet.

PORT OF BOSTON.

Boston Harbor comprises an area of about 47 square miles (exclusive of the islands), including all the expanse of tidewater within a straight line from Point Allerton to Point Shirley and extending therefrom to the mainland. It is the best of natural harbors, near open sea, sheltered and spacious for anchorage; main ship channel 35 feet in depth at mean low water, increasing to 40 feet from President Roads to open sea; new dredging operations in charge of United States engineers are under way for increasing depth of said main channel to 40 feet; waterfront (i. e., lineal pier space) 40 miles, 6 miles fronting on 30 feet depth at low water.

Commonwealth Pier No. 5, South Boston, 1,200 feet long, 400 feet wide, accommodating five 600-foot ships at one time, 40 feet depth at mean low water on both sides, with three 2-story fireproof buildings of steel and concrete construction, containing 900,000 square feet of floor space, total cost of this enterprise to State, $4,500,000. Commonwealth Pier No. 6, South Boston (Fish Pier), buildings on same erected by lessee, Boston Fish Market Corporation, cost to State, $1,487,361. Commonwealth Pier, No. 1, East Boston, 900 feet long, costing State $764,600 for site and $426,674 for construction. New dry dock at South Boston (probably the largest in world), completed in 1919, 1,200 feet long and 120 wide, costing $3,169,651 and taken by United States Government at total cost.

Islands in Boston Harbor over 3 acres in area, 17, with total area of 965 acres; Long Island the largest, or 215.5 acres. Owned by United States, 392 acres; by City of Boston, 334 acres. Number of wharves, 143, of which eight are owned by the city.

There are 38 foreign steamship lines with regular sailings to and from Boston, ten coastwise lines and three intercoastal. In 1915 a revision of the harbor lines was made and the project undertaken whereby 600 acres of flats between Governor's Island and Jeffries Pt. will be filled in and used for extensive commercial developments under State control. About 175 acres of flats have recently been filled in and added to the land area of East Boston and 160 acres to that of South Boston.

In April, 1918, the Government decided to establish its Army Supply Base on a portion of the Commonwealth lands in South Boston. About 57.6 acres were purchased of the State, the price being $1,317,510, soon followed by the construction of two pier sheds, each 920 feet long, a wharf shed and other buildings, including one of the largest storehouses in the world, built of reinforced concrete, eight stories high, 1,638 feet long, 126 feet wide and with floor space of over 1,650,000 square feet. The total outlay for the plant was $26,000,000.

Total expenditure by State for improvement of Boston Harbor $22,575,827 from 1859 to November 30, 1927, inclusive; in the same period, there was expended additionally $951,992 on small channels; total Federal expenditure from 1790 to June 30, 1927, $13,258,846.

THROUGH TRAFFIC STREETS.

Many a city government, confronted almost unawares by the ever-increasing traffic problem, has seized upon the "through street" idea as the least expensive sop to those who clamor for something to relieve the distress. This situation is reflected in many city traffic ordinances which give absolute right-of-way to vehicles on any of the "arterial highways" included in a long list, and which fail entirely to provide for stop requirements, signs, enforcement facilities, or public education. Unfortunately, traffic regulation is not so simple. It cannot be successfully accomplished by merely designating certain through streets.

Still, through streets are useful. Their successful application depends only on an understanding of what can and what cannot be expected of them, and on a realization of where they fit into the traffic control picture. Consider a street as it develops with the increasing traffic from a minor highway to a heavily traveled main thoroughfare. Traffic control will logically develop in successive steps something like these:

1. No control at all.
2. Slow or stop signs at isolated intersections.
3. Through streets with stop signs at every intersection.
4. Occasional automatic signals introduced where there is heavy cross traffic.
5. Complete flexible progressive signal control.
6. Grade separation at important intersecting streets.
7. Elevated or depressed roadway without intersecting streets.

AIRPORTS IN THE UNITED STATES.

The number of airports in the country continues to grow steadily, and the listing compiled by the Department of Commerce showed 1,520 airports in operation on October 2 of this year. Of these, 442 were municipal airports, and 468 were privately owned and operated. The rest included army fields, naval air stations, Department of Commerce intermediate fields, marked auxiliary fields and miscellaneous others. As will be noted, the municipal airports comprise 29 per cent of the total number now in use in the country. The fact that 442 cities of various sizes have indicated their interest by investing substantial funds in the purchase of property and construction of these airports illustrates the stability of aviation today. As indicative of the volume of traffic already in evidence at municipal airports, it might be noted that in a recent representative week the Des Moines airport showed 88 airplanes arriving and 86 leaving. Oakland, California, showed 55 arriving, 52 leaving; while the Tulsa, Oklahoma, airport showed 272 arriving and 265 leaving. These figures are constantly increasing, and they show that the city airport is already being used.

FLAG DAYS.

By order of the City Council it is the duty of the City Messenger to have the national colors displayed upon the public flagstuffs on the following days:

Franklin's Birthday, January 17; Lincoln's Birthday, February 12; Washington's Birthday, February 22; Evacuation Day, March 17; Patriot's Day, April 19; Grant's Birthday, April 27; Memorial Day, May 30; Anniversary of Adoption of National Colors, June 14; Bunker Hill Day, June 17; Independence Day, July 4; Labor Day, September (first Monday); Anniversary of Foudning of Boston, September 17; Columbus Day, October 12; Armistice Day, November 11.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of fifty or sixty persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about four hundred persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town polity, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a governor and council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on October 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott fifteen years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving twelve years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed eighty-two years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

PREVIOUS ACCIDENT EXPERIENCE OF OPERATORS INVOLVED IN FATAL ACCIDENTS.

Only 147, or little more than one-third of the 393 motor-vehicle operators involved in fatal accidents in Connecticut in 1928 had previously been in accidents, according to the study of automobile mishaps in that state for that year, made by Richard S. Kirby, Associate Professor of the Department of Civil Engineering of Yale University.

The survey shows that 4 drivers involved in fatal accidents in 1928 had each been in 7 accidents previously; 2 others had previously been involved in 6 accidents; 4 in 5 accidents; 8 in 4; 13 in 3; 43 in 2; and 73 in 1.

There were 256, or close to two-thirds, however, who had clear accident records. Only 2 drivers out of the entire number had figured in previous fatal accidents.

Actually, 90 more drivers were in fatal collisions, but 20 of these were "hit and run" drivers, and 70 others were killed.

SITUATION OF BOSTON.

Boston is situated in latitude, north, 42 degrees, 21 minutes, 29.596 seconds, longitude, west, 71 degrees, 3 minutes, 51.040 seconds (exact situation of apex of State House dome, according to United States Coast and Geodetic Survey). Boston's latitude is similar to that of Detroit and the southern boundary of Oregon, also Rome (Italy), Sofia (Bulgaria) and Mukden (Manchuria); longitude nearly that of Quebec (Canada), Bogota (Colombia) and Santiago (Chile).

PROCEEDINGS OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

Feb. 3, 1930

A regular meeting of the School Committee of the City of Boston was held in the Administration Building, 15 Beacon Street, at 7.45 o'clock, P. M., the Chairman presiding.

Present: Messrs. Gray, Hurley, Lyons, Mrs. Pigeon, and Mr. Reilly.

AMENDMENT AND APPROVAL OF MINUTES

On motion, the minutes of previous meetings were amended as follows:

Dec. 2, 1929, on page 287, to provide that the transfer of Mary L. McDonald, assistant, elementary, Norcross District, to the same position in the Elihu Greenwood District, to take effect Dec. 9, 1929, shall read "Mary L. MacDonald."

Thomas, assistant, special class, Blackinton District, for study and follow-up work with special class pupils for a period of three months from Feb. 3, 1930.

Placed on file and the assignment approved for the period specified.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

A communication was received from the Superintendent, under date of Feb. 3, 1930, reporting that with the approval of the School Committee he has terminated the leave of absence for study granted Wilfred N. Hinckley, Jr., junior master, Jamaica Plain High School, at the meeting of Apr. 22, 1929 (see p. 87). Mr. Hinckley's physical condition was such that he was obliged to give up all study and he is now absent on sick leave. The period of leave for study, namely, Sept. 1, 1929, to Feb. 1, 1930, will count, under the regulations, as a full sabbatical leave of absence.

Placed on file and the termination of leave allowed.

APPOINTMENT OF MATRON

A communication was received from the Secretary, under date of Feb. 3, 1930, reporting that the Division of Civil Service has certified the following-named candidates as eligible to fill one vacancy in the position of matron:

Delia M. Dwyer, Mary C. Clayton, Katherine T. Devine.

Placed on file.

On motion of the Superintendent, Delia M. Dwyer, the candidate standing highest on the list, was appointed to the Charlestown High School, to take effect Feb. 10, 1930.

The following was offered:

ORDERED, That it is advisable to sell the following-named property which is not now required for school purposes, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 259 of the Acts of 1906:

Pierpont School, Hudson Street, South End—land and building.

Passed by unanimous vote.

APPROPRIATIONS AND EXPENDITURES FOR 1929

A communication was received from the Business Manager, under date of Feb. 3, 1930, submitting a final statement of the cost of maintenance of the public schools for the financial year 1929, showing the appropriations, the expenditures and the balances for the financial year 1929, the expenditures for the financial year 1928, and the increases and decreases in the several items.

Placed on file.

On question from the Chair, the Business Manager explained that the final statement for the financial year 1929 shows an increase in the expenditures for the maintenance of the public schools, including alterations and repairs, of $560,118.89, which is practically the normal annual increase of the last four years. The reported balance of $68,889.36 under the appropriation for "Alterations, Repairs, Furniture and Fixtures for School Buildings" which ordinarily would come to the School Committee for appropriation for the ensuing school year for the maintenance of the public schools, is now reserved for liabilities incurred by the Schoolhouse Department prior to Dec. 31, 1929. The Business Manager also stated that the liabilities incurred prior to Dec. 31, 1929, substantially exceed the reported balance of $68,889.36.

The Chairman stated that the increase in expenditures for the current financial year as reported by the Business Manager is not due to expansions of the school system authorized during the year just closed, but is for the most part due to cost of normal growth and expansion, and to the mounting cost of the salary schedules for teachers, members of the supervising staff, and others, where annual increase is provided up to the maxima of the respective ranks.

CHANGE IN RANK OF STORE-KEEPER, SUPPLY ROOM

A communication was received from the Business Manager, under date of Feb. 3, 1930, recommending that the rank of George A. McKendry, Storekeeper in the Supply Room, be changed to Receiver, to take effect Feb. 3, 1930.

Place on file.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the rank of George A. McKendry, Storekeeper in the Supply Room is hereby changed to "Receiver," to take effect Feb. 3, 1930.

ADDITIONAL ALLOWANCE FOR CONTINUATION SCHOOL

A communication was received from the Business Manager, under date of Jan. 20, 1930, recommending the passage of an accompanying order to provide that the Principal of the Continuation School shall be allowed the sum of $800 for the purpose of paying bills for materials which enter into products to be sold and incidental expenses connected therewith, instead of $500 as allowed at the present time.

Placed on file.

On motion it was ORDERED, That the City Auditor and the City Treasurer are hereby requested to allow the Principal of the Continuation School an additional sum of three hundred dollars ($300), thereby increasing the cash advance to eight hundred dollars ($800), such sum to be for the purpose of paying bills for materials which enter into products to be sold and incidental expenses connected therewith, and for which accounting is made by said Principal to the City Auditor through the Business Manager.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE TO CUSTODIANS

A communication was received from the Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of Feb. 3, 1930, recommending that leaves of absence be granted the following-named custodians for the periods specified:

William J. Mahoney, custodian, Mayhew Schoolhouse, Jan. 27 and 28, 1930, inclusive, on one-half net compensation, because of personal illness.

Francis L. McDonough, custodian, John Boyle O'Reilly Schoolhouse, Jan. 13 to Jan. 30, 1930, inclusive, on one-half net compensation, because of personal illness.

John J. Murphy, custodian, William Eustis Schoolhouse, Feb. 1 to Feb. 28, 1930, inclusive, on one-half net compensation, because of personal illness.

Henry W. Young, custodian, Dwight Schoolhouse, Jan. 30 to Feb. 1, 1930, inclusive, on one-half net compensation, because of personal illness.

Placed on file and leaves of absence granted for the periods specified.

TRANSFERS OF CUSTODIANS

A communication was received from the Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of Feb. 3, 1930, submitting a list of candidates desiring transfer to the custodianship of the Henry Grew Schoolhouse and Portable Nos. 207 and 221, and recommending that Charles C. Fitzgerald, custodian, John Cheverus Schoolhouse, who stands at the head of the list, be appointed to the position to take effect Jan. 31, 1930.

Placed on file and the transfer of Charles C. Fitzgerald approved to take effect on the date stated.

A communication was received from the Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of Feb. 3, 1930, recommending that Francis H. Hagerty, regular substitute custodian, the only candidate desiring transfer to the custodianship of the William McKinley Schoolhouse, be appointed to the position to take effect Jan. 31, 1930.

Placed on file and the transfer of Francis H. Hagerty approved to take effect on the date stated.

A communication was received from the Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of Feb. 3, 1930, submitting a list of candidates desiring transfer to the custodianship of the Warren Schoolhouse, and recommending that Martin B. Hayes, custodian, Charles Bulfinch Schoolhouse, who stands at the head of the list, be appointed to the position to take effect Feb. 2, 1930.

Placed on file and the transfer of Martin B. Hayes approved to take effect on the date stated.

A communication was received from the Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of Feb. 3, 1930, submitting a list of candidates desiring transfer to the custodianship of the Sherwin Schoolhouse, and recommending that William J. Lovett, custodian, Wendell Phillips Schoolhouse, who stands at the head of the list, be appointed to the position to take effect Jan. 31, 1930.

Placed on file and the transfer of William J. Lovett approved to take effect on the date stated.

A communication was received from the Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of Feb. 3, 1930, submitting a list of candidates desiring transfer to the custodianship of the John Cheverus Schoolhouse, and recommending that Thomas W. McLean, custodian, Paul Jones Schoolhouse, who stands at the head of the list, be appointed to the position to take effect Jan. 31, 1930.

Placed on file and the transfer of Thomas W. McLean approved to take effect on the date stated.

A communication was received from the Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of Feb. 3, 1930, submitting a list of candidates desiring transfer to the custodianship of the Cyrus Alger Schoolhouse, and recommending that Seymour Watts, custodian, Nathan Hale Schoolhouse, who stands at the head of the list, be appointed to the position to take effect Jan. 31, 1930.

Placed on file and the transfer of Seymour Watts approved to take effect on the date stated.

A communication was received from the Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of Feb. 3, 1930, submitting a list of candidates desiring transfer to the custodianship of the William E. Endicott Schoolhouse, and recommending that Leo T. Whitney, custodian, Chestnut Avenue Schoolhouse, who stands at the head of the list, be appointed to the position to take effect Feb. 9, 1930.

Placed on file and the transfer of Leo T. Whitney approved to take effect on the date stated.

AMENDMENT OF SCHEDULE OF COMPENSATION FOR ADDITIONAL CUSTODIAN SERVICE

A communication was received from the Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of Feb. 3, 1930, recommending the amendment of School Document No. 8, 1929, Schedule of Compensation for Additional Custodian Service, as outlined in the accompanying order.

Placed on file.

On motion it was ORDERED, That the Schedule of Compensation for Additional Custodian Service is hereby amended, Sections 1 and 2, by inserting the following rates to apply when the schools are used for Extended Use or other purposes:

The twenty-second annual report of the Board of Trustees of the Permanent School Pension Fund for the financial year ending Dec. 31, 1929, was received, from which it appears that the total amount appropriated for pensions during the year was $95,462.76; reimbursement received from State, $78,918.60; unexpended balance, 1928, $38,151.22; paid for pensions during the year, $127,599.50; unexpended balance, 1929, $84,933.08. The total fund, $887,362.01. Total number of teachers drawing pensions Dec. 31, 1928, 288; number added during the year, 13; deaths during the year, 20; number now drawing pensions, 281.

The report was accepted.

PARTICIPATION IN EVACUATION DAY CELEBRATION

The Chairman stated that in response to request of Mr. Edward C. Carroll, Chief Marshal of the forthcoming 154th anniversary celebration of the evacuation of Boston, the School Committee has this evening in conference agreed to cooperate with the committee in charge of the March seventeenth celebration to the same extent as was allowed last year, and orders to carry these several arrangements into effect will be introduced at the next meeting of the Committee.

COMMITTEE ON NAMING OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS

The Chair announced the appointment of Mrs. Elizabeth W. Pigeon the Committee on Naming of School Buildings for the current year.

The Committee adjourned.

Attest:

ELLEN M. CRONIN

Secretary.

A SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred, who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

THE WORST YEAR YET IN DEATHS FROM AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS.

Thirty-one thousand five hundred motor-vehicle deaths in the United States during 1929 is the estimate of the National Safety Council. This is 13 per cent worse than the 1928 record, although motor-vehicle registration increased only 8 per cent during the year. This increase corresponds closely to figures just reported by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, covering automobile accident deaths of its Industrial Department weekly premium policyholders for the last two years. The insurance company's total for this group for the calendar year 1929 is 4,127, as compared with 3,619 in 1928. The comparisons on a basis of policyholders exposed to risk are 21.8 motor-vehicle deaths per 100,000 policyholders in 1929, and 19.7 in 1928.

STIMULATING WISE MUNICIPAL CONSTRUCTION.

The American people are initiating one of the most important governmental experiments ever tried on any considerable scale. For many years there have been suggestions that public projects could be made to constitute an important element of stabilization in times of economic depression. At the instance of President Hoover the states and cities of the country are about to cooperate with the Federal Government to prevent the stock market depression from spreading into business generally.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, February 17, 1930.

Regular meeting of the City Council held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., President LYNCH in the chair. Absent, Coun. Cox and Dowd.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE MAYOR.

Subject to confirmation by the Council, the Mayor submitted the following appointments for the term ending April 30, 1930, viz.:

Constables: Frederick A. Cronin, 746 Saratoga street, East Boston; John A. Brennan, 282 Bunker Hill street, Charlestown; James J. Twohig, Jr., 76 West Fifth street, South Boston; George Leary, Dorchester, Mass.; Henry Torey, Deaconess road. Weighers of Coal: Peter Melver, 250 Stuart street, city; Frank T. Leshy, 250 Stuart street, city.

Weigher of Goods: Paul Sanders, South Boston. Severally laid over a week under the law.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR BOSTON AIRPORT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 13, 1930.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—The enactment by the Legislature of a bill permitting an additional lease of land from the state to the city permits of the enlargement and extension of the Boston Airport.

Certain improvements are necessary at once in order that Boston may receive a Class I rating from the Department of Commerce as to size of airport. Among the improvements desirable at once are the following:

1. The building of a hydroplane ramp to provide a landing place for seaplanes or surface boats in proximity to the present hangars.

2. The construction of a permanent road in the rear of the hangars, and also the establishment of a large area for parking purposes.

3. The erection of a fence with opening for planes in front of the hangars to be used by the operators for the loading and unloading of passengers.

4. The development of a permanent seaplane port as filling progresses to permit of the same.

5. The establishment of suitable concrete markers.

6. Additional lighting equipment, including beacon, etc., and such obstruction lighting on nearby buildings as may be necessary.

7. The filling at the earliest possible moment of the triangular space between the National Guard hangars and Wood Island Park. (This area to be used for such additional hangars as may be required.)

8. The general development of the airport.

At the present time there remains an unexpended balance of appropriation amounting to $80,000 which can be utilized in part upon this work. The probability is that the completion of the airport will ultimately represent two years' work and an expenditure approximating one and one half millions of dollars.

I recognize that it is impossible to provide this entire sum in one year, and even if the amount were available, it would be impossible to carry through the projected development in a shorter period of time than two years.

I am, however, of the opinion that in addition to the unexpended balance on hand the sum of $250,000 additional could be expended during the present year, and I accordingly recommend the adoption by your honorable body of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $250,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Park Commissioners, for Airport, Improvements, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

NAVY MEMORIAL AT CITY POINT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 17, 1930.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith submit a report from William P. Long, chairman of the Park Department, requesting a suitable site be designated at City Point to commemorate the services rendered by the United States Navy. This communication is in reply to your order of February 10, 1930.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, February 15, 1930.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.
Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of February 13, with inclosure, order from the City Council that the Board of Park Commissioners be requested to designate a suitable site at Marine Park to commemorate the services rendered by the United States Navy in all wars, the expense of same to be borne by the Kearsarge Naval Veterans' Association.

Before designating any site, I desire to study the plans of the proposed memorial, as the size and cost will have considerable amount of bearing on where the location can be given.

Very respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.
Placed on file.

TIME FOR HOSPITAL EMPLOYEES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 17, 1930.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith submit to you report of the Board of Trustees of the Boston City Hospital to allow ward maids and helpers Sundays and holidays off without loss of pay. This communication is in reply to your order of February 3, 1930.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Hospital Department, February 14, 1930.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—I am returning to you herewith order of the City Council, "That the City Hospital Trustees be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to allow ward maids and helpers employed at the hospital Sundays and holidays off without loss of pay."

I am informed by Miss Currier, the Superintendent of Nurses, that the ward maids and ward helpers now have every other Sunday and every other holiday off after ten o'clock, and that that they are asking for now is, not that they have every Sunday and every holiday off, but that on every other Sunday and every other holiday they be allowed to have the whole day off instead of coming in as they now do, and working until ten o'clock. Miss Currier informs me that she can arrange to do this, and I have instructed her to put such arrangement into effect.

Yours respectfully,
JOSEPH P. MANNING,
President, Board of Trustees.

FLAGSTAFF AT EVERETT SQUARE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 17, 1930.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith submit to you report of the chairman of the Park Department, relative to erecting a flagstaff at Everett square, Hyde Park. This communication is in reply to your order of February 10, 1930.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, February 15, 1930.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of February 13, with inclosure, order from the City Council that the Park Commission be requested to include in its budget a sum sufficient to provide for the erection of a flagstaff at Everett square, Hyde Park, and beg to submit the following:

The erection of a 70-foot pole would cost $350; the erection of an 85-foot pole would cost $500.

As this area does not come under the jurisdiction of the Park Department, I am submitting the cost for the City Messenger's Department, under whose jurisdiction it does come.

Very respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

EXCHANGE OF LAND WITH COMMONWEALTH.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 17, 1930.
To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith present for your favorable consideration an order for the exchange of lands which is authorized by the provisions of chapter 264, Acts of 1928, "An Act Authorizing the City of Boston to Exchange Land with the Commonwealth for the Purposes of Marine Park in Said City," which act is as follows:

"The city of Boston, by vote of its city council approved by its mayor, is hereby authorized, in consideration of the conveyance to it for park purposes of land at least equal in area, to convey to the commonwealth of Massachusetts, by deed approved by the attorney general, all the rights, title and interest of said city in and to certain land and flats at South Boston, being a part of an area, now known as Marine park, lying easterly of Farragut road and between said road and the flats of the commonwealth, and acquired by said city for the purposes of a public park under the provisions of chapter one hundred and eighty-five of the acts of eighteen hundred and seventy-five, and otherwise; and the state department of public works shall have charge of any land and flats conveyed to the commonwealth hereunder."

Negotiations for the proposed exchange have been pending for many years between the Commonwealth and the city. On September 29, 1925, I, as Mayor, approved a former order as finally passed by the City Council on September 28, 1925, for the exchange of lands in substantially the same location. The exchange was never consummated, due to the advice of the Attorney-General at that time that the City of Boston's title to the land that it proposed to convey was questioned. In consequence of the Attorney-General's advice and the refusal of the Commonwealth to make the exchange at that time, the passage of chapter 264 above quoted became necessary. No further action was taken until I again assumed the office of Mayor this year. Negotiations were renewed between the Public Works Department of the Commonwealth, the Governor and myself, and as a result of these negotiations, an agreement was arrived at that the exchange proposed in the accompanying order should be made and that in addition to the exchange of lands in South Boston, the Commonwealth, under the provisions of chapter 371, Acts of 1929, "An Act Providing for the Improvement of the Charles River Basin for Recreational and Other Purposes for the Laying Out and Construction of Certain Parkways Along the Basin and for the Improvement of Certain Streets in Boston and Cambridge Near Said Basin," should sell and convey two parcels of land formerly owned by the Boston & Maine Railroad, situate on Nashua and Lowell streets, containing about 83,081 square feet, to the City of Boston for playground, bathing or similar purposes, for the sum of $25,000.

You now have under consideration an order for the appropriation of said sum which I have heretofore transmitted. The city is also to agree to lay out, construct and improve Fargo street and E street in South Boston at an expense not to exceed $35,000, when these streets which are included in the proposed exchange are conveyed by the Commonwealth to the city.

This exchange of land and the improvement of the streets will be of great benefit to the Park Department and will allow the Commonwealth to develop its land bordering on the Reserved channel for industrial purposes, which will develop business and add to the taxable property of the city. The acquisition by the city of the property of the Commonwealth on Lowell and Nashua streets will give to the city recreational, playground and bathing facilities much needed in a greatly congested district.

I therefore earnestly urge upon you the wisdom of your favorable action as speedily as possible so that all matters agreed upon between the Commonwealth and the city at the conference may be concluded at the same time.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be, and he hereby is, authorized and empowered, in the name and behalf of the City of Boston, to release to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts by deed approved by the Attorney-General all right, title and interest of said city in and to certain lands and flats at South Boston, being a part of an area now known as Marine Park, lying easterly of Farragut road and between said road and flats of the Commonwealth, acquired by the said city for the purposes of a public park under the provisions of chapter 185, Acts of 1875, and otherwise, bounded and described as follows:

That land lying southerly of Reserved channel, and bounded westerly by the extension northerly of the easterly boundary line of Farragut road to the United States pierhead and bulkhead line on the southerly side of Reserved channel; southerly by the following described lines: Line B-C, which is an extension easterly of the southerly boundary line of East First street, one hundred feet; line C-D, running north sixty-seven degrees, fourteen minutes, eighteen and eight-tenths seconds east, seven hundred fifty-two and eight hundredths feet; line D-E, running north eighty-eight degrees, forty-one minutes, ten and seven-tenths seconds east, one thousand six hundred forty-three and sixty-seven hundredths feet; line E-F, running north forty degrees, twenty-seven minutes, ten and eight-tenths seconds east, to its intersection with the United States pierhead and bulkhead line on the southerly side of the Main Ship channel; bounded northeasterly by said United States pierhead and bulkhead line; bounded northerly by the United States pierhead and bulkhead line on the southerly side of Reserved channel; all as shown on a plan marked "Exchange of Land at Marine Park, South Boston, Between the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and City of Boston. Department of Public Works of Massachusetts, Scale 1 to 5,000, John N. Ferguson, District Waterways Engineer Acc. 4050," filed in the office of the Massachusetts Department of Public Works, 413 State House.

And as consideration for said conveyance by said City of Boston of the above-described land, the Commonwealth is to convey to the City of Boston the following described land which is at least equal in area to the land above described, and the land to be conveyed by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts is bounded and described as follows:

All the land and flats between Marine Park and Castle Island which lie southerly and easterly of the above-described lines, B-C, C-D, D-E, E-F and extending into Pleasure Bay to a line drawn between points marked B and HH on the United States pierhead and bulkhead line, all as shown on said plan.

And in addition the Commonwealth is to convey to the City of Boston the following described parcels of land:

Three certain parcels of land situated in that part of said Boston called South Boston, bounded and described as follows:

Parcel No. 1: Private way fifty (50) feet wide known as Fargo street, northwesterly by the southeasterly side line of D street, fifty (50) feet; northeasterly by land now or formerly of Fargo Real Estate Trust seven hundred forty-eight and sixty-six one-hundredths (748.66) feet; southeasterly by the private way known as "E" street, fifty (50) feet; southwesterly by land of the Commonwealth, land now or formerly of the Fargo Real Estate Trust and land now or formerly of Joseph Burnett Company, seven hundred forty-eight and sixty-six one-hundredths (748.66) feet.

Parcel No. 2: Private way sixty (60) feet wide known as Fargo street, northwesterly by the southeasterly side line of the private way known as "E" street, eighty (80) feet, more or less; northerly by land now or formerly of Fred B. Rice four hundred five and ninety-two one-hundredths (405.92) feet, more or less; northeasterly by the southeasterly side line of Summer street ninety (90) feet, more or less; southerly by land of the Commonwealth five hundred twenty-six and forty-six one-hundredths (526.46) feet, more or less.

Parcel No. 3: Private way sixty (60) feet wide known as "E" street, northeasterly by E street as laid from Fargo street to Summer street, December 16, 1901, sixty (60) feet; southeasterly by the private way known as Fargo street and land of the Commonwealth eight hundred eighty (880) feet, more or less; southwesterly by E street as laid out to the low-water mark November 17, 1868, and land of the Commonwealth sixty (60) feet; northwesterly by land of the Commonwealth and the private way known as Fargo street, eight hundred eighty (880) feet, more or less.

Reserving to the said Commonwealth and its assigns the right at any time to lay and operate or to authorize the laying and operating of railroad tracks at grade across the said Fargo and E streets, as provided in chapter three hundred and seventy-seven, Acts of the Legislature of said Commonwealth for the year 1902 and the said Commonwealth for said consideration grants the said city the right to place or slope and maintain all filling required for the grading of said Fargo street and E street upon the several premises owned by said Commonwealth, adjoining the above described parcels of land. The said parcels of land are to be used for the purposes of public streets and the grade of said streets shall be established substantially as follows: Fargo street, between D street and E street as shown on a plan and profile marked "City of Boston, Fargo Street, South Boston, March 1, 1921, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department"; Fargo street, between E street and Summer street substantially as now laid out and constructed; E street as shown on plan and profile marked "City of Boston, E Street, South Boston, October 6, 1903, William Jackson, City Engineer."

Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

BRIDGE TO EAST BOSTON.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation to authorize the city to borrow money for the purpose of constructing a bridge from Boston proper to East Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

UNPAID WATER RATES.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be, and he hereby is, respectfully requested to direct the City Collector to proceed in accordance with chapter 391 of the Acts of 1928 for the collection of unpaid water rates.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, with reference to that order I would state that it is prompted by newspaper articles I have seen recently to the effect that his Honor the Mayor has quite properly in mind the collection of the large amount of unpaid water bills amounting to $779,580, up to the last quarter of 1929. Unfortunately, however, as I understand the situation, the Mayor, if the papers are correct, has, I understand, advised the Water Department to notify all owners of property in the City of Boston that, unless the water bills are paid on or before March 15, the City of Boston will enforce the city ordinance and thereby shut off water in the City of Boston from houses the owners of which have not paid the tax. I would call the attention of the members of the Council to the fact that two years ago, in March, 1928, a special committee of the City Council, consisting of Councilors Ruby, Murphy, Fish, Sullivan, McMahon and Wilson, was appointed by the President to investigate the matter of water shut-offs, and as a result an order was introduced into this body to consider the advisability of substituting for the shutting off of the water a tax lien on property where the water bills were not paid, as an alternative to the shut-off. As I remember, at a hearing of the committee, almost every member of the City Council was present, due to the trouble caused by the wholesale shutting off of water in the Dorchester district, and the question of the repeal of the shut-off provision, under section 22 of chapter 27 of the Revised Ordinances of 1925, was considered. There appeared before the committee at that time Assistant Corporation Counsel Mr. Lyons, Mr. Carven of the Water Department, and other witnesses, and the proceedings were printed as Document 50 of 1928. At that time, I would call to your attention that the following question was asked of Mr. Carven:

"The average owner of a house pays his bills, and your trouble has been, chiefly, at least for the last four or five years, with a certain clique, a certain group, the same men year after year."

And Mr. Carven replied, "The same number every quarter." And then Mr. Carven was asked by Councilor Motley:

"Have you any solution to offer?"

"Mr. CARVEN—As to the remedy?"

"Coun. MOTLEY—Yes."

"Mr. CARVEN—I think myself, if it could be a lien proposition, that would be the prettiest way, the neatest way, having the lien so arranged that it could go on automatically and function, and shut out the shut-offs entirely. Nobody is in favor of them, Mr. Councilor."

We also had before us Mr. McMurray, and he was asked this question:

"Taking the 1,300 shut-offs, or whatever the number is, in the course of a year, is it a fact that practically all the time you find the same bad actors?"

"Mr. McMURRAY—The same ones."

"Coun. WILSON—And if those men were wiped out, this whole shut-off question would be practically eliminated."

"Mr. McMURRAY—Yes, sir."

Now, at that time it was brought out that as of December 31, 1927, there was only $152,175 in unpaid water bills, which is some difference from the present figure, which is almost three times that amount. We also had appear before us the Assistant Corporation Counsel, Joseph P. Lyons, who stated:

"I should say that under the law of 1923, the lien law, chapter 391 of the Acts of 1923, amending chapter 40 of the General Laws relating to powers and duties of cities and towns, you could collect all the water bills and that that is up to the collector."

And then he went on to say,

"Suppose, whether you want to change the ordinance or not, you do have the lien law under which you can collect bills. It is for the City Council and the Mayor to determine."

I have gone into this in detail because the Council in 1928 held this long hearing and made this long report, contained in Document 50 of 1928. At that time it was the unanimous sentiment of the Boston City Council that this shut-off proposition should be done away with, that the proper method of procedure would be to put a lien on the owner's house if he did not pay, the answer being that if he did not pay the bill within a certain length of time he would lose his house. What caused the difficulty at that time was because there were some bad actors who did this sort of thing year after year, and the men took the bit in their teeth in 1928 and felt that these men who were year after year refusing to pay their water bills, and who were the cause of this amount of unpaid taxes being on the books ought to be wiped out. For that reason I have introduced the order requesting that the Mayor ask the City Collector to proceed against these same bad actors, who are doing this sort of thing year after year, letting them know that they will lose their houses if the bills are not paid. If that had been done two years ago, the amount of those bills would not have come up to the extent that it has today.

The order was passed.

PAYMENTS BY SOLDIERS' RELIEF COMMISSIONER.

Coun. MAHONEY offered the following:

Ordered, That, until otherwise ordered, the City Auditor be authorized to allow for payment to the Soldiers' Relief Commissioner such sums, not exceeding four thousand dollars in each week, as the said City Auditor in his discretion may determine to be required, the sum so allowed to be expended, subject to the approval of the chairman of the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, or in his absence by any other member of said committee, by the said commissioner in affording immediate relief to persons entitled to aid under chapter 115 of the General Laws and acts in amendment thereof and in addition thereto; said sums to be charged to the appropriation for Soldiers' Relief.

The order was declared referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. MAHONEY—Mr. President, if I may, I will ask a suspension of the rule for the passage of the order, it being an emergency order.

President LYNCH—The Chair will rule that the order has been referred to the Executive Committee in order that the Soldiers' Relief Commissioner may explain the matter fully.
